New Postal Manual Is Easy To Understand

Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf of Tecumseh today called to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued which became effective Dec. 1. They will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is planning a final edition of a history-making new Postal Manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print. Postmaster Metcalf explains.

This publication may be obtained at 65c a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. And mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material that may be made from time may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

The revision of the Postal Manual, Postmaster Metcalf said, represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U.S. Post Office Department.

Postmaster Metcalf noted that the new pamphlet and the new package deal give the business men and other large mail users the easiest, most complete method of keeping completely up to date on postal information that they have ever had.

"The new publication is remarkable for its simplicity," he said. "Not only is it printed in easy-to-understand English, but it contains simple black and white illustrations on how to prepare material for mailing. The print is easy to understand, and is arranged in logical sections under bold-face headings.

"Not only are the regulations issued in new simplified form but the rules themselves have been changed. A great deal of obsolete and conflicting materials has been eliminated in the process."

The booklet is also an invaluable guide for the average householder. It shows, for example, how to package fragile materials for mailing; how to attach first-class letters to packages; how stamps of unwanted denominations that are unused may be exchanged for others of different values if desired. It also tells about many other matters of special interest to all mail users, to be added.

Mail users who have inquiries about any special points in connection with the new publication may direct them to the Tecumseh Post Office. It should be emphasized, Postmaster Metcalf said, that the booklet represents the "final word" on all postal rules.

EXTENSION CLUB HAS LESSON ON IRONING

Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Jack Brown, Smith Road on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Marvin Fansher and Mrs. Elmer Wilt.

The lesson for the month, taught by Mrs. Clifford Southard and Mrs. Lester Ruhl, was entitled "Ironing Made Easy." During the lesson an ironing board of the more modern type, at which the homemaker could sit down to iron, was displayed. Also introduced were the wider boards made of interior plywood covered with padding and cover. These are home constructed and are used in ironing sheets, pillow cases, curtains and by a special technique, shirts.

Mrs. Southard gave the demonstration of ironing a shirt on this wide board, and a new way of folding the shirt after ironing. Mrs. Ruhl gave pointers on simplifying ironing procedures, and the group discussion was on this subject.

The roll call was answered by "greatest satisfaction in belonging to an extension club." Each member brought three handkerchiefs with Christmas cards to be given to the Adrian Girl's Training School for the estimated 65 girls who will not be receiving gifts.

Hayden Will Demonstrate Traveling Feed Mill Here

Livestock and poultry raisers in this area will be able to have their grains mixed and ground into Hayden feeds, free of charge, Friday, Dec. 10, when Hayden will give an all day demonstration of their new traveling feed mill at the elevator in Tecumseh.

This one day demonstration will be strictly "first come, first served." Farmers will pay only for the material which the mill supplies in making up the feeds.

Something in the nature of a celebration, this will serve to introduce the traveling feed mill which becomes the newest service offered by Hayden Flour Mills. The equipment grinds, shells, mixes, and blends with molasses. In a recent test in Branch County, a ton of dairy cattle feed was processed in 15 minutes.

The principal advantages of the traveling mill are said to be a saving to farmers in time and money, since hauling grists to and from the elevator are eliminated. However, there are also the advantages of the freshest possible feed, of escape from the labor of loading and unloading the farmer's trucks, of being able to utilize straw and cobs by molasses blending, and of avoiding possible loss of some of the load along the road. The farmer will also enjoy direct savings on his gas, oil, tires, and wear-and-tear on his truck by letting the traveling feed mill come to him.

To make low ceilings look higher, you might try painting or papering the wall up to the ceiling and hanging draperies as high as possible.

Your Child And Reading

By Dr. Byron H. VanRoekel
Assistant Professor of Education
Michigan State College

(Editor's note—This is the third in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr Byron H. VanRoekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

If you have helped your pre-school child to enjoy reading you have continued reading to him even after he has mastered some of the reading skills and is now able to enjoy books of his own. But there is something else you can do for your young child that will better prepare him for those first few years in school.

I have suggested that a child does not know that words are combinations of letters which have meaning. This is something he has to learn. Therefore, a knowledge of the letters of the alphabet is advantageous in the beginning reading experiences. This does not necessarily imply that reading should be taught by the ABC method as was done quite some time ago. It merely means that a child who can recognize the letters of the alphabet and understands that words are made up of letters will probably learn to read somewhat more readily than a child who does not have this information.

GET ANAGRAM SET

There are many ways that a child can gain familiarity with the alphabet through experiences in the home. Anagram sets offer opportunity for many types of games. Children like to have another spell out the names of the members of the family and of playmates. Your child will probably be quite enthusiastic about spelling his own name. Anagrams can be used for construction games. The "E's" make excellent foundations for pyramids since there are so many of them in a set, the "O's" make excellent windows because they are round. And when playing these games be alert for opportunities to point out the distinguishing characteristics of letters. For example, "E's" and "F's" are very similar but the "E" has an additional bar at the bottom, the leter "Q" has a little tail at the bottom and the letter "O" does not. You will be amazed how quickly children can learn to recognize the letters.

Inexpensive alphabet dictionaries with very attractive pictures and captions are available in many drug stores and almost all bookstores. They are an excellent pastime for rainy days and for those few minutes preceeding the rest time.

BLOCKS ARE GOOD

The important thing to remember is that this must be fun for your child. Nothing will be gained by forcing children to participate in activities in which they lack interest.

One final word. The purpose of the activities suggested above is to help children learn to identify the letters of the alphabet. It is not important to learn them in the proper sequence. Alphabetical order is not important until we have to use an index, dictionary, or other source of information. Usually this comes after the second or third year in school and children can develop this skill when it is needed.

The Navy has more than 2,000 research contracts underway in some 200 leading schools and 250 industrial concerns.

Teen-Age Drivers

Last April 1, you will remember, the Tecumseh Police Department began a contest for teen-age drivers who could compete for best driving prizes. The contest was geared to last six months.

The plan included stops by police who would check the drivers' cars and driving habits. Those caught with bad habits would have marks against their records; those with good driving habits (courtesy also counted) would receive credit on their records.

At the end of the contest prizes were to be awarded at a public banquet which was scheduled for Oct. 1.

But, as most of you know, there has been no banquet and little more has been heard about the contest.

The reasons why are both surprising and encouraging. Chief George Kilbourn dropped in last week and we asked him about the contest. The contest did not die of a slow death because police could find no good teen-age drivers. Chief Kilbourn told the HERALD that because Tecumseh has too many fine teen-age drivers there was no contest.

"We would have to give prizes to every one of them," he said.

The recent case where a teen-ager ran into a couple with the driver receiving a ticket for speeding was a real exception, the chief said.

"The violators that we apprehend are from out of town," he added.

Maybe these many fine teen-age drivers did not receive prizes for their safe and courteous driving but the HERALD publicly commends them and encourages them to carry over these fine driving traits into their adult lives.

Play In New Gym

This fact, when tournaments are concerned, probably is the most important.

But from the players' standpoint there is another important fact. The gym here is new. It has a wonderful floor that will not give players shin-splints as some county gyms have done in the past.

Tecumseh is fairly centrally located on two fine highways and it can be easily reached by any team that plays in this district.

Still another factor is attendance. Tecumseh is a sports-minded town and folks wishing to see tournament basketball would turn out by the hundreds, easily packing the gym, to see tourney play.

We cannot think of one good reason why the new gym should not be used for tournament play and we hope state officials who arrange tournament games will agree.

Service Was Fast

Last week the HERALD had a piece in this column about the sad state of repair of the alley running west off Evans street.

The paper wasn't even out when city workers brought in a load of dirt and filled in the gapping holes.

This, to say the least, was excellent service.

Incidentally, we met Ed Nelson, city manager, on the street Friday and he explained that this is not a city alley.

He said business men whose property joins the alley should keep it up.

So, it is only fitting that those business men who benefitted from the load of dirt in the alley thank the city for the work; and try to keep the alley in better repair.

A Lot Of Paper

It won't be long before we will be filling out that questionaire again telling Uncle Sam how much or how little we made last year and how much or how little belongs to our favorite uncle.

Have you ever wondered about the paper work that is necessary for this annual job? If you have here are some answers:

To print the 1040 income tax package for 1954 returns (including copies of the return, appropriate schedules, and instructions) more than seven million pounds of paper will be used, according to reliable estimates.

This represents the equivalent of enough blank stock to load 143 standard railroad freight cars. Two tank cars of ink —about 70,000 pounds will go into this monumental printing job done by the Government Printing Office.

In addition to this book printing, the GPO will turn out 36 carloads—or 100 million—single copies of 1040—and eight carloads of instructions and punchcards for taxpayers who will file the new, simplified 1040A return.

Realty Views

Everywhere you go these days the words of a popular song say, "Ain't gonna need this house no longer; ain't gonna need this house no more."

Now, perhaps, like Rosemary Clooney, you no longer need your present home. If so, call us. We need houses to sell all the time. Serving the changing housing needs of local families accounts for our main business.

In the song, the house is old and feeble and in poor repair. Frankly, such a house would probably be tough to sell. If you are interested in selling, the best advice we could give you—apart from seeing us—is to put your home in attractive (salable) condition.

No matter why you "ain't gonna need your house no longer", you'll find we are willing to help you dispose of it.

Maybe your needs have changed to one newer, larger, smaller, closer in or farther out. Or perhaps you are moving to another city and can't take your home with you.

Letter to Editor:

Dear Editor:

I should like to say how much I enjoyed the performance of the senior class play "Our Town." In too many amateur productions the actors falter, giggle and blow their lines but not in this one.

Everything went smoothly, expertly, and the play came together as a play. I saw the characters instead of the kids I see around town.

A lot of enthusiasm and hard work must have gone into rehearsals but it still wouldn't have come off if it hadn't been for the real talent of the director, Miss Jacqueline Egan. I think our town is lucky to have her and I hope she puts on some more plays.

Sincerely yours,
Allan Seager

SERVES ON CARRIER

Harry R. Bush, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bush of 700 N. Union street aboard the escort aircraft carrier USS Kula Gulf, has participated in the year's largest Atlantic Fleet Training exercise — coded for brevity as "Lantflex 1-55."

The fleet exercise extended over much of the Eastern Atlantic, and culminated in an amphibious assault on Onslow Beach, N. C., November 16-20. Some 5,000 Navy and 26,000 Marine personnel and more than 200 surface ships, submarines, Naval and Marine air units took part in the maneuvers.

The exercise was designed to test the readiness of the fleet to carry out its war-time job of controlling the vital Atlantic sea lanes.

Look To The Heavens

Have you Boy and Girl Scouts ever observed the brilliant groups of stars on a clear night and wondered if they had names and, if so, why? The larger stars have had names for many centuries. Most of the names were given by the people of the great open spaces of the Near East.

The sky seems much nearer and the stars much brighter in the clear, dry air of the desert countries, and they have always served as timepieces and compasses for camel riders as they guided their "ships of the desert" over the pathless distances in the cool of the night.

Right now in early winter, on a moonless, clear evening, perhaps about 9:30, the most distinct and brilliant groups are visible in the eastern sky.

The most noticeable is the Pleiades or Seven Sisters, looking like a handful of Christmas tree lights scattered across the sky. If your eyes are very keen you may be able to pick out all seven. This has been a test of good sight for a long time.

A little below the seven sisters is a V-shaped group, the large star at one point being called Aldeberan. These two groups, with their surrounding stars form the constellation of Taurus or The Bull. Aldebaran is supposed to form one of his eyes.

Still lower in the eastern sky you will be able to see the brightest group of all — Orion, the Mighty Hunter. The vertical row of three stars in his belt and equally distant, north and south of the belt, are two magnificant stars called Rigel and Betelguese, the first in his shoulder; the second is one of his feet.

Above these is a curved group, called Orion's bow. You might imagine that he has shot an arrow into the side of the Bull, his target being the Pleiades.

Another interesting group is almost directly over head in Nov. This is a large square of four similar stars which seem to form a doorway into the infinite beyond as there are only a few pin points of light inside the square. This is the constellation of Pegasus or the Winged Horse who carried his rider through the sky.

If you Scouts study the sky some clear evening and locate these famous stars, you will find it most rewarding and will feel you have made new friends.

"Saved us $1,300!"

Mr. Alfred Sinclair

Detroit father says "I'd be in debt without Blue Cross-Blue Shield!"

"Last spring our 11-year-old daughter was rushed to the hospital with acute appendicitis," says Mr. Sinclair. "She was hospitalized for 40 days. The hospital and doctor bills ran over $1,300, but all we had to pay was $5! Blue Cross - Blue Shield Comprehensive covered all the rest! That's one of the wonderful things about Blue Cross - Blue Shield—the way they cover every enrolled member of your family equally. We'd be in debt without it."

Whether you've ever been sick or had an accidental injury makes no difference. The fact remains that one in three families will have a hospital bill within a year! It just goes to show how much you need protection like the kind that saved Mr. Sinclair over $1,300. That kind is Blue Cross - Blue Shield.

It's easy to find out how you can enjoy Blue Cross - Blue Shield protection for hospital and doctor bills. Call or write: Blue Cross - Blue Shield

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Going—Going—
But Not Gone!

Saturday they got set to auction off "Sis" Brown's house for nonpayment of taxes. Buck Stone was the auctioneer. Everybody who came to the auction knew that "Sis" is a war widow.

When Buck began the bidding he said, "Anybody can bid. Just remember 'Sis' and three nice kids live here. Now who's going to start the bidding?"

There was silence. "Sis," standing in back, got the point. She reached into her purse for just about all the money she had in the world. "I'll bid $75," she said.

From where I sit, Buck Stone used a helping hand instead of a gavel. It was real neighborliness. You know, even in something as small as respecting another's choice of beverage, a person can be neighborly. You might like buttermilk. I'm "sold" on a temperate glass of beer. And I can't "buy" anyone's telling me I'm wrong.

Researchers Help Tired Homemakers

The age-old problem of tired homemakers has been "adopted" by Michigan State home economists.

The answer to "What makes a homemaker tired?" is being sought by Dr. Elizabeth Wiegand and Dr. Irma Gross of the home management and child development department. They have started a study which will ask the help of 100 mothers who have at least two pre-school children.

These women will be interviewed and asked questions on their attitudes on relaxation and sleep and their likes in household tasks. Interviewers will ask about the equipment each mother has to work with and something about the children's play area. The most tiring period of a day for each mother will be studied.

Dr. Wiegand has chosen to interview mothers with pre-school children. These women, would most likely have the heaviest work load since the children are dependent on them. The women will represent 100 Lansing families and will be chosen at random. There will be about four from each school district in the city.

The goal of this project is to help families live with happier family relationships and by doing so, have happier homes. The hundred families interviewed may get some help in bettering their family relationships by actually analyzing their own attitudes and plans. But the study primarily should help all families by giving a broad picture of what factors make a homemaker tired.

Tories Have Only Two Lettermen

Coach Bill Saxton's Britton-Macon Agricultural School five will be out to improve on last year's Little Six League record of six wins and four losses.

Last year the Tories took third place in the league. This year Idaho, Deerfield and Onsted, according to Coach Saxton, will be the strongest teams. These teams were hurt least by graduation.

This year Coach Saxton will have to start from almost scratch since he has only two lettermen returning. They are Tom Bruce, senior center, and Al Barrett, senior guard.

Other seniors that are expected to make the varsity are Jim Wood, guard, and Phil Mason, center.

Jim Wood, who played some on the first team last year, should be able to fill in at a guard spot. But Coach Saxton will have a job to fill the two forward posts. Bruce, K. Bruce and Bartell, all juniors, are top contenders for these jobs.

The Tories already have two wins under their belts. They begin league play Friday night when they Adrian Catholic Central at home.

Grade School News

Central School
Mrs. Puffer—Second Grade

During the past few weeks we have been busy with many Thanksgiving activities. We made a large mural across the back of our room depicting the Pilgrim's journey to America. We wrote a story about the Pilgrims which we took home to read to our parents.

We visited Mrs. Van Winkle's room to see the five Indian display. We decorated our room with all sorts of fruit, turkey and Pilgrim pictures, but now our Thanksgiving holiday is over and we are busy trying to accomplish a great deal of work before Christmas time.

Wayne Brooks and Barrie Finnegan were lucky because their birthdays came on Saturday so they celebrated twice this year: once at home and again at school.

Barbara Poskasbriewicz's mother and baby sister and Carolyn Rentschler's mother came to visit one morning recently.

Mrs. Puffer finished reading "The Boxcar Children" and now is reading "Surprise Island" to the children.

Jimmy Lawson brought a Japanese parachute to school. This was interesting because we had never seen a real parachute and were surprised to learn what large, complicated affairs they are.

Central School
Mrs. VanValkenburg—First Grade

We have been learning many things about the Indians and Pilgrims. We think we have many more things to be thankful for than the Pilgrims had.

We were glad to entertain our friends from the other first grades and the kindergarten. We sang Indian songs and danced Indian dances for them. Many of us had lovely headdresses. Some of us played on our Indian tom-toms.

The Busy Bees Class is ready to start reading our third pre-primer, "We Come and Go!" The Star class has read more than half of the second pre-primer, "We Work and Play!" We enjoy reading and telling stories. We can write many words without a copy. We have learned to spell a few words.

Three of our friends have been very generous and have loaned us their record players. We have been enjoying the records each afternoon which many of the boys and girls have brought.

Central School
Mrs. Neitling—First Grade

We are making Thanksgiving booklets. We have learned about the First Thanksgiving.

Our second six week period will soon end. We have learned to read some, have learned to recognize numbers to ten, and can do some manuscript.

Nearly everyone got one hundred in spelling this week. This made us very happy.

We visited Mrs. VanValkenburg's first grade. They sang several songs about Indians which they had learned.

Mrs. Preston's kindergarten visited us. We sang the nursery rhymes we have learned for them.

Many mothers have visited us the last couple of weeks. We are always happy to have our parents visit us.

Central School
Mrs. Callihan—Second Grade

We are excited about Thanksgiving. One of the things we are thankful for is that David Lear is getting better after he had his appendix out last week. He had pneumonia afterwards so he will miss two more weeks of school.

We are not very thankful to have had Ernesto Sanchez leave for Texas. We miss him and hope that the trip will only be for a visit.

During National Education Week we had some mothers visit us. So far this year we have had Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Poley, Mrs. Buehrer, and Mrs. Fergus. We would like to have any parents visit when they can.

Friday, Mrs. Van Winkle's room invited us to their room to watch some Indian dances and hear Indian songs. We found the things the children made very interesting.

Our class has been working on Safety Rules. We plan to put some of our work in the display case next week. We are glad our room is across the hall from the case so we enjoy the work put in it. The Thanksgiving scene by Mrs. Illeck's room has interested us.

The new words we are learning have helped make the stories more fun to read. It has made our number work easier too, as we have been having work problems.

We wish you all a very happy Thanksgiving!

West Branch
Miss LaPointe—Second Grade

We were glad to have visitors Education Week. The following mothers visited us at that time: Mrs. Frank Boike, Mrs. Kayner, Mrs. Seeger, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Rutherford, and Mrs. Sniffen. Mrs. Purple, Mrs. Creger and Mrs. Poley visited us last week.

Our latest poem for study and memorization was Robert Louis Stevenson's, "My Shadow."

The Thanksgiving season has been the subject of our discussions and art lessons recently. In language class we dramatized the first Thanksgiving.

We had three children who celebrated their birthdays during November. They were Frank Boike, Tommy Smith, and Raymond Schmidt.

We have finished our First Grade review in reading and now are reading our Second Grade basic reader, "Friends and Neighbors."

Susan Hohenstein has joined our group. She came from Grosse Pointe Woods. We are very glad to have her in our room.

FOUND: A pair of red Angora gloves. Owner may call for them at the West Branch School.

Patterson School
Mrs. Garlick—Second Grade

We have been learning about the Pilgrims and their Thanksgiving. We made pictures to tell about the things for which we are thankful.

Raymond Freshcorn had a fire at his house. No one was hurt but the upstairs was burned.

Charles Randolph had an operation for appendicitis. We are glad to see him back in school.

Some of us have had colds but nearly everyone is in school now.

We are happy to have Mary Easton in our room. We now have 35. Some of us have a new reading book. We are very pleased about this.

We have had to do some extra work on learning the difference between a figure and a number. We have also learned some new arithmetic words and how to read the numbers in the hundreds.

West Branch
Miss Steinhoff—First Grade

"Over the river and through the woods
To grandfather's house we go;
The horse knows the way
To carry the sleigh
Through the white and drifted snow. . . . ."

We have been singing this old familiar song during our music period on Tuesday and Thursday, with Miss Gillespie. Thanksgiving is over now but the recess was very welcome.

Now we have finished two of our three primers and are ready for the next one. Most of us know about 40 words.

In our number class we have learned how to find and to make groups of two, four, six, eight, and ten.

During American Education Week we were busy entertaining visitors. Our visitors were Mrs. Meads, Mrs. Eggleston, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Frederick Dickinson, Mrs. Robison, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Brighton, Mrs. Koons and Mrs. Robinette.

Goodbye. We hope you had a happy Thanksgiving!

The more leaves you put up with hay, reminds James G. Hays, M.S.C. dairyman, the less your feed costs will be for the dairy herd this winter.

A SWITCH OF THE PITCH
-AND AWAY YOU GO!
The biggest sensation in years is what "variable pitch propellers" have done for Dynaflow Drive*

It happens like this. You need pickup—and pronto. So you get it. You get it by pushing the accelerator pedal of a 1955 Buick all the way to the floor board.

Then—without jerk or lag or lurch or pause—you get action! You get action whether you're just starting off—or asking for a safety-surge of power out on the highway.

There's nothing like it in past experience—because there has never been anything like it in an automobile before.

This is action that comes from the principle of variable pitch propellers used on modern planes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for take-off—and cut hundreds of feet off the time required to lift a plane from a runway.

And the amazing fact is—in a 1955 Buick Dynaflow Drive there are 20 little propeller-like blades that also change their pitch, just like the propeller blades of a plane.

This is a transmission engineer's dream of heaven. A build-up of momentum as smooth as flowing oil—and almost as quick as lightning—plus better gas mileage in cruising range. It's what the whole automobile industry has been shooting for—and Buick has it.

So, that means there's only one thing for you to do. Try out a 1955 Buick, and soon.

Try it out for quick action, as we've mentioned. Try it out for room and comfort and ride. And by all means, cast an admiring eye on its style—for it beats the high-fashion Buicks which set the pattern in the successful year just ended.

We're waiting and eager to hear from you soon. So drop in—or give us a call. We promise you a thrill that no other car can deliver.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

OUR NEW PRESSMAN has had trouble all his life with his name which is Foster Grace. Even since he was a runny-nosed grade school kid folks have been calling him Grace Foster. But the pay-off came when he grew up and he received literature in the mail — again sent to Grace Foster — on how to improve his figure.

BRITTON LAD SCORES. William Lee Bortel, junior at Michigan State College, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bortel, Britton Route 1, placed as the sixth highest individual in the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. His team placed 10th in competition with 36 other teams.

THIS YEAR'S PTA meetings so far have had wonderful attendance and, so far, they have had stimulating programs. But the Lining must point out that these meetings also have been frustrating. They have dealt largely with how we can help our children be better students and better citizens but they have said very little about helping adults. Then to top it all off one aspect of the meetings has been particularly shattering. As adults we are supposed to be able to make decisions quickly and thoughtfully. But how in the world can anyone be expected to decide which one of the hundreds of pieces of tempting cake served at the meetings is best. Now the Lining knows how a frustrated mouse in a maze experiment feels.

INTERESTING SLOGAN: "Nature's favor makes that Michigan flavor" is the slogan appearing on the Michigan Department of Agriculture news releases sent to state newspapers.

PATROLMAN STAN WESTGATE was a frustrated policeman Saturday morning when he viewed all the cakes, candy and cup cakes at Boy Scout Troop No. 4's bake sale in Blanks. He finally bought his goodies, even though he commented "When you are 50 you have to watch your waist line." Incidentally, it is wonderful the way local merchants always donate free space for bake sales by clubs and organizations.

GAME HIGHLIGHTS: Those are classy glass backboards bought for the new gym through the cooperative efforts of the senior class of 1955 and the Tecumseh Rotary Club . . . That was an impressive ceremony just before the game when all the lights were turned out save the light shining on the American Flag and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the national anthem was sung by players and spectators . . . Missed the small dog that usually runs on the field at football games . . . Maybe dogs don't like basketball . . . Refreshment stand did a land office business, particularly the pop corn dispensers . . . Slick rig here . . . You eat the corn, then use the container for a megaphone to cheer for the team.

Butler Cites Five Sets of Conditions

One of the most important things a smart driver does is to adjust his driving to fit conditions — particularly when they represent a special hazard.

The last two weeks of Dec. contain five sets of conditions which make them the most dangerous two weeks in the year. They are longer hours of darkness, slippery pavement, bad weather, more shoppers and more celebrations. These are views of C. O. Butler, Lenawee and Monroe County district director of the Michigan Automobile Dealers Association.

"Any automobile dealer knows that good headlights, properly aimed, can help you see better at night. This is doubly important when more people commute to work in the morning and afternoon when it is dark. It you have not had your lights checked recently this would be a smart time to do it. And even with perfect headlights you can't see nearly as well as you can in the daytime — so slow down at night."

Mr. Butler, currently serving on an industry-highway safety committee, said:

"Automobile dealers also know how important good brakes are — and what their limitations are. They know that it will take you a lot longer to stop on slippery pavement than on dry pavement and many times that on snow or ice. Safe driving speed is controlled by safe stopping distance. So, when it takes longer to stop you have to drive slower to be equally safe. With special hazards ahead this would also be a good time to have your brakes checked so that in an emergency you won't skid out of control.

"Bad weather causes many other troubles. Your windshield fogs up. Your headlights bounce back in your face from fog or snow and your windshield wipers won't do as good a job in very heavy rain or snow. So, check your safety equipment that helps you see better — and slow down because you still can't see, stop or dodge as quickly.

"The last two weeks of Dec. also bring a new host of shoppers. These pedestrians have more on their mind than just safe driving. And many motorists as well as pedestrians may have been attending celebrations and may not be as competent as normal.

"So one of the best ways to practice up on your safe driving so that you can drive as well as you know how on safe driving day is to begin to study the special hazards of this season so that you will learn to know more about when to slow down before it is too late."

Former Mayor John Truesdale Dies In Denver

John G. Truesdale, former mayor of Tecumseh, whose death occurred, Dec. 5, in a Denver, Colo. hospital after an illness of several years, was born in Tecumseh, Dec. 27, 1903, and had lived here most of his life.

He was the son of John and Niha Seofield Truesdale.

He had been employed in railroad work at one time and was an employee of the old H. Brewer and Co. foundry before he established the Truesdale Monument Co. He was a member of Tecumseh Lodge No. 69 F. and A.M., of the Adrian Order of the Elks and of the Tecumseh Club.

Mr. Truesdale is survived by his wife, the former Esther Miller; a daughter, Mrs. Howard Morris; two sons, John of Clinton and Robert of Cedar Springs; a step-son, Gordon Miller; five grandchildren; two brothers, Howard of Tecumseh and Ralph of Macon; and six sisters, Mrs. Clifford Graham, Monroe; Mrs. Floyd Woodcox of Tecumseh; Mrs. Walter Paselk, Toledo and Mrs. Ogland Lay, Mrs. Helen Abbe and Mrs. Christine Coffey, all of Tecumseh. He was preceded in death by a son, Raymond who died at an early age.

S-D DAY NEXT WEDNESDAY

The HERALD is strongly behind the national "Safe Driving Day" program next Wednesday. This is an important effort to demonstrate what can be done if every motorist drives as well as he knows how and if the police and the courts make a determined effort. To assist our readers in practicing up on their safe driving we have arranged for these articles by three qualified persons. They present a series of safety tips which, if followed, will help our community to meet the goal of going 24 hours without a single accident on S-D Day. Remember there are just six days left before S-D Day.

City Plays Santa to Shoppers

The city will play Santa to Christmas shoppers again this year.

Councilmen Monday night agreed to give free parking to all shoppers from Monday, Dec. 20, through Friday, Dec. 24.

Meanwhile, Ed Nelson, city manager, publicly thanked the Civil Air Patrol, the Exchange and Rotary Clubs, merchants, members of the chamber of commerce and "all those who helped install Christmas decorations in the business area."

He also thanked Roy's Eat Shop and Van's Bakery for coffee and donuts that were furnished and served.

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, through Mrs. Earl Pennington, secretary, also thanked those who helped with the decorations and Roy's Eat Shop and Van's Bakery.

Next Tuesday night, Dec. 14, members of the Civil Air Patrol, Exchange, Rotary, Legion, VFW, C of C and Jaycee will gather at the Legion hall at 7:30 to box candy that will be given to kids by Santa.

Santa will arrive Friday, Dec. 17, when he will hand out the candy to kids at 7 p. m. He will work from headquarters set up on the four corners. Santa will be on hand to greet children and oldsters every afternoon and evening from Dec. 17 to 24.

Local stores will be open both Friday and Saturday nights, Dec. 10 and 11 and again Dec. 17 and 18 until 9 p. m.

They also will be open from Monday, Dec. 20, through Friday, Dec. 24, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

P. O. Open

The Tecumseh Post Office will be open Saturday, Dec. 11, and Saturday, Dec. 18, from 8 to 5 p. m.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf said these additional hours — decided for the convenience of customers.

The Attitude Of Drivers Is Important

Justice of the Peace, Robert French says:

"As a judge hearing traffic cases every week I am sure that the attitude of the driver toward his driving has as much to do with traffic accidents as any other item.

"It doesn't do any good to know the traffic law and safe driving practices unless you want to drive safely. Unfortunately, far too many people pass their driver's license examination and then go right out and run a red light. If all motorists drove as well as they know how I am convinced that we could cut our accidents at least in half.

"What do we mean by having a good attitude in driving? To start with we mean recognizing the fact that each driver must share the road with a lot of other drivers and pedestrians. The other fellow has just as many rights as you do. Stealing his right-of-way from him shows a bad attitude toward driving which will sooner or later produce an accident.

"Showing off, a common form of immaturity, reports a bad attitude. This is not restricted to teen-agers. Some people never seem to grow up. This lack of maturity results in their taking all sorts of unnecessary chances — and these produce accidents.

"And then there are those who just don't seem to think driving is important. They don't keep their mind on it. They are careless. So the 'unexpected happens,' they are not prepared for it and the accident takes place.

"If you want to practice up on your driving so that you can drive your best Dec. 15, Safe Driving Day, my advice to you is to make a personal appraisal of your own attitude. If you can improve your outlook on driving you will drive more safely."

Friends Church Will Dedicate New Organ Dec. 29

The Friends Church will dedicate a new Connsonata organ with a set of Deagan chimes Wednesday, Dec. 29.

The organ and chimes, a memorial to Perry Hayden were given to the church by his widow Mrs. Elizabeth Hayden and by his friends.

The organ has no moving parts. Each tone has a separate vacuum tube.

Tower amplification for the chimes will come later, according to the Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor.

SGT. CROWLEY IS OPTICIAN

The St. Louis Medical Depot announced today that Sgt. William R. Crowley of 713 N. Union St., Tecumseh, will graduate from the Optical Technicians Course, a 26-week period of instruction in the army method of fabricating spectacles, on Dec. 10.

Chief Says Start By Obeying Law

The smartest way to begin practicing for S-D Day is to start keeping the traffic law in mind and obeying it to the letter, says Police Chief George Kilbourn.

"We are able to prove from accident records that over 90 percent of traffic accidents are caused by specific violations of the law. If the records were better I am sure we could raise this figure to 95 percent. Accidents due to people falling asleep, roadways caving in or a wheel coming off represent a small percent of the total."

PROCLAMATION

Mayor H. H. Hanna today proclaimed Wednesday, Dec. 15, as "S-D Day" — or "Safe Driving Day" — and pledged the full support of the city government in making the project a success. He urged all citizens to do their utmost to keep Tecumseh entirely free of accidents Dec. 15.

The Mayor's proclamation follows:

"Whereas the President of the United States has asked all Americans to unite in a Nation-wide demonstration that traffic accidents can be avoided if all motorists and pedestrians do their part; and

"Whereas, the Governor of our State has asked all of the communities in Michigan to support this worthy effort:

"Now, therefore, as Mayor of the City of Tecumseh, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, Dec. 15, as 'S-D Day' in this community, and ask all citizens to drive and walk on this day so as to keep the entire 24-hour period free of traffic accidents."

In pledging support for the program, Mayor Hanna said:

"This is an opportunity for every citizen to join in a common effort against a common enemy: the traffic accident toll. He can help as an individual, and as a member of groups with which he is associated: his church, his PTA, his club or fraternal society, his union, his association — any and all individuals and organizations can and should participate actively."

"When you look at it that way accidents are not accidental at all. Some one violated a traffic law and a collision resulted. It boils down to the fact that traffic violators are killing the people, violators are injuring the people and violators are banging up and destroying automobiles.

"Records show that most of our violation trouble comes from speeding, running red lights and stop signs, dangerous passing and dangerous left and right turns at intersections. Combinations of these frequently bring a charge of reckless driving, careless driving or a failure to have your car under control.

"Following too closely and failure to yield the right-of-way are also common charges in accident cases. Naturally, too, we have the important charge of drunk driving. Too much alcohol makes a driver think he's too good, makes him want to drive too fast when he can't see as well, can't react as quickly, and can't stop as quickly.

"If you will practice up on your driving by obeying these laws you will increase your chances of keeping out of an accident on S-D Day a great deal. And of course, you have to keep on the lookout for some other driver who may disobey these laws. If you can avoid violations and avoid other motorists who commit violations you can avoid accidents."

A & P MANAGER IS TRANSFERRED

Carl McLaury, manager of the Tecumseh A & P since 1945 has been transferred to the Port Clinton, Ohio, A & P store.

Charles Anderson of Jackson is the manager of the A & P here. The Jackson family will move here soon and the McLaurys will move to Port Clinton.

P.-T.A. Will Hear Christmas Concert

A program of Christmas music will constitute the December meeting of the combined groups of the Parent-Teacher Association to be held Thursday evening, Dec. 16 at 7:30.

The program is under the direction of Miss Marcelle Gillespie and will be of a concert type, due to the fact that it will be given in the high school gymnasium.

Grades three through six from Central, Patterson and West Branch elementary schools will take part in the program which is entitled "Christmas Time-In Song and Rhyme."

Narration, done completely in rhyme, will be given by students. Besides selections by individual grades, there will be several massed chorus numbers with 450 students taking part.

Clinton 5 Starts Slowly But Beats Tecumseh, 41-30

Off to a slow start, the Clinton Redskins found the range in the second and third quarters to tomahawk the Tecumseh Indians 41-30 in basketball Friday night.

Coach Bob Slater's quintet couldn't hit in the first quarter at all and they failed to score a point as Coach Vic Lawson's five took a seven to 0 lead.

But the Redskins began to hit in the second period, scoring 18 points while the local team was held to four. Forward Paul Dunham was the big gun, sinking three long shots. As the teams left the floor at half time the Clinton five had an 18-11 lead.

In the third quarter the Redskins continued their streak and added 17 more markers while the Indians could muster only six.

But the final period with only one senior in the line-up Tecumseh closed the gap some, adding 13 points while Clinton gathered six.

In the final frame the Indians scored eight points in three minutes with Ken Miller, Allen Dickinson and Bill Hansen, sophomores; Earl Drummonds, a freshman, and Ted Verrier, a senior, combining on a well-balanced attack. This combination was the best offensive crew Coach Lawson used all night. He used various combinations with 10 of his 11 varsity players getting into action.

Of the 10 Ken Miller was outstanding. He popped buckets in from all angles and his play-making ability stamped him a real comer. Miller, not only led all scoring with a production of six field goals and three charity tosses for 15 points but, (and it was only fitting) he scored the first basket in interscholastic play in the new gym.

For more than five years she was a nurse at the Tecumseh Products Co. until her health failed about a year ago.

Council Questions High Phone Rates

Councilmen again want to know why some telephone customers in subdivisions yet living in the city limits are paying higher telephone rates than others living in the old village limits.

And they want to know when this inequity in billing will stop.

Both questions were asked of Ronald Kinsman, local manager of the General Telephone Co., who appeared at the council meeting Monday night.

Councilman Hal Kelso carried the brunt of the questioning. Summarized, his remarks show that an original base rate for customers in the old village limits was established. Customers living outside the village limits were billed $1 or $1.25 more per month than those in the boundaries of the village.

He said customers on west Adrian road, one of the city's oldest subdivisions, have been paying this higher rate for more than 10 years.

Other customers living in subdivisions but which are now part of the City of Tecumseh also are affected. The greatest number of these are living in Tecumseh Acres.

Councilman Kelso said the rates should have been equalized when Tecumseh became a city and in some cases much sooner.

Mr. Kinsman explained that the company can do nothing about it now. He said nothing can be done until a decision by the Michigan Supreme Court is reached on a higher rate request. Circuit court in Ingham County has granted the rate increase.

Councilmen were of the opinion that there is no possible connection between the court case and the local inequity in rates.

The city started to check on the rate case last June.

200 Hear Dr. Pitkin At Patterson P.T.A.

"The Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic treats a number of normal children," stated Dr. John Pitkin, clinic director who spoke at the Patterson PTA meeting last Thursday.

"These are children who have temporary difficulties or whose parents thought they needed help.

"Other types of children served by the clinic are those with organic handicaps such as children who have brain damage. Children with pseudo-retardation are also treated. Some children have convulsive disorders and others are afflicted with petit-mal epilepsy."

"Another group of children treated at the clinic," continued Dr. Pitkin, "are those who have had severe illnesses such as scarlet-fever, polio, diabetes and who need help re-adjusting to a normal life."

"There are very few true psychotic children referred to the clinic," he said. "Children are more likely to be neurotic rather than psychotic."

Dr. Pitkin, emphasizing the clinic's need said that one out of every ten children in school has emotional problems that need help and three per cent have learning problems.

"The trend at present is for parents to take less and less responsibility for children and to allow teachers and schools more and more of that responsibility. Therefore, there should be a close working relationship between parents and teachers, such as PTA groups, in order to work out common problems, especially those of discipline."

Pop Corn Needs Right Moisture

When pop corn doesn't pop, it's not always the fault of the corn; it might be with the way it was stored.

The amount of moisture in the kernel is important, explains S. T. Dexter, professor of farm crops at Michigan State College. Pop corn pops by explosion; when it is heated steam forms in the kernel and explodes it. So when there is too little mosture, not enough steam is formed and there is just a small explosion or none at all.

Too much moisture in commercially packaged pop corn is seldom found because the corn loses

When one cup of pop corn is age. This loss of moisture often happens in homes where the air has a low relative humidity. Its moisture to the air during storpopped, Dexter says, it should have a popped volume of 30 cups.

Legion Awarded For Americanism

Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 has received the Americanism award for 1953-1954. The award was presented at the regular meeting of the Post last Thursday.

Tom King and Cecil Hand also were introduced as new members.

Louis Schneider explained the job the Legion does both locally and nationally in promoting child welfare.

In other business, a discussion was held on whether the Legion should print the changed version of the pledge of allegiance and have Commander Grigg present copies to the schools.

PLAN JOINT MEETING

With Mrs. Warren Filter in the chair, it was voted to make a contribution to the fund for muscular dystrophy and committees were appointed for the serving of the Christmas dinner for the General Telephone Co., Dec. 11. Mrs. Warren Filter will be chairman of the kitchen while the dining room will be in charge of Mrs. Carson House.

Plans were completed for the joint Christmas party of the Post Auxiliary and their families which will be held Dec. 15, with a potluck supper promptly at 6:30. Coffee and milk will be furnished and members are to bring table service, sandwiches and a dish to pass.

Mrs. Harlan Boyes reported on the visit of the National Auxiliary president, Mrs. Agnes Holtz to Ann Arbor, Nov. 20, when the local group was represented by Mrs. Bert Warren, Mrs. Waldo Mohr and Mrs. Boyes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lois Richards and Mrs. Thelma Braden.

The beginning of winter and the mystery of the Christmas Star are the main astronomical points of interest during December, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

Winter begins officially in the northern hemisphere on Dec. 22 at 4:25 a. m. At this time the Sun arrives at the winter solstice, the most southerly point that it reaches during its apparent yearly journey around the Earth. There will be 15 hours of darkness and only nine hours of daylight on the 22nd.

At this time of year the Earth is closer to the Sun than during our summer months, Professor Losh points out, so northern hemisphere winters are a little milder and southern hemisphere summers a little hotter than they would be if the sun were always equidistant.

Popular interest in astronomy reaches its peak this month with curiosity about the Star of Bethlehem. There has never been a satisfactory natural explanation of this phenomenon because the narrative about it is too incomplete and the date of the appearance of the star and the early calendar too uncertain to give a basis for definite conclusions, says Professor Losh. Many astronomers suggest that an unusual configuration of the bright planets gave the appearance of an extraordinarily bright star.

Some of these bright planets are easily visible this month: Venus, now the "morning star," will get brighter until Dec. 21 when it reaches its greatest brilliance and rises three hours before the sun. Mars, orange in color, has moved eastward among the stars and is now in the constellation Aquarius in the southwestern sky. Jupiter, rising at about 8 p. m. in the northeast, is in an almost vertical line below Castor and Pollux in the constellation Gemini.

The eastern horizon is host to some of the most beautiful and colorful stars in the Dec. sky: the yellow star Capella in Auriga, the orange Aldebaran in Taurus, the giant red star, Betelgeuse, in the shoulder of Orion, the bright Rigel in his knee and the twins, Castor and Pollux, all are above the horizon before Sirius appears outshining them all. Sirius can be located on a line down through Orion's three "Belt Stars" pointing to Canis Major, the Greater Dog, in which Sirius shines.

Harriet Handy And Ray Bond Exchange Vows

A candlelighted aisle and candelabra at the altar combined to provide a lovely setting for the wedding party, Saturday evening, when Harriet Barbara Handy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Handy of Tecumseh and Ray E. Bond Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bond Sr. of Lansing were married at the First Methodist church. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and evergreen boughs with white satin bows decorated the altar and windows.

The Rev. Horace James performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 and the bride was given in marriage by her father. "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Dow Bilby with Miss Peggy Jo Pocklington at the organ.

Chantilly lace over tulle and satin formed the bride's gown, which was made with fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The scalloped skirt had a front of pleated tulle and swept into a chapel train. The short double veil was lace trimmed, falling from a pearl tiara and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses.

The matron of honor, Geraldine Easton, wore a strapless gown of pink net over satin, with full skirt and matching stole and carried a muff trimmed with white pom poms. The maid of honor, Joan Handy was in a similar costume of aqua with yellow and white flowers and the bride's maids, Dorothy Wonderly, Donna Frolich and Nancy Schott in pink, green and aqua to a home in Smith Rivers.

Mrs. Charles Duckworth and her daughters, Mrs. Harry Stanifer and Mrs. Glen Work were called to Cumberland, Md., last week because of the death of Mrs. Duckworth's sister, Mrs. Bessie Rheinhart. They remained for from Saturday until Tuesday.

Mrs. Bond was attended by Norman Malone as best man and the ushers were Robert Distler and Duane Hallum of Lansing, Eugene Ramsey of Berkey, and Jerry Eaton and Gary Roberts of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Handy wore gray lace over pink taffeta, while the groom's mother was in changable blue, and both had corsages of carnations.

At the reception which followed in the church parlors, the 250 guests were registered by Mrs. Robert Distler while Mrs. Walter Vonderly and Doris Bilby had charge of gifts. Mrs. Dorothy Frolich, Mrs. Wayne Patton and Mrs. Ray Handy also assisted and the five-tiered wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Mildred Ellis and Mrs. Eugene Ramsey. Mrs. Joe Seven-ee served the ice cream and Mrs. Norman Malone and Mrs. Harry Kenyon the punch and coffee.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip, Mrs. Bond was wearing a blue knitted suit with navy accessories, a gray coat and white roses. On their return they will be at home at 1901½ Michigan Ave. in Lansing.

The bride, who is a graduate of Tecumseh high school in 1952, has been employed in the Service Accounting Dept. of the Tecumseh Products. Mr. Bond, recently returned from two years military service in Alaska, is a police officer in Lansing Police Dept.

House Plants Need A Rest In The Fall

Resting stage doesn't mean the plants curl up and die, they just don't do any visible growing. It starts in fall for most house plants and lasts through most of the winter, just as if they were outdoors.

"If your house plants don't get his rest," cautions Henry L. Chapman, Michigan State extension horticulturist, "they may not do so well next summer—blooming plants may not bloom at all."

Chapman advises cutting out fertilizer and using only enough water to keep them from wilting. Too much water and fertilizer may jolt them out of their resting stage.

Now that winter is here, the artificial heat in homes is low in humidity. Chapman says the best way to get moisture around the plants is placing the pots in a shallow tray covered with small pieces of gravel and keeping the gravel moist.

Add that Christmas look to the inside doors by hanging streamers of green and red felt. On these glue your favorite cards. Tie a few pine cones to the top and some bright balls below.

The clinic, located in Ypsilanti serves Lenawee, Washtenaw, Monroe, and part of Wayne County. There are 100,000 students in the area. It is supported by state funds, funds from the county boards of supervisors and funds from community chests.

There is always a need for more funds and more trained workers since the clinic must serve such a wide area and so many children need help, he said. We have had 500 requests this year and we have a waiting list of 42."

All children in school are served by the clinic and sometimes babies and pre-school age children also are seen. Children can be referred by a doctor, or teacher with the parents' consent or by parents.

The clinic hopes to have a clinical psychologist working in Adrian who will serve all of Lenawee County and work in close cooperation with schools, especially in the field of testing.

Mrs. Gordon Garlick presided at the meeting which was attended by 200. Mrs. Herbert Cleveland introduced Dr. Pitkin. The film "Angry Boy" was shown.

Refreshments were served by fifth grade mothers and fathers.

THIS MAY NOT BE NEW but at last we have discovered a way to use excess bacon grease. We have at the same time gained many hours of solid pleasure from watching it disappear. The grease is put in a shallow container and placed on the bird-feeding station. It is wonderful the way the birds gobble it up. One of our stations is less than three feet from the front window and the birds don't mind us at all. The tufted titmouse, usually quite dainty and sleek, and his mate hog the grease and they have been joined by the dozens of kinds of sparrows, the grackles and the blue jay. Since watching the birds, I don't know of a better use for this grease.

SCHOOL CHILDREN of Esmira and Johannesburg believe the slogan of this column — that every dark cloud has a silver lining. Illegal venison confiscated by the State Conservation Department is bolstering their hot lunch programs. A school in each community requested and received two deer.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — There is generally no such thing as duty to the people who do it. They simply take life as it comes, meeting, not shirking its demands, whether pleasant or unpleasant; and that is pretty much all there is to it.

— Gail Hamilton.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

One of the first things I heard when our family moved to Tecumseh was how efficient the police force was. If the Tecumseh police force is so efficient, then why tell why all the double parkers on the main street?

It is quite appalling to get in, to one's car and find yourself jammed in by double parkers. Double parkers also present an added traffic hazard.

I have seen people pull up and double park in front of an empty parking space! Tecumseh has so many fine attributes, that it is a crime to have such a flagrant violation continue to mar the city's reputation.

The double parking problem could take good editorial materials, but perhaps you are afraid of stepping on someone's toes.

Sincerely,
D. Howard

(Editor's Note: The editorial on this matter in the second section was written Sunday. D. Howard's letter was received Tuesday morning.)

Editor Herald:

I would like to give, through your paper, my impressions of the great improvement which has been made in the former county farm now Maple Lane Manor. Thanks to Mr. Herrick's generosity and public spirit and the careful planning by the county authorities, this very important part of our county organization is something of which we may all be proud.

There is still much to do but the farm is neat and clean and there is a general air of well being and efficiency. The rooms are large with high ceilings and there is a feeling of spaciousness and real comfort that has to be seen to be appreciated. Thanks again to Mr. Herrick.

By Clara Waldron

After being almost forgotten for a century, Tecumseh's early high school, the Literary Institute is basking in a momentary spotlight.

First, Abi Evans Chapter D.A.R. began making plans to mark the building in which it was once housed and then a copy of its 1851 school paper came back to Tecumseh, as a gift to Mr. Ray Herrick.

Literary is the word for that paper and gloom is the word for that literature. "Reflections on the Death of our President" and "The Dying Boy," with such light touches as "The Still Small Voice" and "Trust Not to Appearances;" those were the topics chosen by the gay young things of '51 and printed in their "Student Gazette."

It is hard for us to realize that free education was then free only in the grades. Anything higher had to be supplied by private institutions, of which the Institute was one of the three which served Tecumseh from 1832 to 1856. That it was a pretty good one is indicated by its publication. The essays may be melancholy but they are well done, reflecting the high standards of the teaching staff.

All three of those early schools were headed by men from eastern colleges. One of the teachers of the first of the three, The Academical School, was "a recent graduate of Bowdoin College" and our own Benjamin Baxter, who was head of the Tecumseh branch of the University of Michigan and of the early years of the Institute was a product of Dartmouth. The Joseph Estabrook, who was principal in 1851, was also from the east. The name of one of his assistants in the "Female Department" still has a connection with the town. She was a Miss Rosebrugh, aunt to Miss Asenath Hosmer, formerly of Tecumseh and a frequent visitor to the Hayden family here.

The University branches, of which there were eight in various parts of the state, were an early experiment and were maintained for only three years. The same course of study with practically the same instructors was continued by the Institute, however, and was aimed primarily at preparing students for the university.

The Classical Department, "Latin, Greek and French, including English branches" cost $5.00 in tuition fees, apparently for the entire course of eleven weeks. The "higher English" course of algebra, geometry, philosophy, rhetoric and logic was $4.00; the "common English," including grammar, geography, arithmetic, etc., cost $3.50 and there was a primary branch for $3.00. Probably some students took more than one course but even with 75 of them, all "supplying their own firewood," the operating budget must have been pretty lean.

The course of study of the earlier Academical School (1832) had offered a still more ambitious range of subjects. In addition to all those named by the Institute there were German and French, trigonometry, topography and the methematics of Astronomy. If there were any "cinch" courses they are not indicated.

Through a letter to the HERALD, written in the 1890's by a Mrs. Mary Cook of Clinton who was a student at the Institute in 1852, we know some of the student body. She mentions Scove Stacy, who 24 years later was editor of the HERALD, Waller Adams, William (later Dr.) Fisher, Bridgeman and Nathaniel Wells of Franklin township and Edward Cook and James Colvin who lived in Raisin.

She says the highlights of the week were the Friday afternoon "Assemblies" when even the Female Department took part and rhetoric was the order of the day. That that training had a lasting effect the present writer can testify, for she has a vivid memory of listening with awe as years later, her dignified grandfather gave a spirited rendition of the "Challenge of Rhoderick Dhu" with all the flourishes taught him by that same Professor Estabrook.

Among the girls of the class of '52 were Francis Blanchard, daughter of Stillman Blanchard; Hattie Patterson, whose father, Dr. Patterson, was great-grandfather of Mrs. Harold Naser; Caroline Colvin, a long time teacher in the village schools; and Lottie Baxter, who later married a Col. Selfridge and became the mother of Gordon Selfridge, London's mercantile tycoon.

Some of those boys and girls may have contributed to the little school paper which has lasted more than a century. We can wish they had left more of their personalities on its tattered pages but one thing is implied there and that is their almost religious respect for education.

Anne Blyth seemingly disapproves of the method of advancement used by Edmund Purdom in this scene from the technicolor musical in Cinemascope "The Student Prince."

This War Will SAVE Lives

One segment of the United States Government has entered a war that will find popular support among the people because it is designed to save both lives and money. The battleground will be the Nation's streets and highways and the goal will be conquest of the growing toll of human lives and property loss resulting from traffic accidents.

Last year (1953) a total of 38,300 men, women and children were killed in traffic mishaps, and the economic loss, including property damage, hospital and medical expense and other costs, was placed at four billion dollars.

Most of the fatalities charged to traffic accidents and much of the property damage and other economic losses could have been prevented if drivers and pedestrians had realized their personal responsibility for their own safety as pedestrians, and the safety of themselves as drivers. Traffic actually is a personal responsibility.

Pedestrians cannot overlook their responsibility in reducing the traffic toll. Following the laws and applying the courtesies of the road to themselves and others will bring this about.

The President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety has taken the initiative in a war of prevention by setting aside next Wednesday, Dec. 15, as Safe-Driving Day when drivers and pedestrians alike will be called upon to observe all written laws governing traffic, and the unwritten laws of courtesy on the streets and highways.

Strict observance of Safe-Driving Day by all drivers and pedestrians will without doubt cut the traffic toll for that day. If the toll can be reduced on one day of the year by strict observance and enforcement plus courtesies it can be held to a minimum on all other days of the year by the same methods.

Check Double Parking

One aspect of S-Day and of every day that would be well for Tecumseh Police to check on more closely is double parking, particularly on the boulevard. This is a state highway and it certainly is against traffic laws for motorists to double park here while they shop. It is bad now; it will be even worse as we near the busiest of the Christmas shopping season.

We know it is convenient—we have been guilty of this infraction, too. But it is dangerous and it blocks traffic. S-Day would be a good day to start checking on this double parking and see if it can be stopped. At first, warnings could be given; then, if it is not stopped, tickets should be issued. It is hoped Tecumseh Police will check this flagrant infraction of the traffic rules.

About the New Gym Again

It really was wonderful watching basketball in the new gym but the comfort of spectators could be improved. Reference is made to the heat and to the congested conditions at the exits when 800 filed out after the game.

There must be some way in which the heat could be turned down before the game begins and then regulated while the teams are in action.

There also must be some way in which the traffic out the doors could be improved too. After Friday's game some folks were going down the hall to the main door while others were bucking this line of traffic trying to get to their coats and hats.

These are two suggestions that might help: Before the game ends a public announcement could be made about the various exits so all 800 or more fans will not be going out the same two exits. Students know the exits but adults are not sure where they are. Secondly, the cloak room might be changed to some other room; and thirdly, the table used for refreshments in the main corridor could be taken away before the game ends so there would be more room for fans passing through to the door.

McCarthy Case Ends??

One of the most tragic events in the history of the U. S. Senate has concluded and Sen. Joseph McCarthy has been censured. But has the case and its various possible results ended?

Will the Wisconsin senator continue his defamation of character in his zealous search for Communists? Will the split in the Republican party be healed or will the McCarthy debates and what prompted the censure movement result in a permanant scar that will undermine the work of the Republican party?

One aspect of the censure, reports the Christian Science Monitor, is that American prestige abroad has been raised.

The famous international daily sums up its lead article for Dec. 2 in this manner: "Foreigners will interpret the overwhelming votes in the Senate against him as indicating that Senator McCarthy's influence is less than they had supposed and American institutions stronger than they realized."

Here's an observation you might consider:

"No man acquires property without acquiring with it a little arithmetic also."

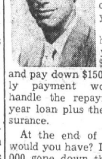
It takes no mathematical wizard to determine by means of arithmetic whether buying a home or renting is the better course over say a 20 year period.



For example, suppose your rent is $75 per month. This amounts to $900 per year or $18,000 in 20 years.

On the other hand, suppose you buy an $11,000 house and pay down $1500. A $75 monthly payment would probably handle the repayment of a 20-year loan plus the taxes and insurance.

At the end of 20 years what would you have? If you rent, $18,000 gone down the drain and a musty stack of rent receipts. But if you buy, at the end of that time you'll have the finest posession in the world—a home, free and clear of debt!

So, if you understand arithmetic, it should be easy to figure out the logical decision.

May we help you find a nice home which you can own?

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

May I please make a correction to Mrs. Rentschler's letter to the editor last week?

The fact that the local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts receive nothing from the Community Chest Fund for promoting their program is VERY TRUE. The Cubs' only income is from dues and a very small profit from the sale of Scout Show tickets. The Boy Scouts' income is from dues and whatever sales drive they can do IF they give value for money received.

In the past, paper drives have been the Boy Scouts' big source of revenue but the last truck load collected by them netted $1.92 for a couple weeks' work of gathering the paper. From this small income must be purchased all troop supplies, including flags, record sheets, merit badges, explorer ratings, registrationns and Boys Life, (Scout magazine).

As for training for local people free of charge — that is in error. All courses taught at Camp Kanesatake are paid for by person taking training and costs $2.00 for one day to $8.50 per weekend course. These courses are taught by trained Volunteer Scouters.

The Wolverine Council pays the initial reservation registration at Camp Howell for each person taking training but the trainee pays the balance of $6.50 or more himself upon arrival there. The Council provides two paid executives to advise and oversee the Boy Scout program and maintains an office in Monroe.

The down to earth program of Boy Scouts or Cub Scouts is carried on by Volunteers from our local people who give of their time and their own money to try to carry out the Scout program for the boys of the community.

The Boy Scouts have no special calendar or cookie sales and when Troop 99 tried a candy sale a couple weeks ago they were met with the remark "You just got $1,000 — how much more do you want?" It was pretty tough on the boys who wanted to earn their own way — not ask for help.

That was the reason I asked for it to be printed in the paper that the Boy Scouts did not receive one penny.

Another hurt is that the Girl Scouts have been able to contribute money to improve the Cabin while the boys could not. However, a plan has been formed, thanks to the cooperation of Mrs. Rentschler and the Boy Scout leaders, whereby the boys can have work projects to help keep up the Cabin.

No, the girls don't get whipped cream. I'd say that they get skim milk when one considers $300.00 for 200 or more Girl Scouts. There are about the same number of Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts.

Boy and Girl Scouting has become a big project in Tecumseh and I believe it is time to be recognized as such.

These boys and girls of today are the men and women of tomorrow's potential force for maintaining our freedom. Let's give them something worth fighting for.

Tuberculin Tests Of County Cattle Will Begin Soon

Tuberculin testing of cattle will soon begin for the purpose of reaccreditation of Lenawee County as a modified tuberculosis-free area under the Michigan department of agriculture and the U. S. department of agriculture cooperating program for the eradication of animal tuberculosis, states Dr. Lee Donison, state veterinarian.

Bovine tuberculosis has cost Michigan dairymen and stockmen hundreds of thousands of dollars. Under certain conditions it is transmissible to man. It also can be spread to swine, cats, dogs, and other animals.

Available figures on the last tests covering 5,578 Lenawee cattle uncovered 36 head of reactor cattle.

All the cattle in the following townships must be tested to requalify for such reaccreditation: Clinton, Tecumseh, Macon, Raisin, Ridgeway, Deerfield, Blissfield, Palmyra, Madison, Fairfield, Ogden, and Riga. The last estimate gives Lenawee county a cattle population of 53,000 head; one of the state's larger dairy counties.

One-half of each county is tuberculin tested every three years and the infection must not exceed one-half of one per cent in order for the county to qualify for reaccreditation.

Whenever reactors are found to the tuberculin test, they are appraised and must be shipped direct to a federal establishment for slaughter. Approved establishments in Michigan for receiving tuberculous cattle are the Detroit stockyards; Wollin Packing company, Flint; and the Murray Packing company, Plainwell.

A permit is required to ship tuberculosis infected animals interstate and then only to a federal inspected slaughtering plant or to a federal inspected stockyards.

Testing will be done by the local veterinarian whenever his services are available.

Cooperation of the herd owners is solicited in the testing of their cattle by the veterinarians in order that tuberculosis may more successfully be eradicated.

Christian Science Services Listed

The effectiveness of scientific prayer in meeting human problems of every kind will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from II Timothy (4:18): "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (16:7-11): "Our Master taught his disciples one brief prayer, which we name after him the Lord's Prayer. Our Master said, 'After this manner therefore pray ye,' and then he gave that prayer which covers all human needs."

From the Bible will be read the account as given in Matthew of Christ Jesus' instructions on how to pray which includes the following (6:7, 8): "But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him."

State American Legion Auxiliaries Play Santa To Hospitalized Veterans

More than 30,000 members of the Michigan American Legion Auxiliary this week are bringing a Christmas shopping service to 3,500 hospitalized veterans who are unable to go to stores to do their gift hunting for relatives and friends back home.

Repeating a service started seven years ago, the auxiliary members have set up a shopping center in each of five Veterans Administration hospitals located at Dearborn, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Iron Mountain and the new Ann Arbor unit.

The unique difference between these shopping centers and other stores where Christmas gifts are selected is that veterans don't pay for the gifts they select for members of their families. What they choose is the gift of the auxiliaries. Each veteran is entitled to select three gifts, with a value of $1.50 to $3 each. After the selections are made, volunteer auxiliary members assigned to each hospital wrap them as gifts and then prepare each package for parcel post. Hospital orderlies and nurses bring veterans bound to wheel chairs and stretchers to the shopping centers.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Cairns, department rehabilitation chairman, Greenville, Michigan, and state auxiliary president, Mrs. Gladys Taylor, Brooklyn, the shopping centers this year have received gifts from 450 auxiliary units throughout the state which has exceeded a total cost of $24,000. Many units began their shopping as early as September to insure delivery of gifts for the November 29 opening of the centers. The stores will wind up operation December 15.

VA Announces NSLI Dividends

The Veterans' administration announces it will pay regular dividends next year on National Service Life Insurance, which originated in World War II, and on U.S. Government Life Insurance, which originated in World War I.

The NSLI dividend will amount to $200,000,000 and will be payable to holders of approximately 5,000,000 participating term and permanent plan policies.

The USGLI dividend will amount to $26,000,000 and will be payable to holders of approximately 380,000 permanent plan policies only.

In both the NSLI and USGLI payments, eligible policyholders will receive a dividend for each month the insurance is on a premium-paying basis during the policy year ending 1955, with a single check covering the total payment due policy.

Payment will be made shortly after the anniversary date of each policy beginning in Jan. and ending in Dec. 1955.

THIS pedal does more than just feed gas to an eager and high-powered V8 engine.

When you give it the extra nudge that moves it beyond the full throttle position, something happens that never happened before in an automobile.

You hear a businesslike purr, which tells you that twenty power vanes, deep inside the 1955 Dynaflow Drive,* have changed their pitch—just like the variable pitch propellers on a modern air liner.

And with the same result in the way you get-up-and-go, with a safety-surge of power for pulling out of a tight spot on the highway. Words just can't describe it. It's a new and thrilling sensation—something you simply must try for yourself.

There's fresh new styling. There's higher horsepower in every Buick V8 engine. There's a new Airpower carburetor. And beneath it all there's good old-fashioned integrity in every nut, bolt and rivet.

But, this year, don't simply make a visit to the showroom where these trim and thrilling new beauties are on display.

The smart thing to do—if you want to know what's what in new automobiles—is to get behind the wheel of a 1955 Buick and drive it. How about doing that soon?

WHEREAS the rapid growth of this City indicates the probable increased use of Special Assessments in order to provide the inhabitants hereof with diverse public improvements; and

WHEREAS, prior to the initiation of any Special assessment project, Section 11.2 of the Charter of the City of Tecumseh requires that appropriate procedures be established.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. For the purpose of this resolution the term Special Assessment shall be interpreted to mean a specific tax which shall be levied upon a portion of the citizens of the City which said tax is not shared proportionately by the other citizens of the City. The term Special Assessment District is defined as a District which includes property having an area not in excess of 25 per cent of the total area of the City, which said area is to receive and disproportionate benefits by completion of a Special Assessment Project.

3. No resolution finally determining to proceed with establishing any special assessment district for the making of any public improvement shall be enacted until cost estimates have been prepared and a public hearing has been held on the advisability of so proceeding, which hearing shall be held not less than ten days after notice thereof has been published and sent by first class mail to all property owners in the proposed district as shown by the current assessment roll of the City.

4. No special assessment roll shall be finally confirmed until after a meeting of the council has been held for the purpose of reviewing such roll, which meeting shall be held not less than ten days after notice thereof has been published and sent by first class mail to all property owners in the proposed district as shown by the current assessment roll of the City.

5. No original special assessment roll shall be confirmed except by the affirmative vote of five members of the Council if prior to such confirmation written objections to the proposed improvement have been filed by the owners of property in the district which will be required to bear more than fifty per cent of the amount of such special assessment.

6. No public improvements to be financed in whole or part by special assessment shall be made before the confirmation of the special assessment roll for such improvement.

NEW FARM BUREAU GROUP ORGANIZED

A new community Farm Bureau group was organized last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin on Staib Rd.

Officers elected at this initial meeting were: Chairman, Edward Solarski; assistant chairman, Donald Blatchford; secretary, Mrs. Merle Mellott, and discussion leader, James Tonneberger.

A group discussion was conducted on subjects relative to Farm Bureau activities on local, state and national levels. The hostess served refreshments following the discussion.

The next meeting of the group will be held Jan. 6 at the Newburg School.

Thirteen Michigan counties have been designated "emergency loan areas" announce State ASC officials. The decision makes it easier for farmers in these counties to obtain loans. This is the result of late fall rains that seriously damaged crops.

Holiday Cheer Of Liquid Type May Be Deadly

One year ago this month 41 drivers and 14 pedestrians who had been drinking lost their lives in traffic accidents in Michigan.

For them all holiday seasons ended permanently.

This grim reminder was voiced by Sergeant C. H. Bartell, commanding officer of the Clinton Post of the Michigan State Police, in urging all to use common sense in celebrating Christmas and New Year's.

"Police are always concerned about the problem of drinking and driving or drinking and walking, but more so at this time of year because there is more of it," Sergeant Bartell said. "Office parties that get out of hand, social gatherings that become too exhilarated, or the friend-meets-friend type of tippling contribute heavily to the traffic accident, injury and death toll.

"That extra glass may be the one that turns the holiday into tragedy. Take a cup of coffee instead."

Various police agencies, safety groups, tavern owners and others in the state are carrying on a special December campaign to warn drivers to take it easy with emphasis on the fact that "drunk drivers go to jail."

Want a novel Christmas decoration for your front door? Here's an idea from Michigan State home economists. Tie a little toy drum and drumsticks together with a big saucy bow and sprigs of greenery. Hang it on the door and loosely tuck the stick into the greens so your friends can "beat" their arrival.

Local Topics

Mr. and Mrs. George Green Jr. were hosts to Mrs. Green's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kopps of Hillsdale, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Steve Anton and children attended the Ice Revue of 1954 at the Sports Arena in Toledo Saturday and spent the evening visiting friends.

Mrs. James Foster, who has been cared for at the home of Mrs. Celia LaBounty for the last several months was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital, Sunday. Mrs. Foster is nearly 92 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adamson left Friday morning for Douglas, Ariz. They will visit several friends on the way and expect to spend the winter in Douglas. During their absence, Miss Elizabeth Beamish will make her home with Mrs. Floyd Elliott.

Grade School News

Central
Mrs. VanWinkle—Second Grade

We all came back from our Thanksgiving holidays feeling fine and fit. We are going to try to be real good workers these next few weeks. It will be hard, with Christmas coming, but we know we can if we try hard enough.

We enjoyed the month of November very much. It was fun studying about the Indians and Pilgrims. We made headbands, wristlets, dresses and teepees. We decorated these with the Indian signs we had been learning. We also made a large teepee out of cleaning bags. We decorated this, also, with Indian signs. We invited the other two Second Grades in to see our handiwork, our collection of Indian trinkets, hear our songs, and see a war dance.

Our second grade composed another song. We call this one, "Jolly November." We think it is even better than our first composition.

We have started our weather calendar for the month of December.

Central
Mrs. Vellie—Third Grade

December is here and we are all excited about the first snow and the coming of Christmas.

Part of the children plan to be finished with their reading book, "Seeds and Roots" when school closes for Christmas vacation. Others children have begun a project for reading class which will involve the use of encyclopedias.

We made a trip to the library three weeks ago. Tomorrow, we plan to go again. Mrs. Fosbender helps us to find books to bring back to school. We enjoy going very much.

Barbara Kripe has left our school room to go to school in Clinton. We were sorry to have her leave us.

Cathy Custard had a birthday December 1. We enjoyed the ice cream and cupcakes her mother sent to school for Cathy's birthday party.

Central
Mrs. Illeck—Grade Three

Christmas is coming and we are making many wonderful plans. We are going to write our letters to Santa soon. Perhaps he will answer us individually as he did last year. Of course we are looking forward to our Christmas party with much enthusiasm.

We have had two spell downs with Miss Baker's room. We have been the winners both times. These children were the last to be spelled down: Patricia Schwede, Jimmy Newell, Michelle Anderson, David Lemerand, Tom Mattison, and Jean Preston.

We have been to the library to get books with Christmas stories that we can read to ourselves.

We had the display case in the hall for Thanksgiving. We decorated to make a three-dimensional mural of "The Landing of the Pilgrims." It was fun to do.

This will be our last chatter before the holidays, so "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year everyone."

Central
Mrs. Bailey—Grade Four

We all had a nice Thanksgiving and are now looking forward to Christmas: Music program, party, and decorating our room which we have started already. Michael Desner is chairman of the committee and his helpers are Larry Eaton, Eldon Miller, Janet Forrester, Bonnie Blaska, Nora Holland, and Gloria Teegarden. The rest of us help too.

There are four birthdays in December. They are Eldon Miller, Craig Rozecrans, Barbara Rozelle, and Larry Eaton.

A few weeks ago we received a letter from Mrs. Fosbender asking us to visit the library. One day afternoon we went and had a good time looking at books and learning about the library. We are reading the books we brought back to school.

In Social Studies we are making maps of the first settlements in our country.

We have a new book in our room, "Magic Carpet." It contains short stories and beautiful pictures. Nearly every day Mrs. Bailey reads one of the stories to us.

Central
Mrs. Whiting—Grade Four

We all enjoyed our Thanksgiving vacation. Suzanne Rose composed the following poem:

MY TURKEY

Here is my turkey
Here is his head
He's getting nice and fat
But today he'll be dead, dead, dead.

Chop, chop, chop
And off with his head
Then gobble, gobble, gobble
And he's dead, dead, dead.

On November 29th, we elected new officers for our Citizenship Club. They are Larry Harper, president; Joel Bailey, vice president; David Blanden, secretary and treasurer. Next week we will plan our Christmas party and draw names for the party which will be Thursday afternoon, December 23rd.

We now have 23 pupils who are taking the Checkaway, and 18 the Weekly Readers. We get these once a week for extra reading.

Larry McClain gave an interesting report about the sun and earth for Science. Tommy Smith and Phillip Radant also brought books with interesting pictures for Social Studies and Science.

We are making posters and Santas to decorate our room for December.

Phillip Radant, Debbie Holden and Kent Lucas have been chosen as our Citizens of the Month for September, October, and November. We are all trying to be good citizens for December.

Patterson
Miss Baker—Grade Three

Just three weeks until Christmas! We can hardly wait. Our room is looking more and more like Christmas every day with all the decorations we are making.

Of course we are working too. We invited Mrs. Illeck's third grade to our room for a spelldown. It was a good contest with Mrs. Illeck's room winning. They invited us to their room at Central for another one.

In arithmetic we are learning to add and subtract with larger numbers. We were using one place numbers but now we are using two place numbers.

We are learning to write letters in language and to use capital letters and periods.

We made "The First Thanksgiving" scene for the display case in the hall. Our Pilgrims and Indians were made from clothespins. We colored trees and drew cabins and wigwams. John Mensing made a very nice log cabin for us. We also made cabins from cardboard.

Terry Beland and Steve Freckelton had birthdays this month. We enjoyed their treats.

We are planning a surprise program for our mothers, so guess we had better get to work again.

We shall visit you again next year. Have a very Merry Christmas everyone!

West Branch
Miss. Lackey—Grade Three

During National Education Week we sent special invitations to our parents to have them come and see us do our work for a half day. Eleven mothers signed our guest book and we were especially happy to have Mr. Deer and Mr. Whitney. We hope the rest of the parents will visit us before the year is over. They are always welcome.

We have been singing Thanksgiving songs and studying about the Pilgrims, Indians, and how they lived. We made a diorama scene as an activity project. Each one of us made something for it.

Now that Thanksgiving is over we are learning Christmas songs and we are going to sing them for our parents, Dec. 16th at the high school building. Our room is beginning to look like Christmas too.

We are making a Science Folder. We are putting the life story of the racoon, the deer, the chipmunk, the skunk, the opossum, the rabbit, mink, and the weasel in it.

Have a Merry Christmas everyone!

Patterson
Mrs. Colson—Grade Four

Last week we took two very interesting trips. Mrs. Hall invited us to come to see her aquariums, and we certainly enjoyed seeing the many beautiful tropical fish. She told us about them, too, and showed us how they are fed and the different kinds of food they eat.

Another day we went to the Public Library. Mrs. Fosbender told us a very good story, and later we looked at the many new children's books that were there. Some of us got library cards so that we can enjoy the books at home.

We have another addition to our group. Jerry Shaw, from Defiance, Ohio, joined us this week.

With only a few weeks left until Christmas we are making plans for our party, and will make some decorations for our Christmas tree and our room. You won't be hearing from us again before then, so Merry Christmas, everyone!

When sending Christmas cookies through the mail, wrap flat drop cookies in pairs (back to back with waxed paper between them) in moisture-vapor proof material. Wrap other cookies individually, advise M.S.C. home economists.

The 1954 spring pig crop—13 per cent larger than the 1953 crop—will be showing up in hams, pork chops and roasts, sausage and other favorite pork cuts.

To go with eggs, poultry or meat, there will be lots of rice because this year's rice crop is record large. Consider rice for turkey stuffing or turkey soup, for example, or to go with beef stew or beef and ham gumbo.

The age old problem of tired homemakers has been "adopted" by Michigan State home economists.

The answer to "What makes a homemaker tired?" is being sought by Dr. Elizabeth Wiegand and Dr. Irma Gross of the Home Management and Child Develop ment department. They have started a study which will ask the help of 100 mothers who have at least two pre-school children.

These women will be inter viewed and asked questions on their attitudes on relaxation and sleep and their likes in household tasks. Interviewers will ask about the equipment each mother has to work with and something about the children's play area. The most tiring period of a day for each mother will be studied.

Dr. Wiegand has chosen to in terview mothers with pre-school children. These women would most likely have the heaviest work load since the children are dependent on them. The women will represent 100 Lansing fam ilies and will be chosen at ran dom. There will be about four from each school district in the city.

The goal of this project is to help families live with happier family relationships and by do ing so, have happier homes. The hundred families interviewed may get some help in bettering their family relationships by act ually analyzing their own atti tudes and plans. But the study primarily should help all families by giving a broad picture of what factors make a homemaker tired.

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is the third in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr. Byron H. VanRoekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

By Dr. Byron H. VanRoekel
Assistant Professor of Education,
Michigan State College

One of the problems facing teachers in the early primary grades is the tendency on the part of some children, especially those that are quite immature, to reverse letters and words. Children with re versal tendencies often say d for b; q for p; W for M; no for on; was for saw, etc.

A number of investigators have tried to determine why children make reversals. Some thought it might have something to do with the child's vision; some felt that it might be related to the theory that the right side of the brain controls the left side of the body and vice versa, and that some times there is confusion as to which side will dominate. Some looked for still other reasons.

The home can do much to help children in regard to this prob lem. That is why I suggest that when you read to your child, point to the words you are read ing. As you move your hand from left to right across the page, he will get the idea that that is the way we move our eyes along the line of print.

Helping children learn left from right will contribute to the correction of reversal tendencies. There are many opportunities for this in the home and children learn this quite readily.

For example, when children first learn to eat by themselves, they often hold the spoon in the left hand. So many times the par ent will say, "Put the spoon in your other paddy or other hand." It is just as easy to say, "You are eating with your left hand, hold the spoon with your right hand." With repetition, the child grad ually learns which is left and which is right. If the child knows left from right, it is much easier for his teacher to explain left to right movement across the page than if he lacks this knowledge.

This is not to suggest that it is good to change hand preference, but rather to show how we can use situations in the home to pre pare a child for activities in the school.

GAME WILL HELP

A game that comes in use homes can be adapted to help children learn left from right. Many of you probably have held your hands behind your back and asked your child which hand he wants. The choice of one hand produces gum and the choice of the other, candy or some other reward. Most children indicate their choice by pointing. Next time you play this game, ask your pre-schooler if he wants the left hand or the right. As soon as you do this, you have him started in learning left from right.

Small children usually need help in the putting on and tak ing off of shoes or sometimes children put the right shoe on the left foot. Use this opportunity to help children learn to distinguish left and right. Say to your child, "You have your left shoe on your right foot," rather than "You have that shoe on the wrong foot."

Being able to distinguish left from right not only contributes to readiness for reading, but it also helps in learning to follow di rections. Every good readiness program in the early grades in cludes activities designed to de velop the ability to follow di rections. You can give your child a good start by using opportuni ties such as those suggested here.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. But it wasn't an easy one to carry out. For Chevrolet and General Motors set out with the idea of building the first low-priced car that would do all these things:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, the skills, the resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new concept? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your own ideas about cars!

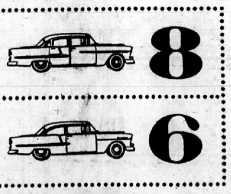
Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . there's more room for hats and hips . . . exciting fabrics and trim harmonized with the whole car . . . as carefully as a bride matches carpet to curtains.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get more level stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.



Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

ONE HUNDRED FOURTH YEAR — NUMBER 11 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1954 | TEN CENTS A COPY

40TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Creger, 517 north Union street, Tecumseh, will observe their fortieth wedding anniversary next Sunday.

Their children are holding open house from 2 to 6 p. m. for friends and relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hammack, 410 west Brown street. Mrs. Hammack is a daughter of the Cregers.

Mr. and Mrs. Creger were married Dec. 23, 1914, in Adrian.

They have three children, two daughters, Mrs. E. J. Francouer (Maxine) and Mrs. Ernest Hammack (Carol) and one son Darwin Creger. They also have five grandchildren, Bob, Ron [illegible] Frances [illegible] and Kathy Hammack.

Mr. and Mrs. Creger attend the Friends Church.

Guard Against Christmas Fires, Chief Cautions

The essence of Christmas is centered in the Christmas tree with its shining lights and ornaments. But beware of those decorations, cautions Cecil Alderdyce, Tecumseh fire chief.

Key to the trouble is the tree itself — filled with pitch and resin and extremely combustible. It ignites easily and burns so furiously that it is virtually impossible to put out the fire quickly, he said.

He urges Tecumseh area folks to take these simple precautions:

1. Choose a small tree rather than a large one.

2. Store it outdoors until a day or two before Christmas.

3. When you bring it in, stand it in water and set it in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. Don't let it block an exit.

When you decorate your tree, remember these things:

1. Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition—no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets. (Naturally, you never use candles!)

2. When you buy new sets or cords, look for the UL label. The ones that bear it have passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for fire and shock hazards.

3. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.

4. Ornaments should all be made of fireproof materials like metal or glass. Never decorate with cotton or paper unless they are labelled "fireproof" or "flameproof."

5. Never set up electric trains under the tree!

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

TOLD IT MIGHT SLEET Tuesday, Elmer Eberhardt cracked: "Maybe I'd better let my toe nails grow."

OVERHEARD IN A STORE: A lady apparently from out of town entered a local store and said "I always come to Tecumseh to drool." The gracious co-owner remarked that this, she hoped, was complimentary.

ALL ABOUT CHRISTMAS: A lot of comment was heard about the house going up on the four corners which will serve as headquarters for Santa when he arrives Friday but the best one was the rumor that it was going to house more pipe line workers who had had a bit of a time finding housing here . . . The candlelight services in the First Baptist and Presbyterian Churches were wonderful, but it is hoped next year they will not be at the same time so folks who want to see and to hear both services may do so . . . Folks involved in tracing down the tiny mail box for letters to Santa which is now in front of the bank had quite a time. The HERALD called Mrs. Earl Pennington, c of c secretary, and she asked Elmer Eberhardt who searched all over the county (well, almost); then Ed Nelson, meanwhile, had the same idea and he got it out, dusted it off and placed it up. While Elmer was searching, Mrs. Pennington looked out the window and saw it in its proper place on the street and almost keeled over . . . Several area homes are beautifully decorated with Christmas finery and lights. Lucky Tecumseh didn't have a home decorating contest. Judges would have had a hard time deciding the winners . . . If you want to hear Christmas carols beautifully sung, go to the PTA meeting tonight . . . Letters to Santa constantly are being intercepted here. One last week from David Lee Csokasy, who wants an electric train, also included his picture for Santa. Two from Donna and Debbie Purkey were deciphered by their mother. Their letters read: "I would like a dolly, a stroller and a nurse set, some doll clothes and a little ice box. Also ironing board and iron. Mama says we are pretty good." Mama let this last line pass, so the girls must have been good . . . Have you heard the one about Rudolph a member of the Russian embassy? He and his wife had come from a restaurant into the street and he commented that it was raining. She said no; it was snowing. The husband sternly said: "Rudolph, the Red knows rain, dear," . . . Yes, I'll go quietly.

THAT WAS NOT a typographical error on the new glass bankboards in the gym. In an earlier generation they were known as backboards, but today they are bankbourds.

INCIDENTALLY, Don Brazee, who does such a fine job as chief score keeper for the games, informs us that the electric scoreboard was a gift of the class of 1954.

MORE BIRDS EAT BACON. Our bacon fat has attracted more birds to the bird feeding station in the front yard. Last Sunday a chickadee, a nuthatch and a cardinal joined the others for the free smorgasboard. And a squirrel tried to horn in on the free lunch one day.

PUBLIC HEARINGS such as the one held Monday night in the council room are the essence of a Democracy. Some folks may think this is corny; but those home owners from south Union and the council acted and reacted in the same manner that our forefathers used in the old town hall meetings. True, there was some heat; but, as it turned out, there was light, too, and the problem of sewer and water will be worked out.

Injuries Are Fatal To Macon Man

Charles Sones, Macon Township farmer, who was injured Friday afternoon in an accident on the John Bitner farm on the county line road in Monroe county, died at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at the University hospital in Ann Arbor where he was taken immediately after the accident.

Mr. Sones, 80, was living in a trailer as caretaker on the Bitner farm. He was assisting Mr. Russell VanValkenburg of near Britton who had gone to the Bitner farm to pick corn. They were trying to release a wagon from the mud when Mr. Sones fell under the wheels.

Mr. VanValkenburg, who was driving the tractor, was not aware of the accident until the elderly man was pinned under the wagon.

Mr. Sones was born Aug. 8, 1874, in Macon, the son of John and Almeda Ellis Sones and had spent his entire life in the Macon area.

He is survived by a brother, Harvey Sones of Clinton and two nephews, Harley and Kenneth Allen of Ann Arbor. A brother, Byron Sones of Tecumseh died in 1945 and he was also preceded in death by a brother, Marvin of Macon and a sister, Mrs. Charles Allen of Ann Arbor.

Funeral services for Mr. Sones were held Tuesday afternoon at the Collins Funeral home and were conducted by the Rev. Edward Escolme. Burial was in Macon Cemetery.

Give To Goodwill

A stockpile of clothing from the recent Boy Scout drive, combined with regular pickups of discards, should insure Goodwill's handicapped employees steady work over the winter months, it was announced today by Mrs. Carl Burch, 201 W. Shawnee, Goodwill Industries local representative.

The stockpile will be used as stand-by raw materials to be used on days when pickups are slow because of weather.

The daily pickups are what keep Goodwill at full employment and furnish the discards that give jobs.

Furniture, toys and small appliances are particularly in need now, in addition to clothing.

Pickup trucks will be in Tecumseh and Britton Dec. 21. Residents of Tecumseh may call Mrs. Carl Burch at 868, who will arrange for a pickup. In Britton, William Kuster will take your requests. Call 2121.

Charles Hooton Buried Monday

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Charles Lavern Hooton, who died at Herrick Memorial hospital Friday morning where he had been a patient one week following a broken hip. He had been in very poor health for a number of years.

Mr. Hooton, who lived at 104 S. Division street, had been a resident of Tecumseh most of his life. He was born May 25, 1885, son of Charles and Alice Hooton. Until his health failed in 1942 he had been employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

He is survived by his widow, the former Ethel O'Hara; two sons, Donald of Petersburg and Gale of Tecumseh; one sister, Mrs. Clara Fisk of Clinton; one brother, Elmer Hooton of Adrian and five grandchildren.

Set Up Special Assessment Area For Water and Sewer Mains On South Union St.

Lines Cost Each Owner $197 Total

A temporary blocking of needed water and sewer lines on south Union street has been worked out and the first steps to bring the lines to 28 property owners in the area are now in motion.

This action resulted from a public hearing Monday night during which time 24 of the 28 property owners involved were told by Ed Nelson, city manager, that it would be impossible to begin the proposed project because "there is a low spot about 600 feet from the manhole and the sewer would be only two feet from the top of the ground."

He also said "some of the homes are one foot lower than the street and it would be impossible to service these homes if they had basements."

But the Union street folks insisted that something be done to bring sewer and water mains to their area. They previously had petitioned the council for the lines and the city was ready to start the project when the survey showed the low spot.

Some of the property owners told councilmen "we pay city taxes but our problems are our own. We get nothing from the city. You're taking our money, but you're not putting anything in our area."

Property owners insisted that they need sewer lines right now. They said they could get along without water lines if they had to but they need sewer lines to remedy a bad situation of faulty septic tanks.

Councilman Bashore explained that the sewer lines would freeze up because they would not be below the frost line. Mrs. Kenneth McEnroe said the present septic tank lines have not frozen and they are nearer the surface than the sewer lines would be.

City manager Nelson said a lift could be put in but it would be expensive.

Four houses in the area have basements and their owners were concerned about draining wash water.

After an hour's discussion around the council table with property owners looking at the maps, it was suggested that those houses that need them install sump pumps for the drainage of water.

The city manager said he would have to take the proposal to state officials. He did Tuesday and they approved the lines.

A special assessment district has been established and each property owner in the area will pay $197.56 for the water and sewer mains. This does not include costs of bringing sewer and water from the mains to the houses.

The city will connect the mains to the houses if the property owners want it done. This would be an additional cost. Or property owners may do their own work and have it approved by the city.

Monday, Dec. 27, the council will hold a special meeting to hear any possible objections to the special assessment.

Scalp Hillsdale, 57-35
Indian Five Wins First League Game

With a better balanced attack than they had shown in two previous non-league games, the Tecumseh High School Indians won their first Southeastern League basketball game Friday night by turning back Hillsdale, 57 to 35.

After Al Dickinson of the Indians began the scoring with a brace of free throws early in the first quarter there never was any doubt about the outcome as the Indians continued to keep the pressure on the Dales.

After losing the ball several times in ragged passing, the Indians settled down after two minutes of the first period and made five of their first five attempts at field goals to build up a 19 to 10 first quarter lead. Using a pressing style of play, Tecumseh got 15 times in the first period to garner eight field goals while Hillsdale shot 12 times and sank four.

The second period was similar to the first. Tecumseh had the ball more times, clicking on five of 17 attempts while the Dales shot 10 times and made only two field goals. The locals outscored the visitors in this period 14 to 5.

The third quarter was even with both sides scoring seven points. Tecumseh made three of 15 field goal attempts and Hillsdale clicked on three of 14.

The Indians again outscored the Dales in the final period, 17 to 13 making good on five of 13 field goal attempts while the Dales cashed four of 11.

The overall field goal shooting percentages tell the story. The Indians shot 60 times, making good on 21 for a shooting percentage of 35 while the Dales shot 47 times, making good on 13 for a percentage of 27.

Tecumseh added 15 points from the charity line with Jerry Barton, watch-charm guard, clicking on five out of six in the second half.

Hillsdale added 13 points from the foul line.

Ken Miller, sophomore forward, again paced the Indians with 10 field goals and two charity tosses for 22 points. And this time he received plenty of aid from Marv Yoakum who played his finest game to date. The Indian center added five field goals and a free throw for 11 points. Jerry Barton contributed 10 points on two goals and six free throws.

Larry Moore, Dale forward, was high for Hillsdale with four baskets and two charity tosses for 10 points.

In the prelim Hillsdale racked up the Indian Junior Varsity, 47 to 21. J. and D. Elliott were high for the Indians with five points each. Handy scored nine points for Hillsdale.

ST. PETER'S GUILD

Mrs. M. W. Wilson was hostess for the Christmas meeting of St. Peter's Guild last Thursday. After a potluck luncheon, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. L. W. Larsen read the Christmas story and there was a collection for the St. Peter's Boy's Home in Detroit. It was decided that the Guild would have a breakfast and bake sale at the home of Mrs. William Wright, Jan. 13.

FORM NEW CLUB

A new organization of Methodist Men in Tecumseh Methodist church has been chartered by Methodism's General Board of Lay Activities in Chicago.

Officers of the new group include: Walter Hizer, 302 Outer Dr., president; Walter Beck, 210 N. Union, vice president; Carson House, secretary.

SHRILL

If you don't think the neighboring town of Clinton has a shrill fire siren ask John Saling, Jack Curtiss or Gale Hooton.

They heard the siren so clearly in Tecumseh early Sunday morning that they dressed and rushed to the Tecumseh fire station.

But there was no local fire. It was in Clinton, five miles away.

CAROLS

Have you wondered where the Christmas carols are coming from that you have been hearing on the main street?

Stemming from tape recordings, they are "piped" from Tecumseh Electric and amplified so shoppers may enjoy them.

Cub Pack 73 Has Christmas Party

The December meeting and Christmas party of Cub Scout Pack 73 was held in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church Monday evening. The first item of the program was the presentation of a gift to Mrs. James Barton, president of the Westminster League of the Presbyterian church, the sponsoring organization of the Pack.

Cub Master Irwin Richardson then made the following awards: Den 3, Webelos badges to Terry Reister and Larry Titley and Webelos badge with one silver arrow to Kent Naugle; Den 8, Wolf badge with one gold and two silver arrows to Michael Wilson, Wolf badge with one gold and two silver arrows to Tommy Wilson, Wolf badges to Murray Richardson and James Brown and two silver arrows to Billy Bishop; Den 11, Bobcat badge to Glenn Schmidt, Gregory King, Ronald Jones, Delbert Hawkins, James Graham, James Brandt, Timothy Fee, Richard Hadsell and Gary Bowers.

A Christmas tree trimming ceremony followed when each cub hung an ornament he had made, and then Santa Claus entered. He led the cubs in the singing of Christmas carols and then presented each with a gift of candy. The presenting to their parents of gifts made by the Cubs closed the meeting.

Announcement was made that the Pack would have a skating party Dec. 29 from 2 to 5 p. m. and that the Cubs would participate in Safe Driving Day Wednesday carrying safety slogans on placards throughout the town.

PATTERSON—CADMUS

The Britton Congregational Christian church was the scene of a beautiful candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock when Charlotte Cadmus and Jack Patterson exchanged vows before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cadmus and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, both of Britton. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. O. E. Priest, pastor of the church. Preceding the ceremony, Willard Exelby sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." While the couple knelt at the altar he sang "The Lord's Prayer." His mother, Mrs. Ford Exelby, accompanied him at the organ and played the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of white satin, enriched by a luxurious Chantilly lace bodice with a V-neck line and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Vast drifts of nylon tulle swept into a chapel sweep train. The shoulder veil of silk illusion was held by a seed pearl and lace tiara. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Donald Mueller as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of emerald green nylon net over taffeta with a velvet jacket. Her headdress was emerald green velvet. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with red moline.

The flower girl, little Tamara Sue Tucker, cousin of the bridegroom, was gowned in red nylon with tight bodice and full skirt with matching headdress. She carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered before the bride. Colors were carried out in keeping with the Christmas season.

Tommy Tucker, cousin of the bridegroom was the ring bearer. He wore a dark suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed with lace.

Larry Patterson, brother of the bridegroom acted as best man. The ushers were Johnny Cadmus, brother of the bride; Dale Monigan and Lee Benedict. Neil Benedict and Philip Benedict acted as acolytes.

The bride's mother chose a dress of navy blue crepe with pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue taffeta dress with light blue accessories. Both wore corsages of carnations.

Joan Downing was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland, aunt of the bridegroom, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Elwood Tucker, cousin of the bridegroom presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. Chris Koch and Mrs. Lydia Taylor, aunts of the bride, poured.

Miss Nancy Schott, Miss Margie Papp and Mrs. Lee Benedict assisted with the gifts.

The bride is a member of the 1955 graduating class at Britton Macon Agricultural School. The bridegroom is a graduate of the same school with the class of '54 and is now attending Michigan State College.

Shirley Bailey And Donald Weber Exchanged Vows Sunday Afternoon

The marriage of Shirley Ann Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. George Bailey of Tecumseh and Donald E. Weber of Vassar was solemnized at 4:30 Sunday afternoon at the Grace Lutheran church. The Rev. Adolph Jeschke performed the double ring ceremony and Shirley Ann was given in marriage by her father.

With Mrs. George Schippers at the organ, William Weber Jr. of Vassar, a cousin of the groom, sang "O Perfect Love" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

Bridal attendants were the bride's sister, Annette Bailey, who was maid of honor; the groom's sister, Ruth Weber, Edith Hoffman of Saginaw and Katharine Gartman of Ann Arbor were the bridesmaids. Mr. Weber's brother, Eugene Weber assisted him as best man and the ushers were Harvey Ferrero of Detroit, Don Buckinger of Frankenmuth and Walter Bailey, brother of the bride.

Chantilly lace over tulle and satin fashioned the bridal gown, whose fitted bodice had a deep yoke of illusion edged with lace embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. It had long pointed sleeves and a lace mandarin collar. Alternate panels of tulle and lace formed the full skirt which ended in a short train. A lace Juliet cap held the fingertip veil of illusion and she wore pearl earrings which were the groom's gift. White orchids trimmed the lace-covered Bible she carried.

The gowns of the attendants were of nylon net and velveteen, made in identical fashion with shrug jackets of matching net. Miss Bailey's dress was teal blue while the bridesmaids were in flamingo red. All wore pearl headbands and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations with glitted velvet foliage. The flower girl, Karen Thompson, was dressed in floor-length white net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations in a setting of gold.

In the social rooms of the church immediately after the ceremony the 150 guests were registered by Miss Marilyn Heizerman. The three tiered wedding cake, which had been made for the occasion by Mrs. B. J. Gartman was cut by Mrs. Don Buckinger and the gifts were received by Marie Weber of Vassar and Evelyn Kortz of Saline.

Leaving for their wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a nocturne gray suit with gold accessories. Gray with black accessories was chosen by the bride's mother. Mrs. Weber wore dark blue and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Graham was in navy. All had corsages of pink roses.

Both bride and groom are graduates of the Michigan Lutheran Seminary. Mrs. Weber has been employed at the United Savings Bank. Mr. Weber, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weber of Vassar, is attending Lawrence Institute of Technology and is a member of Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity. They will live in Highland Park.

HAVE CHRISTMAS DINNER

Due to the remodeling of the parish house, the Daughters of St. Peter had their annual Christmas dinner Tuesday evening at Don's Grill. Seventeen members gathered about tables decorated with evergreen, holiday candles and gay nut cups. For their meeting they adjourned to the home of Mrs. A. H. Brown, where after a short business meeting, Christmas carols were sung and the year's mystery sisters were revealed by the presenting of gifts.

FFA Attends Livestock Show

Twelve members of the Tecumseh chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago Nov. 29, 30, and Dec.

Paul Burns FFA Advisor, John Quigley and Robert Allnow were drivers for the trip. While in Chicago the group stayed at the Atlantic Hotel which is located in the loop.

On Nov. 29 the boys toured the International Harvester crawler tractor plant, where they saw parts for the tractors forged out then assembled on the crawler assembly line. The tour was arranged by Mr. Hammond, public relations director of the company. At noon the boys were served dinner in the plant cafeteria.

The FFA boys then went to th Ingersoll Steel plant, a divisio of Borg Warner Products. Mr James Ingersoll, Vice-President o the plant gave a brief history o the plants growth and a descrip tion of how they made 75 pe cent of all discs manufactured The group then toured the plan under the guidance of Mr. W Kamholtz and Mr. J. W. Trethe way. The boys were very much impressed by the gigantic hammers, presses, and the rolling mills. After the tour of the plan they were given a chicken sup per in the executive dining room. [illegible] spoke to the boys, and congratulated them for their interest in American industry.

In the evening many of the boys went to see "Cinerama."

On Nov. 30 the group went to the board of trade building where they saw grain auctioned off. They also attended a lecture on the procedures used in the train markets, and had the future market explained to them. After the lecture the group went up to the observatory which is located on the 45th floor.

Santa Should Bring Tots Creative Toys

Children's Christmas gifts should reflect their parent's love not just their pocketbooks.

Dr. Elmer Knowles of the home management and child development department at Michigan State, says a common attitude for many parents is "We have given our children everything — toys, money, entertainment — why, what else is there to give?"

Unless their parents have given freely of themselves, Dr. Knowles says, the child is lacking what he needs most of all—unconditional love.

Dorothy W. Baruch, authority in parent education, believes children need and want four emotional foods: 1, unconditional love, that is acceptance of the child as he is; 2, a sense of belonging in the family group; 3, a feeling of being able to stand on his own feet as an achieving person, and 4, a need for recognition.

Toys and play are a serious business for a child. Dr. Knowles thinks parents should allow their children to explore as far as he can safely do so, but they should learn that some things are forbidden. Store bought toys should be preceded and supplemented by contact with ordinary objects and experiences.

A good rule to guide you when buying a Christmas toy is this: Can Johnny invent lots of things to do with it? Is it suitable for his age? Is the toy sturdy enough so he can be as rough as he chooses with it?

For a toy which will let him use his imagination, avoid things which have a pattern someone else has made. Let him do what his fancy dictates with such things as clay, finger paints and building blocks. He may do nothing but mess or dab colors or punch the clay. But, whatever he makes, it is his own.

According to Dr. Benjamin Spock, famous child specialist, children love simple toys best, not because children are simple, but because they have so much imagination.

Christian Science Services Listed

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Man's God-given dominion over materialism, including the so-called laws of chance and misfortune, is brought out in the readings from the Bible, among which is the account of Paul's restoration of Eutychus, the young man who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (424:5): "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

Bonnie L. Naugle Is Bride Of Lowell G. Bush

Bonnie Lou Naugle and Lowell G. Bush were united in marriage at 7 o'clock last Friday evening in the Congregational Christian church in Britton. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. O. E. Priest and Miss Naugle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Naugle of Pennington Road, was given in marriage by her father. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leland D. Bush, who live on Welch Road.

While the guests assembled, Miss Mary Bush played "Ave Maria" and "O Promise Me" and during the ceremony, conducted before an altar decorated with white carnations and lighted candelabra, she played the "Lord's Prayer."

Miss Suzanne Naugle was her sister's maid of honor and the best man was L. Donald Bush, brother of the groom.

Miss Naugle was a very lovely bride in her wedding gown of Chantilly lace. The full ballerina length skirt was of lace over swirls of tulle and satin while the all lace jacket was fashioned with mandarin collar, long fitted sleeves and a peplum overskirt. Her nose veil was held by a tiara of small flowers and she carried a white Bible with red roses.

The maid of honor wore shrimp pink tulle and lace over taffeta with matching jacket and full ballerina skirt and her guilet styled cap was of pearls and she carried white quilted carnations.

Both are graduates of the Britton-Macon Agricultural School and they will make their home on Macon-Tecumseh Highway.

ALTAR SOCIETY HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Christmas party of the St. Elizabeth Altar Society was held Wednesday evening in the Catholic school auditorium with an informal social hour and gift exchange following the short business meeting. A gift from the group was also presented to Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins.

It was decided to hold some kind of a fund raising project during January for the benefit of the Polio fund, the method to be decided leter. An appeal for volunteers to participate in the March of the Mothers for polio resulted in the appointment of Mrs. Don Blesing, Mrs. Paul Breitenwischer and Mrs. Joseph Dziachan.

Mrs. Breitenwischer, Mrs. Edward Golat, Mrs. Carl Gruber and Mrs. Larry Lopez were appointed to the December committee and the Nov. committee served refreshments.

Mrs. Ruth Bennett

"Two years ago my husband and I had a terrible automobile accident in Pennsylvania," says Mrs. Bennett. "I went to the hospital with two broken legs and a fractured hip. Lucky for us we had the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract and Blue Shield. My Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered my whole hospital bill for 120 days—and, a year later, paid another big bill for 103 days resulting from the same accident! Blue Shield paid a big part of my doctor bill, too. Just that one accident would have cost us $3,700 if we hadn't had the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract and Blue Shield!"

With 1 in 3 families facing hospital bills within a year, can you afford to be without protection like this? Over 3 million Michigan people have Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Probably some of your close friends have it. Ask them if they don't agree: there's no finer protection against hospital and doctor bills at any price!

It's easy to find out how you can enjoy low-cost Blue Cross - Blue Shield group enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Call or write: Blue Cross - Blue Shield

A loaf of bread, an hour's worship—both are better shared

"Not by bread alone—"

You know yourself there's a good deal more to keeping a home and a family happy than just paying the bills.

It's doing things together

Going to worship together every week is another of the good things in life which are best shared. Think back over the years. Remember when you were a youngster, how important and grown-up you felt walking into church with your folks. It was a nice feeling, wasn't it? Surely you want to do as well for your family, this week.

Without even trying, you'll provide a pattern, a foundation, a way of living, that will guide the lives of your children years from now. And if theirs is a happy life, what warmer tribute could you have?

He restoreth your soul... Worship together this week

A Comment On Housing

A three-bedroom house for about $7500? Crazy, you say?

Bob Fuller, now in the midst of planning Indian Village, another Tecumseh subdivision, says he might be crazy but builders in other parts of the country are doing it and he thinks he can do it here.

Jack Osburn, who also admits that some folks have called him a dreamer, thinks this type of housing not only can be built but it should be built.

Both men say that Tecumseh needs lower cost housing to fill the need of those who have a strong desire to own their own places but who may not have the finances to buy a higher priced house. Those opposed (and, naturally, there are some) say the low cost housing areas might possibly revert into slums that would detract from the whole city. This is not necessarily so.

Such housing, like any other, would have to be governed by building ordinances to protect the city at large and the person buying the individual house.

The need for this housing certainly is here. If Tecumseh had this necessary type of housing and if it were properly regulated, the whole city would benefit.

The city would add more tax base; there would be more folks living here which would give the city more sales tax refunds; and, from the business standpoint, if the folks lived here, they would become potential purchasers of goods and services offered by local busineess and professional places; and, above all, home owners are better citizens.

Tecumseh, which now has a population of almost 6000, could very easily reach a population of 7,500.

Crazy? We doubt it. Tecumseh is only beginning to grow.

Buy Christmas Seals

Suppose everyone in Tecumseh should suddenly become seriously ill. That would make news. Big news. Shocking news.

If this is so, we should feel the same way about a number quoted by the Michigan TB Association. The association reports more than 5,600 Michigan people were new TB victims last year. This is about equal to the population of Tecumseh.

Now, each one of these 5,600 people are men, women and children—just like those in Tecumseh. They may not live on our main four corners. Maybe we don't know them. But it is important to realize that they are neighbors of ours—and many of them face a tough pull back to health.

At the same time, all of us in Tecumseh should remember that tuberculosis can happen to us . . . to a Tecumseh grandfather . . . to one of our high school teen-agers, or even to a Tecumseh baby.

That's why we say "give generously" for 1954 Christmas Seals which are now on sale. Proceeds wage war on TB all next year.

A Refreshing Approach

Dr. John Pitkin, who recently spoke at the Patterson PTA meeting, had a refreshing approach to the problems of children and how parents can cope with these problems.

Director of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, Dr. Pitkin, unlike some professional men and women in his field, had no pat answers.

He said there is no average child. This fact alone precludes any pat answers. A treatment that might work for one child would be utterly useless if it were to be used on another child.

Dr. Pitkin also made two other statements that were enlightening:

1. Aggression in children often stems from a lack of security. And he did not mean essentially economic security, but a security of being wanted and loved.

2. Many emotional problems of children are tied closely to reading readiness and problems in learning how to read.

A tribute to Dr. Pitkin and what he had to say could be garnered from the interest parents and teachers showed. He was still around talking to them in small groups at 11 p.m.

Breaks For The Motorist

An amusing, and also significant, commentary on the kind of service we expect from service stations is found in a sign a New England operator posted when he took a vacation.

It read: "We are closing up for two weeks. The services we usually provide may be had at the following places: 1. General information—from cop on beat. 2. Cokes—at corner drugstore. 3. Rest rooms—at home. 4. Change—a bank across the street. 5. Petty loan—also at bank across the street. 6. Charity—at county farm. 7. Matches—from passerby. 8. Daily newspapers—from newsboy. 9. Loafing—in the street."

Not long ago a young lady called. "We need to find a home with several bedrooms and a large lot. You see our family is going to increase."

Before long, we showed this couple a home they thought ideal. It had two big bedrooms with extra possible bedroom space. Now their family (increase and all) is comfortably settled.

This incident serves to illustrate a trend a national survey confirms. One of the most prominent reasons for buying a home (either the first time or the second) is "Recent or prospective additions to the family."

Maybe you too have an "expanding" family and need an expanding home. If so, we can, no doubt, find one which can "grow" right along with your children.

Over the years, even a family that is not growing continues to need extra room for expanding possessions.

Either way, we can help you find what you most want—a home tailored to fit your family and your family's needs.

Grade School News

Central

Mrs. Runk—Grade Six

We are so excited about Christmas it's hard to get any work done these days. Mrs. Runk has a Christmas party planned for us on the twenty-third. Our church and other school organizations are having parties, and many of our fathers belong to clubs which are having family Christmas parties. Is it any wonder that reading, writing and arithmetic get lost in our Christmas planning?

Francisco Cuevas has gone back to Texas and we miss him in our room. We are glad that he will have Christmas with his mother whom he hasn't seen for two years.

Donna Williams is new in our room, but she got acquainted quickly, and it seems as if she has been here since the beginning of the year.

We have been exchanging school pictures with our friends. We are beginning to realize that this is our last year in Central building and we are glad that our same good friends will go to Junior High with us next year. The Service Squad girls and the Safety Patrol boys will soon be giving their responsibilities to the fifth graders. They will do a good job, we know, but we wish we could keep on with it next semester, too.

Our class officers for this month are: President, Helen Hicks; vice-president, Glennis Baker; secretary, Sandra Stauter; and treasurer, Leo Godfrey.

We hope everyone will come to the Christmas program in the high school gym Thursday, Dec. 16 (that's tonight). Everyone has worked hard and all children from the third through sixth grades will participate. Miss Gillespie is our director and we have enjoyed getting ready for the program.

We all wish all of you a Very Merry Christmas, and a Happy, Happy New Year.

Patterson

Mrs. Osburn—Grade Five

Several of us have missed school recently because of bad colds.

Everyone is helping to decorate our room for Christmas.

Nancy Beland, Carol Green, John Whitney, Charles Osburn, Brenda Whelan, Sharon Butler, Floyd Steele, Jay Anderson, Diane Roe, and Richard Mead are the committee to plan the refreshments for our Christmas party.

The girls in our room beat the sixth grade girls in a game of Newcomb this week.

Long division! We are still working at it. Of course only part of the time but it has most of us confused. However, some time we are going to be able to say, "We can do long division."

Patterson

Mr. Kaiser—Grade Six

We would like to thank Earl Bryan for the fine painting of Chief Tecumseh. The picture looks very nice in our school library.

Jean Hohenstein is the new member of our class. We are very glad to have Jean in our room. Sonny Evans has moved to Texas.

Our bird feeding station has been attracting a lot of birds. However, it is quite a problem to find enough sunflower seeds to keep the feeder full.

Many of us have been exchanging pictures this week as our pictures are back. Most of the pictures turned out very well.

We have drawn names for Christmas. The boys are working on one large scene and the girls on another to decorate the room.

In science we have been studying about electricity. Larry Meiers brought in an electric buzzer and demonstrated how it works. Mike Green and Dan Morey each made a telegraph set. They showed us how they could send messages from one to the other.

This week eight more joined the Junior band. Almost half of the children in the room belong to the band. We are looking forward to the spring band concert.

We would like to wish all of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Before you start wondering what toys to give little Johnny for Christmas, be sure you are giving him the most important things: love, sense of belonging, a feeling of independence and recognition for his achievements.

Foreign Students To Be Guests Of Michigan Families

Foreign students from colleges and universities throughout the nation will get an insight into the American way of life during Michigan State's second annual "Christmas Adventure in World Understanding," Dec. 22 to Jan. 2.

Michigan families will open their homes to 120 foreign students as part of the holiday project, sponsored by M.S.C.'s Continuing Education Service.

The 10-day adventure will highlight Christmas eve with families. In the Lansing area, overnight stays with central Michigan farm families, tours of industrial plants, seminars with nationally-known personalities and social activities.

Headquarters for the group will be the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education on the M.S.C. campus. The Lansing Council of Churches, agricultural agents of central Michigan and many other groups are cooperating in the venture.

Many of the foreign students will attend on scholarships, while additional funds are being contributed by Michigan industries and businessmen in the interest of promoting international harmony and understanding.

"This project is designed to give these foreign youths, who will be coming back soon as leaders in their countries, a real insight into the American way of life," said Russell Kleis, director of the project.

Now that winter's here, don't skimp on the straw you give your dairy cattle, say M.S.C. dairymen. It may save slipping on the wet cement or mastitis from chilled udders.

Keep dairy barns well ventilated in winter, it pays off in high milk production, point out M.S.C. dairymen.

MORE THAN 40 TO 1

TRUCKS serve you night and day — bringing you everything you eat, wear, or use — but that's not all!

Trucks pay as they serve — and pay handsomely — for a large portion of the money that goes to build Michigan's roads, schools, and hospitals comes out of the registration fees, gasoline taxes and property taxes paid by the owners of the trucks that serve Michigan.

It takes the road taxes paid by more than 40 automobiles to equal those paid by just one large truck-trailer! Dollar-wise, the comparison is around $45.00 for the average passenger car against nearly $2000 for the average large truck-trailer.

No wonder they say trucks pay their way — and more!

Mr. Thomas DiGaetano

Detroit butcher says, "My family would be hard-pressed if we didn't have Blue Cross-Blue Shield!"

"It's when you need Blue Cross-Blue Shield that you find out what wonderful protection it really is," says Mr. DiGaetano. "We needed it this summer. My wife was taken to the hospital unexpectedly . . . she was there for 88 days. It cost almost $2,200 just for the hospital part, and our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered every bit of it. Blue Shield paid $277 to our doctor. My family would be hard-pressed if it weren't for Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Will your family be the one in three that will have a hospital bill within a year? If so, how would you pay it? Wouldn't you be a lot better off with the kind of protection that saved over $2,450 for Mr. DiGaetano's family? That kind is the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract and Blue Shield!

It's easy to find out how you can enjoy Blue Cross-Blue Shield group protection for hospital and doctor bills. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Call or write: Blue Cross-Blue Shield

Past Masters present were introduced and conducted to the East after which the Grand Installing Officer, Past Master Leo Patterson of Monroe Lodge No. 27 was also introduced and conducted to the East. He in turn introduced his staff, with Past Master Erwin Hendershot acting as Installing Marshall.

Howard Wilson Jr. received the obligation from his father, the retiring Worshipful Master, who escorted him to the East under an arch of steel formed by members of the Southeastern Battalion of Knights Templar of which both are members.

Other officers installed were Jack Puffer, senior warden; Stanley Miller, junior warden; Kenneth D. Hall, treasurer; Howard Wilson Sr., chaplain; Donald C. LaBounty, senior deacon; Melvin Smith, junior deacon; Gibbs Barber and Harold Gibson, senior stewards; Proctor Price and David Faling, junior stewards; Preston Criswell, marshall; Ted McConnell, tyler and John H. Aspirin For Children – And Other Remedies

Special children's dosage of commonly used remedies are now available. Aspirin is only an example. Most are either small doses, milder or flavored for the child's taste.

Do not depend too much on such remedies. Care should be used in their use and consideration carefully given to the need for calling the Doctor. A good rule is to rely but little on such remedies — and quickly call the Doctor when your child is sick.

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is the fourth in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr. Byron H. VanRoskel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

By Dr. Byron H. Van Roskel
Assistant Professor of Education,
Michigan State College

One of the best ways to find out something about the activities in which youngsters participate in school is to examine the materials that are used. I have just finished a little study in which I compared beginning reading books used in our schools thirty and forty years ago with those being used today.

One of the very noticeable differences is the large number of attractively colored pictures in recent books, especially at the lower elementary school level. When once upon a time only five to ten percent of the total space in a book was devoted to pictures (most of them being black and white), now well over fifty percent of the pre-primers are colored pictures.

USE MORE MATERIALS

Furthermore, children now have a much greater variety of materials to work with than we did when we were in elementary school. Almost every recent basic reading series has a number of workbooks which are used for seat work. Among other things, children color the pictures in the workbooks and in the kindergarten quite some time is devoted to this activity. If you have children in the lower elementary grades, you probably have seen some of this when they bring home their seat work.

The reason for the emphasis on color in this discussion is that you can help your child prepare for school activities by helping him learn to recognize colors. Strange as it may seem, many children come to kindergarten without this knowledge.

It is rather easy to help your youngster learn to recognize colors and it can be done in the regular routine of the home. For example, when you are dressing your three or four-year old, you can say, "Wouldn't you like to wear your yellow T-shirt today?" or "Your toothbrush is the one with the blue handle." The colored towel sets, the colored plastic dishes, the colored pop corn bowls, etc., all provide opportunity for learning colors.

BUY CRAYONS, COLOR BOOK

And don't forget to buy a set of crayons and a color book. There is no more inexpensive way to provide entertainment on those days when children must remain indoors. Children like parental participation in their activities so join in the coloring. Help them select colors which blend but do not force a choice.

If you help your youngster learn the colors before he goes to school, you will have done this for him:

(1) You will have helped him develop a background for some of the reading readiness activities which occur at the kindergarten level.

(2) You will have given him some knowledge which can contribute to a feeling of self-confidence. Most of us are much less apprehensive about things we are asked to do if we feel that we have command of the basic elements for his school tasks if he has knowledge of colors before he goes to school.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Guess It's Called a Safety "Drive"

Whitey Fisher, from the State Motor Vehicle Department, dropped by to discuss some of our local traffic problems.

"Up at Center Junction," Whitey says, "they've got a new sign that really slows down the traffic going through town."

"The sign says, 'At 25 miles an hour, you can drive through Center Junction in 2½ minutes.' It slows people down too—some just take it easy to check on that 2½ minutes, I guess. Hasn't even been a dented fender since that sign went up."

From where I sit, it wasn't what the sign said, but the way it was said. People are usually pretty understanding if they understand what you mean. It's the same way with differences of opinion. Perhaps your neighbor prefers a temperate glass of beer, and you would choose buttermilk. What I'd like to see is for all of us to "slow down," talk it out, and be respectful of our neighbor's rights.

BROWNIE SCOUTS HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The combined troops of Brownie Scouts, about 125 girls in all, had their Christmas party Tuesday evening from 5 to 7 p. m. in the Presbyterian Fellowship Center. All troop leaders formed the entertainment committee and there was a program of games and Brownie songs and a visit from Santa Claus.

JOHN TRUESDALE BURIED MONDAY

Tecumseh business places closed at 2 p. m. Monday afternoon during the funeral services for John Truesdale, former mayor. The Rev. George Walworth conducted the services at the Green Funeral Home and the bearers were Harry Weakly, Wiley McCann, Burnell Moon, Dan Corkey, Mike Hite and Richard Karner of Dundee. Honorary bearers were Edward Rogers of Britton; John Kishpaugh, Tipton; Russell Miller and Lloyd Gibson, Clinton; William Britton, Lyle DeArmia, Ned Rosecrans, Ned Baldwin, Gale Hooten and Charles Hanna.

Graveside services were in charge of Tecumseh Lodge F. and A.M. and were conducted by Howard Wilson Sr., Jack Puffer and Stanley Miller.

GLOBE TROTTERS

The Christmas party of the Globe Trotters was held at the home of Mrs. George Derby Wednesday evening. Movies taken by Mrs. William DePuy on her recent trip to her former home in Australia were part of the evening's program.

Each member of the club had dressed a doll to be presented to the Adrian Kiwanis Club for distribution and the results were judged at this meeting. First place was alloted to Mrs. Henry Hamilton for her entry which was in authentic Greek costume and a skating doll dressed by Mrs. Robert Carey of Adrian received second prize.

The group played games and there was a gift exchange supervised by Mrs. Everett Fielder after which a buffet supper was served by the hostess. Mrs. William Powell of Adrian will entertain the club in January.

"RIVER ACRES"

Before the city began to move into the country and when it was a favorite Tecumseh pastime to part of the James Waldron paddle a canoe along the shore farm and the "old Briese place" of the Red Pond or watch a fall ing sunset beside a standing on new River Acres subdivision. It "picnic point," the thought was shows two curving streets, run often expressed, "Wouldn't it be ning roughly parallel the length nice to live over here?" of that irregular north and south

Now someone does live there, piece of land. The west road several someones in fact, and soared the pond is named quite some of the experiments and promotions. Red Mill Drive, others who can't keep up with the while the one closer to the high town's expansion have expressed way has the name of the subdithe wish to know who lives where.

A bird's eye view of what was vision, River Acres Drive. Both are reached by a common entrance opposite the end of Burt street and there is another emerging road at the north end of the section near the valley which explencers still call "Kissing Hollow."

There are no cross streets and no straight lines but there is a certain informal uniformity. Perhaps conformity would be more accurate. Certain rules have to be followed in the location of the houses. They are to be built on both sides of both streets but while those on the east or River Acres Drive all face on the drive itself (even though it means some turn their backs on the near by highway) those on both sides of Red Mill Drive face west which, considering the view, is understandable. Perhaps that same view is responsible for another rule, for all are to be "ranch type," i.e. one story, and all have attached garages.

There are, of course, also cost restrictions which vary with the locations but, contrary to common rumor, building is not restricted to Products employees although the company owns and controls the area. In fact, ten lots have already been sold to a construction firm who will build for anyone who can meet the terms. In all there are more than 80 lots laid out and at present seven houses are near enough completion to have water connections.

The most wide spreading of the ranch houses built so far and the most noticeable because of its enclosing fence is that of Mr. Joseph Layton on Red Mill Drive. Mr. Layton is president of the Products Co. and the executive vice president, Mr. Harry Spencer, has also built on Red Mill Drive, south of the Layton home and separated from it by a house owned by the construction company.

The house overlooking the pond north of Layton's on Red Mill is that of Robert Manchester while farthest north of all is the home of Hugh Walters.

In the south section there are two houses on River Acres Drive that are completed. The one nearest the entrance is that of Ernest Peters, one of the Products office force and next is Henry Kempf, a long time employee of the company. Several others are contemplated and no doubt spring will see still more activity.

River Acres is the newest of the town's building projects and it borders on the town's oldest land mark. The Red Pond was the first permanent development on the part of Tecumseh's first settlers. It was formed by the building of the dam in the summer of 1824, and except for temporary periods of drainage has been flooded ever since. Its economic value has been very important in the past and always it has added much to the beauty of the town's setting and to the pleasure of its citizens. Picnic point is still undeveloped. We wonder if it is haunted on moonlight evenings.

Tresco Entertains At Holiday Party

Unusual Christmas decorations formed a gay setting Saturday evening at the Country Club when Tresco Inc. entertained their employees and their families. There were 240 present for the turkey dinner and dancing to Driscoll's orchestra occupied the remainder of the evening.

A feature of the occasion was the presentation of five watches for ten years of service to Geraldine French, Robert Hanna, Philip Colgrove, Frane Purcell and Dale Bowen, the last named in absentia, as Mr. Bowen was in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Smith of Adrian were given special recognition as they were celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary.

MRS. LAIDLAW PRESENTS BOOK TO D.A.R. CHAPTER

Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw was hostess to the Abi Evans chapter, D.A.R. at her home Friday afternoon. During the business meeting reports were given by Dr. Mary Swan regarding the arrangements made for making the first Lenawee county court house in Tecumseh and by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson on the selection of Good Citizen girls. Action on the first project has been delayed for further investigation and on the second the committee was authorized to purchase the customary pins to be presented to the girls chosen.

Mrs. Laidlaw presented to the chapter a book of biographies printed in 1894, which covers the influential families of the Upper Peninsula of that period.

In lieu of the scheduled program, members gave remembered Christmas experiences of the past affording a most interesting and amusing collection of reminiscences. Tea with Christmas cookies and sweets were served by the hostesses, with Dr. Mary Swan in charge of the tea service.

The Professors Tell You About Christmas Trees

It's easy to have a green Christmas — at least where trees are concerned and provided that these forest products get proper treatment — according to two University of Michigan faculty members.

Almost any Christmas tree will stay green and fresh throughout the holiday season if the base is kept in water, says Prof. Kenneth P. Davis, chairman of the U-M forestry department.

SHAVE A LITTLE off the bottom of the tree to expose a fresh surface, states Frank Murray, U-M forest manager. This will remove dried resins which may form over the base and prevent water absorption.

With proper care, even the lowly spruce can be kept green; in fact, it can actually be made to sprout buds. Though often blacklisted for early shedding of its needles as it dries, the tree can compete with all others if it has been cut recently and is not allowed to dry out.

According to Murray, the "Austrian pine is the prettiest tree locally produced, although it is hard to tell from the Scotch pine, which grows faster and is more open in foliage."

SCOTCH PINES are being very widely planted in Michigan for use as Christmas trees. They are the most popular trees for this purpose.

The Douglas fir and balsam also are good selections, the former keeping "its needles till next spring."

Of trees shipped into market, Professor Davis explains that their longevity depends upon where they have been stored. Even if cut in October, as most are, a cool and moist storage place will enable them to keep their needles as long as the more recently cut ones. This fall's warm weather may have a negative effect, however, he comments.

FOR MAKING wreaths and house decorations, Murray points out, most pine is too coarse. But white pine is included in the list of best ingredients, along with balsam, spruce and white cedar.

Of the cones all are good for decorative purposes except those of the white pine which are covered with pitch.

Barberry and boxwood also are good greens. As for holly, the Michigan variety, found in the southern Lower Peninsula, consists solely of berries, with no leaves.

DECORATE FRUIT CAKE

Slices of gumdrops or candied fruits and citron make holiday fruit cake look pretty when you arrange these decorations on the cake to look like holly leaves and berries. If you have made your cake well ahead of time, and are planning to decorate them after storing, dip the cut side of the gumdrops or the candied fruits and citron into hot heavy sugar syrup and press onto the top in the desired design.

A Christmas Recipe

Here is one recipe that will bring happiness to every member of your family and to all with whom you come in contact during the Christmas season.

Don't leave this one to "Mom." She will have her hands full with most of the shopping, the planning and the cooking to do for the big Christmas dinner. Here is one you can try yourself, whether you have ever "cooked" anything before or not and "Mom" will appreciate it as much as the family appreciates the many good dishes she has in store for you.

There is no chance of failure with this recipe. Young or old can make it with equal success. It has been tried and proven over many years and every "cook" who has followed the recipe says that it is the greatest success of any holiday dish they have ever tried. It is called "Christmas Bread" and here is the recipe:

Take all your deeds for the past year, sift and separate the good from the bad. Soak the misdeeds in the milk of human kindness until they become soft and mellow.

Add this mixture to your good deeds. Put in a liberal amount of Faith, Hope and Charity, and knead all together.

Put the result in the warmth of your heart until it doubles in bulk; then form into heart-shaped loaves and let them double in bulk again.

Then, bake in the sunshine of your smile until they are firm but tender; sprinkle liberally with Generosity; wrap in Cheerfulness; tie up with Laughter, and give to everyone you see during the Christmas season and—

One of the nice things about this Christmas Recipe is that it is equally good at all seasons of the year and the oftener it is tried the easier it becomes. Try it often throughout 1955.

Our Christmas Date Started By Romans

The first celebration of the birth of Christ on December 25 took place in the fourth century. Before that date the commemoration of Christ's Nativity and Baptism was held on January 6.

The first mention of Christmas as found in a Roman document known as the "Philocalian Calendar" in the year 354, and the first time the festival was celebrated in Britain was in 598, when St. Augustine baptized 10,000 converts.

CHRISTMAS CAROL

The traditional Christmas poem, "The Night Before Christmas," was written by Clement Clarke Moore in 1822 and published anonymously the following year. He finally acknowledges authorship in 1844.

Variety Of Items For Decorating

Home decorations for the Yule season fall in three general classes — the Christmas tree itself, indoor display with a Yule motif and outside displays.

The Christmas tree is taking on color. Some householders spray their trees with silver and gold paint.

Items for decorating a tree include angel hair, artificial snow, mica, tinsel, bells and balls of different colors, lights with backing of metal stars and tiny objects such as choir boys, Santa Claus and reindeer to hang from the boughs.

Interior displays usually consist of a Nativity scene, a table centerpiece of reindeer pulling a sleigh or a slow burning candle surrounded with a base of evergreens tied with a satin ribbon.

Outside displays consist of trees decorated with lights, large spotlighted scenes of the three Wise Men or the Nativity and door wreaths of evergreens with bright berries and a bow.

Simple Rules Minimize Danger Of Tree Fires

A brightly lighted Christmas tree can turn a happy holiday into a fearful tragedy if it is not properly flameproofed.

But a few cents worth of easily available chemicals and a simple spraying operation can minimize the danger of a Christmas tree fire.

The spray solution is made of seven ounces of common borax and three ounces of boric acid dissolved in about two quarts of hot water. It can be applied with a garden or paint sprayer, or even with a whisk broom. It should be used three times, allowing drying time.

The spraying should be done outside or in a garage or basement, because the dried solution leaves a white deposit.

Standing a tree in water helps to keep it green and at the same time makes it less flammable. The water should be replenished daily.

ST. FRANCIS MADE FIRST CRIB IN CAVE

St. Francis of Assisi is believed to have originated the custom of displaying the Christ Child in a crib at Christmas time.

He is reported once to have said to one of his followers: "I wish to celebrate holy Christmas night with you. In the woods near the cloister you will find a cave where we shall arrange a manger filled with hay. We shall have an ox and an ass just as at Bethlehem. I wish to see how poor and miserable the Infant Savious became for us.

So at midnight in the small Italian village of Garcia in the year 1200 St. Francis and his followers celebrated mass at the cave and sang hymns in honor of the Christ Child.

He Went About Doing Good

A Christmas classic, written originally many years ago by the late Malcolm W. Bingay of the Detroit Free Press. The text for the now famous essay was from The Acts, Chapter X, Verse 36, a line which reads: "He Who Went About Doing Good."

On this day is celebrated by people of many faiths, and by many of no faith, the birth of Him whom the world calls Jesus of Nazareth.

What is His significance today?

He left no written record. He created no party, political or otherwise. He led no uprising. He elaborated no formal program. He was not an organizer. He had no panacea for this earth's ills. He advocated no revolution other than that for which He died on Calvary; the moral revolution of the inner life.

He moved quietly, serenely, peacefully, among the villages of Judea and Galilee, speaking to the people about God and life and duty. He preached a new doctrine of love and forgiveness. He mingled with the lowly and the outcasts and was scorned as their friend. Repulsive disease and anguished sin won His tender sympathy and aid. He knew not where to lay His head. He offered no rank, no earthly glory; only service, self-sacrifice and suffering. Yet he launched a movement that has transformed the world.

He "went about doing good."

* * *

On this there is no disagreement between the churchgoer and the non-church attendant, between Jew and Gentile, Mohammedan and Buddist, Catholic and Protestant, atheist and agnostic. No matter what version of his life is given or how it is interpreted, His goodness of heart and His purity of purpose is universally admitted.

* * *

To those who see in Him the living Christ; to others who see in the story of His ministry only a beautiful symbolism of groping mankind for a better way of life; even to those who deny Him, there is this agreement, No matter how low and how vile and how wretched a creature a man may be, once he has heard the story, he is forever haunted by a feeling that His words are true; that in some way He has sounded the profoundest depths of man's moral being.

His philosophy transcends all races and tongues, all creeds and forms. In nineteen hundred and thirty years, governments and civilizations have crumbled and passed away; the whole face of the earth has been transformed by a multiplicity of man-made laws and machines. But His lessons remain for us as pure and as undimmed as when He first gave them to His lowly followers.

* * *

And so it is on this day of all days when men's hearts are opened to one another by the impulses of the season we come a little closer to an understanding of His purpose. You who have brought joy and laughter to little children, who have kindled a light in the tired eyes of a struggling mother, who have placed a hand of loving comradship on the shoulder of a broken brother, who have in any way helped make lighter the burdens of a fellow mortal, you have, to some degree knowingly or not—fulfilled His command: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

* * *

As the years roll on, the world grows less cruel; with enlightenment there comes understanding. Through corroding cynicism, pessimism, greed, love of luxury, class materialism, His light of love still shines. Down in the heart of every mortal there is something noble and clean and fine; something that is made manifest to us on this, His day.

* * *

And this light which is permitted to shine more brightly this one time of the year is the only hope for our now trouble-torn world which has forgotten in the pursuit of material success, that man cannot live by bread alone; that there are spiritual values, intangible, imponderable, but more powerful than all the fortresses of finance.

Today men who have developed about themselves a crust of hardness in buffeting against the world drop their acquired reserve and cobey the finer impulses of their being; they act naturally, "as little children." They do generous deeds willingly, joyously, with no self-consciousness. When His dream of peace on earth comes true, it will not be for one day but for all days.

* * *

Those of you who have gone forth this Christmas in the joy of unselfish service, who have soothed the suffering, strengthened the weak and aided the needy now find your reward in your own hearts, for you have but followed in the footsteps of Him "Who went about doing good."

LEFTOVER TURKEY

You can make a wonderful supper dish out of some of that leftover turkey. Just arrange slices of the cold bird on buttered toast; top with a hot tomato-cheese sauce and sprigs of parsley. Serve with lots of good strong coffee.

STOCKINGS, in early America, were hung at the chimney on Christmas Eve by children of Dutch and German settlers who hoped that St. Nicholas would fill them with gifts and goodies.

The origin of the tradition is not definitely known, but there is a legend that the Saint once dropped some gold coins down a chimney which were caught by a stocking that had been hung up to dry.

More likely, the tradition stems from a custom observed by European children, who placed their shoes near the fireplace and filled them with food for St. Nicholas' horse.

Mice Gnawed the Organ, Beloved Song Was Born

The millions who sing "Silent Night, Holy Night" this Christmas season are indebted, for the world's best loved Christmas hymn, to two men who refused to let the church of an Alpine village be without music because mice had gnawed the bellows of the church organ.

It was just 135 years ago and the two, cold, weary and despondent, were walking home through the gale-swept streets after discovering that mice had destroyed their plans for a festive Christmas observance.

As they walked away from St. Nikolaus Church, the bitter wind suddenly died and the skies cleared.

Lifting his eyes to the stars, Fr. Joseph Mohr, pastor of the little church, signed:

"Silent, night, holy night."

After a moment, he added: "All is calm, all is bright."

Then, according to the legend handed down through the years, his friend, Teacher Franz Xavier Gruber, urged Fr. Mohr to put the song down on paper.

Excitedly the man hurried to Gruber's home. They spent the rest of the night working out the verses and melody of their Christmas hymn.

When the villagers gathered in the little church to celebrate the birth of Christ, Father Mohr and Gruber led them in the first singing of the carol.

To the accompaniment of a 12-string guitar, the villagers sang and then sang again.

The song was received enthusiastically by the bargemen who floated salt down the Salzach River to Germany and by the village farmers and their families—and from there around the world.

CHRISTMAS FOR PETS

Dress up your pet on Christmas Day. Put a bright red bow on your dog or cat and give the bird's cage a little decoration with Christmas ornaments.

DECORATE TABLE

There are many charming ideas for Christmas table centerpieces if you will just give a little thought to it. An over-sized brandy glass may be filled with pine cones, fir branches and Christmas ornaments, placed on a small mirror and flanked by two candles for a pretty effect.

If you have a small collection of little angels, choristers or other Christmas symbols like these up in the center of the table and surround them with pieces of pine. Some of these figures may be purchased for a few cents in lime or department stores.

May the joys of your Christmas be rich, your friendships strong, and may your future be bright as the Holiday spirit.

Deck Halls With Holly! – Just Old Pagan Custom

Credit the Pagan Druids for inspiring one of the nice Christmas customs — decorating with holly. The traditional holly for the holidays is widely believed to have had its origin in the Druid practice of bringing holly spring indoors. The Druids wood-land spirits lived in the holly.

Indoors, holly gave the spirits a nice warm place in winter. Besides, the lush green holly and the contrast of its red berries provided by men when the sacred oaks were shorn of their foliage.

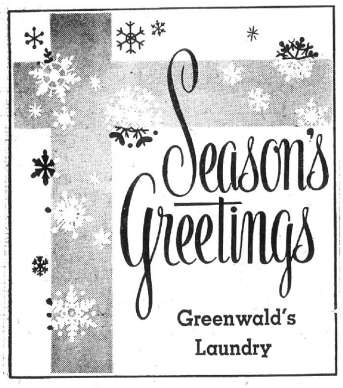
THE EARLY Christian church frowned on such pagan customs and tried to stamp them out. In due time, however, it was felt that some of the customs could be adapted to the new Christmas conception.

Some beautiful legends associate the holly with Christ. In fact, it is often called the Christ thorn.

One legend depicts the holly spines as the crown of thorns, the red berries as the sins of the world and the blood of Christ. Another credits holly with first springing up from the footsteps of Christ. The plant is said to remain green all winter as a reward for once hiding Christ from his pursuers.

THE IMPACT of the holly on the Christmas celebration is evidenced in the traditional holiday colors, green and red. The Druids weren't the only people of old who thought the holly was something special. Pliny, the great Roman historian, insisted holly blossoms caused water to freeze. Also, that holly thrown at any wild beast would make it lie down tamely next to the branch.

These legends, forgotten by many people, are said to be the reason we decorate with holly.



Suggests Menu For Christmas Eve Dinner

In many homes Christmas Eve brings the family together. Amid the flurry of last minute shopping and gift wrapping, the pre-holiday dinner must be prepared. For this busy time it's wise to plan your menu in advance.

One excellent choice for this occasion is a tempting and hearty meat pie. If you have a home freezer, this can be prepared several days in advance ready to finish cooking in your oven.

In any case, for cutting last-minute preparations, cook the stew early in the day, suggests home economist Reba Staggs. Use lamb, veal, or beef cubes for the stew. Cook them completely covered with water, then add vegetables just long enough before the end of the meat cooking so they will be tender. When cooked (2½ hours for beef, 2 hours for veal, 1½ hours for lamb) remove the meat and vegetables and thicken the liquid for gravy.

Store them closely covered in your refrigerator until time to make up the meat pie.

For making the pie, place the stew in your favorite table casserole or in individual casseroles. The topping is what makes it a meat pie—pastry or biscuit.

For a Christmas touch, cut the pastry or biscuit dough with cookie cutters into seasonable designs. For instance, you might have bells over the top of the meat stew, Christmas trees, wreaths. Return the casserole to the oven to heat through and to bake the crust. Just before serving use bright pimento for further decorating. Serve the meat pies with a fruit salad, hot biscuits, ice cream sundaes and Christmas cookies.

WREATHS OUT

If you want your Christmas wreaths to stay fresh longer make sure they are hung outside the window instead of inside.

Three Christmas Dates Set In Modern Bethlehem Rites

Christmas is observed in Bethlehem on December 25 by the Roman Catholics and Protestants, on January 6, by the Greek Orthodox and affiliated churches, and on January 18 by the Armenians.

All Bethlehem, however, turns out on December 24 for the arrival of the Patriarch of Jerusalem—Cardinal of the Holy Land — who each year brings an ancient effigy of the Infant Jesus to Bethlehem which he lays in the manger within the cave where Christ was born.

Dramatically the procession approaches: heralded by a single horseman, his banner streaming aloft. A corps of native police mounted upon fiery Arabian horses follow and then another single horseman upon a prancing black steed carrying the cross on high; the Patriarch in his cardinal and ermine, mitred bishops, clergy in embroidered vestments and white robed acolytes—swinging golden censers—precede the jeweled pavilion of the Holy Child. Magnificent corteges of government officials, foreign embassies, bands, religious organizations follow, and finally American made automobiles mingle with native, two-wheel carriages.

The procession enters the Church of the Nativity. The public is not permitted to witness the actual placing of the effigy as that part of the Church — built above the Cave of the Nativity—is under the jurisdiction of the Greek Orthodox church.

The grotto-like Cave of the Nativity in no way conforms to the modern conception of a "stable," in Biblical times, however, shelters for man and beast were hewn into rocky ledges — thus, the Stable of Bethlehem.

On Christmas Eve, members of all denominations assemble to sing carols above the birthplace of the Holy Child before midnight mass is solemnized in the Church of the Nativity.

Official U.S. Tree Grows In Calif.

The official Christmas tree of the nation is not located in Washington, D. C., as most folks would expect it to be, but in General Grant National Park, 64 miles due east of Fresno, Calif.

Some 267 feet high, the tree was designated as the Nation's Christmas Tree at high noon on Christmas Day, 1925, and is one of the most celebrated in the United States.

Patriotic and devotional services are held beneath it each year and are broadcast over a nation-wide hookup. Heavy snow falls sometimes cut down on the attendance, but usually a large number of visitors attend the ceremonies.

"Christmas Carol"

The Christ-child lay on Mary's lap,
His hair was like a light.
(O weary, weary were the world
But here is all aright.)
The Christ-child lay on Mary's breast
His hair was like a star.
(O stern and cunning are the kings,
But here the true hearts are.)
The Christ-child lay on Mary's heart,
His hair was like a fire.
(O weary, weary is the world,
But here the world's desire.)
The Christ-child stood at Mary's knee,
His hair was like a crown,
And all the flowers looked up at Him,
And all the stars looked down.

—G. K. Cheserton

"FORGIVING TIME"

Charles Dickens once referred to Christmas as "a good time; a kind forgiving charitable, pleasant time." This is an adequate spirit. Why not make this an old fashioned Christmas?

Elaborately planned parties those great time-takers should not be a part of the Christmas scene. A homey, hospitable get together will create an atmosphere in which everyone can relax.

Since Christmas is really "the children's hour," why not give them a greater part in preparing for this day? Children will get more delight from helping prepare and decorate the tree than in seeing only the finished product.

It's Deadliest Night Of All

Merry Christmas, friends, but remember—

Christmas Eve is the deadliest holiday night of the year, twice as bad as New Year's Eve for traffic casualties, and fires have put the end to many a Merry Christmas.

Your last-minute rush to complete Christmas arrangements may be your last minute to enjoy life. The 15 hours of darkness before Christmas are a time to be on guard. Some of us will find it a good time to be home trimming the tree.

If we follow some simple rules, our Christmas will be merrier. The ordinary Christmas tree is one of the most flammable objects known — full of pitch and resin, it may take less than two minutes to burn. Firemen might be way too late.

Choose a small tree—it's just as beautiful and safer. Buy it early if you like, but don't set it up until a few days before Christmas; keep it outside or in a cold place.

Cut the tree trunk diagonally one inch above the original cut; mount the tree in a container of water and keep water above the cut surface until the tree is taken down; this will make the tree less burnable and keep needles from falling. Erect the tree in a cool spot, shutting off nearby heat if necessary.

Paper and cotton decorations, wires and electric trains around trees can cause fires, as can candles or electric lights with frayed wires and loose sockets. A switch at some distance is safer than plugging and un-plugging lights beneath or behind the tree. If needles turn brown, move the lights, and when needles start to fall, take the tree down or hold lighting of a half hour at a time.

DOLL CLOTHES DESIGN FITS TOTS SKILL

When you're making doll clothes, it is a good idea to make them with raglan sleeves so that children can more easily dress and undress their dolls without your help.

Little fingers will have more success with big hooks and eyes and big buttons than with the dainty sizes you'll be tempted to use, points out a specialist in Michigan State College's Spartan nursery school.

Fall Snowstorms Create Extra Peril For Drivers

December snowstorms, Chief of Police George Kilbourn warns, can be more hazardous to motorists than Jan. blizzards, for the reason that they come unexpectedly and find many motorists unprepared both mechanically and psychologically for the problems that snow driving brings.

Right now is the time, Chief Kilbourn emphasized, for all wise motorists to observe the following safety rules:

1. Don't blame accidents on the weather; be prepared for bad weather.
2. When snow comes, get the "feel" of the road when starting out.
3. Keep the windshield clear of fog and frost, and be sure headlights, windshield wiper blades, and defrosters are working.
4. On snow and ice, use tire chains. They cut stopping distance in half, and give 4 to 7 times greater traction.
5. When you have to stop, don't jam on the brakes. "Pump" your brakes to avoid skids.
6. Follow other cars at a safe distance. Give yourself room in which to stop.

SANTA CLAUS SCHOOL TRAINS JOLLY GENTS

In a colonial farmhouse at Albion, N. Y., there's a Santa Claus school and it's the only educational institution of its kind in the world.

A course at the school prepares prospective Santa Claus to properly shake when he laughs like a bowl full of jelly, remain calm when a child glares and yells, "there ain't no Santa Claus" and maintain proper diplomatic relations with a parent who thinks Santa has given her tot the brushoff.

HANG STOCKINGS

Even if you don't have a fireplace, hang up the youngsters' Christmas stockings. Your offspring will be heart broken if stockings and sugar plums are absent on Christmas morn. If you can't afford to fill them with little gifts and sweets, apples, oranges, nuts and hard candies are budget stuffers.

The Christmas Story

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the City of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find him wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

—Luke 2:7-14

A Christmas Thought

What do you think about when you hear the words "peace on earth, good will toward men"? Are these just empty words or do you fully realize the wonderful significance of them?

Do you realize that for the first time in 16 years the world is at peace, although shaky?

Do you also realize that peace on earth, good will toward men is the most wonderful Christmas gift that could possibly be bestowed on all of mankind?

Legend of Christmas Candles

Many years ago, in a village in Austria, the legend of the Christmas candles brought peace and light into the hearts of men.

It all started, says the legend, in a cottage owned by a very poor shoemaker who had little to offer to others except his kindness.

Although he could barely get along on what his craft provided, he would place a lone candle every night in his window as a welcome to weary travelers.

His candles shone in the dark as war, famine and unhappiness came to the little village and the country. Everyone suffered—but the old shoemaker suffered less.

Neighbors all around wondered why the shoemaker should be so fortunate. They talked about it and speculated and decided finally it must be the candles.

That night, Christmas eve, everyone in the village lit candles and all the windows glittered in the dark.

Next morning, a shining white covering of snow blanketed the earth. The air smelled of peace and hope. And a messenger arrived with the glorious news that the war had ended.

Thus was born the legend of the Christmas candles, bringing hope and peace to men.

Salesman's Bright Idea Becomes Santa For 12,200,000 Americans

Millions of Americans find plenty of money available to spend at Christmas time because they participate in an amazingly simple plan conceived by Herbert F. Rawll in 1910.

Rawll believed Americans could accumulate money for Christmas by simply saving a set amount each week. In addition, they would learn valuable thrift habits and something about banking practices.

The result, of course, was the popular Christmas Club plan, which this year had 12,200,000 members. They saved $1,080,000,000 by making weekly deposits in 6,000 savings institutions.

When Rawll conceived the Christmas Club idea, he was selling accounting forms. Banks were among his clients. Bankers then were far more conservative than the promotion-minded bankers of today. One after another they turned down his idea. Some rejected it bluntly. Others considered Rawll an eccentric.

Club Plan Spreads Rapidly

Finally, however, Rawll persuaded a banker in Mount Vernon, N. Y., to give his plan a trial. The first year the "club" distributed $500,000 to 20,000 members. From then on, the plan spread rapidly.

When Herbert F. Rawll died in 1947, the Christmas Club was a national by-word. It would be impossible today to find a banker anywhere in America who would not endorse it as an aid to thrift.

Operation of the plan is simplicity itself. Financial institutions buy use of the emblem, advertising and promotion material, accounting system, and depositor's paraphernalia from the Christmas Club Corporation.

Each week for 50 weeks members go to the Christmas Club windows of their financial institutions and deposit sums ranging from 10 cents to $20. These deposits don't bear interest, but they are returned in the aggregate about four weeks before Christmas.

One of the selling points of the plan is that members aren't allowed to withdraw their money until the 50-week period ends. Some members become so fired up with the idea of not being able to touch their savings for 50 weeks that they pay up membership ships immediately just to keep the money out of their own hands.

Old timers will remember the original Christmas Club plan was known simply as the Christmas Club. Nowadays, however, the words, "a Corporation," are part of the name. The reason is that some segments of the public were confusing the plan with a social organization.

Sometimes persons would telephone to ask, "When do you give out the presents?"

"Put Christ Back Into Christmas" Move Spreads

A movement to restore the Christ Child to His rightful place as the central figure of Christmas has become nation-wide.

It began in 1948 when a group of mothers in Dubuque pledged themselves to erect Christmas cribs in their homes.

Last year more than 3,000 homes in Dubuque had nativity scenes as the focal point of Christmas decorations and letters indicate that thousands who never had cribs plan them this Christmas. The movement also has taken hold commercially.

MRS. ANTHONY EBERHARDT, who organized the campaign, says stores across the nation will leave more room this year for appropriate religious symbols in Christmas displays.

First action of the Dubuque mothers came almost at the same time as a regional meeting of the Christian Mothers of Pittsburgh, Pa., who had practically the same idea.

MRS. EBERHARDT, a writer of short stories and articles, as well as of a novel, began to write crib articles for religious publications and letters to editors of secular magazines.

Letters came in from all over the United States. Answering them keeps her busy the year around.

THIS YEAR, scores of towns in Iowa will have outdoor religious displays, with all denominations joining to raise funds for them.

Evanston, Ill., plans a great religious observance using crib figures. Large Chicago stores will use manger scenes.

Milwaukee plans to better its record of depicting the Nativity scene; 1,700 stores will have religious displays or posters and the name of Christ in electric lights on large buildings, bridges and theater marquees.

In Minnesota, Vermont, Washington, Maine, Wyoming, Nevada, Georgia and Michigan, as well as nearly all the other states, will be found cribs erected in parks or on the court house grounds—even on sidewalks.

BUT THE women who sponsor the idea emphasize cribs for the home.

Their plan is simple, a three-walled shelter with a floor of straw or evergreen branches and figures of the Nativity. The figures may be of plywood cut out with a jigsaw.

Cardboard boxes and cartons also make fine cribs, says Mrs. Eberhardt. Covered with cloth or artificial snow with a few evergreen sprigs here and there, they can be effective, she said. For the children's crib, even a shoebox could do. Figures of the Christ in the manger, Mary, Joseph, the Wise Men and sheep for the tiny crib can be purchased at many stores.

ST. NICHOLAS HAD GREAT VIRTUE

Saint Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, was said to have been a saint of great virtue and piety.

An ancient legend is told that he became the patron saint of school boys when he restored to life the sons of a rich Asiatic, who had been murdered by a robber-innkeeper while they were enroute to school in Athens. It is said that he was warned of the crime in a vision, but was unable to regain the inn in time to prevent the murders.

He restored the boys to life through prayers and also forced the murderer to confess his crime to authorities.

Is Your Tractor Set For Winter?

Have you taken a good look at your tractor to see if it's ready for winter? You should have done that a while ago, but luckily the weather in Lenawee county hasn't been too cold.

But county agricultural agent Ingerson gives farmers in this county some hints on last minute tractor preparation:

Drain the radiator and flush it—then add a good anti-freeze. You may have a quart or two in "just to hold it," but it's probably wise to make it "certain."

While you're at it, you might just as well check the cooling system. Remember, anti-freeze is not something to waste—so tighten all hose connections and make sure the hoses are good for the winter.

Check that battery. On cold, wintry mornings the battery has to be strong to get the tractor started day-after-day.

Check the generator and starter. Short hauls on cold days increase the starting loads.

Change your lubricants to winter-grades. Don't forget to give your tractor a complete lubrication. You may not want to get out on cold winter days to grease it.

Now might be the time to tune up the tractor engine—or even have major repairs taken care of. If you're in need of tires, it may be a good idea to get them ordered during the winter—it will save time and bother next spring and summer during planting season.

ALL SAY SAME

Merry Christmas the world over is greeted gaily in different ways. The Portuguese say "Boas Festas;" the Italians, "Buone Feste Natalizie." In Germany, "Froeliche Wienachten," and in France, "Joyeaux Noel." They all mean "Merry Christmas."

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Remember the Christmas when you were ten?
Remember what Christmas Day meant then?
Remember the eager, expectant thrill,
As you tip-toed down in the morning chill
And the joy that was yours that whole day through?
That's the kind of a Christmas I wish for you.

These Fancy Trimmin's Help Make Holiday Dinner

In every part of the world where Christmas is observed, a special feast usually highlights the celebration of the holidays. And, certainly, in our country an old fashioned family dinner on Christmas has always been an important part of the Yuletide tradition.

To many Americans, Christmas just isn't Christmas without a turkey dinner complete with ALL the trimmings. To almost all homemakers, this means many days of planning and preparation.

IT ADDS GREATLY to the family's fun if the children are allowed to help with Christmas preparations. Let them lend a hand with all the fancy, little "extras" that add such an exciting holiday touch!

For a delectable garnish for the turkey platter, try frosted grapes! Select the big, purple variety and cut into small clusters. Wash and drain well. Dip the clusters into a mixture of ¼ cup of white corn syrup and ½ cup of water and drain. Sprinkle heavily with granulated sugar and chill. The sparkling grapes will add a special-occasion note to the platter.

AS A DECORATIVE (and delicious) addition to your dessert plate, serve tiny pears and apples of tasty cheese. Cut processed cheese into small cubes and form the miniature fruit. Insert a whole clove into blossom end and ivy stem for the stem and sprinkle with nutmeg and paprika for a rosy look. Place on leaves and circle your pumpkin, mince, or apple pie.

One phase of your Christmas cookery that the children will love is the cookie baking project. Try making a basic sugar cookie recipe and let the children cut them into imaginative shapes.

If fancy cutters aren't available for all the shapes desired, let the children cut the cookies around a cardboard pattern.

After they're baked, mix bright red, green and white frostings and let the kiddies decorate to their hearts content with gumdrops, red cinnamon candies, licorice and bits of candied fruit.

FOR UNUSUAL place cards on the Christmas table, try to resemble Christmas tree ornaments. With your cake decorating set, make the outline of an ornament and write each name in the circle. Or bake tiny oblong cakes, cover with white frosting and decorate to resemble tiny gift packages with colored frosting ribbon and bow. Write the name in frosting on the "gift" and put at each place.

The day before Christmas, cut oranges in half and scoop out the shells. "Pink" the edges with a sharp knife and put cranberry sauces in these decorative cups to chill. They'll add a gay holiday touch to the Christmas dinner plate.

THERE'S SOMETHING about homemade candy at Christmas that seems to add just the right old-fashioned touch — so, gather the family together for a candy-making spree.

Allow an extra day or two for the preparation of Yuletide goodies—Try these delightful touches that will make Christmas dinner a real holiday feast!

FIRST CARD CREATED IN 1842

Over 250 years ago English school children wrote Christmas expressions of good will called "Christmas pieces." From this school chore came the gracious custom of sending Christmas cards.

The first known Christmas card was created in 1742 in London by a young etcher named William Egley. Original of this first card is now on display in the British museum.

In the United States, Louis Prang published the first Christmas cards. During the 1870's and 80's Prang produced thousands of beautiful cards and has become known as the grandfather of the business.

CHECK TREE WIRING

Check for defective wiring or connections around the Christmas tree. When selecting a place for the tree it is best to stay away from curtains or from draperies that might ignite easily.

Speaking Of Christmas

SPEAKING OF CHRISTMAS . . . Throughout the world wherever Christmas is celebrated it is customary to place a lighted candle in the window . . . The legend is that candles originally were set out to light the Christ child's way as he made his visits through the children.

☆

ONE EXPLANATION of the custom of hanging stockings on Christmas Eve recalls the baronial halls of England where huge fireplaces were constantly in use . . . Each Christmas a special log, the Yule log, was thrown on the fire . . . This log burned steadily as long as the feasting and celebrating continued. Naturally, it burned with a pungent odor and stockings were hung over the fireplace to absorb some of the odor and to protect the owners from evil spirits.

Christmas Eve, 1863, saw a near tragedy in Virginia City, Nevada . . . Two friends celebrated with a terrific round of festivity . . . Just as dawn was breaking, they embarked on a perilous promenade over the town's rooftops . . . A policeman, mistaking them for burglars, drew his revolver and prepared to shoot—but a passerby stopped him . . . Had he fired and the bullets found the mark, the world would have been deprived of two great humorists—Artemus Ward (Charles Farrar Browne) and Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens.)

MINCE PIES, so long a part of our Christmas tradition, mince pies were patterned in oblong shape, after the manger, mince pies were patterned in oblong shape, after the manger in which Christ was born . . . The crust represented the gold brought by the Three Wise Men; the many spices, the frankincense and myrrh.

On May 11, 1659, the general court of Massachusetts Bay outlawed Christmas . . . Anyone celebrating, stopping work, serving holiday fare or deviating from normal daily life would be fined five shillings . . . The righteous Puritans were sure they were acting wisely—for how could good Christians condone the pagan origin of Christmas? Did not such a holiday encourage excess in eating and drinking? . . . It was 22 years before that law was repealed.

You Can Provide Yule Dinner For Faraway Friends

Remember all those relatives and friends you never can have in for Christmas dinner, because they live so far away? Well, this year your problem is solved.

You can mail them a Yuletide feast—in an ordinary letter envelope!

This feat is being made possible by A & P Food Stores with a gift certificate plan in the 27 states where it operates stores and super markets.

The plan is the company's response, officials say, to the growing demand by firms and individuals for a food gift plan similar to those offered by department and clothing stores during the Christmas season.

Gift certificates, in denominations of $1 and $5, can be bought and redeemed in any of the company's stores. For example, a shopper in Portland, Me., could use a certificate purchased in a Los Angeles A & P store. Gift certificate receivers have their choice of a like value in any of the store's merchandise — be it special delicacies or the ingredients for an entire Christmas meal.

Holiday Suppers Fun If You Keep Them Simple

Holiday suppers can be fun and easy if you employ a little strategy, says Faye Kinder of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department.

Make it simple! That is the secret of Miss Kinder's recommendations. Plan to serve buffet style and when the guests ask to help—let them. They will feel more a part of the party and you will get less flustered. The buffet service will save dishes and linen, too.

The real secret is to plan a menu that can be prepared — at least in part — a day or so in advance. Miss Kinder suggests molded gelatine salads with either fruit or vegetables and ice box deserts such as chiffon pies or filled angel food cakes. On the day-before list you could also include cooking shrimps or fowl for casserole dishes and getting most of the items for the relish tray ready. But Miss Kinder cautions against over-doing the early preparations that might end in soggy or dried out foods.

Here is a suggested menu: Ham loaf, au gratin potatoes, jellied fruit mold, relish plate, rolls, coffee and angel food cake filled and iced with chocolate whipped cream. In the menu she asked and dessert could be prepared the day before and also a relish plate that included celery sticks, carro sticks, radishes, cucumber finger and green pepper sticks.

WHITE IS YULE COLOR

Red and green are commonly accepted as the conventional colors of Christmas, but there is no real historical basis for their use. In fact, if we observe the dictates of the church, the true Yuletide color is white.

Guy Belding Gives Cemetery Building

A new office and equipment building in Brookside Cemetery was given to the City of Tecumseh by Guy Belding at the council meeting Monday night.

In a letter to the council, he presented the 24 x 42 cement block building. The entire cost of the building was assumed by Mr. Belding, former funeral director, and one of the current members of the cemetery board.

The building was constructed by Max Elliott, local contractor.

Mr. Belding, in his letter, pointed out that it long had been his desire to have a warm place where persons driving from a distance for a funeral may rest.

Heated by gas, the office is equipped with wicker chairs.

At the west side are two rest rooms and in the back is a double garage for tools and trucks.

Mr. Belding also assumed the entire cost of reconditioning the old office and equipment building.

The council passed a resolution of thanks for the gift to the city.

WHO?

Did you—or you or you—write the local high school song, "Tecumseh High"?

Clare Camburn wants to know.

He is getting the credit and he did not do it. So being a modest soul, he would like to know who did.

It was some one about 1932 or 1933 for it was then that he made the band arrangement of the music.

But no one seems to know who composed the tune or wrote the words.

Will some unsung genius please step forward and take a bow.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

WEARING OF THE GREEN: As you have noted, part of the paper this week is printed in green—not because we are trying to foster Michigan State College alumni but because it is one of the two traditional Christmas colors. There is quite a story behind our efforts to get the colored paper. When newspapers want to print with green newsprint, they have to order the stuff in Oct. We didn't realize this but we do now. We called all over Michigan and Ohio and had our newsprint salesmen looking, too. Then we checked with other publisher friends and discovered that green paper has to be ordered two months in advance of the publishing date. But being sort of a hard-head, I continued the search. Finally, our superintendent of the composing room, Carl Panck—bless his heart—found some in Fenton, Mich. The publisher there sold us 400 pounds. Then we had a problem of transporting it to Tecumseh and on time so we could print it two weeks in advance of the publishing date. We were rescued by Ernie Jeschke, our apprentice printer, who is sort of a Rube Goldberg. He made a trailer out of pieces of "junk" and he and I took off on a stormy, slippery Sunday for a 130-mile round trip to deliver the goods. A lot of trouble? Not at all. It is just a small gift that we wanted to give our readers and advertisers this Christmas, 1954. Merry Christmas green to all of you.

SORT OF PITIED OLD SANTA Friday night. First the rain Friday afternoon almost warped his big old head. Then his old bones creaked when he lifted the well-fed Tecumseh kids in the air. But to top it all off he almost lost his pants twice and only some quick maneuvering on his part prevented an embarassing disaster. The strain of tossing the tikes in the air caused the string holding the pants to give way. But old Santa told the Lining that two things made him forget his troubles and the soupy night. He said one little girl gave him a lapel pin. And the shining lights in hundreds of little eyes as they looked at him and talked to him, he concluded, made him happy all the way through that he was Santa and not a newspaperman.

THE REV. EDWARD ESCOLME called to good naturedly chide us for giving credit to the wrong man in the thought for the week last week. He said he thought William Penn had written "no pain, no palm; no thorns, no throne; no gall, no glory; no cross, no crown." The reverend said he thought that a good Quaker like William Penn should be given the proper credit. Checking further, it was discovered that the reverend was right—that I had made a slip of the Penn (even ministers like to make puns)—that William Penn not only made the quotation but that he also had written a book on the same topic.

CHRISTMAS MEAT: G. E. Wood, 810 north Pearl, Tecumseh, a retired butcher, who killed and dressed his first hog in 1890 when he was 14, recalls that the slaughtering and selling of meat once was quite a tradition at Christmas time. A former Hillsdale butcher and market man, he has some outstanding pictures of meat displays that were taken in the late 80's and 90's and early 1900's. One is of the old Lambert Brothers store in Hillsdale. This picture showed an outdoor display of dressed cattle, hogs and poultry and posing with the display were a bunch of men in derbies. Another picture shows an indoor display of the first beef ever to bring the farmer five cents a pound. There was no refrigeration in those days and meat displays were in the open. Steaks from this prize beef in 1905 went for 15 cents a pound. Later, about 1917, Butcher Wood came to Tecumseh to work for the late C. E. Williamson in the old Daisy Market. Here he made about 1000 pounds of homemade bologna and weiners a week. Butcher Wood laments that Christmas, as far as butchering is concerned, is not like it used to be. When he was a butcher and meat market man, he always gave a can of lard with his name on it as a Christmas gift to his customers.

THANKS TO Tecumseh Township Supervisor W. G. Waldron for the corn and scratch feed for the bird feeding station. The birds thank him too. And so does our two-year-old, even though he couldn't dent the field corn he tried to eat for sweet corn.

WONDER IF BILL Davenport is still hungry. Bill did better by the chicken at the Jaycee dinner meeting than anybody I have ever seen. But he's a growing boy with a healthy appetite.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK—The universal joy of Christmas is certainly wonderful. We ring the bells when princes are born, or toll a mourful dirge when great men pass away. Nations have their red letter days, their carnivals and their festivals, but once in the year and only once, the whole World stands still to celebrate the advent of a life. Only Jesus of Nazareth claims this world-wide, undying remembrance. You cannot cut Christmas out of the calendar, nor out of the heart of the world.—Anon

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The everpresent power of God which brings courage, joy and healing to men of all ages, wherever it is understood, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will include the following selection from the Bible (Matthew 2:1,2): "Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him."

CHRISTMAS IS VISITING TIME

Christmas means many things to many people. Not without its sober side, Christmas is a time for giving, including the needy . . . which are aided in Tecumseh by the Service Club.

The sober and more thoughtful side comes out, too, when you consider that some boys won't be home for Christmas this year. They are too busy helping to insure "peace on earth" in widespread cold war fronts throughout the world.

Christmas means 'school's out and with winter cooperating there will be a chance to try new skates and new sleds.

Christmas means special church services . . . services that call attention to the real meaning of the day.

Christmas means sending and receiving gay cards from friends and relatives . . . and, to some, an appreciation for the fine job done by mailmen who labored long and hard to make sure that the happy messages were delivered on time.

Christmas means the singing of traditional carols for shut-ins at hospitals and homes for the aged.

Christmas means exchanging gifts.

But, perhaps the most important of all, Christmas means the reunion of family members and friends.

Lt. Comm. Williamson is a graduate of Tecumseh High School with the class of 1934 and has been in the Navy 18 years.

He and Mrs. Williamson and son Scott are coming Thursday to spend Christmas with his father and Mrs. Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Partridge have a renewed faith in Santa Claus this week, for their eldest son, Russell, his wife, son Jim and daughters Jean and Janet arrived Monday evening from Brentwood, Calif., to spend a week with the Partridge families.

It is his first visit in five years and returning he will drive back a new car.

Additional guests for Christmas dinner in the Partridge home will be the Milton Partridges and children Dick and Carol Ann of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marsh of Ann Arbor, the George Ruttans and sons Dale, Gary and Duane of Williamston; the Owen Partridges with their son Don and daughter Joyce and the Austin Partridges and children, Mary Lou, Arnold, Roger and Mickey, all of Tecumseh.

Having their four sons, four daughters-in-law and eleven grandchildren with them for the Christmas season will be a long one for memory for "Grandma and Grandpa".

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. Ruttan will entertain for the Russell Partridges at an open house Sunday, Dec. 26, from 2 to 6 p. m. at the American Legion Home in Ann Arbor.

Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice and son Michael will be Mr. Rice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Krause of Flint.

Harry Cregers Note Anniversary

Seventy-five of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Creger helped them celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary, Sunday, at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hammack.

Open house was held from 2 to 6 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Creger received the guests and Mrs. Harlan Boyes had charge of the gift table. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. J. Francouer, who cut the wedding cake and Mrs. David McMullen of Belleville, who served the ice cream. Mrs. Charles Ranney of Leslie and Mrs. Hammack poured coffee and Judy Francouer registered the guests. Others who assisted were Mrs. Clarence Randolph, Mrs. Julius Vincze and Ron and Bob Francouer.

The predominating color note of the decorations of house and serving table was in keeping with the 40th or ruby anniversary. All those who served were red or gandy aprons and Christmas corsages, the gift of the Cregers. Holly red carnations and garnet rosettes were used on the table about the decorated cake garnished with red and white rosebuds.

Angus J. Rankin Died In Florida

Angus J. Rankin, father of Mrs. Karl M. Schneider, died Tuesday, Dec. 14 in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. Rankin, whose home was in Shelby, Mich., had been spending the winter in Florida with Mrs. Rankin and had been ill for a few weeks, Mrs. Schneider having been called to St. Petersburg, Dec. 5 because of his condition.

He was 89 years old. Mr. Rankin had many friends in Tecumseh, where he and Mrs. Rankin had often visited their daughter.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Schneider and Miss Carol Rankin, a teacher in the Detroit schools; one son, John of Fort Wayne and four grandchildren, Mrs. William Kiefer of Milwaukee, Wis., Karl Schneider of Tecumseh and Beth and Bobby Rankin of Ft. Wayne.

Funeral services and cremation took place in Florida last Thursday.

Liquor Store Robbery Nets $700, Rings

A burgarly at the Chieftain Hotel liquor store some time last Friday night netted a thief or thieves $700 in cash, several rings and a revolver.

Maynard Mulvaney, hotel owner and store manager, reported the loss to Tecumseh police Saturday morning.

The loss included five rings and some unset diamonds.

No liquor was stolen.

New Record Set

Postmaster Thanks City For Its Cooperation

This was a gain of 50,380 over a comparable period last year when the post office here cancelled 160,560 letters and cards.

The postmaster said the biggest day was Monday when more than 300,000 pieces of mail were handled, including metered mail.

A new record was also set in the volume of parcel post handled this year, he said.

More help was added this year, Mr. Metcalf said, so the post office more efficiently could handle the record-breaking deluge of Christmas mail.

"A lot of credit for our speed in handling the mail this year must go to the general public," the postmaster said.

"Folks were wonderful in cooperating by separating town and out-of-town cards and letters and by placing them so all the stamps were in the upper right hand corner to expedite the work of the cancelling machine."

"We want to thank every one for this splendid cooperation. They certainly helped to make our Christmas in the post office this year a merry one," he concluded.

Quaker Oats Cites Orville Dewey And Irving Shaw

Two employees of the Quaker Oats Co., Tecumseh plant, were honored Tuesday for 35 years of service to the company.

Gold watches inscribed with their names were presented to Orville D. Dewey and to Irving C. Shaw.

Elizabeth Jo Hanna And Richard Griffiths Married Sunday Afternoon

The First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh provided a lovely pre-Christmas setting Sunday afternoon for the marriage of Elizabeth Jo Hanna and Richard Evan Griffiths.

Lighted Christmas trees flanked the altar with its hampers of white chrysanthemums, lighted candelabra and greens. Pews of the candlelighted aisle were marked by greens and satin bows while white poinsettias and cathedral candles were placed against the crimson dorsal curtain and pine and candles decorated each window.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanna, was given in marriage by her father and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Walworth at 4:30 p.m. "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss Martha Hayden with Mrs. F. C. Dickinson at the organ, and Miss Hayden's singing of "The Lord's Prayer" was part of the service.

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. Bruce Corley as matron of honor and Miss Beverly McLarty and Linda Hanna, brides-maids. Mr. Griffiths, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan E. Griffiths of Cleveland, was attended by his brother, David Griffiths and the ushers were James Feld and Joseph Glivan of Cleveland, Bruce Corley of Kalamazoo and Charles W. Hanna, Tecumseh.

The bridal gown of white chiffon velvet was fashioned in princess lines, with chapel train. The mounted neckline was outlined by Pointe de Leon lace, embroidered with pearls and sequins and the long sleeves were pointed at the wrists. A band of matching lace held the fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies.

Gowns of the three attendants were poinsettia red velveteen with hooped floor-length skirts, three quarter length sleeves and draped necklines accented with white. All had matching velvet head bands combined with holly and carried velvet muffs. That of the matron of honor was red with a corsage of white carnations and garnet rosettes tied with loops of gold braid and outlined by leaves of white glitter velvet while the white muffs of the bridesmaids were accented by red carnations garnet rosettes tied with loops of gold braid.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hanna wore a redecent green silk with matching sequined hat and black accessories. Mrs. Griffiths' two piece dress was of beige brocade and her accessories were blue. Both had corsages of blush camelias.

The holiday theme also predominated in the decorations of the Country Club where the 250 guests were greeted after the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Farver, Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw. An arrangement of needle pine, red candles and white wedding bells decorated the mantle. The refreshment table had a centerpiece of red carnations and holly in a silver bowl with red candles in matching candelabra and garlands of needle pine and white and red bows ornamented the buffet tables.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Donald Osegi, and Mrs. Edward Heckaunt of the groom, cut the three-tiered wedding cake; Mrs. Jens Tousberg and Mrs. Curtis Brown presided at the coffee urns and the buffet lunch was served by Mrs. C. O. Butler, Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. Joseph Rohweder and Mesdames Robert, Charles and Jack Hanna. The guest guest book was in charge of Margaret Tousberg, while Harriett Hayden and Suzanne Rohweder cared for the gifts. Music was provided during the reception by Miss Donald Papenhagen, harpist, accompanied on the cello by Miss David Tagsold. Both are from Winfield.

For their southern wedding trip, the bride wore a royal blue wool dress with cashmere coat and black accessories. Her corsage was garnet rosettes.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths attended Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. The bride has been engaged in secretarial work in Los Angeles for nearly two years while Mr. Griffiths, after two years in the Air Force is now attending Ohio State University at Columbus where they will reside at 254 Littles St.

Saturday, Miss Hanna was the guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Country Club by Mrs. Bruce Corley, nee Sally Brown, and Sunday morning Mrs. Joseph Rohweder entertained the wedding party and house guests for breakfast at her home on East Logan Street.

Brownville
Miss Bugbee—Kindergarten

Christmas Greetings from Brownville!

Christmas will soon be here! We can hardly wait. For several weeks we have been decorating our room. Across the back of our room we have a large fireplace. Each one of us made our own stocking to hang on it. We made candles for our windows, Christmas trees for our bulletin board, and Santa Claus stars. We have a poster showing the story of the first Christmas. We know the story, too. Our Christmas tree looks so pretty. We made decorations to put on it. We are hoping that Santa will get to see it. At least we're all trying to be good boys and girls.

Our pictures came. We were so pleased with them that we made snowflakes to put them on, and we have them on our blackboard. What pretty snowflakes!

Our visitors this month have been Mrs. Carswell, Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. Pence, Dorothy Butler (Jimmy's aunt from Hillsdale), Mrs. Beaty, Mrs. Sowers, Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Harper, and Mrs. Horton.

Kenneth Carswell brought his record player to school so we have enjoyed listening to records.

Barbara Larkin and Susan Clark have left us. We miss them.

Douglas Skinner and Linda Parks have returned to school after having their tonsils out.

Those who have December birthdays are Shelia Beaty, Arlo Schulze, Geraldine Parks, and Mark Deaner. Mrs. Beaty brought refreshments for Shelia's birthday which we all enjoyed.

Jimmy Goodman treated us to cupcakes on Barbara Clark brought us Christmas cookies. They were both very good.

Each one of us wrote a letter to Santa Claus. Our letters were different though. We drew pictures to show him just what we wanted.

We have been imitating different Christmas toys. This is lots of fun. When we have visitors we ask them to guess what we are. We have learned so many new rhymes and songs about Christmas, and have enjoyed hearing many stories. We are looking forward to our Christmas party.

Mark Deaner has been absent from our room for quite a while. He spent some time in University Hospital. We miss him very much and hope he'll soon be back with us.

If you could see our wish for you
How tall it is, how wide,
You'd look at us and wonder
How it ever got inside."

Merry Christmas! Happy New Year!

Central
Mrs. Preston—Kindergarten

We have been so busy getting ready for Christmas; making decorations for our room, our tree, and surprises to take home.

There is a big, big letter to Santa on our bulletin board. I says, "Dear Santa, I want a — " then each of us pasted pictures of what we want Santa to bring us, then we signed our names. Santa will be surprised that so many of us can make our own name!

Our stockings with fuzzy cotton tops are all hung in a row. We are ready for Christmas and wish it would hurry!

Merry Christmas!

Patterson
Mrs. Updike—Kindergarten

We have been very busy getting ready for Christmas. Our trimmings for our tree are all made, our fireplace is ready and we have our room decorated. Santa told Mrs. Updike on our magic telephone that he had written letters to us and that he would be here on Dec. 20. When that day came we hunted high and low for the letters. You can never guess where we found them! Outside on the window sill. He left a note saying the school was locked and he could not get in. He left a letter for each one of us with many pictures on them, too.

We put all of our names in one of the boy's hats and then we each took one out. We will buy the friend's name that we drew a little surprise and put it under our big Christmas tree. Our party will be December 23rd.

We have one of our tables fixed with baby Jesus in the manger, the shepherds, camels, Mary, Joseph and the Donkey. We love to play the true story of Christmas and we all understand that Baby Jesus was born on Christmas Day.

Happy Christmas to all of our friends and we hope you will come and see us some day.

Mrs. Schwartz—First Grade

We drew names last week. We shall each bring a gift to exchange at our Christmas party Thursday afternoon, Dec. 23.

We enjoy being able to read very much, and are trying to finish our books in time to have them home during Christmas vacation.

We are also glad that we can listen and work much better. We are learning to talk in sentences, too.

We are glad to have Kristine Kittell and Michael Smith in our room.

Central
Mrs. Neilling—First Grade

We are so excited these last few days before Christmas that we find it difficult to do our work. Our room is very bright and cheerful with all our Santas watching us.

The Indians and Eagles have finished the three-pre-primers and are now reading "Guess Who."

Mrs. Sinkey brought us a box of Christmas cookies last week. We certainly enjoyed them with our milk.

Mrs. Brazee, Mrs. Gartte, Mrs. Spell, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Rentschler, Mrs. Starkey, Mrs. Merx, Mrs. Dicks, Mrs. Butler, and Mr. Rodgers visited us during the last few weeks. We hope all of the other parents will visit us.

Cathy Merx and Timmie Rodgers both had birthdays last month. They brought us a nice treat.

Cathy brought her record player. We have enjoyed some nice Christmas records.

We have nearly finished our first Talk, Spell and Write books. We will have our Christmas tree Friday. We plan to make our own decorations.

A Merry Chrismiss and Happy New Year to all.

Central
Mrs. VanValkenburg—Grade One

Merry Christmas!

On our December calendar we are marking off each day and keeping a record of the weather. We count each day to find out how many more days there are before Christmas. Our room is decorated with many things which we have made, such as: chains, Santa Claus, candles, poinsettias, and Christmas trees. We also have pictures of the Madonna and the Child, the shepherds, and the Wise Men. Our Christmas tree is one of our joys. Thursday is our party and gifts.

After Christmas vacation the Busy Bees class will read the new book "Guess Who." We are all working hard to write neatly. We are learning to measure with our paper sticks. We are learning to count pictures and groups of pictures.

We have had three birthday surprise treats this month, given to us by Dexter Bailey, Joann Brown, and Cathy Brown.

Patterson
Mrs. Batiolph—Grade One

It is a very busy time here in first grade at Patterson. We are now working very hard on our Christmas program. we will soon give to the kindergarteners and our mothers. Yesterday, Mrs. Pih and Mrs. Hollar came and helped us make cookies to serve after our program. We also have our girls all wrapped that we made for our mothers. Each one of us are very proud and happy in our pretty room all decorated for Christmas. We can hardly wait for our gift exchange on the 23rd. It was a lot of fun to draw names.

Recently Marilyn Dick and Robert Tilley had their seventh birthdays. We all enjoyed the treats their mothers brought.

The morning of our first snow our new little girl, Mima Savage, proudly brought into our room a ball of snow. It was the first snow she had remembered seeing because she has been living in South America. She felt badly to think she had to throw it in the sink before it melted.

Many of us have finished our three pre-primers and have started in our first hard covered book. Yes, we have been working hard to please Santa Claus and we surely hope he remembers each of us on Christmas. We hope all of you, too, have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Central
Mrs. Crawford—Grade Six

Have we been busy since our last news appeared. Thanksgiving holidays, pictures to exchange, carols for the Christmas program, and making a legend to decorate our room. In spite of all these extras we met and mastered "Geomania," left the "Middle Ages" behind us, and earned more "A's" in spelling than ever before.

We also enjoyed a visit to the Tecumseh Public Library and are now preparing book reviews. There are many new books to interest our age group. We plan to put our reviews in a file. We think that this will make it handy for others in the class to decide on which book to read next.

Mary Ann Hunter received an early Christmas gift: a new baby sister.

Joan Winzler has the only December birthday.

Robert Fabiankiewitz's mother and little sister came for a short visit one day.

Paul Underwood spent a few days in North Carolina and brought back a bunch of holly to add color.

We are glad to say we are looking forward to Christmas and its surprises and surprises? But we do say — "Merry Christmas to all."

FORMER RESIDENT MARRIED IN HUDSON

A wedding of interest to many in Tecumseh took place at 4 p.m. Nov. 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hicks of Rt. 1 Hudson when their daughter, Kathron Ann became the bride of Richard Rowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rowley of Ionia. The bride and her parents formerly lived in Tecumseh.

The Rev. Ersin E. Osterburg, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Clayton performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families. Janice Smith, cousin of the groom played traditional nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of powder blue faille with a corsage of white rosebuds. She was attended by her roommate, Miss Nan Greenshields of Grosse Points Farms as bridesmaid. Her suit dress was blue and her corsage of red rosebuds.

A wedding reception was held in the Hicks home, Sunday afternoon Nov. 28. A three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated, centered the bride's table and was cut and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Woods of Hillsdale. Others who assisted were Mrs. John Keil of Hillsdale and Mrs. Russell Kitchingham of Whittaker, both aunts of the bride.

The gifts and guest book were in charge of Miss Doris Tressler and Mrs. James Dick, both of whom were from Tecumseh.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1951 and the groom from Ionia High. Both are now attending Michigan State College where Mr. Rowley is a member of Farm Home Fraternity. They will make their home for the present at Cooper's Trailer Village, 3328 E. Michigan Ave., Lansing.

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is the fifth in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr. Byron H. VanRoekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

Some of you may have children who are in the upper elementary grades or in junior or senior high school and are not reading as well as you feel they should. In some instances these children are extremely retarded and are working several grade levels below the grade they are in. It is not difficult to determine when a child is working below grade level, but it is not so easy to determine why this happens to be the case.

The question that probably is most frequently asked in regard to this problem is, "Do you think that the child's vision might be responsible for his difficulty with reading?"

Since entire books have been written on this subject, it is possible to give only a brief answer here. Perhaps the best way to answer the question is to look at the facts.

People who have investigated this problem have usually done so by taking a number of children and classifying them as follows: those with normal vision; those that are nearsighted; those that are farsighted; etc. Then the investigator would determine through tests and other ways how well these children actually read. Then they compared the percentage of poor readers in each group to see if children with specific visual defects were more likely to have reading difficulties than children with normal vision.

POOR READERS IN BOTH

These studies, in general, show that there are almost as many poor readers among children with normal vision as there are poor readers among children with visual maladjustments.

Does this mean that we, as parents, need not concern ourselves about visual difficulties of children? This is in no way implied in the research on the subject. The investigators feel that in some instances children do have difficulty with reading because of visual defects, but that in general this is not true and some authorities are of the opinion that children with visual maladjustments who are good readers would have learned to read sooner and better if their vision had been corrected before beginning reading instruction was started.

EXAMINE EYES

Of what value is this information to parents? First, it suggests that if your child is having difficulty with reading, it might be well to have his eyes examined to see if poor vision could be one of the contributing factors. Second, just because your child is getting along well in reading, does not mean that he has normal vision.

This suggests that whenever we, as parents, have some indication that our children have visual difficulties, we should have them examined by an eye specialist. Most of us feel that our children should have other defects, such as dental, corrected. It seems just as logical that ocular defects should be given the same attention.

Wheat Acreage To Be Checked

All producers who have planted wheat for 1955 harvest are urged by W. P. Hart, Chairman of the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, to fully cooperate with fieldmen when they call at the farms to measure the wheat acreage.

He points out that the information the fieldmen have with regards to present ownership, total acres in the farm and total tillable acres may be incorrect and that it is the desire of the county committee that all such information if incorrect be clarified in order that the county office records may be corrected and brought up to date.

Chairman Hart further points out that 1955 wheat is subject to marketing quotas and that the law specifically states that no marketing card shall be issued until all fields on the farm are properly identified, measured and found to total no more than the allotment for the farm. The exception being farms with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres in which case they may plant up to 15 acres of wheat and still receive a marketing card.

Should Apply For New Corn Acreage Allotment

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1955 on a farm where no corn was planted during the years 1952, 1953, or 1954 should apply for a "new farm" corn acreage allotment if he wants price support or an ACP payment in 1955, W. P. Hart, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the Chairman explained. However, the producer on such a farm would be ineligible for any payment under the 1955 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Like Fudge? Here Are Six Recipes For You To Try

CHOCOLATE FUDGE

3 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 cups sugar
1½ cups rich milk
1 tablespoon corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup nuts, coarsely chopped

Shave chocolate and place in heavy sauce pan with sugar, milk, corn syrup, salt and butter. Stir over medium heat until sugar is dissolved. Cover until boiling point is reached. Uncover and cook to soft ball stage (234°), stirring occasionally. Remove from heat, place pan on a rack and cool to lukewarm (110°) without stirring. Add vanilla, and beat until thick and no longer shiny. Stir in nuts. Drop quickly on waxed paper in individual pieces; or pour candy quickly into a buttered 8-inch pan. Sprinkle with additional nuts. Makes 3 dozen medium drops or bars.

COFFEE FUDGE

Omit chocolate. Substitute 1 cup double-strength coffee and ½ cup cream for 1½ cups rich milk in fudge recipe. To make coffee use 1 cup boiling water and 2 teaspoons instant coffee. For nuts use pecans. Pour into 8-inch pan and sprinkle with mixed nuts.

TWO-TONE FUDGE

Make one recipe of chocolate fudge and pour it into a buttered pan. Make one-half recipe of fudge, omitting chocolate and nuts. Beat until thick; pour over chocolate fudge.

PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

Omit chocolate and nuts. Just before candy is ready to be poured into pan, beat in ¼ cup crunch-type peanut butter and ¼ cup chopped peanuts.

BRUNCHE

PEPPERMINT FUDGE

Omit chocolate and increase butter to ¼ cup. When candy is removed from heat add 1 package (12 oz) chocolate mint wafers and ½ pound marshmallows cut in pieces. Stir until well blended, add nuts, and pour at once into an 11- by 7- by 2- inch buttered pan or drop on waxed paper.

FRUIT BELL-FINGERS

1 cup chopped dates
1 cup of chopped or cooked prunes
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup chopped dried apricots
½ cup chopped raisins
1 tablespoon maple syrup
2 tablespoons undiluted frozen orange juice

Combine all ingredients. Form mixture into balls and roll each in chopped coconut or nuts (about ¾ cup). Chill; then store in a covered container in a cool place.

Add Your Personality To Christmas Decorating

Christmas is in the air, and in practically every home throughout the county signs of the festive season are beginning to appear.

If you are in the mood to try your hand at creating a variety of artistic Christmas decorations, here are some helpful hints that will pique your imagination. Once started, let the Christmas spirit guide you.

Your basic tools should be shears, florist's wire, holly, tinsel and mistletoe. Keep your Christmas decorations in tune with the mood and decor of your home.

IF YOU ARE an Early American devotee, for example, combine spruce or pine, red berries and dramatically-curved branches sprayed with white flocking. Display this arrangement in a wrought iron planter, and place three glass chimneys holding Christmas candles on each side of the planter.

To decorate an end table, take a red and white Yule basket, insert any handy container and fill with shredded styrofoam (available at your florist's) to hold the arrangement in place.

For greens, use cedar or spruce. Place each branch firmly into the styrofoam, and design a rigid, single triangle of foliage, about one-and-one-half times as high as the entire container.

For contrast spot six or eight white chrysanthemums or pompons against the greens, using the largest flowers lower in the design. As the final touch, wire small clusters of artificial red berries and three or four pine cones with the tips painted a silver-blue to the branches.

IF YOUR HOUSE or apartment features modern furniture, choose simpler arrangements with emphasis on line and form.

Dress up a buffet, desk or high table for the holidays by mounting a square green or red candle on a plain brass tray. Place sprays of spruce or pine so they seem to climb about two-thirds of the way up the candle. Then blend in clusters of any white flowers. Add a touch of sophistication by surrounding the candle base with a cluster of chartreuse Christmas tree balls.

DOOR KNOCKER "swags" take on an aura of originality, if you use ingenuity in selecting accessories. Wicker scoops, baskets, bells and singles of styrofoam can be combined with the Christmas red and green in dozens of new ways.

Whether shopping for raw materials to make your own decorations, having them made to order, or wiring them as gifts to friends, always remember to tell your florist about the house and its furniture.

He will gladly help you bring the Christmas spirit into your home with suggestions for an unusual touch of originality.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

A HAPPY, PROSPEROUS and healthy New Year to everybody.

SIGNS OF SPRING: Mrs. Helen Lowry on Murphy road called to say she has pansies and violas blooming in her yard. She said they have not been covered.

POST CHRISTMAS THOUGHT: What is a more appealing sight than to see a little girl's eyes light up when she sees her new Christmas doll?

THE QUESTION RAISED by Clare Camburn in last week's paper about who wrote the Tecumseh High School song really created interest, although we are still not sure who penned the piece. First Mrs. Florence Howe called, saying the Hamiltons were in and they said a Miss Rice wrote the song in the late thirties. Moments later Bob Hamilton dropped in to relay the same message. Then later in the morning Johnnie Hamilton called with the same information. Still later John Saling called to say that his wife thought a Mr. Culver Wilcox wrote the song about 1924. Mrs. Fred Dickinson, Sr., is of the same belief. Then another song writer was mentioned when Mrs. Jean Collins Minney called to say a

X-Ray Equipment Gift Puts Hospital On Par With Best

Through the efforts of an anonymous donor, Herrick Memorial hospital will now be equipped with diagnostic and therapeutic X-rays that will put it on a par with hospitals anywhere.

Alterations to house the new equipment are in progress and the new equipment, now on order, will be installed in a few weeks.

Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent, said: "This will make the X-ray department of the hospital as fine and as adequate to serve the Tecumseh area as any hospital anywhere."

Dr. Donald A. Parker of Adrian is serving as radiologist and he supervises all X-ray work done at the hospital.

The diagnostic X-ray, called the Imperial, will give quicker and more efficient X-ray service.

Designed and constructed by General Electric, it is a radically new "swing around" type based on entirely different principles of engineering that saves room space.

A heavy duty footstrap allows the patient to "hang" upside down or at extreme head-down angles. In fluoroscopy head down positions are used in looking for tumors or other lesions of the spinal column. This permits watching the progress of an opaque dye that is injected into the spinal canal.

The inverted positions also are useful in X-ray studies of the digestive and urinary tracts.

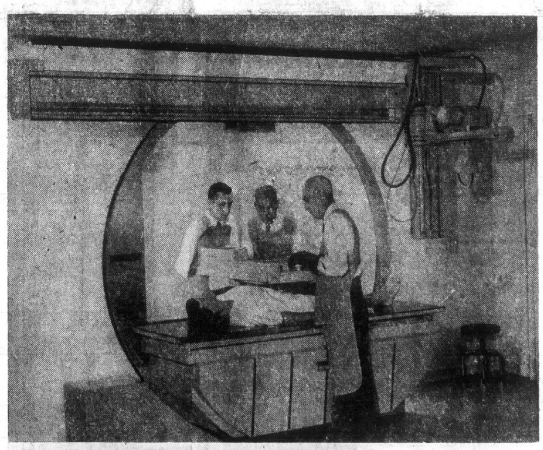
The new X-ray permits increased fluoroscopic field coverage. It has a device for making spot films during fluoroscopy in 10 different positions and areas.

Much of the "gadgetry" has been eliminated and it offers either right or left-handed operation and is easily adjusted in height to suit the radiologist.

The new Maxitron 250 cuts treatment time in half and provides the widest range of radiation ever produced by a single X-ray treatment. It is a "three-in-one all-purpose" combination unit.

Also designed and built by General Electric, it can be controlled to produce non-penetrating "soft" rays that are ideal for skin treatment; rays that are of just the right penetrating power to treat lesions of medium depth in the body; and its most penetrating rays can be used for treating deep-seated malignancy.

This new therapy machine is designed so it can be rotated and aimed in any direction.



X-RAY PROGRESS—The top photo shows how a number of doctors using the Imperial can observe the progress of a fluoroscopic examination of the stomach. In the photo above the Maxitron 250 X-ray therapy unit is shown in the treatment of cancerous lesions Subjects in the photos are General Electric models.

The new X-rays, now on order, will give Herrick Memorial hospital equipment that will put it on par with the best equipped hospitals in the nation, reports Miss Gertrude Spaulding, hospital superintendent.

Old Fashioned Christmas Party Held By Business Women Monday

"An Old Fashioned Christmas" was the basis for the program of the holiday party of the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening. Christmas decorations, including a lighted tree formed an appropriate background at the Pythian Hall as the 31 present sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Holy Night" and "Jingle Bells" and a Christmas greeting was given by Mrs. George French.

A trio, consisting of Ruth Meads, Sharon Muhn and Linda Johnson sang other Christmas songs and two readings, "A Fat Girl's Trials" and "A Doleful Ballad" were given by Mrs. Cecile Smith and Miss Ruby Preston, both dressed as little girls. There was a piano selection and the Christmas story was read by Miss Mabel Lockwood, followed by the manger scene with Ruth Meads singing "Away in a Manger" and Linda Johnson playing appropriate music.

A Christmas eve playlet introduced the coming of Santa Claus. Mrs. Purnell Osburn, as a mother, explained to her little girl, played by Mrs. Barton Meyer, the true meaning of Christmas and, as the child fell asleep, Mrs. Naomi Sallows read "The Night Before Christmas." At the fitting moment she awoke for the entrance of Santa. Albert Tonneberger took that part very effectively and each member received a present from his pack and expressed good wishes to everyone else.

Refreshments were then served with Miss Gertrude Spaulding pouring coffee.

During the short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Ray Sluyter in the absence of the president, Mrs. Homer Colson, a report was given on the "traveling basket," notes of appreciation were read and a donation was voted for an invalid bed.

The trio of singers from the Friends church, Ruth Meads, Sharon Muhn and Linda Johnson with Mrs. Joyce Kuhn and Mrs. Dietra Miller were guests of the club. The committees responsible for the evening's entertainment were Mrs. Sallows, Mrs. Nina Heath and Mrs. Meyer and Miss Gertrude Spaulding, Mrs. George Hay and Mrs. Clayton Mikesell.

Hostesses for the next meeting, Jan. 24 will be Mrs. Fred Hadley, Mrs. Frank Lasky and Mrs. Edgar Buttolph.

Santa Claus Visits Cub Scout Pack 4

Santa and the Christmas spirit made the December meeting of Cub Scout Pack 4 a merry one. It was held as usual at the Youth House of the Baptist church and opened with the singing of "Silent Night" led by Cubmaster Radant.

Each cub brought a contribution of canned goods for a Christmas basket for a needy family and also dropped a nickel in a Christmas stocking to be used to buy fruit for a shut-in.

Dens 4 and 7 led by Mrs. Wayne Hebb and Mrs. Reginald Dixon recited Christmas poems; Den 2, under the leadership of Mrs. Rutherford, presented a playlet entitled "Christmas Tree Lights," Den 5, with Mrs. Stanley Kruse presented "Merry Christmas" and a closing candlelight ceremony was staged by Den 9, led by Mrs. Radant. At that time each Cub promised to advance one rank during 1955.

Of course the highlight of the party was the coming of Santa Claus who entered to the strains of "Santa is Coming to Town." He gave a gift to each Cub and a candy cane to each Cub and child present. The Cubs then did their part of gift-giving by presenting their parents with those they had made for them at their den meetings.

Gary Tiesema was inducted as a new Cub by Mr. Radant, who also presented awards as follows: Kent Lucas, Gold arrow and wolf badge; Brian Packard, one year service star; John Britton, Lion badge and graduation certificate; Barry Packard, Den Chief cord after four years of service. All Cubs were given their new registration cards.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

"THE PAST OF RIVER ACRES"

The land which is now the newest section of Tecumseh's residential development, has gone through many phases since it became part of the white man's world.

Those who lived through the world war and the depression remember the Victory Gardens grown there on land provided by Mr. Henry Ford—land not only donated but fertilized, plowed and tilled. There gardens raised enough string beans to provide vitamins for an army. It had been good, producing farm land for generations before Mr. Ford indulged his fancy for potential water power by buying the land up and down the river. Still earlier it had been part of one of the most heavily timbered areas found here by the first settlers.

It lay on the northern border of the "Oak Openings" whose precisibility plus the water power of the Raisin had attracted our village fathers. It also evidently appealed to another explorer who came through this region that summer of 1824. Mr.—later Judge—Samuel Dexter, described as "a wealthy and cultured man from the east," paused at the Raisin long enough to stake claim to nearly a section of land before going on to the Huron River to establish the city which still bears his name. His property so ably enclosed the embryo settlement on the north and west and as he continued to hold it for some time merely as a speculation, the situation was not popular with the settlers who were beginning to clear and cultivate the land they had taken up.

On this land were many of the huge, native whitewood trees which were much sought after for lumber as they were "easy" wood compared to the more common oak and walnut. The saw-mill was nearby — just beside the Brownville bridge — and more and more of Mr. Dexter's whitewood trees turned into long, smooth, wide boards for the finish of the settler's cabins.

Trees, of course, were then merely something to be gotten out of the way as quickly as possible, but even so, Mr. Dexter was not happy about his whitewoods. "Were the settlers stealing his trees?" he asked Turner Stetson, who ran the sawmill. "Stealing?" replied Stetson, like Mr. Peavey of the radio, "Oh, I wouldn't say that." "But," he added, "You are getting the stumpiest land any where around here."

So the Judge sold the stumpy land to the men who wanted it for farms and concentrated on the town he was building on the Huron. There also he must have found desirable timber, for the 20 room house he built in 1842 still stands in all its magnificence of Corinthian pillars on the west farm hill overlooking the town. It is now the home of retired President Ruthven of the University of Michigan.

The beginnings of Tecumseh were clustered about the dam and mills at the outlet of the Red Pond. The trees that had been cut when the land was flooded for its pond went to form the handsome timbers of the Peninsular House, the 1827 inn built by General Brown on the east side of Mill street between Brown and Water streets. It too was huge and classical and pillared and would have rivaled the Dexter home had we been far sighted enough to preserve it.

The original road to Clinton instead of following the present route of M-52 ran north along side the river and Burt street then extended west to join it. About where Burt street now ends at the highway there was an open square or drill ground. It was all over years ago and has necessitated legal action on the part of present owners who had to establish title to what had been public property. Overlooking this square, about at the new entrance to River Acres, was for many years a very impressive old Colonial house, one more lamenting an important part of Tecumseh's trial houses, the "Brisee house" which had been once the home of General Brown and probably was built by him. Allowed to stand vacant after the land was purchased by Mr. Ford, it was burned down one winter night, one the town lost another landmark.

To everyone, we send our best wishes for a New Year filled with good health, happiness and success.

The period of classical music was the subject covered by Mrs. William Hayden, who was program leader for the Music Club Tuesday evening. She illustrated her theme with excerpts played on the piano and with records, the major composition being the Fourth Concerto of Beethoven. After the formal program she played some popular holiday music and the club sang Christmas carols with Mrs. W. G. Waldron at the piano.

The hostess of the evening was Miss Edith Ingersoll and she was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Bess Pulver and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce. Mrs. Irwin Hubbell was welcomed as a new member of the club. The next meeting is scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. R. J. McCoy.

teacher named Miss Sally Humphrey wrote the song in the late thirties. Another lady called — she didn't give her name — to say Charlotte Morelock, a grade school teacher, wrote the song in 1932. What we want to know now is who did write this song?

A FRIEND WHO NOW is an air-line pilot told this story and, whether it is truth or fiction, it still is a good story.

A Navy pilot visited the management office of the National Aircraft Show in Dayton this year during a particularly busy moment when the telephone rang.

All hands being occupied, he picked up the phone and listened for a moment to the complaints of an irate resident of Vandalia.

"This is a dreadful thing!" she said. "These airplanes are making so much noise I can't hear myself think!"

"Are they Russian planes?" the pilot asked.

"Certainly not! They are American planes. I can see them."

"Thank God," said the Navy flyer, and hung up.

ALL OF US HERE really appreciated the fine comments made about our Christmas edition. Your kind words make us want to do better.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Begin; to begin is half the work. Let half still remain; again begin this, and thou wilt have finished. — Ausonius.

Rotarians Hear Brazilian Facts

Some facts about Brazil were outlined Tuesday night at the Rotary Club dinner by Jack Savage, formerly of the International Harvester Co. and now employed by Tresco, Inc.

Mr. Savage who spent three and one half years in Brazil commented on the South American country's language, government, agriculture and industry and he said American economic and military welfare are tied closely to Brazil's.

"More people south of the border speak Portugese than they do Spanish," he said. "Portugese is the national language of Brazilians."

"Brazilians think we are crazy but they admire us very much and they pattern a lot of the things they do after Americans".

"They even pattern the government after American government. Brazil is a republic with elected officials that correspond to our Congress and House of Representatives. And the country is divided into several states."

"Coffee is the leading commodity. A tree will produce $1 worth of coffee a year and some plantations have 1,000,000 trees, with some bearing coffee for 70 years.

"Industry is hampered largely by a lack of adequate transportation and inflation is rampant because Brazil has to import too many commodities."

Mr. Savage would like to see more Brazilian students enter the United States to study at our agriculture and engineering schools

Britton Scout Troop Has First Award Ceremony

The Britton Boy Scouts of Troop 23 combined their Christmas party and first award ceremony Saturday evening, Dec. 18, at the Methodist church. Rev. Haybert Woodall opened the program with and inspirational story and followed with a prayer. Scout Master, Lester Ruhl then introduced Morry Persing and Jim Lowe, two members of the Wolverine Council and Morry showed a color film which was much enjoyed.

During the short intermission music was played by the "Teen Tuners," a group consisting of D. J. Frayer, Van Frayer, Ruth Ann Bryan and Lester Ruhl Jr.

Junior leaders of the troop receiving awards were: Fred Barnoski Jr., senior patrol leader badge and warrant and tenderfoot badge; Lester Ruhl Jr., patrol leaders badge and warrant and tenderfoot badge; Gerald Rhora, patrol leaders badge; James Barnoski and Sidney Forsyth, assistant patrol leader badges and warrants and tenderfoot badges.

Four new members of the troop are Neil Benedict, Paul Cook, James Spivey and David Henning. The three Explorers of the troop, receiving their awards, were Fred Barnowski Jr., Robert Davila and Ronnie Richards, all of whom received tenderfoot badges. The awards were presented by Jim Lowe, who set the boys at ease with his keen sense of humor and his hearty handshake. The boys who attained their tenderfoot rank received, as a special token, a neckerchief presented by Morry Persing. A miniature tenderfoot badge was also given to the mothers of all boys attaining that rank.

After gifts were distributed and the grab bag enjoyed, refreshments of doughnuts, coffee and hot chocolate were served. The program was conducted by Lester Ruhl, Scoutmaster, assisted by Fred Barnoski, Sr., Explorer Advisor and Norman Yarchow, committeeman.

By GEORGE W. HALL
Editor, The Herald-Press, Myrtle Point, Oregon

O God, give me the wisdom not to offend the folks of my community, in my perhaps unworthy efforts to enlighten them to the fact that this beloved nation of ours is slowly drifting away from the principles for which our forefathers fought and died, and that the American Way of Life may be perpetuated under Thy protecting care.

Tecumseh and the New Year

The year that will bow out Friday night at one split second before 12 has been an eventful one for Tecumseh and its people.

True, there have been some shortcomings; but for the most part Tecumseh weathered the year 1954 in fine shape. Afterall, you don't change from a village to a city without some problems.

Some of these problems are still with us; but there is not a single one that is insurmountable. They can be solved; and they can be solved to benefit all of us.

If some of the mistakes of the past year can be used to an advantage—if something can be learned from things that were tried but didn't work; if new ideas are tried; if there is more of the give and take between citizens and their elected officials; if folks don't lose all their patience; if there is more of the type of cooperation that sprinkled the big tasks during the past year—in short, if we all use our energies toward the single goal of making Tecumseh a better place in which to work and to live, then the new year will be even better than the old.

How Long Is a Half Second?

How long is a half second?

For the drinking driver clipping along the highway at 60 miles an hour it could be 44 feet too long, according to Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, Director of the Crime Detection Laboratory of the Michigan Department of Health.

An automobile traveling at a speed of 60 miles an hour is covering 88 feet per second. Average reaction time is a half second, Dr. Muehlberger said. But if you're slowed down by one full second, you would travel 44 feet further than if your reaction time was normal.

Increased social drinking during the holiday season makes it necessary to be extra cautious when driving. National Safety Council figures from 21 states for 1953 show that in 24 out of 100 fatal accidents, a driver or pedestrian had been drinking.

"The danger," Dr. Muehlberger added, "lies in the fact that reaction time begins to slow up in the very early stages of intoxication, before people realize that they have lost some of their ability to meet situations requiring quick thinking."

Dr. Muehlberger's advice: "If you've been drinking, stay away from the steering wheel. And if you're sober, drive as though every other car you meet is being driven by someone who has been drinking."

Family Living Outlook

From the standpoint of family living what has the New Year to offer. These facts concerning consumer costs were gleaned from the Michigan Farm Economics bulletin from Michigan State College; and although they were compiled for farmers they affect us all:

There is nothing in the outlook for 1955 to lead one to expect lower food prices. Farmers may well ask why groceries aren't going to cost less if their produce is going to bring less money to the farm. Official figures show that out of every dollar a housewife spends, farmers are getting about 43 cents —or 14 percent less than in 1947.

A family, planning with fewer dollars this year than last, will want to consider carefully which items of clothing must be replaced. Some items, such as overalls, shoes and underwear must be purchased each year. Other things, such as winter coats, can sometimes be made to do another season. It is on items such as these that families must decide whether they are a "need" or a "want."

There is nothing in the picture for 1955 to indicate that prices of cotton, wool, rayon, silk or leather will be any different than in 1954.

Usually building or remodeling is part of a family's long-time plan. Since the outlook for many months and even years ahead is for building costs to continue at boom time high level, little will be gained by waiting if this want or need has been given a top priority.

In considering plans for furniture and equipment for 1955, families probably are safe in assuming that prices won't change much in the next twelve months. If new household equipment is needed, there isn't likely to be any price advantage gained by waiting a few months. A saving can be made by buying standard models instead of deluxe models, and sometimes by shopping around, a better trade-in can be the equivalent of a cut in price, or a cash discount can be obtained.

There is every indication that furniture and equipment will be available to meet all needs; however, retailers will keep their prices at about the level of 1954.

The cost of medical care, recreation, transportation, dry cleaning, beauty parlor, barber shop and other services has been increasing since World War II. The 1955 prices will be about the same as in 1954.

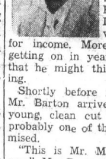
Realty Views

Mr. Turner told me he wanted to find a home near him for his son, Frankly none were available. But as we were driving by, he pointed out one he would consider.



"Find out who owns it and if they will sell it for a reasonable price," he said.

It was owned by Mr. Barton. He lived in Lansing and was renting it for income. Moreover, he was getting on in years and replied that he might think about selling.

Shortly before noon one day Mr. Barton arrived. He had a young, clean cut man along — probably one of the family I surmised.

"This is Mr. Mills, my attorney," Mr. Barton said. "We are here to sell my home. We've got to start back in a few hours. Do you think we can get everything done?" We did!

As Mr. Mills, the attorney was leaving he said, "You're O.K. We've accomplished a lot in a short time. I may be able to refer other clients to you."

Naturally, such a transaction is a deep satisfaction. All parties were pleased.

The main point, however, is this: Place your real estate buying or selling in our hands!

We have the experience to serve you well!

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is the sixth in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

So many times I am asked the question, "What is the most important single thing as far as learning to read is concerned?" Each time that I feel I have arrived at an answer I suddenly think of some other factor which is just as important and then I realize that there isn't any single most important thing. However, some things are more important than others and one of the very important is the child's ability to understand and use the English language.

The home can do much in fostering the development of a rich language background. If we analyze the language development of preschool children we recognize that the words they use and the way they use them are almost entirely the result of the way they have heard them used in different situations. In most instances children have not been given a formal definition of a word but rather have learned its meaning from the way it is used by their parents, by their playmates, on the radio, on television, etc. The degree then to which good language is used in the home will influence to a considerable extent the level of language used by children.

ARE MORE READY

Children who know the meanings of many different words are usually more ready for reading than children who have limited vocabularies. Likewise, children who know a great deal about each word usually have an advantage in beginning reading instruction. By knowing a great deal about a word, I mean recognizing that a word has more than one meaning such as the word bear.

It may be used as a noun as in the sentence "I see the bears," or it may be used as a verb as in the sentence, "The tree bears fruit."

The degree to which children are able to combine words to form sentences also influences progress in beginning reading. Children who speak in incomplete sentences are not as ready for reading in this respect as are children who speak in complete thought units.

USE EXACT WORDS

Parents, therefore, should use every opportunity to expose their children to good language. When the little child begins to use words, speak to him using the exact words for this is the time for perfect word pronunciation.

When he begins to form sentences, speak to him in well-formed sentences. As he grows in the ability to use language, use words which help him express himself clearly.

For example, at mealtime one often hears the statement, "That was a good dinner." I would much prefer the expression, "That was a delicious dinner." The latter is more descriptive and gives the child an experience with a word at a higher level of language development. Children develop good language patterns by hearing good language patterns.

MSC Short Courses Set

Lenawee county farm youths will get a chance to learn everything from shoeing a horse to raising fruit as short course school bells ring again next month at Michigan State College.

Agricultural Agent C. C. Ingerson says that local farmers can begin taking the first term of the 4-term general agriculture course. Others who have taken the first term can start their second 8-week session. The concluding fourth term will also be given.

And, if you want to specialize, you can take the 8-week courses in ag engineering, commercial fruit production, dairy production, poultry and dairy manufacturing.

The dates of these special courses and also those of general agriculture are from Jan. 10 to Mar. 4, 1955.

The twelve-week horseshoeing course will run from Jan. 3 to Mar. 25, 1955.

Short course catalogs and application blanks are available at the county agricultural agent's office.

The Home Demonstrator

By JOSEPHINE BRIGHENTI
HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Members in home economics extension are to be commended for the many kindly deeds performed during this past year towards family members, friends, neighbors, here and abroad, and to those less fortunate than you in the world. This is one of the ways we keep alive the true meaning of Christmas throughout the year.

Jan. is the month when the goal sheets are due. At this time we can evaluate our last year's program and make a resolution to make additions to our good works for the coming year.

Mrs. Robert Engle, Route 2, Adrian, would like to hear from the people who now have or are using the wheel chair, which belongs to the LeRoy Extension Club. A telephone call or a card from you to her will be most appreciated.

Enroll now for the first aid class which will begin Tuesday, Jan. 11 at 7 p.m. This series of classes will be open to everyone. Arrangements are now being made. You are requested to write or call the Red Cross Headquarters, Adrian, Telephone COlfax 3-1904 for reservation.

If you have never had this course, make it a point to get all of this valuable information soon.

The first meeting of home economics extension members for the new year is the special interest lesson scheduled primarily for beginners. This will take place Tuesday, Jan. 5, at the Michigan Producers Dairy Company, 1336 E. Maumee, Adrian.

The family and soil conservation will be the first leaders meeting in Jan.

Throughout the country, women as well as men and children are becoming more interested in good land use. They are becoming more aware of soil and water conservation problems, as it affects both urban and rural people alike.

Woodrow H. Barclay, farm planner, will meet with leaders in each district.

The northwest district will meet at Michigan Producers Dairy Company, Jan. 12.

The southeast district will meet at the Palmyra Community Hall on US-223, Jan. 14.

The southwest district will meet Jan. 18. Notice as to the meeting place will be given later.

All meetings will begin at 1:30 p. m.

New Year's resolution that pays off in thrills...

"I'm going to drive that 1955 BUICK!"

We've seen some high peaks of interest in our new cars over the years—but never anything like this. Since the day we unveiled these glamorous new Buicks, people have been coming in—not only to see and study and sit in these great cars—but, very definitely, to drive them.

They want, it seems, a firsthand taste of the thrills that Buick engineers have conjured up for this new year.

And who can blame them?

For the word's around that Buick has what no other car in the world has—a new kind of performance from a new kind of transmission.

It's called Variable Pitch Dynaflow Drive.* It uses the principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. And it does in oil what that aeronautical marvel does in air.

At one pitch of the blades inside the Dynaflow unit, you get more fuel efficiency in normal cruising and driving—which means better gas mileage, pure and simple.

But push the gas pedal beyond the full throttle position and you switch the pitch. Instantly, you get electrifying response—a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power to get you quickly out of a tight spot—and with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflow Drive.

Maybe you, too, have made a mental resolution to drive a '55 Buick—but why wait?

We're ready, willing and eager to let you try one—feel the spectacular new power that gives life to this bounteous beauty—and see for yourself that here is a performance thrill too exciting to miss. Drop in on us this week, won't you?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

Spohr, Sheldon Buy Moore Lumber Yards In Britton, Dundee

R. H. Moore, president of R. S. Moore & Son Company of Tecumseh, announces the sale of the company's Britton and Dundee yards to Archie R. Spohr and to Paul Sheldon.

The parent company had owned the Britton yard since 1923 and the Dundee yard since 1947.

Mr. Spohr has been employed by the company 27 years. He has been yard manager of the Britton yard 22 years.

He has changed the name of the yard to the Archie R. Spohr Lumber Co.

Born on a farm near Britton, Mr. Spohr prior to working for R. S. Moore & Son was employed by the Atlas Milling Company and the Clinton Woolen Mill at Clinton and Brewer's Foundry at Tecumseh.

He started working for Moore's in August, 1928, at Britton under Charley Brown, yard manager.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge at Tecumseh, a charter member of the Kiwanis Club at Britton, served six years as village of Britton trustee and on the school board in Britton eight years and is a member of the Christian Church at Britton.

Paul Sheldon, who has managed the Dundee yard since 1947, is a 1930 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Upon graduation he worked on his father's farm until 1934. At that time he became employed by the Cyclone Fence Company at Tecumseh where he worked until 1938 when he joined the Tecumseh Products, being employed there until 1945, at which time he joined R. S. Moore & Son at Tecumseh.

Sheldon is president of the Dundee Exchange Club and has served as its secretary for two years.

He has served on the board of trustees and on the building committee of the Dundee First Congregational Church. He is a member of Dundee Lodge No. 74, F. & A. M.

2000 Kids Saw Santa In Tecumseh

Well, IT'S over but not forgotten! CHRISTMAS 1954! What a jolly time the children had visiting SANTA in his warm headquarters on the corner of Chicago and Evans streets in Tecumseh Christmas 1954.

More than 2000 children went in to see Santa during the week of Christmas. More than $250 was spent for candy, apples and the like given by Santa to the little visitors. A complete financial report will be given later.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

A LADY FROM out of state sent us a card Tuesday to cancel her "prescription." Maybe we should have turned her request over to one of the three drug stores.

JUST THINK. THERE are only 352 more days until Christmas.

A FRIEND, A GOOD Republican, tells me that Democratic street should be called Sycamore street, even if she has to plant a sycamore on the street. She also informs us that the street was named in jest for a family named Orr who was Irish. The street, the informant says, now has all Republican residents. It originally was called Democrat street. I chided her by saying that Democratic is more descriptive of the folks living there and that the name has nothing to do with politics; but she still thinks something should be done about changing the name.

COINCIDENCES: The two first babies born in the new year at Herrick Memorial hospital have the same middle name of Marie and their fathers have the same first name of Donald.

MY FAMILY WAS surprised when it discovered some of Ron Fockingdon's fine sun flower seeds growing out of the sand used to pack the stub of the Christmas tree in a crock so it would stand up. The sunflower plants, fully eight inches high, were discovered when the tree was taken down a day after New Year's.

OUT OF THE PAST: Sea chanteys of Great Lakes sailormen of old will be brought to Michigan school children beginning this Jan. as the University of Michigan helps provide a musical introduction to the 1955 Soo Locks Centennial.

The "lake songs" will be included in the Festival of Songs series regularly aired by some 20 stations throughout the state through tapes supplied the stations by the U-M Broadcasting Service. Some 25,000 youngsters, mostly in rural schools, hear the series as a standard part of their classroom work.

Miss Edythe Mae Albert, U-M radio teacher, said the first song, to be heard the week of Jan. 17, is "Haul on the Bowline." Known as a short drag chantey, the song was sung during the days of wooden sailing ships when a few strong pulls were needed on a rope or hawser.

One of the oldest of the drags, the song reputedly can be traced back through sailor lore for 500 years, Miss Albert indicates. Though its exact origin may never be known, it probably came into being when ships plied the coast of Europe before Columbus explored the Atlantic.

Polio Fund Drive Set This Month

Paul Ahleman, chairman of the Lenawee Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announces that the annual drive for funds started Jan. 3. The drive will continue through Jan. 31.

The Porchlight drive or Mothers' March on Dimes and Dollars will be held here Jan. 31 from 6 to 7 p.m. Many fathers will help again this year.

Canisters will be placed in public places for the convenience of contributors, too.

Throughout the month special activities will be sponsored by organizations such as dances, benefit card parties, bowling tournaments, talent shows, special programs, plays, benefit movies and bake sales with young and old participating.

In many localities over the nation youth is now organizing into "Teens Against Polio" whose object is to raise funds in ways which are of interest to that age such as square dances, platter parties, spaghetti suppers and talent shows. It is hoped by the committee that there is such a group in Tecumseh.

A film called "March of Dimes News" depicting the various kinds of treatment necessary for patient care is available in this area.

Mr. Charles F. Stevenson, 310 West Pottawatamie street, Tecumseh, (phone 266-W) will arrange to show this film to any organization or group of interested people free of charge.

So far, Patterson PTA, Central PTA, the Rotary and Exchange Clubs have scheduled the film as part of one of their programs this month. The film time is about 15 minutes and the committee hopes more groups will take advantage of this offer.

The evaluation of the nationwide vaccine field trials will not be available until late spring. Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., of the University of Michigan and his staff of scientists are in charge of the evaluation.

Until this report is issued it will not be known whether the vaccine protects against paralytic polio.

If the scientists issue a favorable report, the National Foundation will purchase $9,000,000 worth of vaccine — enough for nine million vaccinations of three shots each—to be offered to all young "Polio Pioneers" who participated in the field trials and did not receive the vaccine.

It also will be available for pregnant women and all children who will be in the first grade of school next spring.

Mrs. Rolland Reister is director in charge of fund raising in Tecumseh, Tecumseh Township, and Raisin Township.

Mrs. Ted Golat, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. William Osburn of Britton, and David Dick are officers of the larger area council.

Mrs. Earl Bennington of Holloway and Mrs. Rollin Fairbanks are in charge of the activities in Raisin Township.

All checks should read "March of Dimes" and, if you are out of town during Jan., you may send your contributions to David Dick, 413 West Chicago boulevard, Tecumseh.

PTA Schedules Panel Meeting

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Parent-Teachers Association held at the home of Mrs. Harold Clark Tuesday night it was decided to have a panel meeting of the combined school associations March 16.

The committee is making this announcement so far in advance in order that the local groups may be considering the problems they wish to present for discussion.

The meeting will be held in the study hall of the high school building.

TREES

Old Christmas trees left at the curb will be picked up by city workmen Friday and Saturday, reports City Manager Ed Nelson.

The trees will be stored near the dump to provide a cover for birds over the winter and next spring the trees will be burned.

4 Accidents Reported In This Area

Although there were no serious injuries, a number of minor traffic accidents were reported in the Tecumseh area during the long New Year's Day weekend.

Three persons were injured and one man arrested after an accident in Adrian Friday. A car driven by Burl Bishop, 21, of Adrian went around a car driven by David Raymond, 27, of Adrian as the Raymond car started to make a left turn. Bishop lost control of his car and hit a utility pole.

He was arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor. Bishop paid a fine of $100 and costs of $6.60 after pleading guilty before Justice John Lowe Monday.

Injured were Arthur Brown, 30, of 6517 Adrian Road, Tecumseh, an injured hip; his wife, Blanche, 25, an injured foot and bruised ribs; and Lareno Riley, 21, of Adrian, a broken ankle and cuts.

William Garland, 35, of Route 2, Britton, was charged with failing to report a personal injury and property accident damages.

He was arrested by Tecumseh police at 4 a.m. Saturday. Garland's car ran off M-32 and sideswiped the bridge north of town.

It then continued about a block before running of the highway and striking a tree, causing extensive damage to the vehicle.

Garland was arrested when a resident of Brown Street reported he was pounding on the door of a house.

At first Garland told police he was afoot and bumped his head on the bridge. Later officers found his car and he admitted driving it at the time of the accident.

Cars driven by Thomas R. Sell of 2729 Airport Road, and Charles C. Kiel of Route 1, Tipton, collided Friday at M-52 and Gady Road one mile north of Birdsall.

Mr. Kiel said that when the Sell vehicle started to make a right turn in front of him, he put on his brakes and pulled on to the berm.

Mr. Kiel said his foot slipped off the accelerator.

A dairy truck driven by Vance Kimpel, 46, of Adrian, skidded into a car driven by C. Edgar Fisher, 43, of Tipton, Saturday at M-50 and M-52.

State police at Clinton said Mr. Kimpel stopped for the intersection and did not see the car.

Mr. Fisher suffered a nose injury and was treated by a doctor.

BIRTHS

Five hundred and nine babies were born in Herrick Memorial hospital during 1954, reports Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent.

Girls born during the year outnumbered boys 262 to 247.

Five pairs of twins were born. Nine of these were girls with four pairs of girls and a set of a girl and a boy.

Nineteen different doctors attended the 509 births.

TAXES ARE DUE

County and school taxes for 1954 must be paid by next Monday, Jan. 10.

A penalty of four per cent will be added to all unpaid taxes after Jan. 10.

Decision May Equalize Rates of Phone Users

Some relief from higher phone rates charged customers living in Tecumseh's subdivisions is expected to result from the Michigan Supreme Court favorable ruling on a rate increase asked by General Telephone Co.

The ruling, according to Ronald Kinsman, manager of the Tecumseh exchange, will make no increase or decrease in present customers' rates; but, he said, the ruling will open up the possibility of establishing new base rates.

Under the rate system now some customers living in outlying areas but still in the city limits are paying $1 and $1.25 per month more than those living in the old village limits.

This applies to folks in Tecumseh Acres, west Adrian road and some in other subs.

It is expected that the base rates will be equalized with an extension of the exchange's boundaries. Then folks will not have to pay mileage charges.

The State Supreme Court Dec. 29 upheld a previous Ingham County Court decision that rates allowed General Telephone Company of Michigan in Dec. 1952, were too low to provide a fair return on the company's capital investment and remanded the case to the Michigan Public Service Commission through the Circuit Court for the fixing of rates which will provide a reasonable return.

The company will continue to bill its customers for local telephone service for rates now in effect until they are made permanent by commission order or until a schedule meeting the approval of the court is provided.

"In its decision, the Supreme Court justified the company's position and substantiated the circuit court's opinion that rates authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission in its order of Dec. 5, 1952, were unreasonable, unlawful and confiscatory," President L. H. Myer, of

Gas Mixed Fuel Oil Found Here

About 100 gallons of an explosive mixture of fuel oil and gasoline sold from Jim Shields Texaco service station on north Evans last Friday and Saturday were recovered without damage to life and property.

Chief George Kilbourn credited the cooperation of Mr. Shields, State Police, radio station WABJ and Detroit and Toledo television stations with the recovery without accident.

The service station received the mixture Friday as fuel oil and sold it as customers called for it.

One of the customers returned the mixture Saturday night because, he said, "it smelled funny."

State police at Clinton were notified and they called the fire marshal's office at Jackson and met a man from the office in Napoleon with a sample.

It was determined that the flash point was dangerously high.

Results of the test were flashed to Tecumseh and a search for all purchasers began.

Detroit radio and television stations were notified and started broadcasting warnings.

Company employees began running down the purchases and collected all they could find.

Police theorized that the fuel oil was put in a bulk tank trailer that had held gasoline.

By Monday morning all the mixture had been recovered.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles planned to help Tecumseh citizens know their community better.)

By Mrs. June Macbeth
Director of Public Relations, City of Tecumseh

The old year brought a new look to Tecumseh! Neither Dior nor Hattie Carnegie were responsible for these style changes; architect Wright did not influence our community's structure; automotive designer Harley Earl was not involved with the city's advancement. The credit lies solely with our citizens and their city council.

What is this new look? It does not include lavish gardens or parks, granite monuments in the city square, or other memorials for our posterity. Instead, the council has worked diligently for practical, needed, and lasting improvements which long have been lacking in our otherwise progressive community.

In 1952, under the supervision of city manager Ed Nelson and the village council of that year, a sewage disposal treatment plant was installed as well as a lift station and sewer lines in the Sunset Meade Subdivision. The year 1954 has brought to Tecumseh:—

1. New sewer mains on Brown and North Maumee Streets.

2. Installation of 21,200 feet of curb and gutter—over four times as much as in 1952 and twice as much as in 1953.

3. A new well, serving the community from Newburg road.

4. Street lighting in Tecumseh Acres, Russell road, and South Union areas.

5. New street lighting in the business area.

6. Street improvements in Tecumseh Acres.

An unlimited amount of advanced planning for future developments in this area has been discussed by the council. Projects already receiving thoughtful attention include new city zoning laws, additional recreational facilities for the young people, further water and sewer installations, more adequate fire fighting equipment, continuation of the curb and gutter program, and the rebuilding of our streets. These and other projects will be discussed in detail in the coming weeks.

ICE

Ice on streets has plagued city workmen.

In fact the city, City Manager Ed Nelson reports, has spread more sand on city streets so far this winter than it did all last winter.

The city manager told councilmen Monday night "We are hoping the ice condition will let up somewhat in the next three months."

Indian Five Faces Leading Monroe CC, Loses to Adrian

Tecumseh High Indians will get back to the Southeastern League basketball wars Friday night when they face league leading Monroe Catholic Central in the local gym.

Tecumseh with one win over Hillsdale is undefeated in league play. Monroe Catholic Central has two league wins against no losses.

Junior varsity game time is 7 p.m. with the varsity game following at 8:30 p.m.

Over the holidays a smooth passing, defense-minded Adrian five proved why it is the class of the Twin Valley basketball league by easily defeating the Indians, 66-51.

The Maples struck swiftly, building up a 16-4 first quarter lead. Their defensive pressing kept the Indians from scoring a single field goal in the first quarter.

In fact the locals didn't hit on a field goal until three minutes had gone by in the second frame when Jerry Barton sank a long one.

The Indians added only three field goals in the second quarter, picking up nine points on the goals plus three free throws. Adrian added 18 points in this frame.

Although they came to life in the third period, the Indians still were outscored by Adrian 21 to 19. The local five outscored the visitors 19-11 in the final quarter when Adrian had its second team in most of the time.

Bottled up completely in the first half, Ken Miller, Indian high scorer, was able to cash only one field goal attempt, but he collected five more points from the charity line.

In the second half he hit on five field goals and added two more free throws.

His total output for the evening was 19 points on six field goals and seven free throws.

Marv Yoakum added 13 points on four field goals and five free throws. And Jim Bowser added eight points on a field goal and six free throws.

Southpaw Bob Howard, Maples forward, was high scorer for the evening with 26 points garnered on nine field goals and eight free throws.

Program Dedicates Memorial Organ

A program of dedication for the memorial organ and chimes given to the Tecumseh Friends church in memory of the late Perry Hayden was presented Thursday night by members of his family. Those taking part were Ronald and Mary Jane Hayden Wells, Betty Hayden Sprunger, Martha Hayden and Mr. and Mrs. William Hayden.

Mrs. William Hayden was at the organ for the entire program and in addition to accompaniments she played two solo selections, "Ave Maria" by Gounod and "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

Two numbers from the Messiah, "Come Unto Me" and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" were sung by Martha Hayden and Mary Jane Wells and the three sisters sang the Christmas carols, "Silent Night" and "I Heard on Christmas." Mr. and Mrs. Wells sang as duets, "Down from His Glory" and an original composition of Mr. Wells, and the five voices in a mixed quintette, which included William Hayden, completed the program with, "Now The Day Is Over" and "Somebody He'll Make It Plain."

Theodore Growman of Bowling Green, Ohio, who had installed the organ, gave a short demonstration of its qualities before the program began and the words of dedication were spoken by the Rev. Edward Escolme. Ronald Wells, who is a musical director in Lexington, Ky., announced and narrated the program.

Miss Asenath Hosmer, a cousin of Mr. Hayden, came from Detroit for the dedication as did Mrs. Hayden's sister, Miss Martha Comfort, from Battle Creek and some old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coulter from Toledo.

Food Process Uses Drying And Freezing

If you were to look into a crystal ball you might see the future food market featuring "dehydrofrozen" fruits and vegetables.

"Dehydrofreezing" is a process combining freezing and partial dehydration and is now being used by large-scale food users. But, before long this new process, developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is expected to be used for packages bought by homemakers.

Dehydrofreezing, already in use by six commercial firms, is being used with apples, apricots, peas and pimientos. The process offers several advantages over other methods of food preservation. The dehydrofrozen fruits and vegetables weigh less and take less space than the same quantity of food prepared by ordinary freezing. Then too, the flavor and texture are more natural than those resulting from conventional dehydration. In some cases "dehydrofrozen" products are superior to those that are fresh frozen.

Ordinary freezing, USDA food preservation experts explain, tends to rupture cellular structure. That's why some foods break down in texture after thawing. Partial dehydration helps the cells stand up better under the freezing process. And, in the partial-drying step, temperatures are kept low enough to prevent flavor changes which usually occur in ordinary dried foods.

Reconstitution of these dehydrofrozen products, which were developed at the Western Regional Research Laboratory at Albany, Calif., is simple. They can be cooked directly or soaked in water.

EXTENSION CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Hostess for the Dec. 28 meeting of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club was Mrs. Clifford Southard. Roll call was answered by the 15 members present by a description of their "best Christmas present". The answers ranged from new clothes dryers to a tiny poinsettia plant from a Sunday school pupil.

Mrs. E. L. Wight, community and recreation chairman, read a letter of thanks from Mrs. Barbara Watt, supervisor of the Girls Training School, Adrian. The letter referred to the cards and handkerchiefs sent to the school by club members for Christmas gifts. Mrs. Wight was also in charge of the evening's program which consisted of charades based on "Something Under the Christmas Tree," a "New Year's Resolution" and a "Christmas Song".

There was a gift exchange among members and a baby gift was presented to Mrs. Marvin Fansher.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lester Ruhl and Mrs. Raymond Bird, co-hostesses, with Mrs. Southard.

Nancy Schott And Richard Cadmus Exchanged Vows Saturday Evening

Candles lighted the Tecumseh Methodist church Saturday evening and baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums combined with white poinsettias, palms and candelabra to form an altar before which Nancy Gayle Schott and Richard F. Cadmus were united in marriage.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Schott of Kies Road, Manchester was given in marriage by her father. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cadmus of Tecumseh.

The Rev. Horace James performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock preceding which Mrs. David Mumma, aunt of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "Because," following with the "Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Miss Peggy Pocklington was at the organ.

Miss Schott chose chantilly lace over taffeta for her bridal gown which was fashioned with fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long sleeves, ending in jeweled points. Folded satin was molded in a cummerbund and folds of satin over the hips were released in a polonaise, butterfly bow at the back. The lace skirt ended in a chapel train and the double, finger-tip length veil fell from a scalloped cap of pearl and sequin embroidered lace. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid, surrounded by red roses and satin streamers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Douglas Hintz was her matron of honor and wore aqua blue nylon tulle over taffeta, made with a strapless bodice and matching stole.

Mrs. Donald Mueller and Mrs. Jack Patterson, sisters of the groom, with Mrs. Donald Frayer and Miss Sylvia Johnson were bridesmaids and their gowns were identically styled in cornflower blue. All wore white fur headbands and carried white satin muffs with red carnations and streamers matching their gowns.

John Cadmus was his brother's best man and the ushers were Vaughn Schott, the bride's brother and Douglas Hintz, Donald Mueller and Donald Frayer.

Deborah Kuhn and Halerie Mumma, the flower girls, in pale blue nylon, carried baskets of baby mums and scattered rose petals before the bride. Ring bearer was the bride's little nephew, Gary Hintz.

Mrs. Schott wore navy blue lace for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Cadmus black velvet. Both had white accessories and orchid corsages.

Approximately 300 guests were entertained at the reception held at the Tecumseh Grange Hall. Mrs. Donald Schneider, assisted by Marlene Boltz, served the five tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Jennings Frayer and Mrs. Norbert O'Hara poured and Mrs. Hal Grinage assisted by Mrs. Ray Band served punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadmus left for a trip through the southern states, the bride wearing a blue wool suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A graduate of Britton high school, Mrs. Cadmus has attended Michigan State Normal College and is employed by Tresco, Inc. The groom, who graduated from Macon High is employed by Detroit Edison Co. in Ann Arbor. They will live near Manchester.

Buick Introduces New Four-Door "Hardtop"

Buick General Manager Ivan L. Wiles poses proudly beside the automobile industry's latest style sensation, a four-door "hardtop" sedan. Like the two-door Riviera "hardtop" coupe Buick pioneered six years ago, the four-door model eliminates the center posts between the doors, combining the trim, racy lines of a four-door convertible with the comfort and roominess of a sedan. Buick will offer the new Riviera sedan in both the Century and Special Series.

TECUMSEH GRANGE — Regular meeting at 8:30 p. m. preceded by potluck supper at 7. Miss Beaney of Hillsdale, representing Blue Cross will be present.

The Silver Lining

MORE INFORMATION ON who wrote the Tecumseh High School song has been received. From Washington, D. C. Jack Larsen, class of '38, writes: 'I am sure that I was there when "Tecumseh High" was first sung. It was introduced to her classes by the young lady who was the teacher of music and art. Her name, unfortunately, escapes me."

And Mrs. Edward Escolme called the same day giving the credit to Miss Charlotte Merchant. "She helped with the Christmas programs and she did a lot for music here, especially in the grades," Mrs. Escolme said. She did not remember the year.

A MEMORANDUM ON a phone call was handed to a local businessman by his secretary. "I can't read this," he said.

"I couldn't understand him very well," said the secretary, "so I didn't write it very clearly."

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "It does a man no good to sit up and take notice—if he keeps on sitting!"

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK—

"Courage," the Old Year whispers as it ends,
"Weary's the world, and penitent and sad,
Waiting the touch to make all mankind friends—
Yours be the luck and strength to do it, lad!"

Tecumseh Products, Manchester Team Tied for Rec. Basketball League Lead

Tecumseh Products and Manchester Merchants are tied for the leadership in the Men's Recreation basketball league with two wins and no losses.

In games played Dec. 23, the Products beat the Legion, 45-37 with Schmick leading the way with 20 points. Anderson topped the Legion with 12 points.

Moore's Lumber Co. also found the range for a one-sided victory over the Manchester Independents, 54-28. Dunsmore was high for Moore's and Erelver led the Independents.

The Manchester Merchants bounced back from a 14-4 deficit at the end of the first period to take the Dundee Texacos, 43-40.

In games tonight (Thursday) the Independents play the Legion at 7 p.m.; Moore's and the Merchants tangle at 8 p.m.; and the Texacos go against the Products at 9 p.m.

SPOHR

Mr. Spohr said Tuesday he will continue the basic policies of quality materials, fair prices and service to customers that had built an enviable reputation for the R. S. Moore and Son Company.

The new owners took possession Jan. 1.

Mr. Moore, in making the announcement, expressed appreciation for past patronage at the two yards and hoped that present customers would continue to patronize the two yards under the new ownership.

DOLLARS

Before Tecumseh could hope to realize this new look, our council had to investigate, plan, and budget for each new project — just as we individuals must do if we intend to invest personally in a new product.

Few of us can possess a new car, house, or business unless we permit ourselves to go in debt. But, as we pay off the charges, we in turn own the material goods we desired.

The city had to follow this same pattern. Tecumseh was not in debt at the time the sewage disposal plant was deemed necessary. The council, not wishing to over-extend the city financially sent out bids to various construction agencies for this building program. Of the several bids received, the lowest offer made was for $276,000. The council was not satisfied with this bid. Instead, they saved the city $43.000 by hiring a private construction superintendent, and work proceeded on the project.

How was this substantial saving realized? If you will recall, the amount of the bond issue for this endeavor was $285,000. By subtracting the plant construction cost ($233,000) from the original bond issue ($285,000) the council had $52,000 with which to carry on further civic improvements. With this sum, funds were allocated for the construction of a lift station and for sewer lines in Sunset Meade Subdivision. Also, new sewer mains were installed on North Maumee and East Brown streets.

By putting the sewer main on Brown and North Maumee, it was possible to tie in the sewer from across the river to Burt street. From this same amount of money, pipe standards were built for the river crossing.

The city council is just one year old this month. The members have been most conscientious in their efforts to make the council an organization that accomplishes the work placed before it.

Plans for the coming year are no less ambitious for Tecumseh's growth than in the time just past. Certainly much work remains to be done, but each council member pledges himself anew to the task for which he was elected.

Yes, our dollar$ made ene in '54. But the council will strive for even greater accomplishments in '55!

RATES

the General Telephone Company, declared.

Jan. 22, 1952, the company sought relief through increased rates, amounting to $1,100,000 per year in gross revenue before taxes. The commission in its Dec. order of that year allowed a $660,000 annual increase in gross revenue before taxes.

Being firmly of the opinion that the rates of return on the company's investment would be too low to attract new capital, and in fact was confiscatory, under the rate schedule authorized by the commission, the company Jan. 3, 1953, appealed to the Ingham County Circuit Court.

July 30, 1953, Judge Louis E. Coash, held the rates allowed by the Michigan Public Service Commission to be unreasonable, unlawful and confiscatory and ordered the commission to permit the company to charge the rates it had originally requested.

The commission appealed this decision to the Supreme Court Aug. 12, 1953. Meanwhile, the company was permitted to collect the higher rates under bond, pending the outcome of the appeal.

"On the assumption that the Supreme Court would uphold the circuit court decision, the company in 1954 has been able to carry out an extensive construction program to improve and expand telephone service throughout the territory it serves," Mr. Myer says.

"During the past year the estimated gross expenditures by the company were more than $3,300,000 to provide more and better service to customers in its 75 exchanges," Mr. Myer explained.

The number of applicants waiting for telephone service has been reduced from 3,570 at the beginning of the year to 1,942 at the end of Nov., a reduction of 45.6 per cent. Most of these applicants live in rural areas requiring considerable rural line construction work.

During the year the number of customers on all of the rural lines were reduced to 10 or less. Six exchanges were converted to dial opration and telphone facilities in many exchanges were rebuilt and extended to meet growing needs.

"The Supreme Court's decision will undoubtedly enable us to continue our plans for further expansion and modernization in 1955 and succeeding years. The issuance of rates which will provide a reasonable return for investors will enable the company to attract new capital, thereby permitting us to continue our expansion and modernization program," Mr. Myer added.

"Many people do not realize that the money for expansion and improvements is not derived from the monthly bills paid by subscribers but from investors in the company's securities."

LeFevre Family Enjoys Trip

After a holiday trip through the southwest and California, combining business and pleasure, Mr. and Mrs. Joe LeFevre and children are back at school and work. Mrs. LeFevre is a teacher at Culbertson district and her husband sales manager at Meyers Aircraft. On the way they visited Albuquerque and Las Vegas, N. M., the Grand Canyon, and Calico, the ghost town on the edge of Death Valley. Christmas was spent with Dr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of Los Angeles. Dr. Taylor, a leading west coast orthodontist, is the proud owner of a Meyers airplane, made in Tecumseh. By the use of this superior equipment, flown entirely by instruments, he reaches patients in both Los Angeles and ElCentro, a drive that would ordinarily take seven hours.

The LeFevres enjoyed ocean bathing in the 76 degree temperature of Malibou Beech and were intrigued by the unusual Christmas decoration of southern California which includes lighted floats along the water front.

They visited the owner of another Meyers plane in Ardmore, Okla. on their return trip and there encountered 8 inches of snow, the largest amount in the memory of the town. Spending New Year's eve in Memphis, Tenn., the LeFevres were home in time for work on Monday.

Farmers Offered New Certified Jackson Oats

Farmers in Lenawee county will have an opportunity to grow foundation certified seed for a new variety of oats just released by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new oats, Jackson, has been tested and found superior to any variety grown in the central part of Michigan, points out agricultural agent Louis G. Hall.

Leyton V. Nelson, extension specialist in farm crops at Michigan State College, notes that farmers interested in producing certified seed can purchase foundation seed up to Feb. 1, or until the supply is gone. They can buy it from the Michigan Foundation Seed Association in East Lansing.

Jackson is a yellow oat that showed good yields in central Michigan test with a high per bushel weight. Nelson emphasizes that it is not suited to the southern tier of counties because it is susceptible to leaf rust. Growers in the Thumb prefer white oats, so it is not recommended for that area.

Experiments showed test weights over 2 pounds per bushel heavier than other varieties. Jackon is a midseason oats, maturing several days later than Clinton. It produced seven bushel more per acre in Ingham county tests than any other variety and also topped the Tuscola tests.

Stamp News

BY GREG MASON

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced that Jan. 14, 1955, is the date for the first commemorative stamp of the year. The 150th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts is the subject.

The design of the stamp will be a reproduction of Charles Willson Peale's self portrait of "Peale in His Museum" which is owned by the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

The size will be 0.84 by 1.44 inches arranged vertically.

It will be printed from a 200 subject plate and will be sold in sheets of 50.

No color has been announced yet.

The top of the new stamp will be inscribed with the 100th anniversary of the land grant colleges and the 100th anniversary of the Soo Locks probably will have the first day in Michigan.

The new regular series probably will be finished this year.

For first day covers send a reasonable number of envelopes to Postmaster, Philadelphia, Pa. with a money order for the cost of the stamps to be put on.

The outer envelope that they are sent in should be endorsed "first day covers."

During the year a 50th anniversary of Rotary Club stamp also is promised.

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is the seventh in a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading. This series is being written by Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

We all know that some children do not learn to read nearly as well as they should. We also know that the scholars are sometimes criticized because all of the children do not learn to read well. I feel that we accomplish very little through criticism and that it is much more important to try to understand why some children do not read as well as we think they should or as well as other children their age do. Perhaps if we examine some of the information we have concerning children we may have a better understanding of this problem.

We know that children vary greatly in mental maturity. For example, many first graders have children who have developed so rapidly mentally that they can learn to read as well in one year as some children can in two or three years. At the other extreme, there are some first grade children who are so immature mentally that they cannot learn to read even the simplest materials by the end of the school year. The higher the grade level in school the greater this range becomes until at the upper levels we find as much as seven or eight years difference in the mental maturity of the pupils in a given grade.

Also, we know that some children who get a very slow start in school, even as late as the third and fourth grade, suddenly begin to achieve and in a matter of a few years become better readers than some of the children who did well in the first grade. We also have some children who get a slow start and never catch up with their classmates.

CHILDREN DIFFER

We know, too, that a child does not necessarily achieve equally well in all phases of school work. Some do very well in arithmetic and poorly in reading or in spelling or in handwriting.

Then we know that children have many different interests and some children simply have not developed an interest in learning to read or in learning to read well.

There are many other factors such as differences in the ability to work with other children, differences in emotional stability, differences in physical development, etc., which seem to influence progress in learning to read. And some children have difficulty with reading because beginning reading instruction was started before they were ready to learn to read.

HELP TO UNDERSTAND

If we have children who are not succeeding in school as well as we think they should perhaps it will help us understand why this is so. If we have a child who is mentally too immature to learn to read, it is very important for us to recognize this. We and the schools can do very little about it except provide experiences which will help him develop within his capabilities.

The same thing is true of the other factors which influence progress in reading. If a child fails to get along socially with the other members of his group we must provide experiences and guidance to help him develop social maturity. If he has emotional problems we must help him overcome this difficulty.

Never will all children progress at the same rate in school. This usually does not concern us as parents as long as our children get along well with school work but it does concern us when our child is the one who is having difficulty.

SCHOOLS ARE CONCERNED

The schools, too, are very concerned about the child who does not get along as well as he should. Many schools have provided special services such as remedial reading programs to help children who are having difficulty.

Since parents and schools alike are concerned about the child who is not progressing as he should, why not attack a mutual problem through cooperative effort. Parents can help teachers and teachers can help parents through sharing of information. Schools and parents are engaged in a business and that business is our children.

Christian Science Services Listed

How purification of thought brings freedom from fear, sickness, and sin will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from John (4:23): "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read (242:1-3,6): "Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. . . . Denial of the claims of matter is a great step towards the joy of Spirit, towards human freedom and the final triumph over the body."

Scriptural selections include this Beautitude from the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:8): "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

Let yourself go—

it's only $2253.88 delivered locally!

MAYBE you didn't know that the price of this 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan has moved still closer to those of the so-called "low-price three."

And maybe you didn't know that now you can boss this broad and brawny new beauty for even fewer dollars than some models of those very same "three."

So we proudly show our price here to prove it.

But no simple dollar figures can ever tell you how much more sheer automobile you get for your money in this '55 Buick. You have to discover that firsthand.

You have to look into the record-high V8 power that puts the whip to this dazzler—and see by sampling what that means in the lift and life and joy you feel in driving.

You have to judge for yourself how much more luxury and comfort and stability so little more money buys here—more room, more visibility, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness.

And you have to learn by doing what a rich fine feeling it is to travel in the boldest new styling of the times—in beauty that's long and low and sports-car smart—and as definitely distinctive as the name on the hood.

Come in for a demonstration of Buick for '55. We promise you the thrill—and the buy—of the year.

*3-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Care of Shade Trees

Do you have any idea how long it takes to grow a beautiful and magnificent city shade tree?

In some cases the answer is 50 or more years.

We thought on this when we saw city men cutting down some of the shade trees that have become unsafe.

Some of these trees might have been the same ones that a group of interested citizens went to Lansing about to keep the highway department from chopping them down to put in a highway.

Lest it be misunderstood, this is not a criticism of the city's policy of cutting down trees that have become diseased and rotted to the point of being hazardous to life and limb.

However, we do wonder if it would be advisable to set aside part of the city's budget each year for the care of our shade trees. The old adage "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" certainly can be applied to our shade trees.

Annual or semi-annual checks by a competent tree surgeon possibly would make further reduction of our shade trees unnecessary.

Shortatorials

The fact that some children cannot read simple words and sentences, yet can identify at a glance most makes of autos on the road, is puzzling psychologists; they think it has something to do with "visual perception." . . . Or something.

☆

You wouldn't think so from the size of the national budget, but the word "budget" originally meant a "little bag" to carry coins in. The ancient Romans had the word "bulga" to describe a leather bag and its contents; the French took over the word and made it "bouge." A little "bouge" became a "bougette," whence eventuated into our over-worked word.

☆

So you're not 6 ft. tall? Neither was Napoleon (5 ft. 1) or Admiral ("Dam the torpedoes!") Farragut (5 ft. 5½), or Gen. Phil Sheridan (5 ft. 5). Schubert, giant of music, was only 4 ft. 11½, and today's Toscanini is a scant 5 ft. 6. And Mickey Rooney is 5 ft. 3.

Polio is a Bigger Job Now!

While the year just ending has witnessed giant strides against this crippling disease, victory is not yet won.

The trial vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk was given lacst spring to 440,000 children. Now an evaluation of its effectiveness in preventing polio paralysis is being made at the University of Michigan. Health records of 1,830,000 children in the first three grades of 14,000 schools in the 217 trial areas are being studied.

But up to now we cannot know whether the vaccine protected against paralytic polio, and we will not know until spring. Meanwhile, the fight must go steadily on.

Even if the vaccine is effective, polio still will strike in the years just ahead. It takes time for a preventive to become widely used. We must expect tens of thousands of men, women and children to be stricken and to need March of Dimes aid. That help must be available to them.

The fight against polio is being carried out on four fronts—polio prevention, patient aid, scientific research and professional education. That makes it a much bigger job now. Great advances have been made in the past few years but the four-front attack must continue till final victory.

The March of Dimes needs our whole-hearted support right now to do a bigger job for all of us.

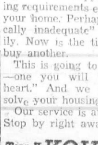
Read this poem by Nick Kenny:
"I am the New Year!
Three hundred and sixty-five days
In which to make a dream come true
A fresh start—
So make the most of me.
Hold me tightly to your heart
Or let me slip thru your careless fingers
Like the sands of Time
I am the New Year!"

The application to real estate is obvious. A whole new year ahead of you for a "fresh start." Is this new page going to be filled with rent receipts or payments on your own home. Are you planning to just drift along month by month. Or, do you want to put your roots down and forge ahead.



Making the most of the New Year may mean taking time right now to reappraise your housing requirements even if you own your home. Perhaps it is "physically inadequate" for your family. Now is the time to sell and buy another.

This is going to be a fine year—one you will "hold to your heart." And we will help you solve your housing problem.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Stock taking is the order of these January days and even so impractical and unproductive an enterprise as a newspaper column might do well to pause and look back, to assess that truly astonishing spate of words which 52 weeks have released on a helpless public. Well, not always so helpless. One error and the public strikes back. Still, in those corrections and additions are found many of the compensations of this business of columning, and they usually arrive almost as soon as the words are irrevocably committed to print.

No matter how carefully facts are documented some of them are sure to be wrong. We have learned that Horatio Keyser's family did not say he built the wings to the Owen Partridge house (it was a couple of other fellows who said it); that perhaps the house itself was not built by McAlaster in 1839 but by Rhoda Pitts in 1852 (that is just an opinion but it is the opinion of architect, Howell Taylor, which is rather like that of the Supreme Court) and that the Musgrove Evans house is not a real "salt-box" after all. This too comes with authority, that of Professor Lorch of the Michigan Historical Society, no less, and we stand abashed.

It is the additions that are the most numerous — and the most welcome — for we have learned a lot from them. For example, too late for our short sketch of his fascinating life, we were told that Tecumseh born, Claude Van-Tyne, head of the History Department at the U. of M. and winner of the Pulitzer prize, in addition to making important lectures in the United States, also made a world speaking tour for the British government after World War I. Of course it would require a book to do justice to his career. Those interested in the rise and fall of the local celery industry and the men connected with it may be pleased to know that Ed Hollister, owner of one of the companies, made a name for himself in Peterboro, N. J. and was mayor of the city for 30 years.

It would have added much to the account of the Toboggan Slide in Brownville, the winter sport center of the nineties, had we known there were two. The second was the Gothic Slide — why the name is not now known — which was built on the west side of Mill street and shot its patrons down the bluff and across the flats back of the North Branch school. The story about the Southern Michigan Baseball League brought in the names of enough additional players to make a dozen teams. Most of them, of course, were of the Independent leagues and they included several local players, among them insurance tycoon, Charley Hanna.

But it was Tecumseh's "culled folks" that struck the most responsive chord. Apparently we left out everybody's favorite family. One reader wrote from Seattle to protest the omission of the Billy Colfaxes. Billy had been at one time yardman and hostler for Lucius Lilley and they were much liked. Two families who lived on the town line were frequently mentioned, although they did not really belong to the town itself; they were the Lees and the Patrick Blairs and Mr. Blair was a fully accredited member of the Grand Army of the Republic. But most of the added reminiscences were about Tecumseh's George Washington. They included the fact that part of his boyhood was spent in the old Comfort house, now the home of Paul Wolf on Green road, where he lived on equal terms with the little Comforts and learned his ABCs with them and the little Satterthwaites in the loft over the south wing which was their private school. The other stories were of his later years and all add color to the picture of a "gentleman of the old school."

But "Is That So" received the "upset of the year" in a letter from Mr. Charles Hurrey. He had been given credit by the Edward Leightons and others for bringing their unique gingko tree from Japan during his travels as International Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. It was a fascinating story, he wrote, and practically correct except for the minor details that it was his brother, Clarence who brought the tree and that it came, not from Japan, but from Washington, D. C. "The answer to your by line is that 'Tain't So' " wrote Mr. Hurrey, "but don't change it for some have undeserved honors thrust upon them."

Even Mr. Hurrey did not know how apt his last observation was. He had not been in Tecumseh for many years and had not realized how quickly generations pass into oblivion. So his letter was written, not to the present columnist, of whose existence he is probably unaware, but to her namesake aunt, who was a school teacher during his boyhood days. It sets the column straight in such a charmingly affectionate fashion. We almost wish it was meant for us.

COOK—BRANDT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Pearson on W. Pottawatamie was the scene of a New Year's wedding, Saturday when their daughter, Ella Louise Pearson Brandt was married to Lon Stanley Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Cook of Dundee.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. O. Bashore at 2 o'clock with only the immediate families present.

Mrs. Albert Kurtz, sister of the groom, was matron of honor while Richard Pearson, the bride's brother, was Mr. Cook's best man. A street length dress of winter white, accented at the neckline with black velvet had been chosen by the bride and she wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Kurtz wore rose pink with a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the entire party went to the Country Kitchen in Adrian for a wedding dinner after which Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for a two week's trip to Florida. On their return they will reside in their newly purchased home at 401 Seneca Street in Tecumseh.

Mr. Cook is employed in the engineering department of Tresco and for the last year and a-half Mrs. Cook has been employed in the office of the Tecumseh Products Company.

Those present for the wedding and dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Millard Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kurtz of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pearson and Curtis Dolan of Detroit and Richard Pearson of Boston.

The second annual Michigan Week, the event intended to turn seven million Michigan residents into aggressive salesmen for their state, will be celebrated May 15-21, 1955.

General chairman of the 1955 Michigan Week will be Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton in the Upper Peninsula.

This announcement is made jointly by Walker L. Cisler, president of Greater Michigan Inc. and Dan Gerber, chairman of the Michigan Economic Development Commission. These two organizations were the principal sponsors of the first Michigan Week last spring and have since voted to make Michigan Week an annual event. Mr. Cisler is president of The Detroit Edison Co. Mr. Gerber is president of Gerber's Baby Foods, Fremont.

Schools, churches, clubs, labor and business groups and all other organizations are urged to set aside the third week of May on their calendars and start planning immediately the special activities that will make their members and others know more and think more about Michigan and the communities in which they live.

Next year's Michigan Week will be two weeks later than this year's, in an attempt to have it late enough for communities to hold outdoor events without difficulty but early enough to avoid conflict with school graduation activities. Several parts of the state had snow during Michigan Week this year.

Spring was chosen over Fall in the first place at the suggestion of the state Tourist Council so that Michigan Week would be of most use in attracting summer visitors to the state and encouraging communities to spruce up for summer. There have been some suggestions that Michigan Week should come in the summer when the greatest number of visitors from other parts of the country would be exposed to all that's said during the observance about the state's history, resources, etc. But the sponsors have felt from the first that Michigan Week should be held when the state's school population of more than a million boys and girls can take part in the celebration and can get the benefit of the several weeks of preparation for Michigan Week in classes and school organizations.

Headquarters for Michigan Week will again be in the offices of the Economic Development Commission in Lansing, and Don Weeks, the Commission's director, will again be managing director of Michigan Week.

The first Michigan Week was one outgrowth of more than three years study by an advisory committee of the Economic Development Commission headed by Walker Cisler which was known as the Promote Michigan task force. Organization of Greater Michigan Inc. was another outgrowth of his committee's work.

When the Economic Development Commission and the directors of Greater Michigan Inc. decided early last winter that an annual Michigan Week should be held the first plan was to start it in 1955.

Then it was quickly reasoned that the best start would be an immediate start, even though less than four months remained to prepare for Michigan Week in the spring of 1954. A state committee of 250 civic leaders was organized under the very able chairmanship of Jay D. Runkle, then vice president and general manager of the Crowley, Milner store, Detroit. County committees were organized in 70 counties and community committees in 316 towns.

The get-acquainted objective of Michigan Week was dramatized in an exchange of mayors on a single day of Michigan Week following a drawing a month before. No such state-wide exchange had ever been held in the United States. The success of the first Michigan Week can be gauged by the fact that 322 mayors and village presidents took part in the exchange.

Success of the second Michigan Week next spring can be seen in the unanimous enthusiasm for the exchange among the mayors and village presidents who took part and preparations many communities are already making for expanding the exchange next year by having school superintendents, editors and others accompany their mayors.

The call to all Michigan citizens to take part in Michigan Week was first made in a resolution by the Legislature adopted on the day Michigan Week was announced last Feb. Gov. Williams was honorary chairman and Lt. Gov. Clarence Reid and Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg honorary co-chairmen of the first Michigan Week.

Jan. Heavens Have Planets That Wander

On the morning of Jan. 4 the earth will be almost two million miles closer to the sun than it is during the rest of the year, according to Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

This is the closest the earth ever comes to the sun. During the month following, the days will begin to get longer and by the end of Jan. there will have been a one hour's increase of daylight over the short days of Dec., Professor Losh points out.

The planets continue their "wanderings" among the stars and Mars will be visible in the southwest sky during the evening, setting at the west point of the horizon between 10 and 11 p.m. Jupiter, located in the constellation of Gemini, directly below Castor and Pollux, will be rising earlier throughout the month and will eventually rise at sunset.

Venus will continue as the "morning star" outshining everything but the moon, and rising three hours before the son. Saturn, also a morning "star" and situated close to Venus, is in the constellation of Libra. At the beginning of the month Saturn will rise about half an hour before Venus.

Many of the brightest stars of the whole year are visible this month with the focus of interest centering on Orion with his two hunting dogs and the hare they chase across the winter skies.

Taurus, the Bull, located northwest through Orion's belt stars, and Canis Major, sighted southeast through Orion's belt, brighten the sky with Aldebaran, orange eye of the bull, and Sirius, brightest star in the whole sky.

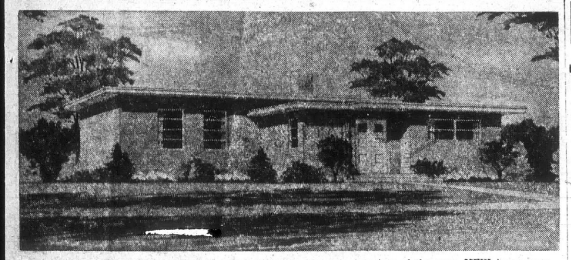
Five City Council Posts Are Open



BEGIN NEW VFW HOME — This is the architect's drawing of the new VFW home now under construction on Mill street. To cost $50,000, the home will be completed by June 1.

VFW Begins New Home

A constuction crew this week broke ground for a new building to house members of Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The new $50,000 home is being built at 10 Mill street.

It will be ultra modern, ranch-type with one story. Of brick veneer, the building will have a new process laminated ceiling.

A full basement will contain a recreation room, card room, storage space and heating plant. The home will be equipped with radiant gas heating.

The main hall on the first floor will be 40 x 25 with a kitchen, rest rooms and office off the lobby entrance.

Twin drives on either side will lead to 12,000 feet of parking space in the rear of the building.

The VFW has been in its present hall on east Chicago for 47 years.

The organization now has a membership of 150 with Carson House as commander.

BENEFIT

A polio benefit dance sponsored by Hall Slater Post Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held in the Products' Union Hall Saturday night, Jan. 22, with dancing from 9 to 1.

The Products' Chieftains will play the music.

All expenses are being donated and all proceeds will go for the March of Dimes in the Tecumseh area.

Tickets for the benefit are on sale at Hodges Drug Store, Wright's Drug Store and Cal's Top Shop or tickets may be purchased from members.

Dumping Garbage On City Dump Must Be Stopped

Dumping garbage on the city dump must be stopped.

The growth of the city meant an increase in the dumping of garbage, he said, and the rats and odor are now out of control.

As a result, he continued, the State Health Department has asked the city to plan for a sanitary land fill where garbage can be dumped and then covered with earth.

The city, he said, is not surprised. Officials realized that the city was fortunate in being able to dump garbage in the open but knew that with the increase of population the dumping would have to stop.

Meanwhile, the Jones Hauling Service which carts off garbage from homes, has leased from the city an acre of land to start a sanitary land fill. The company expects to begin the sanitary land fill project soon.

Legion Gives $100 To March of Dimes

In other Legion action:

Louis Schneider reported that the club's child welfare department helped 13 families, including 52 children at Christmas.

New members Richard Graf and Louis Richards were introduced.

The club planned a social evening sometime later this month for members, auxiliary members and their families. Members plan to hold a fish supper.

Area Aliens Must Sign By Jan. 31

Every alien living in the Tecumseh area must register some time in Jan. with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization Service. Deadline is Jan. 31.

Registration cards may be obtained from the Tecumseh Post Office.

Aliens also must furnish additional information about themselves that is required on the registration forms.

Any alien out of the United States during this reporting period shall report the information 10 days after his return.

Failure to register can mean fine, imprisonment or deportation.

TAXES

Almost 94 per cent of the school and county winter tax was paid by Tecumseh home owners before the deadline Jan. 10, reports Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city treasurer.

"I thought taxpayers made a wonderful record," she said.

The city treasurer's office was swamped last Thursday, Friday and Saturday morning by taxpayers who wanted to avoid paying the penalty for delinquent tax payments.

Mrs. Sallows reported that $225,064 of the $240,447 winter tax roll was paid before the Jan. 10 deadline, leaving a balance of $15,383 that became delinquent.

This marked the first time that the City of Tecumseh acted as the tax collecting agency.

Court House Site Will Be Dedicated Here

One of the few remaining landmarks of the very early days of Lenawee County will be brought to the attention of the public this week.

Friday afternoon at 4:45, immediately after their regular monthly meeting, members of Abi Evans Chapter D.A.R. will dedicate a marker on the building at 510 E. Chicago Blvd. which is part of the original court house of the county.

The public is invited to be present when chapter officials present the plaque, which will be accepted for the city by Mayor H. H. Hanna.

Now a part of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Dermyer, the structure was built in 1829 on the corner of Chicago and Maumee streets in Adams Park and was part of the "seat of justice" of Lenawee of which Tecumseh was then the county seat.

The dedication will be made for the chapter by the Regent, Mrs. Joe Rice and the chaplain, Miss Mary H. Swan, M.D.

Mayor Hanna will represent Tecumseh.

Hanna and Moore Terms To Continue

Five council posts will be open in this Spring's city election. Councilmen with terms expiring include LeRoy Titley, Blair Bashore, Harold Kelso and Mrs. Edith Smith.

So far only Councilman Kelso publicly has indicated plans to run or not to run. He said Tuesday that he will not run. Councilman Kelso said he no longer has the time necessary to devote to do the job the way it should be done.

The post of Arthur Schwartz, appointed to the council when Charles Mensing resigned last April, also is open.

The terms of Mayor H. H. Hanna and R. H. Moore have another year to run.

With the exception of Councilman Schwartz, all councilmen now on the council were elected when voters adopted the city charter and voted for councilmen in the election Dec. 14, 1953.

This is the record of the council vote at that time:

Charles Mensing	663
H. H. Hanna	642
R. H. Moore	504
LeRoy Titley	494
B. O. Bashore	467
Harold Kelso	401
Mrs. Edith Smith	400

Polling the three highest number of votes cast, Mensing, Hanna and Moore were elected to two-year terms on the first city council.

Councilmen Titley, Bashore, Kelso and Smith were elected to one-year terms.

After three months in office, Mayor Mensing resigned and councilmen appointed Schwartz who placed eleventh in a field of 19 in the first council election. He polled 321 votes Dec. 14, 1953.

Being an appointee, he could only fill the unexpired first year of Charles Mensing's.

Robert French's term as justice of the peace expires this year, too. But after this year the term will be four years.

Folks seeking the posts which probably will include four incumbents, must file nominating petitions with Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk.

This is the procedure:

The petitions must be signed by at least 35 and not more than 60 registered city voters.

Mrs. Sallows by charter will begin to receive the signed nominating petitions Monday, Feb. 7. The deadline for these petitions is Monday, Feb. 21.

The city council election will be held Monday, April 4.

The four candidates with the highest number of votes will receive two-year terms. The next highest will receive a one-year term.

Folks seeking the posts must have lived in the boundaries of the city for two years. They must be registered voters. And they must be citizens of the United States.

Those elected will be paid $6 for each regular and special meeting held during the fiscal year. But pay for each councilman is held to $150 annually by charter regulation.

The mayor, appointed by the council at their first meeting of the new year, receives $8 for each regular and special meeting with a $200 maximum.

Eagles Official Will Visit Aerie Here Sunday

Dimes Help 18 Polio Cases Here

Eighteen persons in the Tecumseh area currently are receiving patient care from the funds of the Lenawee Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reports Mrs. Rolland Reister, who is directing fund raising in this area.

Mrs. Reister said that folks are aware that their dimes and dollars are being wisely used so they are glad for a chance to help.

Meanwhile, the drive for funds in this area continues.

Auxiliaries of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion are busy organizing their workers for the Porchlight Drive to be held Jan. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Filter and Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish are responsible for placing the canisters in the public places for the convenience of contributors. Grenval Spangler and Richard Brighton also are helping with canisters.

While no quotas have been set, Paul Ahleman, chairman of the Lenawee Chapter, urges all communities to raise as much as possible because the patient care in this county costs far more than the 50 per cent alllotted for that purpose.

Interest is being shown by various organizations, including the churches, in planning benefits of all kinds.

The Reliable Circle of the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church held a bake sale last Saturday for polio.

Selling To Minor Nets 30 Days

Maynard Mulvaney, 66, manager of the liquor store in the Hotel Chieftain, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for selling liquor to a minor.

Mulvaney also was assessed a $100 fine and $4.30 costs when he appeared before Justice L. J. Van Deusen of Clinton Monday.

Mulvaney has appealed the sentence.

Hospital Auxiliary Cites Mrs. Whelan

An honorary life membership was awarded Mrs. Hoyt Whelan at the Jan. meeting of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Tuesday evening.

This signal honor was in recognition of her services to the organization as its president and as its representative at the many district, state and national auxiliary meetings she has attended at her own expense.

Mrs. Whelan brought back much valuable information from the national convention in San Francisco and Hawaii last year.

She is also a long time member of the hospital board and has devoted much time and effort to its advancement.

Officers elected for the coming year include president, Mrs. Charles Mensing; first vice-president, Mrs. Robert Fuller; second vice-president, Mrs. Paul Eddy; recording secretary, Mrs. Cecil Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. T. Hammel; treasurer, Miss Geraldine French and custodian, Mrs. Veva Connor.

The importance and benefits of membership in the American Hospital Association were explained to members by Miss Gertrude Spaulding and refreshments were served by Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, Mrs. Leo Bishop, Mrs. Russell Cooper and Mrs. Charles Butler.

Four men were sentenced during the past week on various charges.

Bartlette Aiuto of Tecumseh paid a $50 fine and $8.60 costs in addition to serving two days in the county jail.

He was charged with reckless driving after leading Tecumseh patrolmen Skinner and Purkey around Tecumseh and out of town at 70 miles an hour. Justice Robert French sentenced him Monday.

Lowell Maynard was charged with drunkeness and sentenced by Justice Robert French to a $15 fine and costs of $8.60. Arrested by Tecumseh police Jan. 5, he was sentenced last Thursday.

The Silver Lining

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

TWO MORE "VOTES" for a Miss Rice being responsible for writing the Tecumseh High School song have been received. Harry Beland called giving credit to Miss Rice, elementary and high school music teacher in the mid thirties.

Harry said he believed he was in the sixth grade when the song first was introduced by Miss Rice. "She tried to teach us the song," he said, "but she sure was disappointed when we couldn't readily learn it because we didn't like the lyrics. We thought it was corny." "But," he added, "time heals a lot of wounds. I like the song now."

A call from Mrs. Floris Snyder marked the first time that anybody has pinned a first name on Miss Rice. Her first name according to Mrs. Snyder, was Marjorie.

Miss Marjorie Rice, Mrs. Snyder told us, taught vocal music in the high school and she wrote the song in 1938.

Does any reader know where Miss Rice (she may be a Mrs. somebody now) lives today? If so, please pass on the information.

HARVEY WILSON PASSED out new calendars. They are darbs, too, but Harv has been taking a little ribbing about his calendars. A Chevrolet truck is shown in the picture. Now, there's nothing wrong with this. But Harv, as most folks here know, sells Plymouth and DeSoto.

TECUMSEH HIGH'S Future Farmers of America need about 20 acres of ground for corn planting. Any farmer who has this necessary acreage may contact Paul Burns, ag teacher at the high school, as soon as possible.

Indians Take SL Lead by Blasting Monroe CC, 74-34

Displaying their best-balanced attack of the season, coupled with a consistent ability for cashing field goal attempts, the Tecumseh High School Indians blasted Monroe Catholic Central from the Southeastern League lead Friday night, 74-34, and usurped the league leadership for themselves.

The win gave the Indians a league record of two wins and no losses.

The visiting Falcons started out with a bang, sinking three field goals for a 6-0 lead before the Indians knew what the score was.

Then the complexion of the game changed and the Indians kept applying the pressure until the final whistle.

Marv Yoakum was the first to score for the Indians. It was the beginning of a big night for the easy-going forward.

By the time he fouled out midway in the final period, Marv produced 20 points on nine field goals and a brace of charity tosses. He cashed 13 of his 20 points in the first period.

It was lucky for the Indians that he was hot, too. Ken Miller, slight sophomore running mate, had an off night in the first half, totalling only five markers on a pair of goals and a lone foul shot. Ken found his eye in the second half, however, coming back strong with seven baskets and a pair of foul shots for an evening's production of 21 points to take high scoring honors again.

Defensively it was tiny Jerry Barton who was the show. Several times the scrappy Barton intercepted Monroe passes and on several occasions he stole the ball from taller Falcons to set up Tecumseh scoring chances.

A well-balanced attack provided the Indians with a 16-10 advantage at the end of the first period and at intermission the locals led the visitors 35-22.

Continuing their consistent hitting in the second half, the Indians outscored Monroe Catholic Central 21-8 in the third period and 18-4 in the final quarter.

Coach Vic Lawson cleaned the bench and the reserves also cashed a good percentage of their shots with Davis and Verrier picking up four points each.

Barton, Dickinson and Bowser each contributed seven points to the Indians' highest output of the season.

Dick Vigliotti, Falcon forward, was the big gun for the visitors, sinking five field goals and three free throws for 13 points.

A check of the shooting percentages of the two teams tells a revealing story. Monroe had 54 shots during the game and sank only 11 field goals for a shooting percentage of about 20.

The Indians, on the other hand, cashed 31 of 83 attempted shots for a high percentage of 37, or better than one third of their shots produced two points each.

This is the record of the Indians' consistency. In the first quarter they made seven field goals; in the second, third and fourth they made eight in each quarter.

Monroe made five in the first period; three each in the second and third and none in the fourth.

In the junior varsity game Tecumseh walloped Monroe 48-25 to rack up its first win of the year. Bruce McDowell was high scorer with 12 points. Drummond and J. Elliott added 10 points each.

Your Child And Reading

(Editor's note—This is one of a series of articles on the subject of your child and reading this week being written by Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel, assistant professor of education at M.S.C.)

Most of the articles in this series have discussed activities which could be used by parents to help children develop a good background for the work of the kindergarten and primary grades. Perhaps the information previously given might be more meaningful if parents knew how children are taught to read in elementary schools.

A good elementary teacher recognizes that there are usually some children in each grade who are far ahead of the others, some who are very slow, and others who fall in between these two extremes. In order to have children of somewhat equal abilities working together, many teachers group the children according to how well they appear to be doing in reading, arithmetic, etc. The number of groups in a classroom depends upon how much difference there is among the children in reading readiness, reading ability, etc.

LEARN WHOLE WORDS

The most common practice when reading instruction begins, is to help children build a vocabulary of words which they can recognize when they use them. This is called developing a sight vocabulary. The children do not memorize the letters of the alphabet first, but rather learn the word as a whole, that is, children learn to recognize that some words, such as grandmother, are long and that others, such as run are short. They also see that some words, such as look, have a tall letter at the beginning and another at the end.

Teachers also help children to see that some words, such as look and book, are very similar except at the beginning, and that words such as, them and there, are very similar except at the end. These are some of the characteristics we use to distinguish one word from others. This procedure is used to help children build a beginning sight vocabulary of some sixty to ninety words.

HAD READ BOOK

There are many reasons why this procedure is used, but I want to present only one. Most children learn to read more quickly this way than was the case with many other methods that have been tried. For example, in the alphabet-spelling method it was customary to spend an average of six months in learning the alphabet and the syllables that accompany that method. I visited a first grade recently and the better readers in the group had already read an entire book. They had learned the words by the method discussed in the previous paragraph.

After children have learned a sufficient number of words to read the first books, the children are gradually introduced to the sounds of the letters and how to use these sounds in pronouncing words not in their sight vocabulary. This is what we commonly refer to as phonics.

Teachers help children learn how to use the other words in a sentence to determine what the unknown word is. This is called using context clues.

Children learn how to break words into syllables and how to use the sounds of the syllables in pronouncing words.

LEARN ALPHABET

Children also learn the letters of the alphabet but it is done gradually as they encounter the letters in the words which appear in the books that are used for beginning reading. The alphabetical order of the letters is learned when children need this to use the index of a book, the library, and other sources of information.

Children learn many other things about reading which too numerous to mention here.

The important thing to understand is that our modern methods of teaching reading do help children learn the alphabet, do give them training in phonics, do help them learn the meanings of words, etc. The activities described in previous articles of this series help children prepare for this type of learning.

Laugh at Food Fallacies, Enjoy Eating, Says Wayne Home Economics Professor

Everyone is familiar with the saying—some people live to eat while others eat to live. But do you know how many people today are still plagued with superstitious beliefs about food?

Too many, says Miss Marqueta Huyck, assistant professor of home economics at Wayne University. These food theories, commonly known as food fads or fallacies, can usually be traced to one of three causes, she says. They are the result of theoretical conclusions based on insufficient laboratory evidence, inaccurate conclusions based on personal experiences, or deliberate distortion of fact for personal exploitation.

Miss Huyck divides the most popular types of food fallacies into groups—those involving the so-called harmful or helpful combinations; foods with "special properties," such as blood purifiers and brain foods; those carrying undue emphasis, such as spinach and raisins; and foods concerned with dieting.

Raw or very rare meat is more nourishing than thoroughly cooked meat.

False. Proteins in meat are not damaged by heat. Correct cooking makes the meat more palatable and easier to digest.

False. There is no difference, although some geographic locations have preferences.

False. Open cans are as safe as other containers. Acid foods may change flavor, but will not spoil.

Fish is a brain food.

False. Unfortunately nobody has discovered a food that specifically aids brain activity. In fact there is no evidence that extra brainwork requires extra food energy.

Raw foods are better for you.

False. Giving up cooked foods and "going back to-nature" would probably shorten the life span. Cooking widens the range of food, kills germs, and improves digestibility.

A raw steak draws the pain and discoloration from a black eye.

The cooling effect will slow down the blood flow, but an ice pack would be much more effective.

As long as foods are good for you when eaten alone, they can be eaten together, Miss Huyck says. It's in the mind, not the stomach, that they don't mix. Many ideas about food combinations started in days before refrigeration when foods spoiled easily.

As a final suggestion, Miss Huyck stresses it is much more important to take a well-balanced, varied diet than to worry about the food you eat. Learn to laugh at food fallacies, she adds, and your meals will taste better and do you more good.

Income tax filing deadline is approaching rapidly — better get those records in shape before time. You'll find it's a lot easier to get the job done, point out Michigan State College agricultural economists.

Business Firms Receive '54 Census Report Forms

Report forms of the 1954 Census of Business are being mailed to Michigan retail, wholesale and service businesses, theaters and other amusement places, hotels and tourist courts, early in Jan. by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The report forms are adapted to the various kinds of business and smaller firms need answer only a minimum of basic inquiries.

Approximately three million business firms throughout the United States will receive the 1954 census forms. Information collected in the census is confidential and will be used by the Bureau of the Census in compiling new statistics on business activities for the Nation, States and smaller areas for the first time since the results of the 1948 Census of Business were published.

RETAIL TRADE, 1948

Number of stores	62,629
Sales for the year	$5,950,278,000
Payroll for the year	$ 640,904,000

WHOLESALE TRADE, 1948

Number of establishments	3,434
Sales for the year	$6,663,754,000
Payroll for the year	$ 304,771,000

There's no more awful feeling than slamming on the brakes, feeling the wheels slide, and the car skid—especially if there's a pedestrian right in front of you.

The simple fact is that neither pedestrians nor motorists do as well in traffic when the pavement is wet or slippery or when it's raining or snowing. Nobody can see as quickly, stop as quickly or dodge as quickly.

Failing to recognize rain, snow, ice or wet pavement as a traffic hazard would be as stupid as for an airline pilot to fail to take special precautions when landing with a low ceiling. Look harder, drive slower, and be more alert for the pedestrian when it's harder to see and harder to stop.

Rural Health Conference Set At MSC Jan. 20-22

A total of 48 lay and professional people will appear on the program of the Eighth Annual Michigan Rural Health Conference, scheduled for Jan. 20-22 at Kellogg Center, East Lansing.

According to John R. Rodger, M.D., Belfair, general chairman of the conference, "The importance of the subject has enabled us to attract top resource people to participate in the conference program. To cover the broad subject of youth health, the planning committee has divided the meeting into three sections."

One of the features of the conference will be staged at the luncheon meeting on Friday, when the group will hear "the voice of youth." In describing this session, Dr. Rodger pointed out that "We in health work have been talking to ourselves about youth challenges for a long time, but seldom have we given the young people, themselves, an opportunity to speak out.

They will be provided just such a chance at this meeting, which is titled, 'Let Me Say Something'." Appearing in this youth panel will be Richard Arnold, Plainwell, representing Junior Farm Bureau, David Ruesink, Adrian, State Grange; Shirley Cubitt, Sandusky, speaking for 4-H Clubs; Wayne Blossey, Williamston, Future Farmers of America; and Linda Balderson, Sheridan, Future Homemakers of America.

All discussion activities on Friday's program will be led by Otto Ynema, director, Extension and Adult Education, Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo.

The three day session will close Saturday noon, following a workshop session in which community health groups will study and discuss the technique of planning and implementing successful local health programs.

The conference is sponsored by the Michigan Foundation for Medical and Health Education, and co-sponsored by more than 100 Michigan health organizations, and is open to the public.

Conference headquarters offices are located at 700 North Washington ave., Lansing.

John Savage Tells Monday Club Of Brazil-United States Relationship

Mrs. Carlos Jones assumed the duties of treasurer of the Monday Club at the January meeting this week, replacing Mrs. George Bunch who had resigned.

The auditing committee gave the annual report and a committee consisting of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett and Mrs. Paul Hadsell was appointed to make plans for a bake sale for Polio.

Attention was called to the collection canister for the benefit of Girls' Town and it was reported that the project had so far advanced that a site had been selected near Ann Arbor and that the University of Michigan was lending its support.

With Mrs. Howard Truesdale in charge of a program on applied education, Miss Joan Kempf and Mrs. W. G. Waldron opened with a piano duet, entitled "Tea for Two".

Mrs. Truesdale then introduced John Savage, director of the orientation program of Tresco Inc. Mr. Savage, who has spent some time in various foreign countries, recently returned from Brazil and it was the relationship of that country to the United States that was the topic of his talk.

The fourth largest country in the world, with a population of 53 million Portuguese speaking people, he said Brazil deserved much thought on our part as a potential good or bad neighbor. They need technicial assistance to develop their agricultural resources, now devoted almost exclusively to coffee and cattle raising, and help with their problems of finance and petroleum production.

According to Mr. Savage, it requires two years residence to learn to know the country and people and it was his opinion that student exchange would be the most valuable forward step in cultivating good relations with this southern neighbor.

Mr. Savage brought several records of Brazilian music which were played during the tea hour that followed. Mrs. Don Cleveland poured from a table decorated with chrysanthemums and refreshments were served by the hostess committee headed by Mrs. R. J. McCoy.

Announcement was made later that the bake sale committee had decided to hold the sale this week Friday, Jan. 14, both afternoon and evening, at the Western Auto Store.

In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of my nephew, Herbert E. Handy, who lost his life while serving his country, Jan. 11, 1945 in Germany—

If I had all the world to give
I'd give it, yes, and more
To hear your voice, and see you smile
And greet you at our door.

Lovingly, Aunt Maude Creger.

The Silver Lining

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD Tecumseh tot was assigned by her school-teacher to make a Christmas drawing—the interior of the stable where Christ was born. The youngster showed her father the finished picture. He studied it, then pointed to one item and asked what it was.

"Oh, that?" the child explained. "That's their TV set."

AND A SMALL TECUMSEH BOY asked: "Does Santa Claus give away all those gifts so he can deduct them from his income tax?"

POLIO

The Westminster League of the Presbyterian Church has scheduled one to be held soon.

The council of which Mrs. Ted Golat is president hopes that many will patronize the benefit dance Jan. 22 sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

More organizations are asking for the film service, according to Charles Stevenson, 310 West Pottawatamie street. This film will be shown to the Tecumseh Grange tonight (Thursday) and to the Lansing PTA Friday evening. The "March of Dimes News" film shows the kinds of treatment provided. Running time of the film is 15 minutes.

In Lenawee County last year polio struck in the area of Blissfield then moved to the Tecumseh and Clinton areas. Next is moved southward and struck around Adrian and traveled from there to the areas of Morenci and Hudson, doing damage all along the way.

All persons who will be out of town during January are asked to send their contributions to David Dick, treasurer of the local council. All checks should be made payable to the "March of Dimes."

Grade School News

Patterson Second Grade
Mrs. Garlick

All reading groups have finished one reading book and are now reading in a second book.

Robert Miller was our only December birthday and Raymond Freshcorn, Nina Robinson, and Linda Spooner had November birthdays.

We have started to use our singing books in Music class. We are able to read well enough to do this now.

We made a winter scene for our bulletin board. Santa Claus and his reindeer were part of it during Christmas. We are now making snowmen to use in it.

We were very excited about Christmas, as usual, but glad to come back to school. We have brought some of our gifts to school for the rest of our group to use for a day or two. It has been fun to see so many different kinds of toys.

Ricke Harrison was in our room for two and one-half weeks but now moved away. Sharron Browning has transferred to Patterson from Central and we now have 36 in our room.

Nina Robinson, Gregg Schultz, Sharon Green, and Douglas Beasley were each out of school for several days because of illness. We are glad they're back. Mary Easton is now at University of Michigan hospital for an operation on her finger. Hurry back, Mary.

Sue Ann Hammack brought us a nice cocoon box which her father made for us. Thank you.

Our new draperies have now been hung and we do appreciate them. Our room looks nicer and we are able to keep the sun out of our eyes.

Sharon Green and Peter Thompson have new daily stories.

We made a fireplace for the display case in the hall at Christmas time. We each made a stocking to hang on the mantle; Toni Herrick brought us a pretty Christmas tree to use beside the fireplace; some of us wrapped pretend packages to place under the tree; Sue Ann Hammack brought a chair and Marvin Grigg brought a doll for the chair; Linda Ostrum brought a lamp of Mary and her lamb. We thought our case looked like the night before Christmas.

Nancy Mead brought a gingerbread house for our Christmas display in our room. It had shutters on the windows and even a decorated Christmas tree outside.

Grade II, Central School
Mrs. Puffer

In their spare time, just for fun, some of the children are writing the numbers as far as they can. They even surprise themselves at how far they can go. So far, Jimmy Lawson is the room champion. He has written his numbers beyond 2,000 and is still going.

When we came back to school after vacation, there were so many new coats, mittens, dresses, shirts, and other new clothes that we hardly recognized one another. There were some cowboys and a policeman represented, too. Our room also looks nice as the floors had been cleaned and waxed.

Before Christmas we wrote letters to Santa Claus and took them to the post office. Imagine the surprise and pleasure when these same letters appeared in the Tecumseh HERALD. We now have this issue of the HERALD on our bulletin board and are busy finding the mistakes we made in the letters. They surely do look different in print! Santa must have read them, though, as he brought most of the things for which we had asked. Another popular pre-Christmas activity was our Magic Candy Tree.

Spelling is fun, especially so now that we have learned enough words to have occasional spell-downs. We are learning a few Spanish words, too. Juan, a boy in our room who came from Texas, teaches us a new word now and then, which we try hard to memorize.

West Branch—Second Grade
Miss LaPointe

We brought our favorite Christmas gifts to school to show our classmates. Among the gifts were dolls, batons, flashlights, model cars, nurse sets, Teddy bears, monkeys, books, clothing, and games.

The majority of the children in this grade were glad to be back to school after vacation. They have shown by the way they are working that they are glad to be on a regular schedule again.

The members of our grade are very anxious to begin cursive writing. Some could not wait until we began that type of writing, so they have learned how to write their names at home.

We were all very sorry to have Mary Peck leave our group. She has moved to Windsor, Ont.

Mrs. Penrod served refreshments on Faith's birthday, December 15. Douglas Kayner was eight years old on December 6.

Central—Second Grade
Mrs. VanWinkle

We all had a very nice Christmas and certainly hope that you did, too. Tuesday was toy day and each of us brought or told about the favorite toy we had received on Christmas.

We have four children with January birthdays. Those who will celebrate, are Vicke Kempf, Keye Luke, Mike Montgomery and Bruce Weaver.

We are glad that we have school neighbors who feed the SCHOOL NEWS . . . Two birds and squirrels. Almost every day, in a tree outside our windows, we can see many kinds of winter birds. So far we have seen sparrows, cardinals, bluejays, and woodpeckers.

We are happy that Bobby Smith and Bobby Williamson are back in school after several weeks of absence, due to illness.

Central—Second Grade
Mrs. Callihan

We are glad to be back to school after a nice vacation. It has been fun to bring some of our new toys and clothes to show our friends. We hope the crying of "ma-ma" dolls, the screeching of the sirens of the motorcycles, or the playing of records has not disturbed anyone.

Beverly Meyers spent the vacation in Tulsa, Oklahoma and La Von Schoonover was in Tampa and Lakeland, Florida. They were there visiting their grandparents and relatives. We like to look at the map to see where these states are. We especially enjoyed looking at Charlette Wegner's new globe. We even found the North Pole on it!

Larry Hartwig joined our class about Thanksgiving time and Sharron Browning left us to go to Patterson after Christmas. We now have thirty-five boys and girls in our room.

December had many birthdays. Dick Hadsell and LeeVon Schoonover brought treats. Doyal Hannibal, Bonnie Rogers, Dora Gibach and Sharron Browning also had birthdays. Katherine Thompson and Frank Havens, are a year older this month. Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. Morley, and Mrs. Wegner, were our visitors. We would like to thank all the mothers who helped with our Christmas party.

Our teacher was pleased to find we had not forgotten our words and numbers. Some of us have started a new reading book. We find the print smaller and that makes the words look different. We thought that with this changeable weather we would study our unit on weather in Science. We are keeping weather charts, for January. Maybe we will have snow before we write our news again.

No ifs, ands or buts about it.

When you give the gun to a 1955 Buick with Dynaflow Drive,* you move.

In the instant you push down the pedal, you get the action you've called for—immediate getaway from a standing start, or immediate safety-surge out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's not magic, this thrilling and pulse-quickening response—though it feels like the closest thing to it.

It's a principle of the modern airplane, brought for the first time to an automotive transmission.

Twenty "variable pitch propellers" inside the Dynaflow unit itself can change their angle—like the propeller of the airliner can change its pitch from take-off position to cruising position.

And what this brings to you—at the wheel of a 1955 Buick—is the nearest thing to flight on wheels. Far better gas mileage in your normal driving and cruising. Spectacular new response when you want it for extra quick getaway or emergency acceleration.

But all this, mind you, with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflow Drive.

Surely, a demonstration of Variable Pitch Dynaflow is a Buick must this year. We'll be happy to do the honors—and show you, in the doing, what a whale of a buy you make here. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Clearing The Air

Some comments heard on the first article on city public relations written by Mrs. June Macbeth in the HERALD last week make it necessary to clear the air by answering some of the questions raised.

First, let us state that the articles will not stop us from reporting council meetings as has been suggested by one citizen. Nor was this the intent of the council as this citizen pointed out. News of local government is the most important type of news that any newspaper carries and a paper that does not carry this news is derelict of its duty.

Of course we have disagreed at times with actions of the city council. This is only natural. Councilmen at times have disagreed with us and in the way we run this newspaper; and this, too, is at it should be. Disagreement over something said or done or not said and not done is an occupational hazard that both councilmen and newspapers must face. There is no job in the world that can't be done better by others: everybody knows how to run the city better and everybody can run this newspaper better than the present staff.

This is a healthy condition. We wouldn't have it any other way, even though such attitudes sometimes try our souls; and they must certainly at times try the souls of councilmen and of the city manager.

A reader also wants to know the background on why Mrs. Macbeth was contacted to serve as public relations director. As we understand it, Mrs. Macbeth comes from a small town in Nebraska that is known far and wide for its community services. A former school teacher here, she knows there are a number of new families moving to Tecumseh almost constantly. These families, if they are to better citizens, must know what is going on in city government. City manager Ed Nelson does not have the time to write these informative articles. So Mrs. Macbeth volunteered her services. Her only motivation is to inform the citizens of Tecumseh to the end that they might become better citizens.

If and when a half million dollar water and sewer extension project to outlying areas begins, it will be her task also to explain this project to those property owners affected.

In addition to the questions already commented on, another questioner wants to know if the new series is in any manner political.

Let us not be naive. Of course it is. The first article listed the accomplishments of the council during the first year that Tecumseh was a city and the article implies that the present council will perform even greater things in 1955.

Yes, this is an election year. Five of the present seven members of the council are up for re-election this spring.

Before going any further, let us state that present members of the council, all things considered, have done an outstanding job of directing the city in the trying first year.

If anybody thinks it is fun to give up free time to help direct the affairs of Tecumseh with all its present problems and with the drought of funds that just don't seem to go around, he had better guess again.

There's a standing joke that councilmen love the big pay they get. This is a good joke. It can't be the money.

There is however, some prestige connected with the job —a prestige that should be spelled SERVICE.

Another reader points out that a slate picked from Tecumseh Acres or any other large subdivision could conceivably be elected if folks in such an area turned out to support its own slate. This is true and from the standpoint of a good race with lots of interest this could be a stimulating situation.

In a FREE election which we tend to take for granted any property-owning citizen of the City of Tecumseh has the right to run for the council.

But if such a person seeks office only to insure that his or her area will be better provided with services he or she would not make a good councilman. A councilman has to be able not only to see the whole picture but he or she must also keep an eye on future planning while providing for current needs that sometimes are not met soon enough to satisfy the impatient requests of all the people.

In summary, the articles of Mrs. Macbeth are not only well written but they are informative and if they are read by all of us we will have a better understanding of what makes Tecumseh run.

The articles will continue to supplement reports from the council meetings written by the staff of this newspaper.

A young couple, the Gibsons, rented a small house. One day the owner told them he planned to sell it and offered it to them.

As with most Americans, the idea of "home-owning" was appealing to the Gibsons. In talking it over, however, they decided the house was too small for the future needs of their growing family.

Mrs. Gibson visited our office. "We know we're going to have to move. So we've made up our minds we'll move into a home of our own."

Before long the Gibsons were house-hunting earnestly. They searched, compared and BOUGHT!

"It's wonderful," Mrs. Gibson remarked to me. "My dreams of someday owning-Have come true. That day is right now."

Perhaps YOU, too, have thought seriously of buying a home. If so, come in and talk things over. You'll discover, like the Gibsons, that we know "houses" and understand your problems.

Taste Decides Slow Or Fast Meat Broiling

Broiling foods at a high and at a low temperature will produce two different results.

The temperature, explains Eleanor Ragon of the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State College, is mainly controlled by the distance the food is from the heat. The farther from the heat, the lower the temperature and the longer the cooking time needed.

Miss Ragon says the effect you want will determine how the food is to be broiled, that is, whether you want it evenly cooked throughout or well-browned outside and rare inside.

For slow or moderate temperature broiling, place average cuts of meat so the top of the cut is at least 3 inches from the heat. Meat should be turned only once during broiling, cautions Miss Ragon.

Slow broiling is simpler than high temperature broiling. You do not have to watch the food so carefully. And it has the same advantages as slow roasting: the meat is more uniformly cooked, there is less shrinkage, greater tenderness, and more edible meat; the meat is more attractive, the cuts are plump and full with no charred bone or fat, and there is less spattering and smoking.

High temperature broiling is for those who prefer meat rare inside and very brown outside. To get this temperature place the cut 1-1/2 to 2 inches from the heat. This method is not generally recommended for broiling steaks, Miss Ragon explains that it requires careful watching, and makes for a harder cleaning job.

Price Support Loans Deadline Is Jan. 31

Price support loans and purchase agreements on wheat, rye, barley, oats, soybeans and dry edible beans produced in 1954 must be completed not later than Jan. 31, according to W. P. Hart, chairman, Lenawee County Agricultural Stabalization and Conservation Committee.

The closing date applies to farmer-owned warehouse-stored grain as well as to grain on farms.

The chairman warned farmers who expect to place these grains under loan file their applications in the next few days to be sure of meeting the deadline.

If the grain to be put under price support loan is farm-stored, time must be allowed for inspection of the storage structure and for a moisture test and grading of the sample taken at the time of inspection.

A rush of applications late in Jan., the chairman cautions, could make it impossible for the county ASC office to complete the necessary work before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Jan Vermeer's "Love Letter" is one of 100 famous Dutch masterpieces to be exhibited through Feb. 13, at the Toledo Museum of Art. Called "The Golden Age of Dutch Painting," the exhibition contains paintings by Rembrandt and 50 other artists of Holland's 17th century.

Take Heart, Take Care

Six New Year's resolutions were suggested today by the Michigan Heart Association for those who seek to protect their hearts and to live longer and happier lives. The Association, a United Fund Agency, recommended that all New Year's lists be headed by statements of intentions to:

1. Avoid self-diagnosis.

"If you haven't had a health and heart examination during the past year, see your doctor soon," advised the Association. If your heart is sound and if treatment is not indicated, needless fear and anxiety can be eliminated. If a heart ailment is revealed, suitable treatment can be begun immediately.

2. Avoid over-exertion.

"Exercise in moderation, particularly if you are over 40 years old," the Association suggested. "Strenuous activity will not harm a healthy heart. But the threat is real when the heart is diseased; then, extra effort may prove dangerous."

3. Avoid over-fatigue.

"Your Heart Association believes you should get an amount of sleep you know you require. Your heart works for you around the clock every day of your life. When you rest or sleep, its work load is lightened.

4. Avoid over-weight.

"Excess weight loads extra work onto the heart and blood vessels," it was stated. "You will look, feel and work better—and you are likely to live longer—if you keep your weight close to normal."

5. Treat respiratory infections promptly.

"The cold weather months on the average bring about a 13 per cent increase in deaths from heart and circulatory disease," reported the Association. "This increase is largely the result of the prevalence of pneumonia, bronchitis and other illnesses which often impose a heavier-than-usual strain on the heart and circulatory system during this period. Don't take winter infections lightly; seek prompt and adequate treatment for them."

6. Avoid worry.

"Don't burden your heart with needless worry. Worrying cures or prevents nothing. So don't be guided by old wives tales, fallacies and superstitions. Know the facts about heart disease and your own heart. For information about the heart and its diseases, ask your Heart Association. For advice about your heart, always see your doctor."

WESTMINSTER LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

There were 25 members and five guests at the home of Mrs. James Barton Tuesday evening when she entertained the Presbyterian League.

Officers of the group for 1955 are president, Mrs. Barton; vice president, Mrs. Byron Goodman; secretary, Mrs. Don Geringer; and treasurer, Mrs. Mahlon Sebring.

The membership was divided into four work groups for the year. A bake sale for polio fund was planned but no date was set.

Plans were also discussed for the annual Valentine tea which will be held in Fellowship Center, Feb. 10. Mrs. Goodman will be general chairman.

The evening was spent socially, playing cards and the hostess, assisted by the officers, served refreshments.

The 40th annual Farmers' Week will be held on the M.S.C. campus, Feb. 7-11.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Perhaps some of those bales of straw, you now and then see upended in people's yards, mean there is a horse or maybe a goat somewhere in the offing. But the chances are they mean instead that someone, who lives in that house, is a bow and arrow enthusiast.

In this area it usually means also that they are members of the Lenawee Archers Association. Just as archery is not a noisy sport so its organization carries on without much fanfare. There are no wide spreading greens, no caddies, no expensive club dues.

But that does not mean it is any puny affair. It has grown in the last few years from a small group of enthusiasts to a membership of 300 and is part of a network of state and national associations. Unknown to many — including the writer — the association is a subsidiary of the County Conservation League whose membership is more than a thousand.

Locally, the town's originsl William Tell was "Mike" Hite. He drew his first bow 14 years ago, and he has never lost his enthusiasm. He was then joined in the sport by a few others, including Percy Bowen and Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, and gradually the group has increased to about 25. Of these the "first family of the bow" is that of C. R. Dustin. All of them shoot. Mr. Dustin, his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hull and their two children, 15 year old Sandra and Gary who is 12, and their house is filled with trophies to prove it.

Mr. Dustin's interest in the sport began seven years ago after 22 years as teacher, principal and superintendent of the Tecumseh schools. By that time he needed something relaxing and archery proved to be the perfect antidote (The temptation to say "teaching the young idea how to shoot" is powerful but resisted). Now he shoots somewhere every day.

There is a well placed archery range at the headquarters of the Lenawee Conservation League, situated northeast of Adrian, near what old timers call Southard's pond, and in the winter shooting is also done indoors on the Lenawee County fair grounds in Adrian. There the beginner may practice and receive instruction with no charge except the rent of his bow and arrow.

Each week there is a meet of some sort, somewhere in the state, and members of the local group may compete with those of other clubs in an unofficial fellowship. Then there are the state meets, where competition is keen and trophies are hard won, and the national meets where only the experts are brave enough to shoot.

Next summer the national meet of the Field Archers Association, to give it its official name, will be entertained by the Michigan group at Ludington in July and the local bowmen will be able to see the great and near great in action.

The Dustin family has traveled to those meets from New Hampshire to Wisconsin and "C. R." is the proud possessor of the national trophy won at Watkins Glen, N. Y.

An attempt was made last year to establish an archery range at the Tecumseh Country Club. In fact Hite and Dustin had it all laid out, in an ideal location on the river flats with the high bluffs as a background, but they reckoned without the Raisin. The stagnant water of its overflow pools still breed the descendants of the mosquitos, who harrassed the first surveyors of this region, and they welcomed the archers with so much enthusiasm that the project had to be abandoned.

For many of those who shoot, the hours of practice and the competition of the meets all lead to one end. Someday they hope to "get their buck." Most are members of the Michigan Bow Hunters Association and during the 30 days of the bow and arrow season, while incidentally often includes the last of Michigan's beautiful Indian summer, they can freely roam the north woods.

Last year Mr. Dustin, who is one of the few so fortunate as to spend the entire season there, saw 784 deer. In all he has bagged five bucks. Harold Hall has shot four and of the other local hunters, Gale Hooton and Lynn Nichols have each had one.

The business side of archery has a local angle also. It will be taken up next week.

Mrs. Marie Pebley

Dearborn housewife says, "Be without Blue Cross-Blue Shield? Not my family!"

"After our recent experience," says Mrs. Pebley, "my husband and I know that the best investment any family can make is Blue Cross - Blue Shield. I went to the hospital last September. Stayed for 27 days. You have no idea how quickly the costs can run up. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered almost $1,300 in hospital bills, and all we had to pay was around $50. Blue Shield paid $340 to my doctor, too. The costs would have been a terrible blow to us if we hadn't had Blue Cross - Blue Shield."

It could happen to your family! In fact, 1 in every 3 Michigan families will have an unexpected hospital bill in 1955! That's why it's so important to be protected against the cost of hospital and doctor care! And, for the little it costs you, there's none finer than Blue Cross - Blue Shield.

Join the over 3 million Michigan people who have Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Call or write: Blue Cross - Blue Shield

FRIEND IN NEED

Ever have your car break down on the highway in the dead of night, miles from the nearest town or service station?

If you have, the odds are heavy that it was a truck driver who came to your rescue. For up and down this great State of ours, with its miles upon miles of fine roads, the truck driver has rightfully earned a reputation as the gentleman of the highway. He brings you all the things you eat, wear, and use, yes—but he also serves as your friend in need when trouble catches up with you on the road.

He stops when others pass you by.

TALENT SHOW TO BE PRECEDED BY SUPPER

The Talent Show to be presented in the Youth House of the Baptist Church this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 will be preceded by a potluck supper at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Lyle Grigg, director of the show, urges the entire family to be present for this event, and promises that it will be an interesting time for both children and grown-ups. Persons attending the supper are asked to bring a dish to pass, table service and bread or rolls.

Because eggs are so cheap, farmers are sending some of their hens to market. So the U. S. Department of Agriculture says stewing hens are very plentiful, which is unusual for this time of year. Because many of these hens are young birds, they are more tender than most stewing hens, and prices are generally lower than usual.

Christian Science Services Lisied

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life opens the door to healthier, happier living will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Psalms (65:3,9): "O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. . . . Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (467:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its immortalness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from John (17:3): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

Cookie Sales Begin Jan. 22

The 14 troops of Brownie and Girl Scouts are planning for their annual fund raising cookie sale. Beginning Jan. 22, two troops will sell each week at various business places downtown, continuing the seven weeks through March 5. Both chocolate mint and the regular cremp filled cookies will sell for 35c a box.

Troops receive five cents on each box sold for their troop treasury and the remaining profit goes into the Association treasury. The latter used $100 of last year's cookie money to help put in the new rest room in the scout cabin and part of this year's profit will also be used for cabin improvements.

Film of Far East Will Be Shown At Baptist Church

"This Gathering Storm," a film showing conditions in the Far East, will be shown in the Youth House of the Baptist church, Sunday evening, Jan. 16 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A comprehensive study of missions and the crisis facing the lands of Japan, Korea and India as seen through the eyes of Dr. Bob Pierce are woven together in a challenging story. Interesting scenes of life in India and colorful pagan Hindu religious rites, including the sacrificing of a sacred bull, are shown.

Children dancing a ceremonial dance, the millions thronging the Ganges River and poverty-stricken areas, as well as real work being done, form a vital part of the film. Revival services held by Evangelist Billy Graham on his Korean visit, the colorful land of Japan and its return to nationalism give the viewer a panoramic view of Asia.

World Vision, Inc., with Dr. Bob Pierce as president, Dr. Frank C. Phillips, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Paul Myers, vice-president, is internationally known both for its outstanding religious films, including "China Challenge," "The Flame" and "38th Parallel," and for its humanitarian interest in wartorn and troubled lands. It has been a lifeline to many orphanages, baby homes, church congregations and religious movements throughout the Orient and India.

Through its efforts new orphanages have been built, baby homes opened, a hospital constructed for wounded Korean babies and children, tons of clothing shipped to be distributed among the homeless, the salaries of missionaries paid and many other donations made, which has endeared it to the hearts of every Protestant denomination operating in the Orient and India today.

The showing of "This Gathering Storm" is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

"Good Turn" Done By Britton Scouts

The Britton Boy Scouts of Troop 23 did their community "good turn" last Saturday by a door-to-door collection of waste Christmas trees. A truck was loaned to the boys by Charles Fairbanks and the trees were taken to the village park. In the evening the big event was capped by the "burning of the greens." The boys finished off the evening with a weiner roast and games.

They were under the direction of Lester Ruhl and Fred Parnoshe Sr. and the boys participating were Fred and Jame Parnoshe, Sidney Forsyth, Lester Ruhl Jr., Richard Kelley, James Spivey, Paul Cook, David Yarckow, Gerald Rohrs and Richard Seagert. The boys had a good time and plan to make it an annual event.

Continued population growth, high consumer incomes and possible increases in milk consumption all point to an expansion in the demand for fluid milk.

Dearborn auto worker says, "No family should risk being without Blue Cross-Blue Shield!"

"If every family knew what we know about Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mr. Hernandez, "no one would be without it. It's just too good! Look what happened to us this year. Our 10-year-old son, Peter, had a terrible accident in the backyard. He had burns all over his legs. He was in one hospital for 88 days, and then in another for 32. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered the entire hospital bill—all but sixty cents in phone calls. And Blue Shield paid $500 to our doctor. We would have been out $3,000 if we hadn't had Blue Cross - Blue Shield!"

Your family could be the 1 in 3 that will have an unexpected hospital bill in 1955! If so, how would you pay it? Wouldn't you be a lot safer with protection like the kind that saved over $3,000 for Mr. Hernandez?

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

The robustness of our faith measures God's opportunity to give guidance. Without readiness to act there cannot be continuing reception of God's disclosure. Without confidence there cannot be sustained action. The degree to which we trust God determines the extent to which we follow his directions.

To doubt the practicability for us under present conditions of God's way as revealed in our Lord, is to reduce the possibility of discovering God's will, because the conviction that it "won't work" here and now reduces zeal and perseverance.

Doing is necessary to knowing, however. Jesus once said: "If any one is willing to do His will, he shall know about the teaching." The sequence is inexorable: knowing, doing, trusting, fuller knowledge, more effective action, more complete faith.

How can we know the will of God? Desire to do God's will must be nurtured and disciplined until it becomes dominant, until we are able to say Nevertheless. This requires the practice of the presence of God so that his increasingly real and we become more and more at home in the invisible world of spirit. We must saturate ourselves with the mind and spirit of Jesus and faithfully walk in his way.

A humble and contrite heart must be maintained before God. We must make confession and receive forgiveness. High desire must be strengthened through gratitude and thanksgiving. We must draw heavily upon the resources of solitude and silence, and replenish our spiritual reservoirs through fellowship with intimates and through worship in the sanctuary. We must continue growing by partaking of ample spiritual nourishment.

And as God becomes increasingly real, we must trust him more completely. The just shall indeed live by faith.

School Board Adopts New Salary Schedule For Tecumseh Teachers

A new teachers' salary schedule for Tecumseh Public School teachers has been adopted by the board of education.

The new schedule with a $3400 starting base for degree teachers will begin next Sept.

Supt. James McDowell said the new schedule gives Tecumseh a better chance to compete for teachers with other school systems in the area.

This is the way the new schedule will work:

The minimum salary for a degree teacher will be $3400. After 14 years of teaching the teacher can reach the maximum of $5080 with $120 increases for each year of teaching experience.

A teacher with a master's degree will start in the local school system with $3600 a year. The maximum after 14 years will be $5280 under the new schedule.

In both instances $100 a year up to five years will be granted to teachers who have had teaching experience in other systems.

The new schedule raises the base $100 over the old one and equalizes the increments.

It applies equally to men and to women.

Supt. McDowell said he and the board are proud of the teachers' collective record of educational achievements and of tenure.

Ninety per cent of all Tecumseh's 51 teachers have degrees, he said, and 35 per cent of the teacher have master's degrees.

Tecumseh's school system has "balance" in the point of service, he pointed out, with 30, or more than half, having taught in the local system from six to 20 years.

This is the "balanced" tenure Supt. McDowell explained:

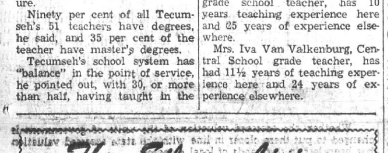
NO. YEARS	TEACHERS
0-2	4
3-5	7
6-10	13
11-15	12
16-20	5
21-25	1
26-30	2
31-35	2
36-40	1
41-45	1

Dean of the Tecumseh teaching staff is Miss Bertha LaPointe, West Branch second grade teacher. She has been teaching 39 years here and she had five years of teaching experience before she came here.

Mrs. Lois Service, high school teacher, has been here 26 years with six years of teaching elsewhere.

Mrs. Purnell Osburn, Patterson grade school teacher, has 10 years teaching experience here and 25 years of experience elsewhere.

Mrs. Iva Van Valkenburg, Central School grade teacher, has had 11½ years of teaching experience here and 24 years of experience elsewhere.



CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

AT LAST THE MYSTERY is solved. The writer of the Tecumseh High School song has been traced and she's still doing what she did when she taught music here—she's teaching music at Redford Union High School in Wayne County.

"Tecumseh High" was written by Miss Marjorie Rice back in 1936. And Miss Rice did what many of us suspected—she left Tecumseh High in 1937 to get married to Mr. Datus Moore. She and her husband make quite a team at Redford where she has been 11 years. He teaches band and instrumental music.

Mrs. Moore, who has been teaching for 21 years, and Mr. Moore have three children—a boy 12 and twin girls nine. The girls sing, play the piano, tap dance and twirl batons. Recently they won a Redford Chamber of Commerce trophy for their act.

Talking with Mrs. Moore by phone Monday night, I learned that "good old Tecumseh High School spirit" prompted her to write the school song.

Her phone number was given to the Lining by Mrs. Ernestine Manchester Monday. Mrs. Manchester was once Mrs. Moore's (Miss Rice's) student.

For any of her former students who would like to write Mrs. Moore, her address is 19969 Lennane St., Detroit 19, Michigan.

SO MANY FOLKS have asked for a reprint of the Tecumseh High School song that we thought we had better do something about it. So here it is:

Tecumseh High,
Let your banners fly,
Raise them on high
Up to the sky.
Orange and black
To you we'll be true
Tecumseh High School we're for you.

AL MUSCH THINKS SPRING is practically here. He saw a fat robin at his place, 4372 Blood road, Saturday morning. "Spring may be around the corner," Al said, "but that poor bird was shivering. He was sold as the dickens."

HISTORIC COURT HOUSE — Mrs. Joe Rice, Regent of Abi Evans chapter D.A.R., presents a plaque marking the remaining portion of the building which from 1829 to 1838 was Lenawee County's court house. Mayor Hugh H. Hanna accepted the marker for the city. Built originally in Adams Park, the structure is now part of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Dermyer, 510 E. Chicago blvd. D.A.R. members were in attendance as were the officers of the chapter sponsored Brownie Scout Troop No. 13 and their leader, Mrs. Wilmer Kiser. From left to right in the picture are Mr. and Mrs. Dermyer, Mayor Hanna and Mrs. Rice. It was presented Friday.

Car Smashes Plate Glass Window at A. F. S.

A large 7 x 10 foot plate glass window on the east side of the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association's Tecumseh office was smashed about 9 p.m. Tuesday night when it was hit by a car. Glass was sprayed over the interior.

Held in Lenawee County jail waiting arraignment on the charge of leaving the scene of a property damage accident is Vyrle Knapp, 57, of Ferris Trailer Park, Tecumseh.

At the time of the accident the chamber of commerce was holding its board meeting in the rear of the building.

Members heard the crash and rushed to the scene to see a car driving away. Dick Eggleston got the license plate number and relayed it to Tecumseh Police.

Tecumseh Police checked the registration list and discovered that the car was registered in the name of Luella Knapp of Coldwater.

Police here called Clinton State Police who in turn contacted the Jonesville State Police.

Jonesville State Police relayed information that showed the car belonged to Luella Knapp of Coldwater. But, they added, the car now was in the hands of Vyrle Knapp of Tecumseh.

Tecumseh Police dropped in to see Mr. Knapp. He denied the accident but when police checked his car they found a fairly large piece of plate glass lodged in the car's grill.

Police said Knapp had been drinking in a local tavern before he returned to his car which was parked at the side of the Association's Tecumseh office.

Police believed that he thought he had his car in reverse when he started to back out but he must have had it in low gear instead.

The broken window was boarded up by John Surratt, manager of the Association's Tecumseh office, and by Glenn Kohler and Dick Eggleston Tuesday night.

Dick Eggleston Elected President Of C of C Board

The board decided to return to the old method of electing a president as well as other officers. During the past year it had chairmen serving 90-day periods.

Other officers elected were Ralph Hodges, vice-president; Elmer Eberhardt, treasurer; and Mrs. Earl Pennington, secretary.

In other action the chamber decided to join the National Better Business Bureau and named these committee chairmen:

Membership — John Surratt with the assistance of board members.

July 4th celebration — Harvey Wilson.

Band Festival — Miss Marjorie Wickwire.

Signs—Ralph Hodges.

Budget—Elmer Eberhardt.

Hallowe'en—Paul Clauda.

Welcoming committee — Glenn Kohler.

Publicity—Miss Wickwire and James Beardsley.

A special committee to study the state equalized tax assessments also was named. On this committee are Elmer Eberhardt assisted by James Beardsley.

MAKE LAST PAYMENT ON EAST BRANCH

The final payment in the purchase of East Branch School by the city from the board of education has been made.

The council now is in the process of getting some firm to raze the old building.

Hospital Asks City Permission To Borrow

Herrick Memorial hospital's board president Clarence Gilman and Lloyd Rhein, a director, appeared before the council Monday night asking the city's permission for the hospital to borrow.

Mr. Gilman and Mr. Rhein told councilmen that the hospital needs $11,000 to complete its alterations to house new X-ray equipment and about $5000 for operating capital.

They said such a loan would be backed by accounts receivable.

Mr. Rhein also asked if the city some day could set aside about $1000 a month in its budget for hospital operations.

J. C. Beardsley, city attorney, explained that the hospital could not borrow. He said the city would have to be the borrowing agency and that such a loan probably could be arranged after application to the Municipal Finance Commission.

If the loan is approved the city would then turn the funds over to the hospital board.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

The newly organized Sarah Rebecca Circle of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, with Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller, 7361 Orchard Lane.

Mrs. Raynor Ross Died Tuesday

Virginia Edel Boken Ross, wife of Raynor Ross, died Tuesday morning at Herrick Memorial hospital after an illness of more than a year. She had been a patient at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor, transferring to Tecumseh, Oct. 9.

Mrs. Ross, who was the daughter of Gerald and the late Rose Michael Boken, was born in Gary, Ind., Sept. 6, 1918. Her girlhood was spent in Adrian and she was a graduate of Adrian high school. In 1940 she married Raynor Ross and their life together has been spent in Tecumseh.

Besides her husband she is survived by their two children, Carole, who is 13 years old and William, who is 11. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Harry Hoffman of Tecumseh and Mrs. Marvin Rohrer of Dearborn and by her father, Gerald Boken, who also lives in Tecumseh.

Her mother and one brother, Robert, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Ross was a member of the Tecumseh Presbyterian church and of the Westminster League and the Child Study Club.

The Rev. George Walworth of the Presbyterian church will conduct the funeral services which will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Green Funeral Home. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Will Elect King, Queen Of Polio

Special containers with the pictures of the contestants on them have been placed in public places. Each dime in the container represents a vote for that person. The contest will run through Jan. and at a special event with name and date to be announced later votes will be counted and winners will be crowned king and queen.

Letters have been sent to all patients who are eligible explaining the proper procedure. Mrs. Rolland Reister, director in charge of fund raising in Tecumseh, Tecumseh Township, and Raisin Township, is anxious that as many eligibles as possible will participate and that the public will contribute generously toward this contest.

The Porch-light Drive or Mothers (and fathers) March on Dimes and Dollars will be held Jan. 31 from 6 to 7 p.m. under the supervision of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Auxiliaries.

In the meantime, there are many other opportunities for individuals to make contributions such as the canisters in public places and benefits of various kinds sponsored by organizations, churches and interested groups.

All groups are invited to ask for a showing of the film, "The March of Dimes News," which is 15 minutes in length and depicts the kind of treatment received by the polio patients. Mr. Charles Stevenson is in charge of the film arrangements.

Cub Scout Show Attended By 600

The county-wide Lenape Cub Scout Exposition held Saturday evening at the Products Union hall was considered very successful by those in charge. Six hundred Cubs, leaders and parents from all over the county attended.

Erwin Richardson, Cub Master, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced guests and officials. They included Morry Persing of Palmyra, who is Scout executive of Lenape district; Jim Lane of Dundee, chairman of training committee; Ely Dickerson, Adrian, district commissioner; Francis Packard, Tecumseh, assistant district commissioner; Gene Barnette, Adrian, chairman of camp activities and Tom Hamilton, assistant chairman of the training committee.

The opening ceremony and welcome was presented by Pack 4 of Tecumseh. Skits were given by the Fairfield and Adrian Packs and Pack 73 of Tecumseh. The first gave a demonstration of silent signals and an old time square dance and Adrian presented "Westward Ho," the cubs impersonating great men of American history with a background of a covered wagon made by the pack. Tecumseh's Pack 73 gave their popular skit of the "Raising of the Flag on Iwo Jima" with the sounding of taps by Raymond Duffer III after a moment of silence.

Tax Commission Says Valuations Are Too Low Here

Until more information is made available to City Assessor John Saling, nothing will be done about raising Tecumseh's assessed valuation to make it conform nearer to the state equalized valuation.

Even though a report from the state tax commission shows that the City of Tecumseh currently is being assessed the lowest percentage of the state equalized valuation of the county's four cities, Assessor Saling reports that he still has not made up his mind how or when the individual assessments will be changed if they are changed at all.

The state tax commission report shows that Tecumseh has an assessed valuation of $8,073,400. The state says it should be $26,951,370 under the state equalized formula. The city is now paying 38.53 per cent of the state equalized.

This is the record of the county's three other cities:

	ASSESSED VALUATION	PCT. OF STATE EQUALIZED	STATE EQUALIZED
Adrian	$37,618,100	72.80	$51,676,711
Hudson	3,114,800	42.59	7,312,780
Morenci	2,564,600	47.90	5,354,100

The four cities totalled have an assessed valuation of $51,370,900. The state says it should be $85,294,970.

In other words, the state tax commission says the four cities in Lenawee County have an assessed valuation that is only 60.23 of the state equalized valuation.

Tecumseh Township, the report shows, has an assessed valuation of $800,550. Its state equalized valuation is $1,787,355. It currently is assessed 44.79 of the state equalized valuation.

Other townships in the Tecumseh area have these records:

	ASSESSED VALUATION	PCT. OF STATE EQUALIZED	STATE EQUALIZED
Franklin	$1,987,385	45.05	$4,411,544
Macon	1,846,335	61.30	3,011,649
Raisin	2,028,070	50.86	3,987,730
Ridgeway	2,315,040	58.15	3,980,933

Th 22 townships combined have an assessed valuation of $81,932,975. The state says this should be $116,065,432. The combined percentage of the state equalized now used is $1.64.

Whether the assessed valuation of the units of government is changed to put them closer in line with the state assessed valuation has been left in the hands of local assessors.

The Lenawee County tax equalization committee last week said any changes would be up to local assessors.

Councilmen Monday night also told Assessor Saling that any changes in the city's assessed valuation would be entirely up to him.

He said Tuesday that a blanket 20 per cent increase would place Tecumseh at about 55 per cent of the state equalized, a percentage reached by the average of the 26 units in the county now.

But, he added, it would not be fair for Tecumseh to increase its valuation and have the rest of the cities and townships continue with the same.

Assessor Saling thinks that Adrian's state equalized possibly could be lowered some and the rest of the units of government possibly could be raised with an overall average of between 55 and 60 per cent of the state equalized for each unit.

But until he gets more information or until something comes up that may force an increase, the assessed valuation probably will remain the same.

Loss Brings Three-Way Tie

Indian Five Could Have Won From Airport Community On Foul Shots

Six points not gained from the free throw line cost Tecumseh the temporary sole leadership of the Southeastern basketball league as the Indians lost to Airport Community Friday night, 59-54.

Had the Indians clicked on six of the 12 free throws missed they would have edged Airport 60-59 since both teams had 21 field goals.

The loss caused a three-way tie for the leadership with Tecumseh, Bedford and Monroe Catholic Central all claiming top spot with 2-1 records.

Tonight (Thursday) two of the three leaders clash here when the Indians play host to Bedford. The first game is at 6:30 with the varsity game scheduled for about 8 p.m.

Airport Friday night came from behind to upset the leading Indians. Tecumseh had a five-point 30-25 lead at intermission. The Indians led the Airport team 16-10 at the end of the first period.

It was the third period that spelled doom to the Indians as they were able to rack up only eight points while Airport added 14. The Indians were outscored by the home team 20-16 in the final quarter and could not pull the game out of the fire.

Sophomore Ken Miller again took scoring honors, bagging seven field goals and six foul shots for 20 points. Marv Yoakum again had a big night adding 18 points on seven goals and four free throws.

Ron Hatcher, league leading scorer, was high for Airport with six goals and five free throws for 17 points.

Whiteside, Airport center, contributed 16 points on five field goals and six foul shots.

Well-Known Authority on Narcotics and Juvenile Problems To Speak Here

Glenn K. Hammel, Chief Deputy of the Kalamazoo County Sheriff's Department and Past Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of Michigan, will be guest speaker at a public meeting to be held in Tecumseh High School Thursday night Jan. 27, at 8 p. m.

The Odd Fellows of Tecumseh are bringing this program to Tecumseh in co-operation with the local P.T.A.

All clubs and groups and individuals are invited to attend. Many groups have indicated that they will attend this meeting and all parents and young people are particularly urged to hear an authority on this important subject, "youth education and narcotics".

Mr. Hammel is a well-known authority on these subjects and has traveled throughout Michigan giving people information on them.

He will display live narcotics and demonstrate defensive measures that should be known to all women and children.

Following the lecture a film will be shown which dramatizes a typical case history of a teenage drug addict. It specifically points out the family conditions of the addict, the manner in which the drug peddler uses "pushers" to help build up a trade among students, the beginning of marijuana use, how marijuana leads to more dangerous habit-forming drugs, and how important community agencies are in the rehabilitation of the user.

Mr. Hammel will bring into focus the true picture of the sex criminal, show how they can often be detected before they comit a serious crime, demonstrate how young women can protect themselves against an attack by this type of person, the information often meaning the difference between life and death.

Mr. Hammel has been a law enforcement officer since 1935, a large part of this time having been given over to the study of narcotic and youth and parent education.

He has made more than 1000 appearances throughout Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Canada.

All citizens of the community are invited to attend. There will be no charge of any kind, the program being presented strictly as a community service.

Mrs. Pearson Is D.A.R. Regent

American Music was the program subject of the January meeting of Abi Evans Chapter, D.A.R. held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur H. Brown.

Mrs. F. C. Dickinson was leader and introduced Miss Edith Ingersoll who gave a brief review of the lives and work of the better known American composers.

Vocal and instrumental numbers, which continued the program, were selected to illustrate the music of the period. There were vocal solos by Mrs. Harley McConnell, Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and Miss Marcelle Gillespie, the last of whom sang a group of songs in the modern mode of which one was her original composition.

Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. W. G. Waldren played piano solos and there was a duet by the Misses Julia and Ruth Boyce. Accompanists were—Mrs. Waldren, Mrs. Schwartz and Miss Betty Day.

Election of officers had preceded the musical program and resulted in the following chapter officials for 1955: Regent, Mrs. Neil Pearson; first vice regent, Mrs. Roy Whiting; second regent, Mrs. Richard Carter; chaplain, Miss Edith Ingersoll; recording secretary, Mrs. Clayton Greenwald; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. C. Dickinson; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Helzerman; registrar, Mrs. Lyman Curtiss; librarian, Mrs. Francis Stone; historian, Mrs. Elmer Pocklington; directors, Mrs. Kenneth Hall and Mrs. Leon Rosacrans.

The program committee members appointed for the year are Mrs. Roy Whiting, chairman, Mrs. F. C. Dickinson, Mrs. Rosacrans, Mrs. Donald S. Smith and Mrs. Joe Rice. Delegates, appointed for the 64th annual Continental Congress to be held in Washington, D.C., April 18 to 21 were Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Rice with Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and Mrs. Hoyt Whelan as alternates. Those for the state conference in Detroit March 28, 29 and 30, were Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. A. H. Brown and Mrs. Richard Carter with Mrs. Whiting, Mrs. Curtiss, Mrs. Greenwald, Mrs. Helzerman, Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Schneider as alternates.

It was announced that the chapter will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday of this week, Jan. 21 and 22 at Butler Motor Sales. The sale will continue from 1 to 5 each day and the store will be open Thursday evening to receive articles. Those desiring pick-up may call Mrs. Rice.

The hostess and her assistants served tea after the musical, with Mrs. Rice pouring. The group then adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Dermeyer at 510 E. Chicago Blvd., where dedication ceremonies were held for the plaque marking the building which is a section of the first court house in Lenawee county.

EARL COPELAND IS one of the proudest fathers in the business. His daughter Sandra was named one of the three "good citizens" by the DAR in this area. Earl dropped in to pick up some papers that told of Sandra's many accomplishments. He said she and her twin sister Ann work on the farm and twice a day they run the milking machines to help milk the 12 Guernseys the Copelands are presently milking. "The girls are really good farmers," he said. They get up at 6 a.m. daily to do their chores before going to Clinton High School where they are "A" students and active in extra-curricular affairs.

Peter Van Osdol Wed In Detroit

A wedding of interest to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Knox Van Osdol of Mills-Macon Highway, took place Saturday afternoon in St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, when their son, Lt. Peter Bligh Van Osdol was married to Miss Joan Snodgrass of Detroit.

Miss Snodgrass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Hathorn Snodgrass, whose home is at 20455 Briarcliff road in Detroit. Lt. Van Osdol's Detroit residence has been at Town House of Detroit.

The couple was united in marriage by Dean John Weaver of St. Paul's in a double ring ceremony before the high altar. It was a candlelighted 4 o'clock service and the Boy's Choir of the Cathedral furnished the music.

The bride was attended by Mrs. John Griffith Davies, as matron of honor and her bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Ann Texter and Miss Nancy Carolyn Dorsey of Detroit and Dearborn.

Julie Van Osdol, a niece of the bridegroom from Northbrook, Ill., was the flower girl and the rings were carried by John Richard Snodgrass of Eugene, Ore., who is a nephew of the bride.

Nathan Knox Van Osdol Jr. of Northbrook, Ill., was Lt. Van Osdol's best man and the ushers were Lt. Richard Conwell of Cincinnati, Ohio, John Griffith Davies of Ann Arbor, Michael J. Chasanoff of Woodmere, Long Island, N. Y. and William Thomas Tobin of Akron, Ohio.

Miss Snodgrass' bridal gown was of Italian silk candlelight Katwa satin, made on princess lines and sweeping into a train. The bodice had accenting lines of illusion and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Her veil, styled as a mantilla, was of French silk illusion and was trimmed with duchess and rosepointe lace, an heirloom of her paternal aunts. She wore a locket of old gold the gift of a paternal uncle and carried a prayer book with white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

American Beauty velvet formed the waltz length gowns of the attendants. Their fitted basque bodices had bateau necklines and headbands of red velvet leaves caught their tiny face veils. Their flowers were bouquets of rubrum lilies.

One hundred and twenty-five guests were received after the ceremony in the Ponchetrain Room and ladies dining room of the Detroit Athletic Club. Mrs. Snodgrass chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of French blue Chantilly lace, which had bracelet sleeves and folds of illusion accenting the bodice. She wore a matching hat and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Van Osdol wore gray-blue silk taffeta with a matching hat and her flowers also were orchids.

Lt. and Mrs. Van Osdol left on a motor trip to N. C., the bride wearing a suit of Isle of Skye Scottish plaid with brown accessoriese and a corsage of heather sent from Scotland.

Beauty At The Chicago Auto Show

Three pretty girls cast admiring glances at Buick's glamorous new four-door "hardtop" Riviera sedan which was put on display for the first time at the Chicago Automobile Show. The new "hardtop" combines the trim, racy lines of a convertible with the comfort and roominess of a four-door sedan. Buick, which pioneered the two-door "hardtop", will go into production with the four-door Riviera model in March.

Stamp News

BY GREG MASON

Feb. 23 in Chicago an 8 cent stamp will be issued commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Rotary Club.

The eight-center was selected because it costs 8c to send a letter overseas.

It will be of standard size 0.84 by 1.44 arranged horizontally.

The color is blue and it will be printed from a 200-subject plate and sent to postoffices in sheets of 50.

The design is by W. W. Wind. The stamp has a design of a globe in the center and on the left is a flaming torch and on the right is the cog wheel which is the emblem of the Rotary Clubs.

A total of 80 million copies has been ordered.

The outside envelope should be endorsed "first day covers."

Postmaster General Summerfield has announced that Feb. 12 a new commemorative stamp will honor the 100th anniversary of the land grant college at East Lansing, Mich.

The new stamp will be issued at East Lansing. The design, he added, will be announced later.

Collectors wanting first day covers should send envelopes with money to Postmaster, East Lansing, Mich. The envelope should be signed "first day covers," to speed service.

Don't Worry, Plan Changes Can Be Good

So you've changed your mind; this morning you find your work plans for the day are completely different from those you outlined in your mind last night.

This change of plans is not one to feel guilty about, points out Dr. Irma Gross, head of the home management department at Michigan State. Rather, the homemaker who can alter her plans "midstream" should realize that this is a sign of strength, not weakness.

Dr. Gross points out this example: Mrs. "Typical Homemaker," who is expecting a house full of weekend guests, has set aside a certain amount of time to get the house ship-shape. In the middle of her work, she finds she is getting tired. Rather than continue with her cleaning, she takes time out to rest and save her energy, so she will be more at ease with her guests and a better hostess.

In the managing of their homes, homemakers go through three steps. First, they make their plan; this may be mental or actually put down on paper. Second, they control the carrying out of the plan. Third, they look back and evaluate their plan to see how it can be done better.

In this second step Dr. Gross advocates that a change of plan is not only acceptable but very desirable. She feels that while carrying out your plan, if you think of a better way of doing it or realize that something else should be taking your time, you shouldn't be too hesitant to change your mind.

Can Use As Much Land As Needed For Vegetables

Lenawee county farmers can use as much land as they wish in 1955 for growing vegetables and potatoes.

County Agricultural Agent Louis G. Hall points out that the prospect for more flexible price supports in 1955 and widespread drought last year led to dropping the proposal of limiting acreage of vegetables and potatoes.

The regulations that required cross-compliance and total acreage allotments for basic crops were also relaxed at the same time. That means you will not need to comply with all allotments on your farm in order to get a loan on any one crop.

But if you expect to put a crop under a price support loan, you will need to stay within that crop's acreage allotment—if there is one for your farm.

And if you want government help in carrying out conservation measures, you will have to comply with all crop allotments, Hall emphasizes.

About Good Community Relations . . .

Folks long remember helpfulness, wherever it may occur. We believe in joining in every project that is good for our community, and to be helpful to the people who are our neighbors.

We do this, not alone as a policy, but just as our part of being good citizens. Through the years we have looked with favor upon whatever we could do for the good of Tecumseh, and have tried to be helpful.

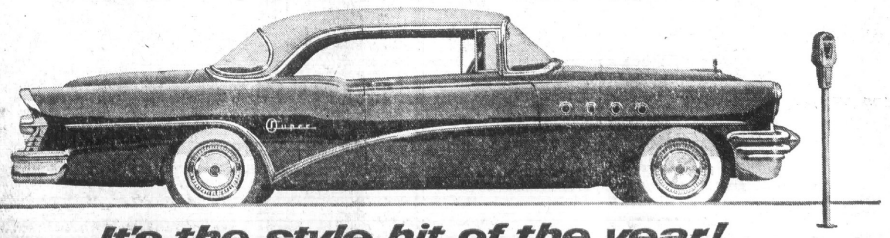
Fore and Aft- and Curbside, too-



It's the style hit of the year!

You can take our word for it when we tell you this:

The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer.

To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.

That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right.

For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.

New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.

New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that gives you far better gas mileage in normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration, but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.

So you can see that just looking isn't enough.

You have to take that wheel in your hands, try that power, feel that Dynaflow take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.

We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

On the Right Track

A new salary schedule for teachers in the Tecumseh Public Schools shows that the board of education is trying to keep pace with other school systems in being able to offer teachers more adequate salaries.

While the new schedule does not compare with a system as large as Detroit or other large cities (the local school system actually has to compete with these larger systems in hiring new teachers and in retaining its present personnel), the increases do put the Tecumseh system on a par with schools of like size in this part of the state.

Incidentally, it is interesting to compare the new schedule with the minimum teacher salary requirements proposed by Supt. of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor.

Supt. Taylor told the governor and the legislature that Michigan should pay its teachers $4000 to $9000 annually. He proposes a $4000 beginning salary for teachers right out of college and a $9000 maximum salary for experienced teachers.

Let's take the minmum first. Comparing this $4000 figure with Tecumseh's new schedule of $3400 for a degree with $120 a year increases shows that it would take a teacher five years to gain the state proposed maximum in the Tecumseh system. And under the present schedule, a teacher could never reach the maximum of $9000.

Some already say that Supt. Taylor is not being realistic in his proposal. We think he is very realistic.

Although teachers are better paid than they once were they still should be better paid. We can recall when a teacher in a bigger system than Tecumseh's received $1800 a year. This was only 15 years ago. By simple arithmetic it can be seen that Tecumseh's beginning salary is almost twice this $1800 figure. And Tecumseh would have to increase its $3400 starting salary only $600 to reach the proposed state minimum.

The proposed state maximum is another story, though. Taking the highest Tecumseh salary schedule item, a teacher with a master's degree here can gain the present maximum of $5280 after 14 years of teaching. This figure is $3720 less than the proposed state maximum of $9000.

It is entirely conceivable that Tecumseh one day may be able to pay the state proposed minimum of $4000 but it may never be able to pay the proposed maximum of $9000.

The new state equalized tax formula certainly will help the school system in paying better salaries but at the moment the $9000 can only be a dream.

In any event, the board of education here is on the right track in establishing a new salary schedule. The new schedule shows that the board is trying to do better by its teachers and all of us should be thankful for the board's efforts.

New Political Philosophy?

Republicans are clearing away the shambles of defeat in the Nov. election, according to the Michigan Press Association's "Michigan Mirror" and making ready to live with Democrats in control of state administration.

Bitterness has been replaced by a determined move in the house to outshine the Democrats.

House Speaker Wade Van Valkenberg (R-Kalamazoo) is the chief sounding board for the new theory. Following a caucus of Republicans he said:

"We've got to stop being anti-Democratic and be more pro-public. We're interested in developing a better program."

If Speaker Van Valkenberg and his fellow Republicans are sincere, this could mean a new political philosophy that would be beneficial to all the people of this state. And the highest type of politics could result.

Crack Down on Speeders

Tecumseh Police are cracking down on speeders.

Chief, George Kilbourn and his staff of patrolmen report that this speeding has got to be stopped and they are doing something about trying to stop it.

A couple of them even tried to race the patrol car. One of them was clocked in town at 70 miles an hour.

You don't have to stretch your imagination too far to see the danger in this type of horse play.

It's sort of odd about the age of the speeders. Most of them caught lately are old enough to know better.

They are not the hot rod teen-agers so often associated with this type of stupid mayhem. They are old enough to be mature but their actions show that they are not mature.

Chief Kilbourn reports that he and his men are not out to pick on anyone but, he adds, 'One of our duties as policemen is to protect life and property. It's usually the other fellow who gets the worst of an accident that results from speeding and reckless driving. We must see to it that these serious accidents do not happen."

And these accidents won't happen because the police are going to continue this policy of cracking down on speeders.

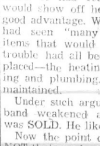
Realty Views

At a dinner party not long ago Tom Gray mentioned that their growing children required more space, so they planned to sell their home. I mentally filed that under 'things to look into" and then forgot it for a few days.



But a lady called. She wanted a closein home and I remembered the Gray's home. It was love at first sight. All went well until her husband inspected it. His verdict: "Too old."

The lady and I felt differently. The home was conveniently located. It had real charm and would show off her furniture to good advantage. While the house had seen "many moons," the items that would normally give trouble had all been recently replaced—the heating system, wiring and plumbing. It was nicely maintained.

Under such argument, the husband weakened and the house was SOLD. He likes it too!

Now the point of this story is NOT that you have to give a dinner party if you want to sell your home. The important thing is to merely let us know.

Just phone for an appointment or drop in the next time you are near our office.

We'll SELL your house too.

My Favorite Prayer

SUBMITTED TO THE LAYMENS' NATIONAL COMMITTEE
By FELIX W. COSTE
Vice President, Coca-Cola Company, New York City

Eternal God, Who committest to us the swift and solemn trust of life; since we know not what a day may bring forth, but only that the hour for serving Thee is always present; may we wake to the instant claims of Thy Holy Will. Lay to rest, by the persuasion of Thy spirit, the resistance of our passion, indolence or fear. Consecrate with Thy presence the way our feet may go; that the humblest work may shine, and the roughest places be made plain. Lift us above uprighteous anger and mistrust into faith and hope and charity by a simple and steadfast reliance on Thy sure will. In all things draw us to the mind of Christ, that Thy last image may be traced again in us, and that Thou mayest own us at one with Him and Thee, to the glory of Thy Holy Name.

Urge Local Participation During Michigan Week

Michigan Week plans entered a step up phase of activity last week when Dr. Grover C. Dillman, general chairman of the event, announced the appointment of Dr. Edgar L. Harden, dean of the Continuing Education Service at Michigan State College, as chairman of the local organization committee.

Drs. Dillman and Harden appealed to Michigan's 83 counties for a rapid and early completion of local committees in order to increase participation on the local level.

They said it was imperative that local organizations be established early this year and the programming put into operation immediately.

Dr. Harden immediately met with leaders of the Michigan Week program to increase the speed of organizing local groups for Michigan Week, scheduled this year for May 15 to 21.

Dr. Harden was informed that every one of Michigan's 83 counties has been contacted and that each is in the process of organizing. However, it was pointed out that a major difficulty faced a year ago was the late start in setting up local committees.

"Because Michigan Week is a grass roots affair, we believe that it is most important that every community and every county establish committees to participate in the week as early as is humanly possible," Dr. Dillman said.

Dr. Dillman added that "Dr. Harden's reputation resulting from his work at Michigan State convinces me that he will tirelessly lend himself to assisting communities and counties establish local committees."

Dr. Harden's committee on local organization will obtain suggestions and develop ideas to assist the local groups. It will help the local groups organize and provide technical assistance in programming.

Dr. Harden said that handbooks, guides and other material prepared by Michigan Week committees will be available to local groups shortly.

"This year we hope to increase participation by bringing everyone in each community into the program," he said.

Dr. Harden, in addition to being dean of Continuing Education Service, is chairman of the Michigan State College Athletic Council and the MSC representative to the Western Conference (Big Ten). He also is chairman of the National Armed Forces Education Program committee.

He is an active member of the National Education association, the Adult Education association, the National Association of Secondary School Principals, and the National Vocational Guidance association and the research and service commission of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

A committee of local feeders in cooperation with the County Extension Office has selected the following stops: 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. —Warren and Earl Phillips, Iffland Rd., one mile north of Blissfield where 500 western lambs are being fed shelled corn and protein supplement in pellet form. - Second stop—Phillips is feeding 370 Ohio native lambs at 204 Franklin Street in Blissfield with a combination of ground hay, corn, and protein supplement. This stop will also feature a small breeding flock.

Eleven a.m. — the sheep men will arrive at the Carl Illenden farm, West Beecher Rd., two miles west of Adrian where 240 lambs, both native and western, are on feed.

Archery is one of the oldest sports known to man. Its origin is lost in the dim mists of prehistory. Some aboriginal ancestor undoubtedly developed it through the centuries as a death dealing weapon, is now the basis for a wholesome, friendly pastime.

The principle of the bow, discovered out of stark necessity by some aboriginal ancestor and developed through the centuries as a death dealing weapon, is now the basis for a wholesome, friendly pastime.

The tips, or business end, of the arrow vary with its intended use. There are blunts; target tips; elongated tips, called field points; and "broad heads" for deer hunting. The last have four cutting edges and look deadly enough to bring down any deer.

Lethal as the arrows look, it is a matter of pride with the archery association that there has never been an injury during their hunting season or at any of their meets. These meets, local, state and national are pleasant gatherings of old and new friends. For the Hites, the Dustins, the Bob Williamsons and many more, archery is a family sport. They all travel far and wide to meets and all can participate. Susie Hite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike, has twice placed second in the junior national and Sandra Hall has been junior cadet champion.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Pretty "Snappy" Menu

Cuff Taylor had a near riot in his hen yard last week. Seems the hens were scratching around the cold ground when they found a piece of rubber band frozen in the ice.

"One hen pecked at it," says Cuff, "and it snapped right back. She backed off clucking while another hen tried it, and another. And the 'worm' kept right on snapping back. They all got their feathers ruffled. You never heard such a ruckus!"

"I finally had to break up the ice with an ax before those hens would get back to business and start laying eggs again."

From where I sit, some people raise a pretty big fuss over nothing, too. Take the fellow who would deny me a temperate glass of beer with my game of checkers. Maybe he'd rather have coffee! Well, that's all right. He has a right to his own preference. But so do I. And there's no point in his "snapping" at me just because his choice isn't the same as mine.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Part two of "Archery in Tecumseh"

From the outside looking in, archery seems to be very simple. You draw back the cord, let go of the arrow and watch where it goes. But this is one of the world's oldest arts and its rules and conventions have been developed through centuries. Just as golf is something more than whacking a little ball with a club till it rolls into a hole in the ground so archery has its complications.

In competitive shooting, the target varies in size with the distance. The largest is two feet in diameter but to use that the bowman must stand 80 yards distant, while at from 10 to 20 yards he has only a six inch circle to shoot at. And that is the entire area, not just the bullseye which, of course, is what he is aiming for. If he just stands up and "whangs away" that is "instinctive shooting" but if he does "free shooting" he uses a sight very much like that on a rifle. And here is where a local man enters the sports commercial picture.

The "Hite Bow Sight" (a nifty trade name don't you think?) has been on the market for about a year and a-half now and while its inventor is still not wealthy it has a fairly brisk mail order sale. As near as a confused layman is able to understand, its virtue lies in the fact that, by experiment, the individual bowman is able to record his own distances on its plastic marker for his future guidance. (Corrections next week by Mike Hite.) The sight is something he has been sutdying about for the past five years and evidently other archers have felt the same need.

Mr. Dustin is of the instinctive school. He does not use a sight. His interest, in a commercial sense at least, is in bows and arrows. He sells both but the arrows are of his own manufacture. Surprisingly enough the bow he considers best is made— of all things—glass, fiber glass. Over the centuries, of course, bows have been made of wood. Hickory, hard maple, yew, lemon wood and osage orange being some of the favorites. Mr. Dustin says he has broken bows made of all these woods but never fiber glass. A pull of 42 pounds is common in target shooting and that would seem to require considerable strength in a bow—and in a bowman.

Port Oxford cedar, which comes from Oregon, is the wood most used in arrow making. Birch is sometimes used and some archers prefer aluminum. Whatever the material of the shaft, all have what is called the fletch, four trimmed and colored turkey feathers, inserted at four right angles at the end of the shaft and having much to do with the arrow's flight. Below it is the crest, a series of brightly painted rings which apparently are just for show. Perhaps in earlier days these were the insignia of the archer.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

If you would see the raw stuff of human nature which can be transformed into heroism and devotion, take a good look at Mary Slessor of Calabar.

Her girlhood and young womanhood were spent in a factory in Scotland. David Livingstone's death in 1873 produced deep emotion throughout the British Isles and gave tremendous impetus to the missionary movement. Mary Slessor was among those who offered to go for service in Africa, and three years later she sailed for Calabar in Southern Nigeria.

A human skull hanging on a pole at the entrance of the town was the first sight she saw when she arrived to begin her thirty-nine years of labor among the people. A few months before a chief had died, and with him were buried eight slave men, eight slave women, ten girls, ten boys, and four free wives.

For four decades less one year Mary Slessor lived among these victimized and degraded people. Gin, guns and chains were practically the only articles of commerce bought from outside traders. Infanticide was a common practice. Witchcraft was prevalent.

In the places where she lived there were not many white people, and for months at a time she labored at advance stations where she saw only black skins. She lived among these primitive people as a friend, teacher, preacher, peacemaker. From her Bible she brought a message about the love of God and the love of Christ.

Tribal wars and internal conflicts were frequent, and many times Mary Slessor faced extreme danger. Yet the fact is that in all those years she was never molested. She was a living illustration of meekness and the mighty transforming power of lovingkindness when embodied in utter selflessness and sheer courage.

Sixty Britton Men Selected For Show

To raise funds for the Britton Kiwanis Club Civic Improvement Fund, 60 well-known men of the community will appear in the comedy "Womanless Wedding."

Strictly "for fun," the farce is said to provide an evening of hearty laughs, music and capers, augmented by elaborate costumes and make-ups.

To be presented in the Britton High School auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 25 and 26, the production stars Lester Edelbrock as the "blushing bride," wearing white satin, net and lace.

Before the entrance of the colorful bridal procession, however, the "perfect butler," Clarence Larson, will usher in a motley assortment of wedding guests; funny, would-be elegant and alluringly feminine. They will troup through the audience on their way to the stage.

Bill Miller, Frederick Bryan and Kenneth Smith are cast as the lovely girl-friends of the bride, who preside at the serving table. Douglas Fairbanks has the role of the hysterical mother of the bride, and Warren Lewis will be the father.

As two mischievous little boys Wayne Matteson and Robert Younglove will keep things interesting. Mills Swick has the part of a "grandma," and George Brahlec and Pat Barrett will be dainty little twin girls. As the very snooty mother of the "groom," Ed Rogers will endeavor to keep the festivities on an even keel, but his efforts will be considerably hampered by such comedians as Chet Godzina, Sam Vreeland and Harold Rohrback as the embarrasing country cousins. Also by Bill Lloyd and Tom Korican as a henpecked husband and his jealous wife; an intruding peddler, Bud Green, an equally unwelcome hobo, and by Bill Gibbs as a squawling infant and Merle Spence as his colored mammy.

On the elegant side, Rudy Koczman will be a Kentucky colonel, Bernard Bishop the fashionable "Duchess," Earl Griffin, a famous television star (feminine), Daniel Linn, the governor of the state and Glenn Ferguson the governor's wife, Bud Lorenz the wife of the president.

Brief skits will include one of a famous ventriloquist and his peppery puppet, a Charleston number, with Keith Rottorf as one of the flappers, a take-off on the ladies of a stitch-and-chatter club, including Ron Cheever, Frank Becker and Clifford Brown. Several vocal soloists will impersonate an alluring film star, a famous crooner, Diamond Lil and a noted singer warbling the wedding solo.

Lee Keeling has the role of the pompous "bishop" who ties the knot, and in the handsome bridal party are Forrest Bumpus, Clarence Herford, Neil Judkins, Norris Dartt, Jay Ferman, Stub Pilbeam and many others.

Selection of the cast will continue through most of this week, with rehearsals as the men are chosen. Copies of the program will be available the last of the week. Tickets are on sale by members of the Britton Kiwanis Club and will be available at the door. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Grade School News

Central—Grade Three
Mrs Fleck

The holidays are over and we are glad to be back in the routine of school life once again.

We are studying time and the history of clocks. We each have two clocks. One we took home so we could practice telling time at home. The other clock we kept at school so that we could learn to tell time together.

In Science we are making booklets. We are drawing outline pictures of birds and labeling the parts of the body. We then use reference materials to learn more about the bird.

Jean Preston has been a patient in Herrick Memorial hospital. We hear she is improving and we hope to see her soon.

Guy Boss spent several days in University hospital at Ann Arbor. We are glad he has recovered completely and is back in school once again.

Our first reading group has finished "Streets and Roads." We will have our big test on the book tomorrow. Next week we will be starting "More Streets and Roads."

Patterson—Grade Three
Miss Baker

It is a little late but we wish you a Happy New Year.

Our first group in reading have finished "Streets and Roads," and are now in "More Streets and Roads." We like our new stories and work books.

We made paper plate clock faces in arithmetic to help us tell time. We are also learning to carry in addition.

In social studies we are learning about wholesale and retail stores. In our story we visited a wholesale grocery and clothing store. We also read how overalls are made.

We learned a new game in spelling called "A Spelling Baseball Game." We play it every Thursday.

Loretta McKenzie, Gene Manwaring, Alison Derby and Ann Surratt, had birthdays.

Sally Smock has returned to our room after attending school in Saline.

See you next month.

Central—Grade Four
Mrs. Whiting

We were all glad to get back to school after the holidays. Many of us went away for Christmas. Richard Cobb went to Florida and came home with a beautiful tan.

Gail DeMass was flower girl at her aunt's wedding last Saturday. She has been laid up all week with an infected foot. We hope she will be back in school by next week.

Mary Katherine Sparks and Larry McClain have birthdays in January.

David Blanden was chosen as our December Citizen of the Month.

In reading class we have been making a play from "The Princess Who Could Not Cry."

We are all trying to improve each time we have a Self-test drill in arithmetic.

Next week ends this semester so we will be having tests for our half years work.

The boys had a car contest last week. Dwight MacPherson was the winner, and David Langham was second. The girls are having a display of dolls this week.

Central—Grade Four
Mrs. Bailey

We have had a nice time telling about our Christmas vacation and are now back at work. We are finishing up some work so that we will be all ready to start the second semester on January 24.

One of our classmates, Bobby Peck, left us last week. His family has moved to Windsor.

Six of us have birthdays this month—Jilda Dotson, Nora Holland, Letha Kimerer, Sharon Martin, Jack Rutherford, and LaDeana Southwell.

In language we are learning the two uses of the apostrophe. We are finding it a little hard to change words by using the apostrophe. In geography we are learning about a little boy who lives in South America. It is quite cold where he lives even though he lives high up in the mountains. In reading we have had a unit about citizens as they are today, one about citizens when our country was being settled, and now we are reading stories about citizens in other countries. We like them very much.

Mrs. Bailey is reading "The Bobbsey Twins" to us.

Patterson—Grade Four
Mrs. Colson

The first thing we had to do when we came back to school after vacation was to plan a display for the case in the hall. We made a background showing the Congo River and the forest. We have cardboard huts, animals, and natives arranged to show the way people live in the Congo forest.

Linda Selders has had some interesting things to tell us about her Christmas vacation, part of which she spent in Florida.

Some of the children have made very nice health posters showing fuel, body-building, and vitamin foods. Others show good choices of food for the different meals.

We are planning to use the Weekly Readers one day each week for our reading class. We think we will enjoy having our own newspapers to read.

West Branch—Grade Three
Mrs. Laskey

We were sorry to have Peggy Bates leave us and move to Tipton but we were glad to have Nevoda Gillman join our group.

One of our reading groups started to read "More Streets and Roads" today. We're really excited about the new stories.

Most of us can tell time very quickly now so we're practicing making change at the bank. We changed our Post Office building into a bank this week.

We are making a freize titled—From Wheat Seed to Macaroni. The pictures and story tell about a wheat farm, an elevator, a mill, a factory, a terminal, a packing house, a warehouse, a store, and a home in our town. Mary Dinse saw an elevator when she went to Toledo, so she told us how it looked. With the help of several books we've made an elevator for our room. We used oatmeal and salt boxes because they're round.

We are making a puppet show. It is about Tar Baby. Our puppets are paper mache.

Each of us are watching seeds grow in a glass jar, so we can see the roots.

MSC Invites Ike

EAST LANSING — Michigan State College has invited President Dwight D. Eisenhower to address a special convocation at East Lansing during the week of Oct. 10-14. The event will be among 25 major programs in M.S.C.'s 1955 Centennial year.

The Home Demonstrator

By JOSEPHINE BRIGHENTI
HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

The time is here to start making plans to attend Farmers' Week on the Michigan State College Campus. Dates for the five-day event are set for Feb. 7-11.

Nationally known authorities in the field of home economics, as well as home economics staff members at the college will present the women's programs on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. They will bring out the newest ideas in foods, home furnishing arrangements, equipment, music and family life.

Besides the scheduled women's programs, you may want to attend some of the other departmental sessions. On Monday afternoon, H. E. Larzelere, agricultural economist, will talk on "How Can You Get More for Your Eggs and Poultry."

Tuesday morning women will be able to get ideas on flower arrangement from the horticulture department.

The home economics program, which will be held in the college auditorium, will include a Thursday afternoon talk by Miss Helen Baeder, home economist with Pillsbury Mills, Inc. Miss Baeder, one of the "inventors" of cake mixes, will speak on "Behind the Scenes with Prepared Mixes." Miss Baeder was on the foods and nutrition teaching staff at Michigan State for 10 years.

COOKIE SALE TO BEGIN SATURDAY

The annual cookie sale of the Brownie and Girl Scouts will begin this week Saturday with Troop 17 selling at Hodges Drug store and Troop 7 at the United Savings Bank. Troop 17 is under the leadership of Mrs. Victor Peterson and Mrs. Phyllis Schriver, while the leaders of Troop 7 are Mrs. William Snook and Mrs. Julius Vincze.

Each troop is divided into shifts so that every girl in the troop will have an opportunity to sell and so have her part in building up the funds that will be used to improve the Scout cabin. A different troop will sell each week and their identity and location will be announced.

O.E.S. INITIATES

Initiation was an event of the regular meeting of the Tecumseh Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star Thursday evening. Mrs. Robert Warner was the candidate initiated.

Guests of the evening were the members of the Golden Rod chapter of Clinton, who were invited to hear the annual message of Grand Committeewoman, Mrs. Owen Partridge. Representing Grand Chapter, Mrs. Partridge has addressed 29 chapters in the state.

Announcement was made of a rummage sale to be given Feb. 11 and 12 in the Baptist Youth House. This is a project of Grand Chapter.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. Lester Tucker.

There will be a special "Friendship Meeting" of the chapter, Feb. 22.

All pockets in or on wool clothing should be reinforced with wigan or muslin to ease the strain on the fabric.

GLOBE TROTTERS

Mrs. William Powell of Adrian entertained the Globe Trotters last Wednesday evening and also presided over the business meeting. The group voted a contribution to the March of Dimes and a letter of appreciation was read from the Adrian Kiwanis Club regarding the dolls dressed by the Globe Trotters for the Christmas project for needy children. It was decided to repeat this work next year.

A shower of gifts was presented to Mrs. Ruby Campbell, whose marriage to Merritt Wattles of Tipton will take place Feb. 12.

Mrs. Willard Behn, a former resident of England, was a guest of the group. The Feb. meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Derby of Tecumseh with Mrs. Ralph Sager as co-hostess.

1955 may well be the "year of decision" in the long, hard fight against polio. Science, after years of unflagging research, appears about to score a stunning triumph over this dread disease.

Funds are urgently needed NOW for the final push to victory. Every dollar contributed speeds the day when the world can at long last be free from this grim destroyer of life and limb.

The opportunity is here . . . the time is now to deliver the "knock out" blow to polio. Give from your heart to the March of Dimes.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

SANDRA COPELAND FROM Clinton who gave her state 4-H Club championship speech at Rotary Tuesday night explained that she first practiced by presenting it to bales of hay in the barn on her father's farm. She said she spoke to each bale and soon overcame her nervousness. Sandra has a lot to say in "This I Pledge."

HAROLD SHERMAN, president of Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Association, learned of the accident to the Tecumseh office fast. One of the girls in the Adrian office has a brother who has a short wave radio set. He heard about the accident on police calls and relayed it to his sister. In a half hour Harold learned that the large plate glass window had been broken.

He was down and back up on my lap at least 19 times during the hour-long concert which is about par for the course. At one time he escaped completely to walk over to see his favorite participant—his mother—and the cello section. And a couple of times he thought he was the conductor and began

House Gutted By Fire Sun.

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the house occupied by the S. Bartlow family at 3302 Murray drive, Tecumseh Acres, Sunday afternoon and caused damage totalling $3500.

Owned by Dale Porterfield of Clinton, the house was formerly owned by the Robert Peck family.

The Bartlow boy, 12, first called Tecumseh firemen. "He was unable when he called," reports Charley Manley, driver.

A short time later a neighbor also called.

At 10:25 Sunday night they were called out again to the Wallace McGeorge home at 418 south Pearl street when a space heater overheated.

No damages resulted.

Monday morning at 8:40 they were called to the home of Eugene Skinner at 611 north Union when a fire of undetermined origin caused damages of $500 to the kitchen.

VFW Makes Plans For M M Show

Preliminary plans have been made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for a merchants' and manufacturers' show for the Tecumseh area.

The VFW is scheduling the show for three days, Feb. 25, 26 and 27. It will be held in the products Union hall.

Carson House, commander of Post No. 4187, VFW, and general chairman of the show reports:

"The VFW hopes to sponsor this show annually. It will provide an excellent opportunity to acquaint the public with the various products and services offered by our fine local concerns, and the personal contacts between representatives and public will strengthen the good will and do much further to encourage 'local buying'. We, of the VFW, feel this is a definite step toward the betterment of community relations."

Proceeds from the show will go into the VFW's building fund.

These committees have been named by Commander House: sales — Roy Dahlke, Ken Hinkleman, Lewis Richards and Lee Coffey; construction — Lloyd Stites and Grenvel Spangler; publicity — Harlan Boyes; legal adviser — Robert French.

Thirty six booths will be set up for the show with Tecumseh Products and Tresco, Inc. using the stage to show their products.

GORDON R. EATON

District Governor Plans Visit To Rotary Club

The Rotary Club of Tecumseh will be host next Tuesday to Gordon R. Eaton, Governor of the 223rd District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 33 Rotary Clubs in Ontario, Canada and Michigan, U.S.A.

He will address the Club and confer with President LeRoy Titley, Secretary Lester Rogers and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities, and on plans for the participation by the Rotary Club of Tecumseh in the world-wide observance of Rotary's Golden Anniversary, Feb. 23—June 2, 1955.

Mr. Eaton is President of Eaton Motors Ltd. in Leamington, Ont., Canada, and is a past president of the Rotary Club of Leamington. He was elected District Governor of Rotary International for the 1954-55 fiscal year at the annual Rotary Convention in Seattle, Washington, last June.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, Gov. Eaton said in discussing his planned visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Tecumseh because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of goodwill, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and strength. During the fiscal year, 448 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 51 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific.

Supt. Explains Facts

Type of Tax Valuation Has Marked Bearing on Education

"The difference between city valuation and state equalized valuation has a marked bearing on the Tecumseh Public Schools and the educational opportunities provided in the Tecumseh community," states Supt. James McDowell.

Supt. McDowell said the schools have not been notified yet of the state equalized valuation to be used for 1955-1956.

Quoting what he called "some facts pertinent to intelligent conversation on taxes and assessments in Tecumseh," the superintendent cited the annual report of Tecumseh School District No. 7 published last July.

"Local property taxes are less than a fifth of the total operational funds of the local schools. Also since assessed valuations for Tecumseh are the lowest city valuations in the county, the nine mills school operational tax nets less proportionally than in other county communities.

"Operational funds for the 1953-54 school year are marked either local, state or national and were as follows:

Current tax collections (local)	$ 64,493.73
Delinquent tax collections (local)	1,198.20
Interest on delinquent taxes (local)	136.88
Primary fund (state)	30,933.00
School aid (state)	153,937.19
Sales tax (state)	36,714.63
Vocational education aid (state)	4,838.27
Veterans administration (national)	1,987.53
Tuition (districts other than local)	19,893.60
Textbook rentals	7,397.62
Transportation fees	1,774.58
Driver training, local rental and misc.	2,003.97
Property rentals	1,096.37
Adult education (state and tuition)	1,142.70
Expense reimbursements—
Public library	36.75
School cafeteria	37.77
Building contractor	703.27
Insurance settlement (burglary)	881.24
Speech correction (state)	3,892.45
Non-revenue receipts—
Sale of equipment	502.90
Public library loan repaid	2,000.00
	$374,166.58

"Total operational funds received were $374,166.58 for current year. Local property taxes and interest were $65,828.81. The actual percentage of operational funds received from local property taxes was 17.59 per cent.

"For the year 1954-1955 state funds were received on the basis that the local and county assessed valuation for School District No. 7 was as follows:

Formerly Tecumseh District No. 5 outside city	$ 389,650
Tecumseh District No. 7 city	8,016,600
Formerly Tecumseh District No. 9 outside city	150,000
Total school District	$8,556,250

The state equalized figure used for the deductible millage was $11,988,334."

Commenting on the 13 mills tax now in force for the school building bond, Supt. McDowell said that if the state equalized were used, the bond would be paid off faster.

At the present rate, (using the county equalized formula) he said the bond will be paid off in the spring of 1959.

Letter to Editor:

Editor
Tecumseh Herald
Tecumseh, Michigan
Dear Sir:

I have read with considerable interest the recent column with the heading, "Is That So," in which the subject of archery is described.

If the title of the column was properly answered the answer would be NO in many parts of what has been written.

In the first place the first archers is this area were among others, Leon Rosacrans, S. J. Rubley, M.D. who at that time lived in Britton, Don Wright, and myself. We began shooting with the bow and arrow in 1924. During the next several years there were two field archery courses laid out in Tecumseh. One was in the area where Robert D. Moore's home now stands, and the other, a rather rugged course, was laid out in the wooded area just east of the Raisin River where it joins the outlet of the Globe Pond.

A number of field meets were held in these areas, all informal, and participated in by archers from surrounding cities including Coldwater, Jackson, and Monroe.

A big percentage of the pleasure derived from the sport of archery in the early days was the manufacture of the equipment by the archers themselves.

Personally I still have an osage bow which I made in 1925 from wood obtained from an osage tree in this vicinity. I also have a number of arrows made from Port Orford, (not Port Oxford) cedar. These articles are still in good condition.

I do not wish to detract from the glory of the present active participants of the excellent sport of archery, but I just could not refrain from letting you know that archery began in Tecumseh over 30 years ago.

Sincerely,
R.G.B. Marsh, M.D.

A box social was a feature of the Jan. 19 meeting of the auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Carson House in Herrick Park. This was a social meeting and was attended by 29 members and guests, who enjoyed an evening of games. At the supper hour the boxes were sold for a profit of $14.50, all of which will go to the fund for furnishings of the new V.F.W. home

B. And P.W. See Slides Of Mexico

"Mexico" was the program topic for the Monday evening meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's Club, and the rooms of the Pythian hall were appropriately decorated with souvenirs from that country.

Baskets, hats, serapes and pottery were on the piano and mantle and the tables had streamers and bubble balloons in fiesta colors, the result of planning on the part of the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Hadley, Mrs. Frank Laskey and Mrs. Edgar Buttolph.

Pictures taken during her recent trailer caravan trip through Mexico and a running description of its adventures by Mr. Paul Maves followed the business meeting.

The Maves were part of a conducted tour for nearly 100 trailers which covered much of that country and her pictures vividly portrayed the people and their way of life. Added interest was given by the difficulties of a cross country trip through the jungle over an uncompleted highway.

Mrs. Maves also showed pictures taken on an earlier trip through the Rockies.

Evening devotions were in charge of Mrs. Purnell Osburn and the president, Mrs. Homer Colson conducted the business meeting during which letters were read regarding the winter session of the County Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Adrian, Feb. 2, and from Marda Gene Duncan expressing her thanks for the club's contribution for her hospital bed. An appeal for the Polio fund resulted in the voting of $10 for that purpose.

Mrs. Gordon Garlick was program leader. The next meeting will be Feb. 28 and will be a book review with Mrs. Howard Truesdale and Miss Ruth Harding in charge.

Monday Club Sees "Art In Color"

Professor Frank Cassare of the University of Michigan Art Department, who taught art classes in the Adult Education course in Tecumseh last year, was the speaker before the Monday Club this week.

His topic was "Art in Color" and to introduce his subject he traced the use of color from primitive manifestations of art to the present. Much of his talk was confined to the principles of the use and variation of color and was extremely interesting to those of his audience who used color in any form. He exhibited several pictures to illustrate his points.

Announcement was made during the business meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs in Adrian Feb. 2 when Mrs. Kristie of Grand Rapids, president of the State Federation, is expected to be present. Mrs. Carlos Jones and Mrs. Floyd Bryan were appointed as delegates to represent the club.

It also announced that the next meeting, Feb. 7, will open with a potluck dinner, followed by election of officers and a trip to Adrian to visit Maple Lane Manor. A silver collection was requested to buy a treat for the residents.

Mrs. Floyd Bryan reported the receipt of $14; $10 for the Girl's Town project and Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, one of the chairmen of the bake sale for polio, reported a profit of $65 for the fund. The meeting of the citizens' public health committee was announced for March 3, 4 and 5 in Ann Arbor and club members were invited to attend.

Miss Edith Ingersoll read a poem, "Two Cripples" as the day's religious thought and Mrs. Maynard Mulvahey, introduced by the program leader, Mrs. Carlos Jones, opened the program by singing two selections, "Lovely Day" and "Winter Lullaby."

After Mr. Cassare's talk, tea was served by Mrs. Joe Rice and her committee, with Mrs. Earl Wickwire pouring. The lace covered table was decorated with a floral centerpiece.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS AT R. J. McCOY HOME

The first Garden Club meeting of the year was held Friday, Jan. 21 at the home of Mrs. R. J. McCoy, with 19 members present. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Miss Mary McWilliams conducted the meeting.

Program plans for the coming year were discussed and a report of the highly successful Christmas greens sale was made by Mrs. McCoy.

A springlike arrangement of iris and daffodils decorated the tea table which was presided over by Mrs. Hoyt Whelan and Mrs. John Thompson. Mrs. McCoy was assisted by Mrs. Paul Eddy Mrs. Robert Sage and Mrs. M. C. Miller.

Mr. Arthur Heckman

"Blue Cross - Blue Shield saved the day for me," says Mr. Heckman of Rochester. "I was in the hospital for over two months. Really needed the works—oxygen, operating room, anesthesia—and you find that they can really amount up in no time! My hospital bill alone was over $1800. I didn't have to pay a penny of it! My Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered it all! And—Blue Shield paid $460 of my doctor bill, too. It would take me years to get rid of that debt if I didn't have Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Like I say, I'm a lot better off because I've got it."

What if your family had an unexpected hospital bill this year? One in every three families will! Wouldn't you be a lot better off with protection like the kind that saved over $2200 for Mr. Heckman?

Find out how you can get low-cost Blue Cross - Blue Shield group coverage for hospital and doctor bills. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Today, call or write: Blue Cross-Blue Shield

WHEREAS, the veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, a patriotic organization comprised of some 10,000 individual Posts with a million three hundred thousand members, will observe its 56th anniversary during 1955, and

WHEREAS, this organization was congressionally chartered by its founders and is composed of America's finest fighting men who have undergone unusual hardships in every war or expedition in which the nation has participated since the Spanish-American war, and

WHEREAS, this overseas veteran fraternity is today serving its country in peace as it did in war by sponsoring and successfully carrying out more than a half-million different community service projects annually all designed to improve communities, states and the nation, and

WHEREAS, the V.F.W. has in recent years won five consecutive Freedoms Foundation awards for its untiring and diligent Loyalty Day and singular Americanism Programs which seek to rid this country of all Communists and other subversives and their philosophies,

NOW THEREFORE, I Hugh H. Hanna, Mayor of the City of Tecumseh, do hereby proclaim and designate the period Jan. 23 to 29, 1955, as National V.F.W. Week and respectfully ask all citizens of this community to render special tribute to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

The story about the elderly entomologist, who when he discovered a new bug "just sat down and enjoyed it," has a parallel in enthusiastic, amateur historians when first hand "source material" comes their way. In this case it is three yellowed, four page newspapers dated 1830-32 and 33. All are copies of the same paper though each has a diffrerent mast head, "The Western Emigrant," "The Emigrant" and "The Michigan Emigrant." All say, "Published in Washtenaw, (not county) Michigan Territory" and only the first adds "Ann Arbour" to its date line.

They are addressed in ink to either J. or I. Pennington. The handwriting makes it uncertain but it could have been either as John Pennington and his son Isaac arrived in Macon in 1829. Both are ancestors of Earl, the present Macon Pennington.

Their interest lies in their connection with the then six year old settlement of Tecumseh. For the publisher was Samuel Dexter, the same Dexter who had explored and bought land just north of the village before going on to establish the town which bore his name. And that land, "in the vicinity of the county seat of Lenawee county" was advertised for sale in the 1830 Western Emigrant along with "a part or whole of the county seat at Shiawassee," indicating that Mr. Dexter had invested heavily in Michigan land. Only the Shiawassee holding appears in the 1832 paper so the Tecumseh farmers had by then bought out the absentee owner.

Representatives of the Emigrant are listed for most of the then scattered settlements and in Tecumseh it was Hugh Hillock, a settler near Newburg whose land adjoined that of Mr. Dexter. He was authorized to accept country produce for the $3 yearly subscription price of the paper. This rate was in advance and all who received the paper by mail had to pay the postage. An additional intriguing stipulation was, "no paper will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid." It is difficult to understand the reason for such a rule but it seems a dandy way to throw good money after bad.

Like all early, so called newspapers these contain little news. Local chit-chat was evidently unworthy of print. There are columns of Anti-Masonic writings, copied from eastern papers, vitriolic attacks, which recall the almost forgotten war waged against that order when it was first formed. Several pages are filled with new Territorial laws, one of which forbade "any tavern etc. keeping an alley for the playing of Nine Pins." The same penalty applied to anyone caught playing the game because it was "productive of great waste of time and leads to habits of idleness and dissipation." (Bowlers take notice)

There are legal notices involving Tecumseh settlers. One a writ of attachment by Luther Rawson against Simeon Dewey, signed by Daniel Pittman, as clerk of the circuit court and E. D. Fraser, as attorney. A column gives the current value of bank notes throughout the country, an important protection against "wild cat currency," and there are long lists of uncalled for letters. But the most fascinating item (history wise) is in the advertised sale of those Indian lands, ceded to the government by the Feb. 23, 1829 treaty with the Pottawatamies. It includes "that part of the Indian reservation at Macon on the river Raisin, containing six sections, excepting therefrom the one half section on which the Potawatamie Chief Macon resides, and which has been reserved for his use."

Other early records have told us that there was an Indian reservation in Macon so that is not new information. The important thing is that perhaps here is the answer to the often critically posed question as to why we, in Lenawee, pronounce Macon with the accent on the last syllable rather than on the first as eastern and southern Macon citizens do. If our Macon is an English version of an Indian name then it is not the same word at all and our much questioned pronunciation is justified. Perhaps this fact is buried somewhere in Federal archives but perhaps only through this little paper would it have come to light in 1955. Also, perhaps you will consider all this of the most extreme unimportance but these are the raw materials of historical research and are what make "the bug" so enjoyable.

The theme of Michigan State College's 1955 Centennial year is a quotation from Lincoln's Gettysburg Address: "It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work."

New Car Light Provides More Driving Safety

A new sealed beaem headlamp for cars which has been the outgrowth of the cooperation of lamp manufacturers, automobile manufacturers and state motor vehicle administrators has been perfected to provide safer driving at night and in fog and dust conditions.

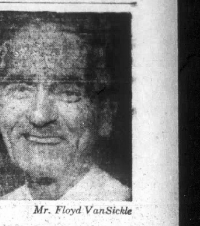
The new light, approved by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, enables a motorist to see 30 to 100 feet further, making it safer for drivers as well as for pedestrians.

The new light can be used on any make or model car. In 1956 it will be standard on all new cars.

Locally, the new sealed beam lights can be bought at Butler Motor Sales which has new focusing equipment for installing the lights.

HOME BUILDERS HAD OUTDOOR PARTY SUNDAY

The Happy Home Builders class of the Baptist church, more than 45 assorted men, women, children and dogs, spent a strenuous two hours, Sunday afternoon, skating and sledding at the "Pit." They found the ice in excellent condition and young and old had a most enjoyable time. The group met at the Youth House at 2 p.m. and returned there at 4 o'clock for supper which featured hot dogs. The Vern Manwarings and Orville Bishops were hosts and with the J. D. Cooks and Lyle Griggs made arrangements for the party. An added item of interest was a birthday cake marking the birthday anniversary of Vern Manwaring.



Mr. Floyd VanSickle

Inkster Husband says, "Blue Cross-Blue Shield saved us years of debt!"

"I guess no one would mind paying $100 to get out from under $1150 in hospital and doctor bills," says Mr. VanSickle, of Inkster. "$1050—that's what Blue Cross - Blue Shield saved my family. I spent a month in the hospital this year. Had no idea that it could cost so much, but I had to have a lot of attention. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered all but $40 of the bill, and Blue Shield paid my doctor $190. It just goes to show how valuable Blue Cross - Blue Shield is when you need it. My wife and I are certainly thankful we've got Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Wouldn't have anything else!"

Unexpected hospital bills! They happen to one in every three families each year. Will you have one in your family this year? If so, wouldn't you be a lot safer if you had protection like the kind that saved $1050 for Mr. VanSickle's family?

waving his arms in imitation of Orrien Dalley. Kit was particularly adept at this when the orchestra played. Mr. Dalley's arrangement of the wonderful Irish folk tune "Londonderry Air." But I noticed that the youngest person in the audience, being typical boy, liked best the loud crashing of the cymbals and the roll of the kettle drums and the blare of the brass section. It was a wonderful, although somewhat tiring experience, giving him his first taste of Wagner, Grieg, Dvorak and Dalley. And for a two-year-old he held up well.

Indians Keep Title Hopes Alive - - - Beat Bedford, 58 - 38

In a game marred by dozens of personal fouls, Tecumseh High School kept its Southeastern League basketball title hopes alive by swamping Bedford last Thursday, 58-38.

The win gave the Indians a 3-1 league record. Currently the Indians are tied with Monroe Catholic Central for the league leadership.

The game Thursday began with Bedford fouling three times and Tecumseh netted two of these for a brace of points.

The Indians were never headed. They led 18-10 at the end of the first period and 33-15 at the end of the half.

Bedford was outscored in the third frame by a score of 17-15 and the two teams played evenly during the last period, each making eight points.

With both Ken Miller and Marv Yoakum having off nights somebody else had to take up the slack. This "somebody else" proved to be Earl Drummonds, lanky freshman, who was brought up from the Jayvee squad again.

Drumonds bagged seven field goals and four foul shots to take high scoring honors with 18 points.

Miller had three fouls called on him in the opening period and his play suffered. Early in the second period he had his fourth personal called and Coach Vic Lawson yanked him for "insurance." Returning to play in the fourth period, he soon had fifth foul called and was banished.

Yoakum hit all over the basket but seldom could connect. He and Miller, however, each contributed 10 points to the Indians' total. Miller hit two goals and six free throws in the first quarter for all of his points.

Jim Bowser and Tom Neitling added eight points each to the Indian attack. Neitling, playing his best game of the year, hit three long baskets for six of his points.

Rollman was high for the visitors with 15 points garnered on four field goals and seven foul shots.

Tecumseh's overall shooting percentage again was good. The Indians attempted 65 shots and made 20 for a percentage of 30.7. They had their best record in the second period when they dumped in six of 13 attempted shots.

The Mules shot 49 times and cashed 11 for a percentage of 22.4. Their best record was in the third period when they hit on five of seven attempted shots.

The junior varsity also won, beating the Bedford junior Mules, 46-31. Hansen bagged 14 points and J. Elliott and Dickinson added 11 each.

John Warren of Bedford dipped 15.

Murray Sets New Record For Boysville

Although Boysville lost a League of the Lakes game to South Lyon Friday night, 62-56, Joe Murray, high-scoring guard, set a new scoring record by bagging 29 points on 10 field goals and nine charity tosses.

Bob Temerowski contributed 14 points.

Murray had set the previous high scoring record the Tuesday before the game by netting 25 points.

South Lyon grabbed a 21-13 first quarter lead and led 34-22 at the intermission.

The Blue Knights came to life in the third period, bagging 22 points while holding the visitors to 17 and outscored South Lyon 12-11 in the last period but the local team couldn't overcome the early lead built up by the visitors.

In the prelim Boysville beat South Lyon's Jayvee, 45-35.

Tories Knocked Out of Little Six Cage Tourney

Although they had beaten Onsted in regular Little Six play just a week before by a score of 43-34, Britton's Tories were beaten in the first game of the Little Six League tournament Wednesday, Jan. 19, when Onsted, after a slow beginning, came out on the long end of a 43-34 score.

Tom Bruce, Tory star center, and one of the leading league scorers, cashed 13 points in the first period to help his team take a 17-9 lead. The Tories had a 10-point lead at intermission, 25-15.

But the Onsted Wildcats throttled Bruce in the second half and he added only five more points to his scoring.

Meanwhile, Onsted kept whittling away at the 10 point lead and at the beginning of the last period the Wildcats were only one bucket behind, 32-30.

The Tories collapsed in the final frame, garnering only two points while Onsted cashed 13.

Balance was the strong point in the Wildcat attack. Led by Hadden who had 14 points, Onsted also had help from Abbott with eight, Hawkins with seven and Chatfield and Riley with six each.

The only real help Britton and Bruce had was from Barrett who added eight points.

Do You Want To Be Clubbed?

State lawmakers now are asking where the State of Michigan will get the extra millions of dollars needed if it puts into practice Gov. Williams' 24-point program to aid education.

Actually, though, they need not have to look too far. They don't really have to look beyond the combination of points six and 16 in the Governor's program.

Gov. Williams in point six said: "Minimum salaries of $4000 a year for fully certified school teachers and $3000 for teachers without degrees, PLUS A PENALTY IN STATE SCHOOL AID FOR SCHOOLS FAILING TO MEET THESE RATES."

In point 16 he said: "More money for the state tax commission to help local assessors in obtaining more local tax funds for schools."

In other words, in point 16 he is saying that local units of government should use state equalized to determine higher values for taxation so school districts will get more funds for operations.

And in point six he says, at least by implication, that unless local units of government use the state equalized formula they will be penalized by receiving less school aid from the state.

We agree fully with Gov. Williams that school teachers should receive higher salaries but we part company with his threat of chopping state aid for districts that do not, or cannot, pay the higher salaries.

We do not have a pat answer or any answer how teacher salaries are to be increased. For all we know maybe the school group is on the right track with its state equalized formula.

But we do hate to see this type of club wielded against local school districts. Coercion is not right no matter who is wielding the club.

This type of thinking is viscious and if it is carried out local control would be a thing of the past.

But if we want to keep local control something is going to have to be done. And this brings us down to our own tax situation.

The state tax commission says Tecumseh has the lowest percentage of the state equalized of any city in the county.

As yet nothing specific has been done to make the local assessment conform more to the state equalized. But with the type of thinking that is going on today in the state capitol something had better be done. The pressure line is forming and we had better recognize it for what it is.

Think about this report from the Citizens' Research Council of Michigan:

"In conclusion: A legal opinion (Michigan Supreme Court) has substantially increased the taxing and borrowing powers of local governments in 67 counties.

"With this margin available, property taxpayers undoubtedly will be confronted with proposals for more spending.

"By implication, the opinion recognizes the unrealistic assessing practices in many townships and cities with the consequent loss of local revenue.

"Enforced use of state equalized values emphasizes the need for a basic solution — better local assessing, perhaps through creation of a county assessor."

There long has been agitation in Michigan for a county assessor. Probably John Saling, local assessor, with his present problem, would like to see one come in here.

Right now he does not know what to do. He has toyed with the idea of adding a blanket 20 per cent to local assessments. We don't think this would be fair. It might catch those whose assessments are pegged too low but it would also penalize those whose assessments are correct.

A more scientific approach would be to have an independent survey of the local tax structure made by an outside source. Sure this would cost money—perhaps as much as $8,000-$10,000.

But if the study showed that assessments here are too low and if the assessments were increased the funds spent for the survey would easily be regained in taxation in a year.

And the survey would take Assessor Saling and the council off the hook.

"Do you have any two bedroom houses available," asked a young couple, the Tylers.

"Yes, a good variety," I answered, "But what type of house are you looking for?"

Mr. Tyler replied, "Just give us a few addresses. I'd know what we want if we saw it from the outside. But it has to be fairly close in."

We got in the car and drove by one or two. "Nope, not interested," Mr. Tyler said.

His wife kidded him. "How do you know, Sam. Judging just from the outside, Mayhe you want to stay on the street and look at a house, but I want to live in one."

He protested, but she answered, "It's the inside that I'm interested in—that's what I'll be looking at all day."

In a few minutes we were looking over a home that had a rather plain appearance from the street.

"I love this place," Mrs. Tyler said.

Mr. Tyler nodded, "Putting on shutters and a little colored trim will make it quite attractive. And anyway it looks better to me now that I know how nice it is inside."

Oh God make us thankful for the many little blessings of life; give us strength to meet our disappointments; courage to overcome our temptations; and a joyous faith which will enable us to emphasize the positive and see the good in others and in our own surroundings.

SARAH REBECCA CIRCLE FORMED

The Sarah Rebecca Circle is the name decided upon by a newly organized group of young women of the Methodist church. They are sponsored by the older Mary-Martha Circle and have held two organizational meetings.

Mrs. James Dick is president of the circle, Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller, vice president and Mrs. Judson Miles, secretary and treasurer. Their first official meeting was Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. Kampmueller and subsequent meetings will probably be the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Joseph R. Williams, former Detroit lawyer, was appointed the first president of Michigan State College in 1857.

Dr. R. C. Kedzie, who became professor of chemistry at Michigan State College in 1863, imported the first sugar beets into Michigan.

Ice Fishing Hints Passed On By Expert

A fish's appetite is just as good in winter as it is in summer, says Professor Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the fisheries department in the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources, who urges any would-be ice-fisherman to take a try at the sport this winter.

Not only is it good fun, but the winter fisherman can be of real service to himself and other sportsmen brethren, he adds. He passed on much of this information in a broadcast over the University's station, WUOM.

"Catching fish in winter helps restore nature's balance in panfish lakes by retarding overpopulation, which causes stunted, underdeveloped fish for summer catching," Professor Lagler states.

He suggests using a beveled ice chisel or spud for the chopping process and points out that dropoffs or the edges of weed beds are good spots to make a first hole.

If fish don't come pretty quickly to that one, make another one someplace else, Professor Lagler advises, since you may have hit a sparce region and fish don't move very much in the winter.

"Also remember that feeding habits may vary according to lake, month and hour, so try different fishing times," he points out.

The professor also lists four popular baits which are easy to find: beetle larvae, from under the bark of trees; corn borers, found near joints on diseased corn stalks; golden rod worms, from dwellings on the plant's stem; and sugar beet larvae, which are in the pulp after the sugar beet has been processed out.

And for the ambitious person who ties his own ice flies, Professor Lagler suggests using a number 14 or 16 hook with a piece of split shot clamped to it, plus a bright maribou feather streamer of red, yellow or white—a fish's favorite colors.

"The best tackle for pan fishing is a rod with the rough equivalent of a fly rod tip and monofilament line, like those favored by spin fishermen," he continues.

For perch bait he recommends small live minnows as movement of the bait is essential. For the staple of Michigan's ice-fishing, the common bluegill, he suggests small natural baits such as grubs and wigglers.

Lake maps to help find the best spots for ice-fishing are available at the Institute of Fisheries Research, Museums Annex, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. County names for lakes must be used in inquiries.

Attractions Are Many At MSC Farmers' Week

The dairy farmer, the poultryman, the bee keeper, the fruit or vegetable grower — or people just interested in agriculture — will find many attractions during Farmers' Week at The 40th annual event will be staged Feb. 7-11 at Michigan State.

Monday's program will be of particular interest to dairy farmers. New developments in dairy research will be discussed and the various breed associations will meet.

Horsemen will have their big day then, too. The horse pulling event and the Little International Showing and Fitting contest and other events will be staged.

Poultrymen will be in the spotlight at both the Tuesday and Wednesday sessions. Broiler growers will be attracted to the Wednesday session where they will discuss making ends meet during declining prices. On Wednesday, emphasis will be on ways to manage the flock for more profit, and developing poultry markets.

Sharing the spotlight on Tuesday will be the vegetable and fruit growers' meetings. New varieties, new developments in disease and insect control, costs of handling, all will be emphasized. And nut growers will have their program — with discussions on getting better nut tree varieties and nut tree propagation.

Wednesday and Thursday will be the big days for beef cattlemen, sheep raisers and hogmen. Various breed associations will meet and top animals will compete in the show rings. Prominent speakers are scheduled, too.

Top speaker of the week will be Secretary of Agriculture Benson. He will talk on Thursday afternoon at 3:15.

Michigan State College was the nation's first agricultural college and became the model for the land-grant college system introduced in 1862.

HARMONY HOME MAKERS

Twenty-seven members and guests of the Harmony Home Makers met with Mrs. E. J. Aebersold Wednesday for their Jan. work meeting. Mrs. Bertha Meiott and Mrs. Charles Allen assisted the hostess in serving the 12:30 potluck dinner and the group spent the afternoon sewing for Herrick Memorial hospital. The five guests were Mrs. Alta Boyce, Mrs. LeRoy Titley, Mrs. Oscar Snyder, Mrs. Henry Karl Smith and Mrs. Hamilton Moore Jr. The Feb. meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ralph Atchison.

Christian Science Services Listed

Divine Love's inexhaustible supply of good for man will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (490:10):

"Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

Among the passages to be read from the Bible is the following from Psalms (103:2-4): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies."

Your Druggist Needs This Business . . .

This store and that store now offer some toilet goods and simple medicines. Convenience urges some to buy there. If a moderate dose is not fatal, it is legally okay for these to be sold in this manner.

But It Is Morally Wrong.

When your child is critically sick, will the grocery or general store supply the life saving medications? Would you want to try living a while without the Pharmacy . . . ? Think of this—and buy drugs of the druggist.

There's a new zip to Dynaflow*
— and better gas mileage to boot!

Even though you may be familiar with earlier versions of Dynaflow Drive—either from personal experience or from hearsay—you owe it to yourself to press the pedal of a 1955 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

Just as simple as ever to operate—easier, in fact, with the new positioning of the lever.

Just as smooth as ever, with nary a lag, halt or hesitation throughout the speed range.

But brother!—hang on to your hat when you call for action!

Because that's what you get, instantly,

Because twenty power blades inside the very heart of this wondrous automatic transmission switch their pitch for getaway performance—much like the airplane's propeller is angled for take-off.

It's as simple as that—but far more thrilling than words can tell.

And it's a big boon to your gasoline money, too. For, just as the plane's propeller changes pitch aloft for greater fuel efficiency in cruising, so the Dynaflow "propellers" change pitch to deliver a lot more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

Come in and try it—this week. You'll find it harnessed to the highest V8 horsepowers in Buick history—and housed in the bold new styling that says Buick and nothing but.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

19th Century Music Studied By Club

The first half of the nineteenth century was the period covered by the program of the Music Club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. J. McCoy. Mrs. Wilbur Boyce was program leader and she considered the principal composers of the period in turn, giving a brief outline of their life and work and introducing a member of the group to illustrate their music.

Felix Mendelssohn was the subject and his music was exemplified by Mrs. Arthur Schwartz who played his "Spring Song." Mrs. William Hayden played "Liebestraum" of Franz Listz after Mrs. Boyce had told of his career and the Opera "Tannhauser" of Richard Wagner was described by Mrs. W. G. Waldron, who played the "Evening Star" from that work.

The life of Charles Gounod was then described by Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. Harley McConnell sang his "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Stephen Foster was the last subject of the program and the entire group joined in singing, "Old Folks at Home" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney and Mrs. Herbert Dillon, while Mrs. Perry Hayden presided at the coffee service. A beautiful bouquet of iris, daffodils and acacia lent a touch of spring to the refreshment table.

The Feb. meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ralph Westgate and the program will be planned by Miss Marcelle Gillespie.

Senators Offer Bill To Repeal Anti-Chain Law

A bill to repeal the Michigan Chain Store License law was filed in the legislature by four state senators who described the 22-year-old law as "discriminatory and outmoded."

The law, imposed during the depression against a few so-called national chains, currently hits nearly 2,000 retail companies in Michigan, more than 90 per cent with five or fewer stores.

Greene, an independent druggist and head of the state affairs committee, and his colleagues said the law "is a bar to economic progress and expansion in Michigan because of the sharply-rising scale of fees it imposes on small retailers."

"The law is punitive and contrary to our state's reputation for fair and equal treatment for all segments of the economy," the senators said. "It is time we eliminated this stigma which has so long existed against chain retail merchants who have contributed so much to our state's progress on state, county and local levels."

State revenue department records show that in 1953 a total of 1,997 companies paid Michigan chain license fees on a total of 7,736 stores. Rates rise rapidly from a base of $10 on two stores to $200 per store for companies with 21 to 25 stores and $250 per store over 25 stores.

But a combined total of less than two per cent of the chain companies in Michigan pay in the top two brackets, according to revenue department records.

A move to repeal the chain license law in Michigan started several months ago shortly after appointment of a legislative committee to study tax inequities and nuisances.

More than 200 of the state's leading agricultural, business and social agencies have gone on record for repeal in letters and resolutions to the committee.

The list includes such potent groups as the Michigan Farm Bureau, representing 63,981 farm families; Michigan Bean Shippers Association, handling 99 per cent of the state's commercial bean business; Cherry Growers, Inc., a cooperative of 4,400 growers of a crop in which Michigan leads the nation; Michigan Milk Producers Association; Michigan Potato Growers Exchange and numerous groups representing dairy, poultry, cattle, fruit and vegetable growers, processors, shippers and wholesalers.

On the business side, strong repeal support has come from the Michigan Automobile Dealers Association, Michigan Retailers Association, Michigan Automotive Wholesalers Association, Michigan Retail Hardware Association. Chambers of commerce throughout the state and groups representing druggists, jewelers, furniture dealers and other retail businesses also are among repeal advocates.

The Farm Bureau resolution succinctly stated the case for repeal in a resolution which stated "Michigan's tax on branch and chain stores is cumbersome, difficult to collect and is one of the last remaining nuisance taxes. It is inequitable in its operation, punitive in its purpose and produces a relatively small amount of revenue. We recommend its repeal."

Chain distribution, the Michigan Automobile Dealers Association said in its repeal resolution, "has become an important and integral part of the business of buying and selling of automobiles and other merchandise."

DAUGHTERS OF ST. PETER

Mrs. Jack Smith was hostess to 14 members of the Daughters of St. Peter Tuesday evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Cecile Smith. Fund raising activities were discussed during the business meeting and this was followed by a useful article sale for the benefit of the Polio Fund. Seventeen dollars was realized and will be turned over to the fund chairman. The serving of refreshments by the hostess closed a pleasant evening.

Musician and Gardener Mrs. R. S. Moore Dies

A most fitting memorial funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon in the Tecumseh First Baptist church for Mrs. Robert S. Moore, whose death occurred Friday in St. Petersburg, Florida.

For years the musical life of Tecumseh centered about Grace Hock Moore and it was most appropriate that the Music Club which she organized and of which she was a charter member had charge of the musical service.

It was opened most impressively by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by the club chorus, after which Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, who also announced the service, read "A Tribute." Fred C. Dickinson sang "Requiem" and Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, "Legacies." "There is a Land Mine Eye Hath Seen" was sung by Wallace Whiting, "Let All My Life be Music," by Mrs. Murray Day and "Crossing the Bar" by Mrs. Thomas Gallant. "Four Fold Amen" by the chorus was the last musical selection, all of which were accompanied by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson and Mrs. H. W. Dillon.

The musical portion of the service was arranged in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Moore was born Aug. 13, 1871, in Flowerfield, Michigan, and moved to Tecumseh as a child with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James Heck.

The family was identified for many years with the milling industry of the town. She graduated from Tecumseh High School with the class of 1890 and in 1892 was married to Mr. Moore in the Baptist church where she had been baptized and which always was an active interest in her life.

Educated in music under some of the best voice teachers in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois, she gave generously of the talents and time so promote its development in Tecumseh.

She sang in the choir of the Baptist church from the age of 10 and for 25 years was its director.

SPACE

There is still space available for local merchants and manufacturers to enter the VFW merchants and manufacturers' show scheduled for the union hall from Feb. 25-27.

Those wanting a booth in the show may call Roy Dahlke, Tecumseh 854-J, for reservations.

Mr. Dahlke said Monday that 19 of the 36 available booths have been taken.

"Support so far has been wonderful," he said, "and further support would make this another Tecumseh 'first' a marked success."

Man Held For Assault On Girl

Charged with felonious assault, David E. May was arraigned by Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Monday. He demanded an examination which was set for next Tuesday. He was ordered held under a $5000 bond.

May was arrested by State Police of the Clinton Post about a half hour after the girl rushed into the Top Hat and told State troopers who were eating there about the assault.

She had attended the Tecumseh-Hilladale basketball game in Hilladale and had stopped in at the restaurant with some friends to eat. The friends separated after eating and the man followed the girl.

The girl told troopers that he threatened her with a knife, trying to force her into his truck which was parked on M-52. But she broke away and ran back into the restaurant.

Sash & Door Fire Monday Was One of Many

A fire at the Sash & Door Monday night about 10 was one of several that kept Tecumseh firemen busy during the past week.

The fire started near the furnace and did minor damages. Firemen had returned to the fire station when they were called to the Sash & Door again when fire broke out in one of the air ducts.

Tuesday at 5 p.m. they were called to 122 south Ottawa when sparks from the chimney caused damages of about $100 to the house owned by Mrs. P. G. Heidenreich. The house is now occupied by the M. R. McClain family.

Sunday about 3 p.m. they were called to the John Kopka house at 8 Water street.

Last Thursday they were called to the Robert Williamson home, 3081 Murray drive, when a small fire resulted from the use of a blow torch by Mr. Williamson to thaw out frozen water pipes.

There was some smoke damage.

School Building Bond Will be Paid Off by Dec., 1958

To complete the local property tax picture for Tecumseh Schools Supt. James McDowell has compiled information which shows that the present school building bond will be retired in Dec. of 1958.

This is his report:

Bonds totalling $650,000 were sold June 1, 1952 and run through, if payment is not made before that date, until April 1, 1965 or 13 years. However, bonds maturing after 1959 may be called but not before April 1, 1955. Payment of these bonds must then be at a premium as set forth in the bonds and only from surplus of at least $10,000 or more in excess of $65,000 in the bond reserve account.

The schedule of bands payable at June 30, 1954 was as follows:

Date of Issue	Date of Maturity	Interest Rate	Amount of Issue	Amount Redeemed Previously	Redeemed Fiscal Year 1953-54	Balance Outstanding
6-1-52	4-1-53	3%	$35,000	$35,000	$	$
6-1-52	4-1-54	3%	40,000		40,000
6-1-52	4-1-55	3%	40,000			40,000
6-1-52	4-1-56	3%	45,000			45,000
6-1-52	4-1-57	3%	45,000			45,000
6-1-52	4-1-58	3%	50,000			50,000
6-1-52	4-1-59	2%	50,000			50,000
6-1-52	4-1-60	2%	55,000			55,000
6-1-52	4-1-61	2%	55,000			55,000
6-1-52	4-1-62	2%	55,000			55,000
6-1-52	4-1-63	2%	60,000			60,000
6-1-52	4-1-64	2%	60,000			60,000
6-1-52	4-1-65	2%	60,000			60,000
			$650,000	$35,000	$40,000	$575,000

These bonds are paid from special funds set aside by the board of education which can be used for no other purpose. They are known as debt retirement and debt reserve funds.

A summary of receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954 follows:

Balance	Debt Retirement	Debt Reserve
July 1, 1953	$ 39,024.11	$
Receipts & Transfers	141,158.09	76,331.76
	180,182.20	76,331.76
Disbursements & Transfers	171,342.10
July 1, 1954	$ 8,840.10	$76,331.76

This total balance of $85,171.86 in the two funds was in excess of current committments for the bond payments due in 1954. On our present assessed valuation of $8,556,250 we should receive for 1955 $111,231.25 less delinquent taxes.

From this a payment of $40,000 plus $13,300 interest, or $53,300 must be deducted leaving $57,931.25 which, added to the $85,171.86 excess of 1954, makes a total of $143,103.11 remaining in reserve.

The remaining bond debt would be $535,000 principal plus $64,750 interest or $599,750; therefore, we new have better than 23 per cent of the remaining bonded indebtedness in reserve and the 13 mill bond debt tax has only been assessed and collected two years.

Since the remaining $599,750 less the reserve on hand of $143,103 leaves $456,647 and this amount divided by the present 13 mill tax assessment of $111,231.25 is 4.1 years, probably it is safe to assume that the bond debt will be retired with the payment of the taxes in Dec. of 1958 unless taxes become too delinquent.

	Operating $64,182.90	Debt Retirement $98,163.00
Current Taxes Levied
Returned delinquent
Real	$ 1,512.79	$ 2,317.90
Personal	540.00	826.80
Total delinquent	$ 2,052.79	$ 3,144.70
Collection of current tax	$62,130.11	$95,018.30

Actually in 1953-1954 there was a 96.7 per cent collection of assessed school taxes which is a good record for any community.

Porchlight Drive Nets $1468 for Polio Fight

Proceeds from the porchlight drive conducted in Tecumseh and Tecumseh Township Monday night by members and friends of the American Legion and V.F.W. Auxiliaries added $1100.30 to the March of Dimes fund.

The amount from Raisin Township with Mrs. Paul Kopke as chairman was $367.52 making a total of $1468.32 from this area according to Mrs. Rolland Reister.

Following the porchlight drive, workers returned to the Legion Home where they were served refreshments provided by Van's Bakery, Maddowridge Dairy and by Gene Shoemaker, manager of Kroger's.

Meanwhile, Paul Ahleman, chairman of the Lenawee County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, asks that all of the canisters be left in the public places until Feb. 12.

Voting for the king and queen of the polio patients also will be continued until Feb. 12. This is the way that the patient has of helping and after reading instructions from Mrs. Reister each patient of his own volition has placed his picture and coin container in public places of his choice.

Each dime or its equal in the container represents a vote for the candidate. The coronation ceremonies will take place during a donation dance sponsored by the American Legion in the Union Hall Saturday night, Feb. 12, to which the public is cordially invited.

A total of the amount of money raised in this area for polio work will not be available until all organizations and interested groups have sent their money or checks made payable to March of Dimes to David Dick, local treasurer, at his new address, 215 south Dempster street.

Mrs. Reister thanks all who have helped with this drive and also to remind that the evaluation report of the vaccine field trials will not be available until late spring.

HELP

Tecumseh patrolmen Eugene Skinner and Jim Vallie have taken ribbing this week from other patrolmen because they came close to becoming midwives Sunday.

Robert Figueroa, 133½ East Chicago, phoned his family doctor in Adrian telling him that his wife should be in the hospital but the car would not start.

The doctor called sheriff officers who in turn called Tecumseh Police.

They were told that it was an emergency case and Patrolmen Skinner and Vallie who took the call at 2:35 a.m. Sunday spent some anxious moments and 12 miles with the expectant parents.

But, as it developed, there was no real reason for rushing.

Admitted to Bixby Hospital at 3 a.m., Mrs. Figueroa gave birth to a daughter at 9:40 a.m. Sunday.

C Of C Joins Better Business Bureau

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has become a member of the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, thus making it possible for the Chamber better to serve the community as a whole, Mrs. Earl Pennington, secretary, announced today.

"By becoming a member of the National Bureau, the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has joined forces with more than 700 chambers of commerce throughout the country in the protection of the buying public from fraudulent promotions and unfair business practices," Mrs. Pennington said.

"As a member of the bureau, we will receive monthly bulletins alerting us to the sharp promoters and schemes operating in other sections. In addition, we will have access to the bureau's files and are entitled to special reports on any inquiry we make.

"While this program is not a cure-all and will not stop all the abuses practiced by a minority who operate on the fringe of business, it will give the community greater control over them and provide it with a channel through which investigation and correction can be made."

Mrs. Pennington emphasized the fact that this program can best serve the community only if the community makes use of it. She urged the buying public to be especially cautious of any proposition which promises "something for nothing."

"As with all programs of the chamber of commerce, this one can only be successful if we have the cooperation of the community. A check with the chamber of commerce may save time, money and worry. It pays to investigate before you invest," she said.

Rotary Works For International Understanding

Rotary Clubs in 89 counties and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, goodwill and peace. That was the message of Gordon R. Eaton of Leamington, Governor of District 223 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Tecumseh Tuesday, following a conference with local Rotary Officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 8,300 Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Eaton explained, Rotary International has spent more than $1,500,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of goodwill.

Since 1947, when this program was established, 606 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 57 countries.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provided a common ground for 389,600 business and professional executives throughout 69 countries of the world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

These clubs, he said, are united to promote international good will and world peace.

Members of VFW Are Proud Of National Michigan Home

Appropriate to National V.F.W. Week, which is being observed in thousands of communities during the period January 23-29, Commander Carson House, of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4187, today called public attention to the V.F.W. national home for members' orphans and widows.

Located near Eaton Rapids, Mich., and one of the most unique philanthropic projects in the country, it is the only home of its kind owned by any veteran organization.

In no sense an ordinary "orphan institution," it is a progressive colony of happy, eager children who live normal lives in an ideal home environment, Commander House explained. It is an interesting combination of village and farm, occupying 640 acres of beautiful, rich, rolling land.

In the village there are 26 two-story brick houses for families of six to eight children and their "house mothers." Close to the houses are a modern $75,000 nursery, a $35,000 hospital, also a dental clinic, laundry, pasteurizing and storage plants, community center, library playgrounds, gymnasium, guest house and other "city" accommodations. Projected for construction in the near future are an administration center, a greenhouse and new facilities for the home's fire engine.

Sixty-five per cent of the food needs for carefully balanced diets at the home, including meat, dairy products, fruit and vegetables, are produced on the farm.

Children admitted to the home must be healthy and they are kept that way, he said, adding that the foremost endeavor is to provide for each child a normal, healthy, refined family life from which to grow to well-balanced maturity. A primary consideration, too, he related, is development of the youngster's own individuality, whether he be an infant or 17.

Com. House said there is no institutional stamp upon youngsters at the home. They wear no "orphans' uniforms." Every boy and girl has a voice in selecting his or her clothes and thus retained is the sense of fitness, style and individuality a child enjoys. No rigid religious or educational doctrines restrict them. Each may choose the church he wants to attend on Sunday in closeby Eaton Rapids.

All the facilities of the fine public school system in Eaton Rapids are available to children of the home, who are taken to and from school in busses. There they get normal classroom courses in agriculture, manual arts, home economics, science, commerce, music, physical training, athletics, etc.

Every child at the home has a savings account in one of the Eaton Rapids banks and is taught the value of thrift in practice as well as in principle. Each is given the opportunity to earn his or her own "spending money," a portion of which must go into the bank account.

The children are also taught self-dependence through development of their own talents, interests and skills. If a boy shows a marked liking for mechanics, carpentry, or some other trade, he is encouraged to major in appropriate courses at school. Girls at the home are coached in cooking, sewing and other household crafts.

Three permanent sources of income maintain the home: (1) a percentage of proceeds from the annual nationwide sale of V.F.W. "Buddy" poppies; (2) revenue from the sale of life and endowment memberships in the national home; (3) sale of V.F.W. national home Christmas seals.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Inspired by a popular song, a modestly anonymous writer whose memory covers much of Tecumseh's past, paints for us this week a picture of an almost forgotten era.

THE OLD LAMP LIGHTER

In these modern days when a lot of new songs are being published and copywrited, one is outstanding to this writer because as a very young lad he remembers when "The Old Lamplighter" of Tecumseh used to trim, clean and light the kerosene street lamps that dazzled ones eyes.

They were spaced every two blocks apart on lamp posts the height of those you see in many of the yards and gardens that never did hold kerosene lamps but are all ready to connect with our electricity so they can be turned on with the press of a button.

Tecumseh Village never did have gas until recently so until the wonderful electric carbon lamps were invented for street lighting, all we had were kerosene lamps set every two blocks apart to keep you on the wooden sidewalks until you came to the next one.

The only "Lamp Lighter" during the writer's memory was Willie Gray, who lived in the house now owned by Harry Cress, 617 N. Union St., and he covered his route each day on a bicycle.

It was quite different from the bicycles of today in as much as it was made of wood with two 36" wheels propelled by large wooden pedals (like thread spools) attached directly to the axle of the front wheel.

Instead of rubber tires they were steel like those on old wagon wheels and the saddle was a hammock-like contraption similar to those used on motorcycles of today.

A shelf was built over the rear wheel where he carried two 2½ gallon cans, one for kerosene and the other water to wash the lamps and smokey chimneys.

Being a rather short man his technic was to remove the cans from the rear shelf, lean the bike against the post and climb on the shelf to do his work.

Once an incident happened while we kids were watching him at his work. His bike tipped away from the post, unbalancing him, and he landed on his feet and hands on the grass. He came down so funny like we couldn't suppress a laugh that brought a severe reprimand for daring to laugh at his agility so like that of a feline. It was the only time I ever saw him provoked.

About five years ago the writer tried to buy one of those old lamps and convert it into an electric lamp for the driveway. But the city street commissioner couldn't find any and later in looking back into the records found they were sold when the old carbon electric lamps took their place in 1891.

They will then recess until Sept. when they will resume activities for three fall months also on the third Thursday.

Cub Scouts Enjoy First Train Ride

That the train trip of Cub Scout Troop No. 73 Saturday was a "howling success" is attested by Cub Master, Irwin Richardson, 15 den mothers and other attendant officials and a deafened and somewhat dizzy train crew.

Seventy-five youngsters which included a number of guests from Troop 4 were driven to Hillsdale where they boarded the train for the nearly hour long ride to Adrian. It was the first experience of its kind for many of the boys who range in age from eight to 11 and the antiquated Hillsdale station with its round railroad stove was of especial interest. During their wait for the train, they tested its construction with the rhythm and volume of their scout songs.

The one passenger coach on the train was more than filled, but Adrian was reached without mishap.

Marriage Vows Exchanged Saturday By Lois Lawson And Harold Righter

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday afternoon at the Tecumseh Friends church when Lois Thilba Lawson was married to Harold Manford Righter. Miss Lawson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lawrence Lawson of 2598 Rogers Highway and the parents of Mr. Righter are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Righter of Sutton Road, Britton.

The church was decorated with palms, candelabra and hampers of white gladioli and snapdragons when the bride entered on the arm of her father and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Escolme.

The wedding couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Billie Hollis, as matron of honor and best man. They are cousins of the groom. The guests were seated by James Lawson, brother of the bride and Edwin Lewis, her cousin.

The bridal gown was nylon net over satin made in floor length and the rose pointe lace bodice was made with a colonial collar and long pointed sleeves. The scalloped effect formed by the neckline made an accenting background for a crystal necklace, gift of the bridegroom. Her finger tip veil of illusion was caught at the sides by imitation orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses and pom poms with a white chrysanthemum at the center.

Mrs. Hollis wore pink nylon net over satin and carried a bouquet of white pompoms and pink roses.

The wedding march and prenuptial music was played by Mrs. Amos Wilson, who also accompanied Miss Marion Comfort when she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Righter both wore navy blue for the wedding, Mrs. Lawson's having accents and accessories of white and Mrs. Righter's pink. Their corsages were of red and pink roses respectively.

Approximately 150 guests were entertained after the ceremony at the Produots Union hall, where Marie Phillips cut the four tiered wedding cake which she had also made and decorated. Punch was served by Wanda and Sandra Ream, cousins of the groom.

Miss Lawson is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and is employed as secretary to Dr. R. J. Murray while Mr. Williams has been employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. both before and after his 18 months service with the armed forces in Korea.

They will make their home for the present with the bride's parents until their new home is completed on the Tecumseh-Macon road.

Due to the amount of interest in reading voiced by the parents at the last P.-T.A. meeting, Dr. Hester was invited for the Jan. meeting, but as she is so much in demand, she was not available for that date and her talk has been postponed until Monday evening.

An innovation in Michigan's turkey industry, which is rapidly becoming big business, occurred recently at the Bernard Clement turkey farm, 18300 Rankin Rd., Britton, when birds underwent inspection under an agreement between the owner and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Th purpose of the inspection is to insure the housewife who buys the bird that it was checked for wholesomeness both before slaughter and afterward. A green and white wing clip bearing oatling of the state and the words: "Michigan Department of Agriculture. Inspected and Passed for Wholesomeness. Processed in Michigan" identify the fowl.

Details of the plan were worked out between the Michigan Turkey Growers association, the poultry section of Michigan State college, and the department.

Under the plan the Department of Agriculture engages a registered veterinarian to make a preslaughter inspection of the birds to be prepared for market and then inspect each bird individually for wholesomeness before affixing the wingclip. The department also maintains a check of sanitation of premises. Cost of the inspection service is paid by the turkey owner to the Department.

Turkey is no longer just a "holiday" fowl. In Michigan it is becoming a popular dish throughout the entire year. In 1954 there were 4,119,000 turkeys raised in the state.

The Home Demonstrator

By JOSEPHINE BRIGHENTI
HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

So you've changed your mind; this morning you find your work plans for the day are completely different from those you outlined in your mind last night.

This change of plans is not one to feel guilty about, points out Dr. Lima Cross, head of the home management department at Michigan State. Rather, the homemaker who can alter her plans "midstream" should realize that this is a sign of strength, not weakness.

Dr. Cross points out this example: Mrs. "Typical Homemaker," who is expecting a house full of weekend guests, has set aside a certain amount of time to get the house ship-shape. In the middle of her work, she finds she is getting tired. Rather than continue with her cleaning, she takes time out to rest and save her energy, so she will be more at ease with her guests and a better hostess.

In the managing of their homes, homemakers go through three steps. First, they make their plan; this may be mental or actually put down on paper. Second, they control the carrying out of the plan. Third, they look back and evaluate their plan to see how it can be done better.

In this second step, Dr. Cross advocates that a change of plan is not only acceptable but very desirable. She feels that while carrying out your plans, if you think of a better way of doing it or realize that something else should be taking your time, you shouldn't be too hesitant to change your mind.

Mrs. Moore

For many years she worked indefatigably as director of the annual Easter vesper services in which talent from all the churches took part, and she made a large personal investment in the costumes and jewelry which made these pageants so colorful and impressive.

Many will remember the musical garden parties that she arranged for summer evenings on the lawn of her home and the active part she played in county wide concert tours to stimulate bond sales during World War I.

During the past year she presented a concert grand piano to the community, which is to be used in the Baptist Youth House for the benefit of music lovers.

Next to music Mrs. Moore's interest was in gardening. Her tulip collections at her home and cottage were outstanding and with her other flowers they were a source of pleasure to her many friends She organized and was a charter member of the Tecumseh Garden Club and cared for her own garden to the last year of her life.

In addition to the Music and Garden Clubs, Mrs. Moore was a charter member of the Tecumseh Monday Club and of Abi Evans Chapter D.A.R. and belonged to the National Huguenot Society, Order of Eastern Star, the Hospital Auxiliary, the Tecumseh Country Club, W.C.T.U., the Lenawee County Historical Society and was a member of the former Merry-Go-Round 500 club, the oldest organization of its kind in the town.

She is survived by her husband; one son, Robert H. Moore; three grandchildren, Mrs. Richard (Shirlie) Fielder, Robert D. Moore and Miss Grace Moore and five great grandchildren, all of Tecumseh.

She was preceded in death by an infant daughter, Charlotte, her parents, two brothers, Oscar and Clyde Heck and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Munn.

Mrs. Moore's death came very suddenly while she and Mr. Moore were spending the winter months in St. Petersburg, Fla. Her body was returned to the Green Funeral Home where it remained until the 2 p.m. hour of the service.

Burial was in Brookside cemetery and the bearers were Ira Ashley, Ernest Harris, Fred Sheldon, Ernest VanVleet, Ted McConnell and Donald Nettleman.

FW Features Energy Saving New Kitchen

Bread baking 100 years ago may have resulted in some mighty good eating, but it took a lot of effort on the part of mother.

A comparison of how this kitchen procedure has changed through the past 100 years will be the theme of the exhibit prepared by the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State. Michigan women will see it when they visit Farmers' Week, Feb. 7-11.

Besides food exhibits in the home economics building, homemakers will be able to visit the equipment labs in the home management houses where they will see many types of energy saving furniture. These range from posture chairs to sit-down ironing boards.

Farmers' Week visitors at Michigan State college can also see a complete modern kitchen in action in the agricultural engineering building. The kitchen is equipped with built-in and deluxe appliances such as ranges, refrigerators, freezer, dishwasher, water heater, air conditioners and cabinets.

The kitchen is housed in a 32 foot trailer and is the first appearance of the 1955 equipment.

Adrian CC Gains 1st League Win at Expense of Britton

The Britton Tories are in a rut. For the last three games Britton has been in 48-34 ball games. They won the first game against Onsted three weeks ago but lost to Onsted by the same score in the Little Six league tournament and Friday night they lost again by the same score as Adrian Catholic Central won its first league game of the year.

The loss gives the Tories a 3-3 league record good for third place. The win for Catholic Central pulls them into a tie with Sand Creek with 1-5 records. The two teams are tied for the cellar.

The Irish held Tom Bruce, Tories Ace, who has averaged 23 points a game, to 13 points. In the tourney game Bruce was bottled up and Onsted won. It seems that when the high-scoring Tory is corked up, the Tories suffer.

They made only 12 of 65 attempted field goals.

In the first period they suffered badly. Off on their shooting, the Saxton five cashed only three points and they never got out of the hole. At the end of this period the Irish had an eight point lead and it held up.

The lead was 21-19 at the half and 29-25 at the end of the third period. The Tories were still in the game but they added only nine points in the last stanza while the Irish were adding 14.

In addition to the work of Bruce who led his team's scoring, the only highspot for the Tories was the work of Al Barrett who played a wonderful defensive game and who contributed seven points on three goals and a lone free throw.

Irish center Hirons was high for Catholic Central with 18.

The Tories also lost the Jayvee game, 40-38. Merl Sanch dumped in 10 points for the Tories and Jack Piotter was high for the Irish with 14.

Bedford Upset of Monroe C C Plus Indians' Win Over Dales Gives Tecumseh Sole S E Lead

An assist from Bedford who upset Monroe Catholic Central coupled with their ability to slip past Hillsdale, 42-37 Friday night gave the Tecumseh High Indians sole possession of the leadership in the Southeastern League basketball race with a 4-1 record.

Monroe, losing to Bedford, 65-56, was knocked out of a tie for the league lead.

The Indians now have a 4-1 league record and the Falcons have a 3-2 record, good for a second place tie with Bedford.

The loss Friday night was Hillsdale's fifth league loss without a win. The Hornets are in the cellar. In third place is Airport Community with a 2-2 record. Airport is the only school that owns a league win over Tecumseh.

This same Airport team plays a return engagement with the Indians here Feb. 18. In the following two weeks the Indians play Monroe Catholic Central and Bedford in games away. So there still is a lot of suspense left in the league and the race probably will not be settled until the last three games of the season.

In their clash Dec. 10 here the Indians racked up the Hornets, 57-35, but the return engagement at Hillsdale was another story.

The Indians were glad to settle for the five-point win. After a close 14-12 lead in the first quarter Tecumseh bagged 12 more in the second while Hillsdale added only six to give the Indians 26-18 intermission lead.

In the third period, however, the Indians almost came apart at the seams to pick up only four points while the Hornets closed the gap to 30-27 by bagging nine points.

The Indians rallied just enough in the final stanza to hold a five point lead, outscoring the host five 12-10.

Ken Miller, bagging four field goals and five free throws, was high for the Indians with 13 points. Marv Yoakum added a dozen on five goals and a brace of free throws and Val Spangler who returned to the team after a semester of ineligibility contributed 10 important points on a trio of field goals and four free throws.

Earl Duryea was Hillsdale's high scorer and game high scorer with 15 made on three goals and nine free throws.

The Hornets won the Jayvee game, 42-24.

SHOOTS UP THERE — Among the four lettermen gymnastics coach George Szypula is counting on for his season is Bob Marsh, 21-year old Tecumseh junior.

Placing high in dual meet and championship competition as a sophomore, Marsh is considered State's top trampolinist and is a key figure in Szypula's hopes for a successful season.

In Michigan State's opening meet, a 59-37 triumph over Michigan, the Tecumseh gymnast placed third in his specialty.

In a third game the Tecumseh Products racked up the Manchester Independents, 42-32.

Leading scorers for the games were W. Knabusch of Dundee with 17; Dunsmore of Moore's with 13; Oberlin of the Products with 13; A. Lentz of the Independents with 13 and Betzoldt of the Legion with 13.

You Still Can Give

The March of Dimes has watched over us and our neighbors for another full year.

A total of 219 children from Tecumseh and Raisin townships received the polio vaccine last summer. The March of Dimes paid the bill for the vaccinations. Each child participating received three shots. The March of Dimes paid $15 for each series of three shots. This amounted to $3,285 for children in the Tecumseh area. More than 1000 children in the county received the vaccine.

This year first, second, third, and fourth grade students in Lenawee will be eligible to receive the shots of the vaccine. The vaccinations will be given as soon as the evaluation of the vaccine is completed by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., of University hospital in Ann Arbor. There will be no charge to the individual for the vaccine.

During last year $2,978.66 was spent for care for polio patients from Tecumseh and Raisin townships by the March of Dimes. This was but a small part of the funds spent for patient care in Lenawee county by the March of Dimes. More funds were spent for patient care alone in Lenawee than was collected in the March of Dimes in the county last year.

Now is the time when the March of Dimes again seeks aid from its members, the people of all communities. This year, as never before, funds are needed to complete the vaccine program, to provide aid for polio patients, and to continue research to defeat this crippling disease.

Now is the time for each citizen to consider his own abilities to help in this need, and give to the March of Dimes. You still can give. Send your contributions to Mr. David Dick, Tecumseh.

Tell Them The Truth

Parents, according to Glenn Hammell, who spoke at a joint meeting of the IOOF and PTA here last Thursday night, should take their children into their confidences more and tell them the truth. Children who know the truth, the Kalamazoo law enforcement officer said, seldom are in trouble.

Officer Hammell stressed that when children ask about sex crimes that are described in daily newspapers and radio, they should be told the facts: that there are types of sick persons who commit these crimes. Under no circumstances should parents tell their children "You wouldn't understand."

Mr. Hammell also stressed the importance of telling children how they can guard themselves from any possible criminal attack.

"Don't say and believe that this can't happen in Tecumseh. Don't keep your heads in the sand about this," he said. Not trying to frighten anybody, he was, however, realistic. "In too many instances parents have said that these horrible crimes could never happen to their children. Then the attacker strikes."

In some of the cases that he personally has been on, the offender was not the bum type, but a well-dressed community leader.

All children, Mr. Hammell said, should be taught self protection against any possible criminal attack.

One of these cardinal rules is to stay six feet away from the stranger's car. One trick used by some of these perverts is to ask directions, then pretend to be hard of hearing so the child will come closer to the car and write the directions on a piece of paper.

Out shoots a hand and an iron grip is placed on the wrist of the child.

At this point the attacked should keep her wits and stall for time. She should be told that this type of pervert is a coward and, therefore, a scream by the child or a threat to call police may mean her life.

Mr. Hammell, citing police files, told of cases where a stranger offered candy, "a ride in his nice automobile" and in some cases a child was called so beautiful that the stranger wanted "to paint her picture."

Complete explanation by the parents without frightening their children can keep the picture from becoming a nightmare of criminal attack, Mr. Hammell concluded, and can save lives.

At last, thought John, we can buy a brand-new car. Maybe a red one with a black top. All the latest gadgets. Think of the places they could go. And consider what an impression it would make on their friends (and strangers alike).

But Betty too had her dreams. Now they had the down payment for a home of their own. What a joy that would be. Their very own home to decorate and fix up to suit their way of life. No more moving. A permanent address. A place for the kids to play. A home to entertain in. The whole family would enjoy it—and their friends too.

Then came the explosion! A hot argument. Tears. Nearly blows.

John tried to cool down by reading. He picked up a Better Homes and Gardens magazine. His eyes spotted an interesting ad. And the headline ran: "Buy a Home FIRST. It's Your Only Security."

The message sunk in. John pondered. That's true, he thought. Betty's right. We'll get a nice home of our own. It's the smart thing to do. Better for the whole family.

Well, they bought a cute place. Out in Indian Acres. Now they're both as pleased as a 2-year old with a new toy.

Buy your own home FIRST.

Feb. Brings Longest Days, Coldest Weather

Longer and colder days are in store for us in February, according to Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh of the University of Michigan's astronomy department.

A "lag of the seasons" causes the lowest temperatures of the year to be delayed for several weeks after the date of the winter solstice when the sun reaches the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth, says Professor Losh.

"The atmosphere acts like a blanket and holds back some of the heat that falls on its surface and for some time after December 22 the northern hemisphere is losing more heat at night than can be replaced effectively by the sun during the shorter-than-average days," she adds.

The days will lengthen to 11 hours by the end of the month with the most noticeable effect a one-and-a-half hour longer afternoon, caused by the fact that the sun we set our watches by is a fictitious one assumed to move at a regular rate. The real sun moves erratically and although our watches say noon it has not yet reached the meridian, which put our Standard Time about an hour-and-a-half ahead of the sun and gives us the longer afternoon, Professor Losh explains.

Among the planets Mars remains a first magnitude object in the southwestern sky for about four hours after sunset. On February 26 the crescent moon will pass about four degrees above the planet.

Saturn will be rising around midnight and can be located in the constellation of Libra, with no other really bright objects near it. On February 14 the last quarter moon will pass about six degrees south of it which should aid in identifying it, according to Professor Losh.

The new constellation of the month is Leo, the Lion, rising at about sunset. It can be located by following the "pointer" stars of the Big Dipper in the direction opposite from the North Star. Six stars in the form of a reversed question mark and three stars to the east, or left, of this question mark form the Lion.

The brightest star in Leo is Regulus, marking the dot of the question mark. It is blue-white in color and ranks 12th in order of brightness of all the stars, sending out one hundred times as much light as our Sun.

"Its distance is about 84 light years away so if it were suddenly extinguished tonight we wouldn't know about it until sometime in the middle of the 21st century," says Professor Losh.

Mrs. John Carson Buried Saturday

Ellen M. Carson, widow of John Carson, who would have been 93 years of age Feb. 18, died Wednesday morning at Herrick Memorial hospital. She had been a patient there for only a few days, but had been failing in health for several years.

Mrs. Carson was born in County Antrim, Ireland, Feb. 18, 1862, the daughter of Michael and Margaret Ross Logan. She came to America in 1882 and had lived in or near Tecumseh ever since.

In 1892, she married Mr. Carson, who died in 1939. She had been a member of the Tecumseh Presbyterian church for more than 70 years.

Her daughter, Miss Ann, with whom she lived, survives with several nephews and nieces. Besides her husband she was preceded in death by two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Murray and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, and an infant brother.

C. and Norman Stephenson of Detroit, Dr. D. R. Stephenson of Rockford, Ill., Jack Howie of Flint and George Brinks of Marion, Mich. Burial was in Brookside.

Why Not Plant A Living Fence?

Now is the time to plan for a living snow fence and windbreak on the farm, advises Louis G. Hall, county agricultural agent.

A short trip over Lenawee County's countryside he points out, can tell how badly trees are needed for that purpose.

Robert E. Dils, a Michigan State College forester, says the snow-break is needed mostly in these areas: In narrow valleys where snow piles up on the road, on exposed side hills, for protection of road cuts and on level, open country where wind has a long sweep.

A living snow fence has many advantages, according to Dils, and farmers can afford to plant one for their own convenience as well as the public.

A snowbreak will reduce the cost of snow removal by about one-third, according to the forester. It will save the cost of snow fences, it may serve as a shelterbelt and it provides cover for birds and game.

That's in addition to the beauty it gives to a roadside and to the Dils farm adds.

Information on windbreaks, shelterbelts and snowbreaks may be obtained at the county extension office at Adrian. Or you can write to the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State College. Ask for Extension Folder F-118.

Plans Are Shaping Up For Winter Grass Institute

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the Winter Grass Institute, slated for 9 a.m. March 1, 1955. This will be the first agriculture event sponsored by the Adrian Chamber of Commerce and arranged by the agriculture committee of the Chamber. It will be held at the Armory.

PAUL ROOD

Louis G Hall, County Agriculture Agent and chairman of the chamber of commerce agriculture committee, said that the meeting is designed to help farmers do a better job of growing good quality forages at less cost. It will also show them how to make the best use of the feed for livestock.

Some of the cost cutters include the use of lime and fertilizer to get high crop yields.

So, soils specialists from Michigan State College will be on hand to answer these questions: What kind of lime and how much? What kind of fertilizer? How much? when and how should fertilizer be applied?

Other questions to be answered by Extension Soil Specialist Paul J. Rood, include these: If a farmer's soil is short on magnesium, should he use a high calcium lime or dolomitic lime? What fertilizer analysis is best for a grass pasture? For an alfalfa meadow?

Is a farmer wasting potash by fertilizing alfalfa liberally every second year, or would it be more profitable to topdress each year? And what time of the year is best?

Many farmers from the surrounding counties, Monroe, Washtenaw, Wayne, Jackson and Hillsdale are expected to attend the meeting, according to Agent Hall.

Vows Exchanged Saturday By Donna Jean Bordine And Harry Williams

The Berean Baptist church in Adrian was the scene of the marriage of Donna Jean Bordine and Harry Lee Williams, Saturday evening. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest G. Bordine, the bride lived on N. Adrian Road while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams, 139 Budlong St., Adrian.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. H. E. ...ding under an arch of evergreen flanked by baskets of white carnations and daffodils, palms and candelabra. Music before the ceremony was played by Mrs. Leonard Buck at the organ and Mr. Buck, as soloist, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and at the climax of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Bordine chose as her maid of honor, her friend, Miss Helen Colgrove of Adrian and her sister Miss Gertrude Bordine as bridesmaid. Her cousin, Joyce Kish of Ridgeway was flower girl.

The best man was the groom's brother-in-law, Robert Cruisenberry of East Lansing and he was also attended by Robert Townsend of Clayton.

The guests were seated by the bride's brother, Allen Bordine and by Robert Bachman of Adrian, and the rings were carried by little Billy Amstutz on a lace ruffled satin pillow trimmed with lilies of the valley.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was very lovely in her wedding gown of satin under net and a lace edged coronation veil. Her dress was floor length with a chapel train and the bodice, of corded embroidery was dotted with seed pearls to give a strapless effect. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from the groom, and carried white carnations in a bouquet with a centered orchid.

The maid of honor wore pink taffeta and net which had a ruffled strapless bodice over which she wore a matching stole. The ballerina length skirt repeated the ruffles of the bodice. She wore a matching headpiece and carried yellow carnations. Miss Gertrude Bordine's bridesmaid dress was of blue taffeta and net, ballerina length, with strapless bodice and matching stole and her flowers were pink carnations. Aqua taffeta and ruffled net formed the floor length gown of the flower girl. It had an inset of lace over the front and she carried a basket of rose petals to scatter in the path of the bride.

Mrs. Bordine wore a royal blue dress for her daughter's wedding with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Williams' dress was beige with black accessories and her flowers were also pink carnations as were those of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Orie Call.

A reception for 250 guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors when Mrs. Pierre Palphant had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Robert Cruisenberry, sister of the groom, assisted the maid of honor and the bridesmaid in caring for the gifts.

The bride's cake was cut by Miss Arlene Harsh, who is the bride's Sunday School teacher, and Miss Alice Butcher and Miss Frances McAdams served the groom's cake. Miss Ann Cranston, Miss Jane Hargrave and Miss Mary Louise Kotts also assisted in the serving.

The new Mrs. Williams wore a navy suit when they left on a trip to the southwest. Her accessories were navy and pink and she wore the orchid from her bouquet. Returning, they will live at 139 Budlong St., Adrian.

Mrs. Williams, who is a senior at Tecumseh High School, has been employed in the office of Dr. R. J. Murray while Mr. Williams, a graduate of Adrian High, is a junior at Michigan State College.

Guests attended the wedding from Des Moines, Iowa, Dearborn, Taylor Center, Morenci, Milan, Clayton, Monroe, Dundee, Maybee and Adrian.

The name "Spartans" was first applied to Michigan State College in 1926.

Methodist Men Hold Charter Night

Last Thursday evening, the men of the Methodist Church met for a potluck supper and the presentation of their new charter which officially makes this group a part of the men's organization of the Methodist Church.

Guest and special speaker for charter night was William Schule of Adrian, sub-district lay leader. Mr. Schule gave an inspiring talk on the work of the men in a church.

Officers of this group are: President, Walter Hizer; vice-president, Walter Book; treasurer, Del Crisp and secretary Luther Wood.

Objectives of the Methodist Men's group are to seek daily Christ's way of life, to bear witness to this way, to study and become familiar with the Methodist church, its organization, and its doctrines, to promote personal evangelism, especially among men and boys and to develop Christian fellowship in the church.

LEGION MEETING ATTENDED BY 150

The joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary with their husbands and wives was attended by about 150 Saturday evening. The feature of the evening was the fish supper served at 6:30. All the fish were prepared and fried by Art Hannavald, who formerly lived on Brookside Farm north of Tecumseh, but whose home is now in Dearborn. The dinner committee included the Ted Vinczes, Lewis Gunns and Warren Puffers.

CLUB WILL VISIT MAPLE LANE MANOR

Those in charge of the Feb. 7 meeting of the Monday Club suggest that members who do not attend the potluck luncheon at 12 noon, which is to be held at the Pythian Hall, but who desire to go on the afternoon trip to Maple Lane Manor come to the hall at 2 p. m. There will be election of officers following the luncheon. Transportation arrangements may be made by calling Mrs. Ted LaBounty or Mrs. Thomas O'Hara.

The Michigan State College radio stations, WKAR and WKAR-FM, have served Michigan for more than 30 years.

A Pharmacist's Service IS Different!!

The law requires that the sale of most medicines be made under direction of a Registered Pharmacist. Only a Pharmacist has respect—born of knowledge—for the results of the use of drugs.

So if your Pharmacist questions you for symptoms or use that would contra-indicate a medicine you request, he is taking a reasonable precaution in your behalf. It is but one part of the Pharmacist's service that IS better.

Grade School News

Patterson—Grade Five
Mrs. Osburn

Floyd Steele was elected Lieut. of the Safety Patrol. Our room starts on the Patrol Monday, Jan. 24.

Mary Jean Cleveland was elected Lieut. of the Service Squad.

We are putting pictures of the U.S. as a whole, on the bulletin board. Next we are going to start the study of the New England states.

Some of the girls have formed a 4-H club with Mrs. Lillian Rudolph as leader. The girls are having a knitting project.

We didn't have school Friday afternoon but the teachers had to stay and make our reports.

We are learning about common and proper names in our Language lessons.

Our first semester ended January 21st. The school year seems to be going very fast.

About one-hundred books have been added to our library. They are beatuiful books and we are very happy to have them.

Patterson—Grade Six
Mr. Kaiser

During the last week the librarians have placed one hundred and three new books on the shelves. We enjoy our library very much and we are happy to have some new books.

Our class treasurer reports that we now have $82.20 toward our trip to Greenfield Village.

The bird feeder is a very busy place. Some times there are as many as seven cardinals at once near the feeder. Once in a while, we have a squirrel come to the tree for corn.

We have started Unit 3 in Social Studies. This unit is about the geography of Europe. The first two units were on the history of Europe. In arithmetic we have started multiplying fractions.

The fifth grade will take over the Safety Patrol and Service Squad on January 26. We wish them well and hope they will not be discouraged during the cold weather. Larry Titley and Jane Hodges will continue as captains.

Central—Grade Six
Mrs. Runk

Many changes were in store for the sixth graders this new semester. Probably most important are the changes on Service Squad and Safety Patrol. It's time to give the fifth graders their turn. To some of us it will be a relief to have it over, and some of us are sorry. We feel we have done a pretty good job, but we know the fifth graders will too.

Our gym schedule changes now, too. The girls go to Patterson for their class. For the first six weeks of this semester the boy's and girl's classes will meet together on Mondays and Tuesdays for square dancing, and we are looking forward to that.

Our class officers have changed again, and now, Shirley Wagoner is our president; Gale Kimerer is the vice-president; Clarence Champanois is the secretary, and Glennis Baker is the treasurer.

Leo Godfrey is moving to Tipton and we will miss him. We welcomed Charlotte Elder back a couple weeks ago. She left last year for Alabama, but we are glad she has come back.

We counted up the mothers who have visited us the first semester and found we had ten. They are the mothers of Kenneth Beevers, Walter Cirbach, Barbara Jo Damon, Linda Griffin, Barbara Lence Champanois, Vickie Peterson, Dianne Gove, Charles Holdridge, Steven Naugle and Cynthia Foley. We were glad to have them see us at our work.

At last we got our display case exhibit ready. We started very early, but we could not put it in when we planned, so we are glad it is finally in the case. We used the opaque projector to project two social studies pictures of the Middle Ages on large paper for a mural. Some children made swords and shields, and others wrote short articles on life in the Middle Ages.

Central—Grade Five
Mrs. Uckele

We are glad to have Bobbie Bonner back in school after his operation. Now he can walk without his crutches.

This week we are starting our duties on Safety Patrol and Service Squad.

Our class had an exhibit in the display case. Our theme was "Pioneers." The background was a mural showing covered wagons on the Oregon Trail. In the foreground, we had a stockade. Inside the stockade was a log cabin with people around it, a covered wagon, and oxen. Outside of the stockade were Indians. We also put in covered wagons and a raft complete with a small log cabin and covered wagon on it. Some of the pupils brought Indian dolls, horses, an arrow head, and Indian corn to add to our display. We enjoyed working on the exhibit, which was a result of studying the western expansion of our country.

Central—Grade Six
Mrs. Crawford

The first semester drew to a noisy close for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades as they attended a pep meeting Thursday afternoon. The cheerleaders showed how their motions kept everyone together during a cheer. They also stressed that audience sportsmanship is part of every game.

The new semester will bring some changes for us—a new gym time, the end of patrol duty after a year's service, and a little rearrangement of our class schedule since we will all start the day together.

Inoz Boltz and Annett Bracey had January birthdays.

Charlene Sowers hurried home every day last week to try on her new "formal." She is a member of a drill team and will wear the dress to perform with the group.

Mrs. Murray Day was a morning visitor recently. We are telling stories in connection with our languege work. Some very funny things have happened to some of us. Others have used imagination to produce interesting stories.

We are also discovering that fractions are very complicated because there is so much to remember. Cancellation is fun, though, and we are all doing quite well with it.

VISIT HISTORICAL SITES

Nine sixth grade students from Franklin Township school made a tour of the historical spots in Tecumseh last Friday. They were brought to Tecumseh by Mrs. Richard Carter and Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg, members of Abi Evans Chapter D.A.R., as part of the historians' project of that organization. This is in cooperation with the State D.A.R. project which has as its object the promotion of the study of local history in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. They visited the sites of the first house and mills, the town's oldest house, the Globe pond and the remains and original site of the first Lenawee court house.

DAY OF PRAYER WILL BE OBSERVED FEB. 25

WROUGHT IRON — This wrought iron work on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Timm at 210 E. Kilbuck, Tecumseh, was done by Roy Dahlke of Tecumseh.

Dahlke who lives at 743 N. Union, Tecumseh, is the biggest dealer in wrought iron in Lenawee County.

Ninety-nine per cent of his work is done to the customer's special order. He buys his wrought iron materials from a small factory in Lodi, Ohio.

He recently did the wrought iron work on the St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

His wrought iron is used on homes, churches and in businesses, particularly for window guards.

Mr. Dahlke says the wrought iron interest, developed in the south, is now spreading to home interiors.

It has followed the "do it yourself trend" with home owners building television tables and other furniture.

Dahlke's wrought iron will be displayed at the Veterans of Foreign Wars merchants' and manufacturers' show at the Products Union Hall Feb. 25 to 27. (Adv.)

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Swifty Gets Slowed Down

Swifty Fisher has a short temper and really hit the roof when he got a parking ticket last week. He wasn't near a hydrant or too far from the curb. There was a big sign saying "ONE HOUR PARKING" and he'd only been gone twenty minutes.

Running to Traffic Court, where Hack Miller was on duty, Swifty hollered how he hadn't done anything wrong ... how he is the most law-abiding driver in town.

But Hack examined the ticket, and smiled. "Slow down, friend," he said. "You're not guilty—except of making a big fuss over nothing. This ticket came from some kid's policeman play outfit!"

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions can make anyone appear silly. Another way to look foolish is to make a quick decision on a question of personal preference. For instance, I like a glass of beer occasionally. You may be a buttermilk man. But neither of us ought to "lay down the law" about the other's choice.

Are YOU living in "WET WASH" house?

Wet Wash House is a lank, dank place,
With wet wash slapping you in the face.
The towels are scratchy and stiff as tin,
And look like something the cat dragged in.
The wife is cranky from hanging clothes,
And this is the way your money goes:
Extra sheets, extra cases,
Sitting in their resting places.
Extra clothes for which you pay—
Waiting around for laundry day!

The happy solution

But what a change the very minute
You put a Gas clothes dryer in it!
Morning, evening, rain or shine,
The laundry's finished any time.
The fluffy towels enchant the Mrs.
In fact the air is full of kisses.
Your woes and worries have all passed,
For ONLY Gas dries clothes
so beautifully, so efficiently,
so economically, so FAST!

Most people still don't believe it. But it is true.

And when you look into the facts, you'll find these two solid truths:

Buick is one of the "Big Three" in sales volume—and hotter this year than ever before. And Buick is one of the "Big Three" when it comes to prices which make such popularity possible. The price we show here proves it.

So why not get what a Buick has to offer, if you are in the market for a new car?

You find that the dollars you pay for Buick buy you a lot more automobile—and the sheer satisfaction that comes with bossing a brawny traveler of this caliber.

You find it in the record-high V8 power that gives life to this spirited performer. You find it in the soft and level and cruiser-steady ride that comes of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability. You find it in the extra roominess, the extra frame strength, the extra tread width, the extra silencing—all part and parcel of every Buick.

We could tell you about the little things, too. Things usually charged for as "extras" in other cars, but yours as standard equipment at no extra cost in every Buick. Things like direction signals, oil-bath air cleaner, full-flow oil filter, automatic lighting in glove and trunk compartments—and so on.

But—you get the idea. This is a buy, this '55 Buick—a great buy—and a thriller from the instant you press its gas pedal. Come in this week and check things for yourself, won't you?

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in neighboring communities, because factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster . . . $81.70; Radio & Antenna . . . $92.50.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

AS THIS IS WRITTEN it is not known whether the little old groundhog or woodchuck will see his shadow Feb. 2 but according to a learned treatise from a University of Michigan professor (no less) a woodchuck does chuck wood. Prof. Earl O'Roke says the woodchuck occasionally chucks only those twigs and pieces of brush which interfere with his burrow, or home building activities.

Its favorite food is green vegetation, "with the bark of trees tossed in for occasional variation."

Actually, the woodchuck is a fairly heavy eater for during warm months it must store up fat for its winter hibernation. "Incidentally, a woodchuck's hibernation is not always a heavy, uninterrupted sleep for a series of warm days can act as an alarm clock for an early awakening," Prof. O'Roke says.

Living in extensive ground burrows, the woodchuck builds himself a regular "one-floor apartment with several openings (one a concealed one) for emergency exits, the burrow may boast both a front and back door."

The woodchuck, a common native rodent, weighs an average of five to ten pounds and lives four or five years. The young are born in April or May and average about four per litter. Blind and helpless, they must stay in the burrows for several weeks.

In spite of common belief, the woodchuck causes little damage to gardens, shrubs and small trees. Another fallacy, Prof. O'Roke concludes, is the label of "groundhog," for there's "Nothing hoggy about the animal!"

IT IS HEARTENING to note that all of the skilled artisans have not departed from this earth. Art Petty can be counted among the few who still enjoy their work to the extent that their artistry shows in every piece of wood that they put their hands on. A few years ago a genuine Hitchcock Mammy Rocker was given to us. It needed to be reconstructed. Art did a beautiful job on it. Since he has too much business already (and we know why) he'll probably shoot us for saying so but if you ever need some fine woodworking done see Art. Your job will be in skilled hands and heart.

ANOTHER REPORT ON an illustrious relative who also was a newspaperman has reached the Lining. My great-grand uncle Hiram White, according to my Unc Walt Jack who, as the Lining previously has pointed out, is called "Mr. Erie, Pa., Times" by hundreds of folks who read his stuff, was associate editor of the Rural New Yorker in 1860.

Unc Walt enclosed a photo reproduction showing a cartoon taken from the paper published in Rochester, N. Y., during Uncle Hiram's sojourn. The cartoon is a take-off on other editors who stole material without giving credit.

Since My favorite uncle still in the newspaper business may be hinting that this columnist, too, might steal his material (how can columns be written without doing this?) this is through the courtesy of Walter Jack who lifted the material from the Rural New Yorker:

"Our artist has recently had his mind considerable exercized by observing the cutting manner in which sundry low-priced weekly papers are made up from the RURAL NEW-YORKER and other expensively conducted journals. He professes to have discovered that most of the so-called cheap papers are either re-prints of dailies, or edited with pens formed like unto shears and scissors, a labor-saving device invention which, though not altogether new, is ahead of the sheepshearing machine, for it enables the operator, in many instances, to so disguise the fleece as to effectually pull the wool over the eyes of his readers. Of course these "sappers and miners" who ruthlessly steal and use as original, (or borrow without giving credit) the best articles from leading journals, have so little occasion for ink, & c. that their writing materials are "laid on the shelf" and enveloped in cobwebs."

You will notice that this is quoted. Now maybe we had better get the cobwebs off the typewriter and write something that has not been "stolen."

BERT LAWRENCE, FORMER cigar maker here dropped in to renew a subscription. He said Tecumseh at one time had 42 cigar makers. Now a young man of 53, Bert got his economic start in life by twisting the tail on a hand press on the Kalamazoo Gazette when he was a kid. Bert, the only living charter member of the Eagles also told how the Toledo Eagles came out here by train one Sunday and instituted the local Aerie. This was in 1907. A band dropped down to the depot to meet the visiting Eagles and quite a time was had.

TO BE FEATURED IN GROCERY stores and by pie bakers during coming weeks is a 150-year-old variety of apple that is as typical of Michigan as the old-fashioned husking bee, sleigh ride parties or ice fishing.

The apple to be honored is the Northern Spy, treasured in the memory of thousands of farm-reared Michigan citizens for its winey flavor and unsurpassed cooking and baking qualities.

Home economists say the Northern Spy is the choice of pie-baking champs. "Today, the Spy's the buy," they declare, but there are a lot of people to whom this big, firm, slightly flat apple with the striped red and yellowish sides brings other appeal.

They go back a few years and recall how a carefully shined Northern Spy used to look on the teacher's desk in many a Michigan rural school, or how its rich flesh tasted when eaten with popcorn on cold winter evenings. We used to wrap them in old newspapers.

The Northern Spy was planted in this state probably a hundred years ago. Because the variety liked Michigan's soil and climate, the Northern Spy has been grown in greater volume here than elsewhere. During the season just closed Michigan growers produced 1,320,000 bushels of Northern Spys out of a total national crop of 2,310,000 bushels. Most of the rest were grown in New England and New York. It cannot be produced successfully in too warm a climate.

The Northern Spy, legend says, originated in the orchard of one Herman Chapin at East Bloomfield, N. Y. from a seed brought there in 1800 when he moved from Salisbury, Conn. It showed much promise as a dessert and cooking apple and was given fairly wide distribution by 1840 in the North. It was recognized as an outstanding variety by the American Pomological society in 1852.

FOLKS AT TECUMSEH RESTAURANT turned Earl Bryan loose with a paint brush and the result was something the restaurant owners have been pointing to with a great deal of pride. Taking a four-inch paint brush, Earl painted large murals of Indian lore around the boulevard eatery. He amazed those who watched him do the murals by "just painting," using no pictures and no patterns of any kind. Asked what the mural was going to be about, he would say "I don't know" and then he proceeded to paint a wonderful picture. Gilly Kidd, owner, is as tickled about the pictures as any customer who has commented so favorably on them.

School Employees Offered Contracts

New contracts to all present members of the Tecumseh Public Schools administration, teaching, secretarial and maintenance staffs were offered by the board of education Tuesday night.

In other words, supt. James McDowell, principal Neville Hart, principal Wayne Kaiser and elementary supervisor Earl Greene plus all teachers, secretarial help and maintenance workers under contract were offered their jobs for the 1955-1956 year.

Board members also granted a five-cent an hour increase to all hourly rated employees.

The average raise for contract salaried personnel is $215 per year. The salary schedule was adopted last month.

The system will need three junior high teachers next year, one elementary school teacher and a public school librarian.

The board anticipates 50 new students in the grades and 63 more high school students next year.

For Polio

A benefit dance for the March of Dimes will be held in the Products Union Hall Saturday night from 9 to 1.

The dance is sponsored by the American Legion. Proceeds will go into the general fund for fighting polio.

Lyle Harper and his orchestra will furnish the music.

The king and queen of polio will be crowned during intermission. Selected by popular vote, the king and queen are Dick Golat and Madonna Strand.

R. H. Moore, Mayor Pro-Tem, will crown the king and queen.

A sidelight of the contest developed when somebody took two $1 bills out of the fruit jar canister at Van's Bakery.

Grandparents of Diane Handy, one of the queen candidates, placed the money in the jar.

Don Norris at the bakery said the money was taken when the help was in the back getting more rolls.

He said he didn't realize that Tecumseh had folks that would steal March of Dimes funds.

Meanwhile, $751.40 from organizations and churches has been turned in to Mrs. Rolland Reister, chairman of the Tecumseh drive.

A polio display was held in the American Legion building during the past week.

A complete report of the local drive is expected next week. Canisters will be in local stores through Saturday.

Everything Was Topsy-Turvy

Everything was topsy-turvy at Tecumseh High School this week as Students held their annual Sponge Week.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the week began Monday with candy and gum day where students are allowed both candy and gum in classes.

Tuesday was little kids' day with students dressed like children.

Wednesday was silent day. Boys and girls could not talk to each other except in the line of duty.

Thursday (today) was old clothes day with students coming to school in old clothes.

This would have continued until tomorrow but the Lenawee County Michigan Education Association Institute will be held in Adrian and school will recess for the day.

As part of Sponge Week activities a party will be held in the gym tonight (Thursday) for junior high students and senior high students will have their party tomorrow night in the gym.

Driver Hurt When Train Hits Car

Thomas Knight, 28, of 2733 Carson road, narrowly escaped death Monday afternoon when his car was struck by a D. T. & I. freight train at the Occidental road crossing.

Clinton State Police said he was on his way home from work at the Tecumseh Products. They said he apparently did not see the train in time to stop for the crossing.

The car, which was demolished, was struck by the front of the train.

Forest Boyer, engineer, said the car continued toward the crossing, although the train's horn was blasting a warning signal.

Mr. Knight was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital. He suffered only cuts and bruises and he was discharged from the hospital Wednesday.

Parents Told How To Help Children In Their Reading

Points on how parents can help their children who are having difficulties in learning to read were outlined at Central School PTA meeting Monday night in the high school.

Dr. Kathleen Hester, of Michigan State Normal College made these points:

1. Give your child confidence and security. If he's afraid to try or afraid of criticism he may have trouble reading.

2. Be a good listener. Give him your full attention if he is reading to you. Give him lots of praise. Don't interrupt or criticize. Let him read for a purpose.

3. Enjoy reading yourself. There must be a feeling of pleasure connected with reading. Reading is contagious.

4. Cooperate with your schools. Have faith in your teachers and work with them.

Dr. Hester also gave a demonstration of how reading is taught in the schools today, using the audience as pupils. About 125 attended.

Dr. Hester was introduced by Mrs. Stephen Illeck, Central School teacher.

County GOP Endorses Ike's Formosan Policy

Delegates to the Lenawee County Republican convention Monday night in Adrian went on record endorsing President Eisenhower's Formosan policy.

They also condemned Gov. Williams' $500,000,000 highway program because "it is something our children and their children will have to pay for."

The delegates also took a stand on "lower taxes and less government as opposed to higher taxes and the welfare state."

They urged the support of decentralization in government in every conceivable way from the Federal and state levels to the county.

J. C. Beardsley, county chairman, appointed Morris Rosenthal, Adrian, as temporary chairman of the convention.

Norman Borgeson, of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, praising the Lenawee group for their work in the general election, said "more folks will have to be aroused from their apathy. Our free government is slipping away."

Mr. Beardsley said the attendance was greater than any other Spring convention he remembers but, he added, the number should have been in the thousands instead of in the eighties.

"Any person who has not attended a county and state convention is not qualified to discuss political or national issues" he asserted.

He and Mrs. Charles Howe are delegates to the state convention which will be held in Detroit Saturday, Feb. 19.

They were elected by Tecumseh delegates to the county convention. They were Mr. Beardsley, Mrs. Howe, Robert King, Mrs. Richard Walker, Mayor H. H. Hanna and Councilman Roy Titley.

FFA Attends Farmers' Week

The Tecumseh Chapter of the Future Farmers of America went to Michigan State College to attend Farmers Week Feb. 7.

The main attraction of the day was the horse pulling contest. The boys also enjoyed the six-team hitch and the livestock judging.

Many junior and senior FFA boys who had attended the Livestock International at Chicago were especially interested in seeing the grand champion steer which they had seen in Chicago.

The group also stopped to see the self-feeding upright silo, the pen or loose type dairy barn, the experimntal hog feeding project and the cows which the college uses for their rumen experiments. These cows usually attract the boys attention because of the "glass window" which they have in their side, the boys look into the cow's stomach and watch the churning processes.

Other educational points of interest which the boys enjoyed were: the new farm tractors and equipment, the cut away tractor which showed the moving parts, the self propelled combine and the artificial breeding bulls and dairy barns.

The members of the chapter wish to thank the drivers who were Mr. Clarence Wagner, Mr. John Quigley, Mr. Herbert Long, Mrs. Medford Palmer, Mrs. Daniel Linn, John Cadmus and Mr. Paul Burns, the FFA adviser.

Eberhardt Agency Will Show Reactometer Here

Elmer W. Eberhardt Insurance Agency announces that motorists will have an opportunity to learn how reaction time affects their ability to stop a car by checking themselves on the Aetna Portable Reactometer.

The Reactometer, a unique driver-testing device which measures the time required to apply the brake after recognizing danger on the highway, will be sent here by the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company of Hartford, Connecticut, for demonstration at the Merchant's and Manufacturer's Show to be held at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall on Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

Consisting of a cabinet with red, yellow and green "traffic" lights, the Aetna Reactometer clocks — to the eighth of a second — the time a motorist takes to shift his foot from the accelerator to the brake pedal whenever the light changes to red. Both accelerator and brake pedal are attached to the device in simulated normal driving position.

Each "driver" tested gets a score card showing his reaction time and the number of feet his "car" would have traveled before the brake was applied at speeds from 20 to 80 miles per hour. Comparative distances for going 20 miles an hour will travel 18 feet before the driver begins to apply the brake. At 60 miles an hour, the distance jumps to 55 feet. A motorist who takes one second to react, however, will have gone 29 and 86 feet, respectively, at these speeds.

Developed by the Aetna as a public service, the Reactometer was designed to dramatize to motorists the important safe-driving fact that the number of feet required to bring a car to a full stop is dependent not only on braking distance but on reaction distance as well.

The score card reveals that at five-eighths of a second — the average reaction time recorded on the Aetna Reactometer — a car

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three."

To be completely honest—there are some bumps which nothing will level out completely.

Yet even the real rough ones turn out a lot smoother when you take them in a 1955 Buick.

And that's not just our say-so. New owners of these bright new beauties keep telling us that.

So you may wonder—how come? What's different about the Buick ride that makes it such a marvel?

The answer is—plenty.

Most cars have coil springs on front wheels only. Buick has them all around—and this year they're newly calibrated for even deeper smothering of jounce and jar. So here your ride is balanced, buoyant, level, serenely smooth.

Most cars drive through the rear springs. Buick drives through a torque-tube that takes up all driving thrust, wipes out rear-wheel wiggle and wag, steadies your going to a sure and solid track.

And no other car in all America has these great comfort extras plus the backbone of a massive X-braced frame plus both direct and lever-type shock absorbers to snub after-bounce plus a special front-end geometry to stabilize "cornering" plus tubeless tires on extra-wide rims for softer riding and greater stability.

Surely, you owe it to yourself to try this great Buick travel, just to judge things for yourself.

You'll find it the nearest thing to velvet on wheels—and made even more so by the silkiness of record-high V8 power and the absolute smoothness of new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.* Come visit us this week—for sure.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Mrs. H. Murphy Named Monday Club President

The annual sunshine day of the Monday Club this week opened with a noon potluck dinner for 35 members in the Pythian Hall.

Mrs. Thomas O'Hara conducted a short business meeting at which Mrs. Carlos Jones reported on the County Federation of Women's Clubs held recently in Adrian. The point she emphasized was that the speaker, Mrs. Harris, stated that only eight of the many clubs in the county were federated. It was announced that March 1 will be "Drama Day" in the Federation and that all clubs in the county are invited to present a skit at that meeting. The Federation will celebrate its 50th anniversary April 20 and it was voted that the Monday Club extend an invitation to the organization for that occasion.

The club regretfully accepted the resignation of Miss Gertrude Spaulding as a member.

The nominating committee, through its chairman, Mrs. Edna Codling then prescribed its report and the balloting which followed resulted in the election of the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Herbert Murphy; first vice-president, Mrs. Robert Bonner; second vice-president, Mrs. Paul Hadsell; recording secretary, Miss Lillian Cannon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Floyd Bryan; treasurer, Mrs. Carlos Jones and members of the executive committee, Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara.

After adjournment, the club members went in a body to Maple Lane Manor in Adrian where they presented an informal program for the entertainment of the guests. Mrs. Edna Staulter played old time music and led in group singing; Miss Judy McClue gave a dance demonstration; Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Waldron sang a vocal selection and Mrs. Hoyt Whelan gave two readings.

Some very enjoyable banjo selections by Llewelyn Bugbee, one of the manor guests and the singing of hymns by the entire group to the accompaniment of Mrs. Waldron, closed a very pleasant afternoon. The tour of the building by the visitors resulted in many favorable comments on its comfort and appearance.

The next meeting of the club will be a trip to Toledo March 7 and a conducted tour through the publishing plant of the Toledo Blade.

Last year, the American Red Cross participated in 318 disaster relief operations throughout the nation, and gave emergency mass care to over 62,000 people plus long-term aid to 7,100 families.

A NEW KIND OF AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AT SURPRISINGLY LOW COST . . .

MOTORIST'S Personal PROTECTION PLAN

APPLIES IN ANY AUTO ACCIDENT IN THE U.S. OR CANADA NO MATTER WHO IS AT FAULT OR WHETHER THE OTHER DRIVER IS INSURED!

The Travelers, the first company to write Automobile Liability insurance, is proud to be the first to offer this new protection as an addition to its Automobile Liability policy.

There are two important features in The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan:

Total Disability coverage

Death Indemnity coverage

Here's why the Plan is needed:

1. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is the only way the insured can protect himself when no one else is at fault.

Every year thousands of people are killed and injured in automobile accidents in which the car runs off the roadway, overturns, collides with a fixed object or is in some other accident not involving collision with another car. In almost all such accidents, the driver is the only one at fault.

2. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is also a means by which the insured can protect himself when someone else is at fault and the other person is not adequately insured or is uninsured.

Details of benefits and exceptions and information on how you may qualify for the Plan are contained in our pamphlet, "The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan." Ask us for a copy.

Boysville Wins League Game From Manchester

Boysville's Fighting Knights won a League of Lakes basketball game from Manchester Friday night, 57-42.

The win was the second in six games in league play, giving the Knights fourth place.

Holding the lead throughout the game, Boysville was ahead 15-9 at the end of the first period but the Manchester team almost closed the gap in the second. When the teams left the floor for intermission Boysville had a one-point 27-26 lead.

The Knights actually won the game in the third quarter, outscoring the visitors, 14-4. And they outscored Manchester in the last period, 16-12.

High scoring Joe Murray added 20 more points to his high total to take scoring honors. His brother John added 13.

Lannom was high for Manchester with 12.

In the prelim the Knights' Jayvee team won 39-22.

Tory Giant Killers Give Ida 1st Loss

Coach Bill Saxton's Britton Tory five really came into their own Friday night, proving to be a giant killer as they knocked off league-leading Ida, 42-41.

The loss enabled Deerfield to tie the previously undefeated Ida team for the Little Six league lead. Each team now has a 6-1 record.

Tom Bruce, high scoring Tory center, was the hero. With only 40 seconds to play he dipped a free toss to break a 41-41 tie and give his team the victory. Ida had one more shot but missed and the Tories froze the ball the rest of the way.

Bruce also was high scorer for the game with 20 points earned on eight field goals and four charity throws. Janssen was high for Ida with 12.

In their best defensive efforts of the Year, the Tories kept Janssen and Cal Smith, high scoring Blue Streaks, pretty well in check. Smith earned nine points.

All Indians Have Off Night; Blissfield Wins Game, 66-49

Tecumseh High School's Indians could hardly buy a field goal Friday night and consequently they lost a non-league basketball game to Blissfield, 66-49.

Definitely off on their shooting, the Indians made only 16 of 65 field goal attempts for a poor percentage of 24.

The Sugar Boys, on the other hand, had a sweeter time, making 27 of 71 attempted goals for a percentage of 38.

In past games when one Indian was off his shooting another would take up the gap but against Blissfield every Indian had an off night with several of them shooting time and time again off balance.

Tecumseh led only momentarily, taking a six-point lead early in the first period on long shots by Ray Larned and Ken Miller and a brace of free throws by Larned.

Then the Indians' defense came apart and the Sugar Boys warmed to their task, taking a 13-11 lead at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter the Indians' collapse was almost complete, garnering only 11 points again while Blissfield totalled 28. It was this second quarter that proved the Indians' downfall. They left the court at intermission trailing, 36-22.

In the last two periods the Indians almost matched the Sugar Boys' point making. Blissfield had a 19-16 bulge in the third and in the fourth period both teams netted 11 points.

In the second period Blissfield was able to cash three cheap field goals on the old "sleeper" play. No Indian was around Klump, scrappy Sugar Boy guard, as he took long passes the length of the court to add six points to his team's score.

But it was the work of Lee Keller, tall and rugged Blissfield center, that really stood out. He led his team's scoring with 15 points on six field goals and three free throws. And he took control of the boards. Several times he tipped in baskets on rebounds.

Brown and Klump added 12 points each and Romsek contributed 10 to the Sugar Boys' total.

Ken Miller and Marv Yoakum, two of the leading scorers in the Southeastern League, had a rough time. In most of the first half Yoakum could hardly hit the rim of the basket but he found himself in the last minute of the second quarter to sink two long ones from the side court. He and Miller had only seven baskets between them, Miller cashing three and Marv four.

Miller added a half dozen free throws to take high scoring honors for the Indians with 12 points. Marv added three to take runner-up honors with 11.

Earl Drumonds added nine points on a brace of field goals and five free tosses.

In the prelim the Sugar Boys' Jayvee team took the measure of the Jayvee Indians, 49-31. Bill Cooper of Tecumseh was high man for the Indians with 8 and Martinez and Hottenstein had eight each for Blissfield.

A Noteworthy Birthday

Since its founding in 1910 the organiaztion has enriched the lives of more than 22,750,000 boys and adult leaders. Truly Scouting represents a living cross section of American life.

Boys of every race, religion and economic background are attracted to Scouting. Today there are 2,700,000 boys in its ranks. Add to this impressive figure the 960,000 adults of good character who give generously of their time and talents to serve as leaders of units. Merit Badge Counselors and in many other capacities. There is hardly an American family that has not felt its influence.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, the Chief Scout Executive, a leader in the organization since 1913, feels that it is of vital importance to train the boys of today to be ready for positions of leadership as they grow to manhood.

"Strong character, participating citizenship and physical fitness," he says, are needs of our boys and young men who are served by the program of Scouting in cooperation with the home, the school, the church, and all other community institutions actively interested in training our future citizens."

Scouting's purpose, stated in the Federal Charter granted by Congress in 1916, is to promote the "ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Every member of the nation's 95,000 Scouting units is indeed "having some kind of experience that is adding to his equipment to meet the problems of adult life."

It is this training that we heartily endorse on this noteworthy birthday.

Driving Conformity

Chief of Police George Kilbourn reports that in order to better our traffic safety record it will be necessary to bring conformity into the driving picture.

While traffic has increased and vehicles have become more powerful, it is doubtful, he added, whether drivers have improved in proportion.

The overwhelming majority of drivers want to do the right thing Chief Kilbourn said, and they will do the right thing if led in the right direction.

In clarifying conformity as applied to driving, Chief Kilbourn explained that it means moving as nearly as possible with the speed of traffic; passing only when the opportunity is clear and the movement will be unhurried; avoiding sudden unpredictable movements from lanes; maintaining reasonable distances between vehicles moving in the same lane; avoiding speeding into blind areas and having patience and consideration for the rights and desires of others.

In short, it means full knowledge and conformity with established rules—statutory and customary.

The National Police Traffic Safety Institute, of which Chief Kilbourn is a member, has outlined 10 handy rules that will bring conformity into the driving picture and will help you, as a driver, to stay out of trouble. Chief Kilbourn suggests that you clip these rules and paste then to the sun visor of your car where you can refresh your memory every time you stop for a traffic light today, tomorrow and everyday.

These are the rules:

1. Quit letting impatience and imagined urgency control your speed.
2. Quit insisting upon the right-of-way or getting there first.
3. Quit following other vehicles at too close distances.
4. Quit trying to "beat" traffic lights.
5. Quit using the wrong side of the road except for safe passing.
6. Quit being so overconfident you become inattentive.
7. Quit impulsive lane changing and thoughtless turning.
8. Quit trying to mix liquor with driving.
9. Quit knowingly and deliberately violating the law.
10. Quit bulldozing and badgering less adaptable drivers.

Chief Kilbourn said that conforming to this sensible safety program at all times will help immeasurably to reduce the traffic toll.

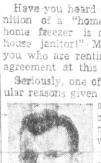
Have you heard the latest definition of a "home freezer?" A home freezer is an "apartment house janitor!" Maybe some of you who are renting will nod in agreement at this season.

Seriously, one of the most popular reasons given for purchasing a home is because the "former quarters were physically inadequate in some respect." That would cover poor heating as well as too little room, obsolete plumbing or wiring, inconvenient arrangement and many others.



There is one big point for you to consider. A large number of families right here in Tecumseh bought a home so that they could enjoy more comfort, room, and pleasure than rented quarters could provide.

Now is a good time for you to look around your quarters. Are they "adequate" for your family?

If not, talk to us. We can help you find a comfortable home within your means.

Once Upon a Time . . . .

BY MRS. JUNE MACBETH
Director Public Relations, City of Tecumseh

As a child, you undoubtedly recall the thrill you experienced when a story opened with the familiar words "once upon a time." You were immediately transported into Time Past and became a part of the adventures and conflicts of your book friends. You shared the happiness and sorrow, the struggle and craft of each new character. As the plot developed, you took sides with the opposing forces and finally rejoiced when the hero and heroine "lived happily ever after."

The story you are about to read will follow this same pattern. However, the characters involved are real people, the plot concern real struggle and suspense, the climax is the overcoming of real obstacles. The one sharp contrast between this story and others, however, is that this one has no ending. The people will live happily, but they will forever be building new chapters.

This is a success story. This is the story of Tecumseh!

To relate a complete history of our city would be a voluminous task. We would have to follow the trails of the Pottawatamie Indians, tread the paths of the early New England settlers, and traverse the archives of our community's growth.

However, such is not the intent of these articles. Instead, for the benefit of new residents and for the memories of the older, our story will be concerned with contemporary trends and developments.

Once upon a time Tecumseh was without a hospital. Before 1934, those people requiring hospitalization had to be transported to Adrian or Ann Arbor for treatment—distances which often incurred additional suffering and risk to the patient. Despite improved roads and rapid transportation, a trip to one of these hospitals could extinguish rather than prolong a person's life. Imagine an accident victim, a prospective mother, or any emergency case having to be rushed at least twelve miles before adequate care could be administered! The condition was intolerable when a human life was at stake.

When the patient was finally admitted into one of these hospitals, the local doctors necessarily had to make routine calls upon them. This, of course, was in addition to the demands weighing on the physician at his home office. The strain was taxing, to say the least.

Then, too, these relatives and friends wishing to visit the sick were subjected to added expense and inconvenience.

Tecumseh's population was increasing noticeably, making it evident that more people would be needing hospital care. These people should be treated in their own community.

It was apparent. Tecumseh needed a medical institution of its own!

But we are getting a bit ahead of our story. Let us regress to the year 1934, when a group of men from Hillsdale brought a manufacturing company to our locality. The Brewer building, formerly used for making clay working machinery, was chosen as the site for the Tecumseh Products Company. Before the manufacturing of refrigeration units could be realized, the factory had to be adapted to the new industry. Men and women alike offered their minds, hands, and purses to this task. In a period of three years the Products was a going concern.

Meanwhile Mr. Herrick, president of the Products, and his close friend Dr. H. H. Hammel, prominent local physician-surgeon, frequently spoke together of the community's needs. Dr. Hammel, who at one time had considered buying a large old home in Tecumseh to be made into a private hospital, strongly advocated the building of a small efficient hospital.

Because Mr. Herrick felt so deeply indebted to the people of Tecumseh for the faith they had in his industry and for their unparalleled assistance in repairing the Brewer building, he inaugurated the plan for building a local hospital unit.

One August morning in 1937, Mr. Herrick called twenty-two citizens into his office. A heterogeneous group it was, composed of both known progressives and known conservatives. Mr. Herrick revealed the need for Tecumseh's having a modern well-equipped hospital. The idea was most favorably received but a few questioned the advisability of undertaking such a costly project.

It was estimated that the building proper would cost about $24,000 and the equipment about $14,000, making a total capital outlay of $38,000. The Tecumseh Products Company pledged $20,000 to the proposal, $4,000 was pledged by interested citizens, leaving only $10,000 to be raised by the community. With a start like that, even the most skeptical conservatives were envisioning the dream as a reality.

The group adjourned but eagerly anticipated the next meeting when definite action would ensue.

Next week: The Organization of the Tecumseh Hospital Association.

Letter To Editor

February 2, 1955

Dear Editor:

Thank you for your kind comments in your recent letter concerning the Religion In American Life (RIAL) program and for sending us tear sheets with the RIAL advertisements. It comes as real encouragement, indeed, to hear from so many newspapers across the country of their participation in this national campaign.

This fine support provided through THE TECUMSEH HERALD will produce, I am sure, real and lasting benefits for the local religious groups of the area served by your newspaper.

On behalf of our Board of Directors, I would like to extend our sincere appreciation for the splendid spirit of cooperation evident in the contribution of THE TECUMSEH HERALD.

Sincerely yours,

Christian Science Services Listed

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Soul" a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as one of the symptoms for God. The Bible selections include: "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them (Matthew 15:30).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

ONE MORNING THE car wouldn't start. This lack of cooperation on the part of a machine that provides our daily transportation made necessary a walk in the sun. And what a walk it was. You could hear the crunch of the glistening snow and the crispness of the winter air was the type that clears the head for sharp thinking. So on the way to work I thought of what makes small community newspapering more worth while and interesting than large city newspapering.

From what I saw it seemed that it all could be summed up with the word "first-liness."

Crunching past the Sash & Door I was held up by two highway men Frankie Kruger and his friend . . . but they were fought off and the gold was saved . . . A city truck driver went by, waving a large paw . . . A friendly wave from Clarence Keller, peeking out of Freez-It . . . Past Johnnie Hamilton who gave a cheery good morning as he swished gas in a car's tank . . . A brief chat with a lady behind the cage at the post office . . . Received a friendly wag of the tail from Charlie Seitz's dog, proving that even the dogs in Tecumseh are friendly . . Past Des Ermia's to earn a wave from Cora Plaus and Hugh Des Ermia . . . Meeting Patrolman Bob Vallie who asked "What's New?" and the proverbial intelligent answer "nothing." . . . Getting a warm wave of the clippers from Vic Lawton in Henkel's barbershop as Rhae read the morning papers to keep up on world news . . . An unidentified lady in a car tooted by and waved, probably admiring my red Christmas vest . . . As usual Earl Roe at Garno's Barbershop gave a warm wave . . . And young Louie Schneider, coming up the alley, wagged a hand . . . And the walk was over proving two things: Tecumseh is a friendly town and car batteries should go dead more often so more folks would have to walk and have the time to enjoy this friendliness.

WILLIS SMITH, 67, HAS taken the HERALD for more than 50 years. Dropping in to resubscribe he said "I can't stand to miss my paper and when I do I really raise the dickens."

VICTOR SPAFFORD, another young chap who is now 79, left Tecumseh 61 years ago. But he still comes back here by bus from Detroit to see how the little old town is doing. His grandfather worked on the HERALD as a printer when George Stacy was publisher. Vic used to live in the building that now houses the city offices. He remembers Leon Rosecrans and our "Is That So?" authoress.

Pontiac Safari, New Custom Station Wagon

Pontiac's Safari, the sensational new Star Chief Custom station wagon, combines the luxury of a fine passenger car with the utility of a station wagon. The two-door car, whose unique styling innovations and ultra-modern streamlining are featured in this rear view, is only 59 inches high. The Safari was introduced at the General Motors Motorama in New York. Its customized interior is finished in hand-buffed leather which matches the exterior body colors. Pontiac is putting the car into production immediately.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

One of the always amazing facts of this world is the way inanimate objects persist long after their human contemporaries. Great grandfather's cane stands in the corner, its crook worn smooth by a hand that is no longer even a memory, and here beside the typewriter is a heavily black lined newspaper—a little yellow and dog-eared but perfectly legible—which was printed on the day Abraham Lincoln died.

Probably no man's memory has been kept alive more vividly than Mr. Lincoln's; yet to all except a tiny handful of the very old and in spite of his legion of biographers, he is now only a legendary figure, while this copy of the New York Herald which carries the story of his death is exactly as it came off the press, April 15, 1865.

The Herald was just a four page weekly then and, studying it, one can almost feel the upheaval of its orderly routine caused by the stupendous news. Its one little front page carries what would now be dozens of extras. The equivalent of two modern banner headlines are each confined to one column with subheads reaching half way down the paper. One begins "Important—Assassination of President Lincoln" and another, evidently set up later "Latest—Extra—8:10 a. m.—Death of the President."

In each case the heads are followed by an official bulletin signed by Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War. His signature adds an ironical touch as Stanton was the president's arch political enemy. Even the paper emphasizes this in the description of the death bed scene; ". . . surrounded by his cabinet ministers all of whom were bathed in tears, not even excepting Mr. Stanton."

Besides the almost familiar details of the assassination, which no longer seem very real to us, is also the story of the simultaneous attempt on the life of Secretary of State Seward. Somehow the space given to this almost forgotten part of what was really a conspiracy makes it all very vivid. Both assailants shouted the same phrase "Sic Semper Tyrannis" and Stanton's second bulletin says, "It is now ascertained with reasonable certainty that two assassins were engaged in the horrible crime, Wilkes Booth being the one that shot the president and the other an accomplice whose name is unknown."

Solid columns of tiny print contain other stories of current news and their headlines bring a further feeling of unreality. "Jeff. Davis at Danville; His latest appeal to his deluded followers." "Grant; The execution of the details of the surrender." "Sherman; His army is moving." To us these things are history and yet on these pages they are spot news.

The paper is the property of Mrs. Raymond Mills, who kindly loaned it for this week when we honor the memory of the man, the story of whose tragic death makes its headlines.

Only Car at its Price*...
So Smart! So Big! So Powerful!

Whatever you want most in a car—beauty, size or performance—you get it in extra measure in a Pontiac. In fact, when you choose Pontiac the decision comes very easily—because Pontiac alone, at its price, gives you everything!

For example, take Pontiac's distinctive smartness. Certainly there is no question on this point. Pontiac is the one car that stands apart from all the others.

If it's size and big-car sure-footedness you want—Pontiac's your car! Pontiac's long wheelbase—124 inches in the Star Chief, shown here, and 122 inches in the 860 and 870 series—is the plus wheelbase that provides the roominess, the comfort, the satisfying road-hugging security that only a big car can supply.

As for performance—once you get behind the wheel you have all the proof you need that Pontiac is way ahead in this department, too. Pontiac's spectacular performance starts with the most modern engine of all—the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8—specifically designed for Pontiac's all-new chassis to give you balanced performance. That means smooth, eager getaway in traffic; power to spare on the open road; and even more of Pontiac's traditional economy, dependability and long life.

All this adds up to a wonderful car and—with Pontiac's remarkably low price tag—a very wonderful buy. Come in soon and talk dollars and cents. If you're in the market for any new car, you'll discover you can easily afford all the pride and pleasure of a big, powerful, luxury-loaded Pontiac.

The Silver Lining

GLENN HAMMEL, THE Kalamazoo police officer who spoke to the PTA and IOOF here recently, remembers his grandfather. Glenn, a cousin of the late Dr. H. H. Hammel, said he used to milk the cows on the Van Buren County farm and his grandpappy, a stern-looking man with lots of whiskers and a eatin'-tobacey man from way back watched the milking operation with jaundiced eye. If grandpappy didn't think the kids were jerking the milk fast enough he would let loose an explosive jet of tobacey juice and hit the offending slow milker smack dab on his bare toes.

HIS REMARKS CARRIED ME back some 30-odd years when another man, a stern but kindly God-fearing man who neither chewed, smoked nor cursed, used to squirt the milk on a direct beam from the cow to our waiting mouths as we kids clustered in the little barn on our five-acre patch of Hillsdale County soil. Watching my dad do this at 10 paces and more with unerring accuracy—he could also aim true at the cat's mouth—was one of the most thrilling experiences that I remember.

SATURDAY MORNING I should have been at the office earlier but I was detained by a bluejay. Now I know this is a heck of an excuse to use for tardiness but it was the truth. This bluejay was the first of his tribe to use our bird-feeding station right in front window. He had been seen on the back station many times but Saturday was the first time for his brazen act of using the "public" station. Like an engineer using a jack hammer on concrete, the old boy went to work on the hard bacon fat and drilled out huge chunks. He stayed there for some time taking on a supply that will help to keep him warm; and no other bird horned in. When the majestic bluejay eats, he eats alone.

NEIGHBORS BILL AND Faye Jean Brown saw a robin on their garage Monday. They were having their morning coffee when they saw him. Seems like they should have invited this wonderful harbinger of Spring in for a cup of warm coffee.

HAVE YOU OFTEN BEEN amazed at the materials and tools carried in a woman's purse? Some of these purses resemble a suit case more than they do a purse and some of them are even larger than a suit case. The purse situation was summed up sharply by Farm Journal which wrote: "If a man reaches into a hat and pulls out a rabbit, it's magic. If a woman reaches into her handbag for a door key and pulls out a door key, it's a miracle."

This tribute to Mrs. R. S. Moore, written in 1935 by Mrs. W. D. Reed, was read by Mrs. Hoyt Whelan at Mrs. Moore's services last week:

"Dedicated to Mrs. Grace Moore,
One of Tecumseh's most public spirited women citizens—"
"She loves the earth!
Faithful she is to God, and not unmindful
of fair Heaven's worth—
But streets of Paradise may still be trod
When one has found the end of pathways here.
And so she lives a busy, active life
And clings to all the sweet ephemeral things
That she has found most dear—
The flowers she grows in early spring—
Some fine old lace — the songs she sings—
Her home — The joy that friendship brings—
The eyes of small grandchildren, shining clear.
She does not live in vanished times,—
She will not let her heart be wrung by dreams of years when she was young.
We see her in the church and club and every enterprise for public good.
She loves a box of sweets — a gay bouquet,
Her friends around her on a holiday—
She makes the years a cloak to wear
Across one shoulder with a saucy air—
God bless — and keep her long
Upon this earth so fair."

Grade School News

Patterson—Kindergarten
Mrs. Updike

One day after we learned a new snowflake song, we changed our lolly-pop tree into a snowflake tree. We had a good time making every snowflake look different, just as they really do when we see them on our mittens.

Forty of us know our house numbers, the name of our street and our telephone numbers. We have two new stories that we made up. One is about our neighbor, Toni, the Pony. The other one is about the things we do to help mother. Most of us can find the left side of the story and we know that our eyes start at the top and go across to the right side.

Our kindergarten workbooks are wonderful and we are working very hard on them. We like to take the page home with us when we have done our best work on them.

Kathleen Hall brought us three new fish for our aquarium. We like to have the light on so we can watch our fish and snails.

We have five new matching games. They are fun to do and we know that it is helping to be first grade children when it is time. Mrs. Updike thinks that many of us act like first graders now.

Patterson—Grade One
Mrs. Buttolph

This has been a very busy month. The first thing we had to do when we got back to school after Christmas vacation was to hurry and get a display in the large case in the hall. We chose to show what we like to do to have fun in the winter. Some of us showed ourselves skating on a silver pond. The pond was made of aluminum paint. Others chose to show ourselves making snowmen. We used cotton for the snowmen and gave them each a mouth, made of buttons. Each wore a bright scarf. Of course some of us showed ourselves on our sleds. For snow we used mica. To make our sign pretty we used glitter.

We now have our room decorated with large valentine children and stuffed toys carrying valentine messages.

Lee Selders was fortunate and spent his Christmas vacation in Florida. He brought back many nice things to show us. Patty Kreps is now spending a few days in Florida, too. We hope she has a nice time.

We are glad to have Virginia Smock back with us again. Those celebrating birthdays this month were Carol Ann Mathews and Patty Morris. Their mothers each brought treats to share with us.

We really surprised Mrs. Buttolph on her birthday. Mrs. Garlick played a trick on her and got her out of the room. While she was gone Mrs. Kennel and Mrs. Hollar brought in ice cream and cup cakes. When she came back we were all singing Happy Birthday and ready to eat.

Central—Kindergarten
Mrs. Preston

All of us were so happy to get back to school after Christmas vacation and see all our friends. Our room looked like a toy store as each of us brought a favorite Christmas toy with us.

It is hard to tell you news of our room. We would prefer to show you all the things which we can do.

We have so much fun with our "Name" game. Each of us has our name on a card and everyone of us can find his name, no matter how you mix them up. Our teacher puts up a card that starts someone's name and quick as a wink we know if our name can go up on the pocket chart.

Now that we have real work books we do feel so grown up and they are so much fun. When we finish a page we take it home —that's one paper that never gets lost on the way.

The big day arrived! We had our first report cards to take home. It was on the same day our big brothers and sisters took theirs home too. As one child put it, "Well!! About time. Now they'll know I've been to school."

Central—Grade One
Mrs. Schwartz

We have finished the first unit in our primers, "Fun with Dick and Jane." The stories were about fun that Sally had with her family. We are also reading in Guess Who and Happy Days with our Friends.

Billy Hadley sent us a card from Florida. He wrote it himself. He went down there for a month's vacation.

We have a new girl, Rayanna White, who came to us from West Branch.

Central—Grade One
Mrs. VanValkenburg

We are happy that we have finished half of our work for the first grade. We are looking forward to being big second graders next fall. Counting, writing, and recognizing numbers have become quite easy for us now.

The "Busy Bees" class has finished reading Guess Who and have started reading Fun with Dick and Jane. The "Stars" class has only a few days left to read in Guess Who.

We are looking forward to our Valentine Party.

West Branch—Grade One
Miss Steinhoff

The first grade at West Branch wishes to say "Hello" to the newspaper readers. It has been quite a long time since we last talked to you.

We have been very busy reading Fun with Dick and Jane. Some of us are more than half done with this book. Our story friends, Dick and Jane, have just returned to the city. In numbers we have learned to count and write by 2's from 2 to 10. We are enjoying our reading and numbers very much.

Most of us have learned our consonant sounds and now we are working on the vowels.

Many of us have been ill with the chicken pox and Linda Brazee, David Phillips, Norma Sisty, and Keith Schmidt are still ill.

After Christmas we received two new pupils: Archie Gillman, from Hudson and Fred Hammack from Monroe. Rayanna White left us and is again at Central School.

On January 13, some of our mothers came to P.T.A. and saw a very good picture entitled "Outstate Michigan" which was shown by Mr. Edward Beal.

Central—Grade One
Mrs. Neitling

Most of us are happy to be back at school after a nice Christmas.

The Indians, Eagles and Jets are reading in Fun with Dick and Jane. The Redbirds are going to begin reading in Guess Who next week.

We are very proud that our Nancy Marsh received a prize for being the most courteous little girl to go to caefteria first semester.

Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Forester visited us Tuesday morning.

Many boys and girls in our room can spell and write about fifty words now.

We are writing stories of our very own now. We wrote stories about Sally's pets and read them to the rest of our class.

We now have thirty-five children in our room. Judy Cardewell and Donald Jackson are new. They came from Taladega, Alabama.

We are just beginning our second Talk, Spell, and Write books. They look very interesting.

We are reading Happy Days. It teaches us about health and safety.

Brownville—Kindergarten
Miss Bugbee

We are busy as bees in our room. This month we have been learning about the Eskimos, making snowmen and snowflakes, learning winter rhymes and songs. One of our favorites is "Frosty."

We have some new rhythm instruments which we are enjoying very much. We like to take our turn at directing the band.

Most of us can write our names in manuscript now. It is more fun to be able to label our own papers. We like to recognize each others names too.

For conversation time we are playing "Pretend Teacher." We like to play this and call on different boys and girls. This game also helps us in numbers.

We feel like we are really growing up. We each have a new workbook called "Kindograph." We are taking home our first report cards.

Several of our mothers went to school one afternoon instead of us. We were happy to have them so and find out about our many activities.

Valerie Barrett's mother brought a treat for us on her birthday. Kenneth Cosby also has a birthday in January. Mark Deaner's mother surprised us one afternoon by bringing us a treat. Mark's birthday was in December, but he was in the hospital at that time.

Patty Wilson has joined our afternoon group, and Carolyn Burchett the morning group. We are happy to have them with us.

We have had several visitors this month—Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Fergus, Mrs. Deaner, Mrs. Lemer and, Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. Collingsworth, Mrs. Goodman and Jimmy's grandmother, Mrs. Dan Goodman.

TURN TO THE CLASSIFIED

When it comes to Protection ...it pays to have the BEST

Adequate rain gear can keep you from getting soaked — but it's no good unless you have it with you when the heavens open.

Dependable Insurance is like that, too. It's one thing you can't get when you need it most. After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to buy better insurance if the policy you have proves unsatisfactory.

So don't gamble with "cheap" insurance. Buy only the BEST — and buy it today.

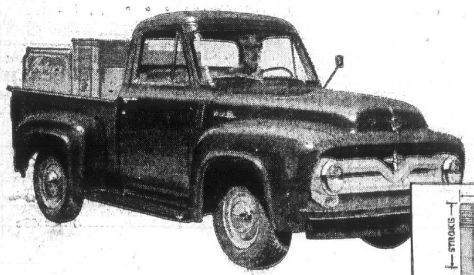
ASK THE MAN

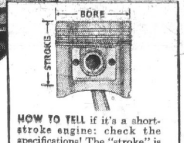
TO OPEN THE HOOD!

Ask: "Does this truck have a modern Short-Stroke V-8 engine?"



Ford's got the most modern short-stroke SIX too! Ford's 116-h.p. Cost Clipper Six has the shortest piston stroke of any Truck Six! It's available in this new Ford Pickup, GVW 5,000 lbs., and all Ford Trucks through "2-ton" Series.

THIS YEAR the truck industry is beginning to follow Ford's lead to modern short-stroke V-8's. They last longer—prolong ring life up to 53%! Save up to one gallon of gas in seven! But ONLY FORD has four V-8's . . . one for every size truck in a full line . . . available right now!



HOW TO TELL if it's a short-stroke engine: check the specifications! The "stroke" is always as short as, or shorter than the "bore."

Modern short-stroke V-8's are beginning to take over in trucks—just as they've already done in passenger cars. Today, virtually every passenger car offers short-stroke V-8 power. Before too long, the same will be true of trucks. So, if you buy a truck with a long-stroke Six today that's not being built tomorrow, what will happen to its ultimate trade-in value? Play it safe! Don't settle for anything less than a modern short-stroke engine!

We have 'em NOW! Ford Triple Economy Trucks

Record Rotary Crowd Hears

Americans Have Lost Their Sense Of Direction

Too many Americans don't know where they are going. They have lost their sense of direction because they have lost their ability to think.

This was the charge brought by Cameron Ralston in his speech "A Scotchman Looks at America" before Rotarians, Rotary Anns and guests in the Legion Home Tuesday night.

Speaking before more than 200 which represented the largest crowd ever to attend a Rotary Ann night here, Mr. Ralston, special consultant to the anthracite industry of the United States, said too many Americans have their minds controlled by propagandists.

Introduced by LeRoy Titley, Rotary Club president, he said "I don't fear any Red attack or invasion but I do fear the decadence of Democracy from within."

"America," he continued, "has the greatest material acquisition and technological knowhow in the world but have we emptied our penitentiaries, reformatories and mental hospitals? Have we cut crime and corruption?"

Then, causes of a creeping decadence were listed by Mr. Ralston; an unprecendented lack of attention to authority, an invisible curtain of hatred has grown up in America; too many Americans have a tremendous aversion to work; Americans have a constant pressure for pleasure; and the substitution of the material for the spiritual.

But Mr. Ralston thinks Americans and America can be "saved." His three landmarks to save Democracy are: the application of the 10 commandments; the application of the Golden Rule; and a re-study and a re-application of the Constitution of the United States.

After his talk, Mr. Ralston was given a standing ovation.

After the Rev. Cecil Dickin, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, pronounced the invocation, Rotarians and guests heard the Harmonettes of Clinton, sing; then R. H. Moore, Glenn Driscoll and Chuck Butler led group singing which was

Tecumseh And Britton Get More Road Funds

Net receipts of the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the fourth quarter of 1954 amounted to $29,700,924.55, and this money is now being distributed to the State Highway Department, counties, cities and incorporated villages of the state, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

Net receipts of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the fourth quarter of 1953 were $27,084,596.71, representing an increase of $2,616,327.84 for the fourth quarter this year compared to the same period a year ago.

This makes a total of $142,939,943.92 in motor vehicle highway fund receipts for the year 1954, compared to $138,974,042.54 collected in 1953, an increase of $3,965,901.38.

All state gasoline and weight taxes, the Diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, which was created in 1951.

After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44 per cent to the State Highway Department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for expenditure on county roads, and 19 per cent to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under the above distribution formula, the State Highway Department will receive $13,068,406.80 as its share of the fourth quarter of 1954 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections; the counties' share is $10,969,342.08 and the cities and incorporated villages share in $5,643,175.67.

Tecumseh gets $7,124.07 and Britton gets $815.44.

"BIGGIE" MUNN

MSC Alumni Banquet Scheduled Wednesday

Michigan State College Alumni of Lenawee County will hold their annual banquet in the American Legion home at Blissfield Wednesday night, Feb. 23, at 6:30 p.m., reports Robert Ries, county president.

The general public is invited. Reservations for the dinner must be made to Mrs. William Uckele of Blissfield before next Saturday.

The program of the banquet will center around the Founder's Day theme in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Michigan State College Feb. 12, 1855.

Clarence L. ("Biggie") Munn, former football coach of the Spartans and now athletic director of the East Lansing College, will be principal speaker.

Mr. Munn, a coach for 22 years, directed the Spartans when they won the national title in 1952.

Before he became athletic director at MSC in 1954, his teams had a record of 71 wins, 16 losses and three ties: In his seven years as Spartan coach his teams won 54, lost nine and tied two.

Other guests will be Sonny Grandelius, 1950 All-American back, who was recently promoted to backfield coach at MSC; Marcus Cisco, former Morenci star who is a freshman at MSC; football coaches and senior football players from Lenawee County high schools.

Local Police Cooperate In Driver Licensing Education

Chief George Kilbourn today announced that the Tecumseh Police Department is cooperating with the Michigan State Safety Commission, under the leadership of the Department of State, in a state-wide public education program on driver licensing.

According to Chief Kilbourn, the new driver license examination for beginning drivers recently put into effect is much more comprehensive than the previous one and is far better measure of a person's ability to drive safely. He urged all new applicants for a driver's license to study harder on the Michigan Traffic Law and safe driving practices, and to practice more on their driving before taking the road test.

"Traffic authorities are determined to be doubly sure that persons awarded the privilege of driving are able to demonstrate this ability by passing a more thorough examination. Many motorists who do not prepare for it carefully will fail this test on the first try, but those who pass the test will have the feeling they have earned the privilege of driving," the chief continued.

Chief Kilbourn pointed out that passing the driver's license examination and obtaining a license merely launches the beginning motorist on his driving career. He emphasized the fact that the motorist must continually prove his right to retain this privilege by obeying traffic laws. If he causes a traffic accident or commits serious hazardous moving violations he will have his license suspended. Only in that way can the state protect other drivers on the highway.

The Chief called upon all motorists to cooperate in living up to the obligations of their licenses.

"Remember, he said, "last year 23,164 Michigan motorists had their licenses suspended or revoked."

Music Club Hears Teacher, Accepts Library

Music from 1850 to 1900 was the subject ably discussed and illustrated by Miss Marcelle Gillespie Tuesday evening at the Feb. meeting of the Music Club.

It was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Westgate with 17 members in attendance.

Miss Gillespie sketched the lives and work of Brahms, Schuman, Wagner and Tschaikovsky, playing records of parts of their more notable compositions. She played "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell, as a piano solo and sang two selections from Schuman.

The club voted to break their affiliation with the State Federation of Music Clubs with which they have been associated since their organization.

They also made plans for the acceptance and use of the musical library of the late Mrs. R. S. Moore which Mrs. Moore willed to the club. This is an extensive collection of reference works, books and sheet music, and is to be kept at the public library under the supervision of the club.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Murray Day, Mrs. Herbert Dillon, Mrs. W. G. Waldron, Miss Edith Ingersoll and Mrs. Kennard Wise was appointed to sort and tabulate the collection.

Mrs. Westgate and her associate hostesses, Mrs. Kennard Wise and Mrs. James Dasnforth served refreshments after the program.

In March the group will meet with Mrs. Perry Hayden and the program will be provided by the junior music group, known as the "Fiddlesticks Club."

Patriotism Has Its Beginning In Good Home

Patriotic love doesn't come ready made. It's something that we build slowly over the years, starting with childhood, says Dr. Elmer Knowles, parent education specialist at Michigan State College.

He explains that learning to love one's country is a chain reaction. He says a person will first love his country if he doesn't love his state. And in turn that person will not love his state if he doesn't love his community, his home and his parents.

So in this chain reaction of loving one's country enough to fight and if necessary give one's life for it, all the links in chain are important. But, says Dr. Knowles, the beginning link is for parents to love each other. This is the parents' foundation "on which they base the love for their children. If children are loved, they will feel secure.

Parents must also respect their children as a reflection of their love. Then the children will develop self respect. A child should also be helped or disciplined so he will learn to develop his abilities. Dr. Knowles feels it is important to praise a child for what he does and what he is. From this praise a child will develop his own set of values—values about himself as a person, about parents, teachers, friends, his neighborhood, his state and finally his country.

Dr. Knowles sums it up this way. Whether a child reaches adulthood as a worthwhile citizen depends on whether he is loved and learns to love his fellow men.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

(The first of a series of articles regarding the so called "Indian Dancing Ground.")

The subject of the "Indian Dancing Ground" came up in a discussion of points of local historic interest to be visited on a projected Boy Scout hike. Indian lore has a unique fascination for boys of course, yet even for them, it would require a lot of imagination to inject much interest into an acre or so of weeds and undergrowth. For only weeds and undergrowth now cover a spot once held in awed reverence by the Indians and whose beauty even some of the white settlers found "strangely attractive."

The words Dancing Ground evoke a picture of whooping savages, circling a campfire to the rhythm of pulsing war drums. No name could be less correct. Early historians used the title, Council Grounds, which was probably more exact although even this does not seem to cover the original use of the place. For, while the term Indian is correct in this section, the archeologists and anthropologists, tell us that these earth formations, (the so called dancing grounds) found beside the Raisin by our early settlers—and ruthlessly destroyed—were constructed long before the memory of the "modern Indian." As early, probably, as 1000 A.D. Almost five centuries before Columbus.

Basing their opinion on the meager — but dependable — descriptions left by a few of the more discerning white men, they are convinced that here was one of the most northern outposts of the "Hopewell" culture, that civilization (commonly lumped together under the term Mound Builders) which reached one of its high points in southern Ohio. Earth works, frequently in the form of squares and circles, and always built beside running water are one characteristic of these pre-historic Indians and a square and a circle, close beside the Raisin, are vividly described by the four men who have recorded their early memories of this spot.

Those who have visited in the vicinity of Norwalk, Ohio, have seen those huge rounded embankments which there seem to go on for miles along the river and which are the work of the Hopewells. The long destroyed formations by the Raisin were, of course, small in comparison but both, according to the authorities, were probably built because of some religious significance. Neither were adequate as fortifications and no other explanation has ever been advanced. There was no comparison between the culture of the Hopewells and the more backward, modern Indian. They were skilled in many arts, including the use of copper, which they are known to have mined in northern Michigan.

Not being held down by the rules binding more exact historians, it is fascinating to speculate whether the land we now think of as our town may not have been a way station on the route from their Ohio center to those mines. Our early settlers followed, from Lake Erie, a section of an Indian trail leading to the northern lakes. They walked in the footsteps of the Pottawatamies, Shawnees and their Algonquin cousins. Had these, in turn, been following for centuries a path laid down by their aboriginal predecessors, the Hopewells? In other words did M-50 exist before Columbus?

Oh, well it is fun to dream.

COMFORT EXTENSION

The Comfort Extension Club will entertain all the women of their neighborhood at a "Get Acquainted" party Monday evening, Feb. 21 at the Centennial schoolhouse. Many new families have moved into the area and the ladies of the club hope all will accept the invitation to meet their neighbors afforded by this party. Mrs. Leonard Lewis will be the hostess of the evening, but she will be assisted by every member of the organization. The party starts at 7:30 p.m. The officers request that those members who have not brought in their reports of previous lesson meetings bring them Monday. Wednesday evening the Comfort Club was entertained by the newly organized extension group called the "Round the Block" club at the Holloway church.

The time will come, and soon I hope, when Brotherhood Week will be a reminder, not of the presence of discrimination in our midst, but of its eradication.

Valentine Tea Attended By 75

An audience participation show of the Art Linkletter variety provided hilarious entertainment for the 75 who attended the annual Valentine Tea of the Westminster League in the Presbyterian Fellowship Center last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. James Barton, in the role of "Tart Kinkletter" interviewed members of the audience and delved into the purse of Mrs. F. C. Dickinson. A surprise interview with a little old maid from "down on the Ridge Road," a part ably played by Mrs. Wellington Wotring, added to the amusement as did the "kiddies" interviewed. They were Mrs. Frederick Dickinson, Mrs. Charles Clark and Mrs. John Snyder, all of whom responded with the usual antics.

The origin of St. Valentine's Day was explained by Miss Edith Ingersoll in a supposedly spontaneous speech and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz sang "The Naughty Lady of Shady Lane" to her daughter Nancy, who charmed the listeners by sitting nonchalantly in her bassinette and chewing her fists.

A trio with the intriguing name of the "Quagmire Sisters" sang two numbers, "Whispering" and "Winter Wonderland." The latter proved to be a weather forecast for when the guests left it was just that outdoors—a winter wonderland. The trio was Mrs. Fred Oberlin, Mrs. Charles O'Neill and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and they like the other musical numbers were accompanied by Mrs. Robert Warren.

"Two Boys from the Hills, Luke and Like" added the final touch of hilarity to the afternoon. Skip O'Neill and Phil Surratt had their audience in tears of laughter with their songs and dialogue. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Miss Edith Ingersoll and Mrs. Jennie Satterlee and the singing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by the group closed the afternoon's program.

Four lovely cakes were awarded as door prizes, the lucky winners being Mrs. Stanley Kruse, Mrs. Max Smith, Mrs. John Snow and Mrs. Hoyt Whelan. Dainty refreshments served to the guests before the program and the valentine decorations were the work of the general committee, consisting of Mrs. Byron Goodman, Mrs. Charles Stephenson, Mrs. Gerald Baker, Mrs. Fred Oberlin and Mrs. Albert Williams.

A nursery was conducted for the occasion by Mrs. Roger Linger with 15 little folks in attendance.

Art Display Makes Kids Doubly Proud

Your children are proud of their accomplishments in their art class at school. But they will be doubly proud if their parents show an interest in their creations.

Marion Beveridge, staff member in related arts at Michigan State College, believes it is important that parents display their children's art work. She says it gives them a feeling of importance in the family. Then, too, children's art is held in high esteem because it is fresh and uninhibited. A child is not hedged in with conventions as are many adults, and often he shows a refreshing approach to old ideas.

Mrs. Beveridge suggests several ways to use child art in the home. Perhaps you will want to make place mats for the breakfast table. Place a finger painting of your pre-schooler between two transparent plastic place mats. They can be held together with colorful masking tape. Because the tape can easily be removed the drawings can be changed from time to time.

Another suggestion is to group several drawings together on a large mat such as grass cloth. The whole arrangement could be hung on the wall in the children's bedroom. Or maybe you will want to post the art work on the kitchen bulletin board. You may even want to put it under the glass on the coffee table or living room desk.

No matter where it is put, your children will be happy to see you take an interest in their art work, asserts Mrs. Beveridge.

Christian Science Services Listed

God's infinitely wise and intelligent government of the universe, including man, will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" is the Golden Text from James (1:5): "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Proverbs (3:13): "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding."

CLARENCE GILMORE HONORED SATURDAY

A family dinner party of unusual interest was held Saturday honoring Clarence Gilmore at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clark of Manchester.

Mr. Gilmore, who has made his home with the Clarks since his recent illness, will leave Monday for Eustis, Florida for his tenth Florida winter.

Dinner guests were Mr. Gilmore's five brothers and sisters, Mrs. Alta Boyce of Tecumseh, Miss Julia and Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway, Frank Gilmore of Parma and Ray Gilmore of Macon.

The six brothers and sisters, whose ages now range from 75 to 85, were all born on the Macon farm on Welch road, which has been in the family since 1867. It is now being worked by a member of the third generation, Herbert Gilmore, who is a son of Ray. Their parents were James and Julia Bradley Gilmore.

State, Local Health Depts. Get Ready For Salk Vaccine

If the Salk vacinne proves effective in preventing paralytic polio, the Michigan Department of Health and local health departments throughout the state should be ready to distribute the vaccine to physicians and schools, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, reports.

Addressing the opening session of the Sixth Annual Commissioner's Conference for local health officers, Dr. Heustis urged the health officers to begin planning at once for distribution of the Salk vaccine if and when the vaccine is approved for distribution in Michigan.

The work in determining the effectiveness of the Salk antipolio vaccine is centered in the Polio Vaccine Evaluation Center at the University of Michigan. A report on the vaccine is expected by April.

Millions of preliminary reports from health departments, laboratories, physicians, physio-therapists, and other specialists have been involved in studying the 650,000 first, second, and third grade children who were inoculated in the Salk vaccine trials.

Dr. Heustis said that if approved and licensed, the Salk vaccine will be made available to local health departments for use by physicians in public, private, and parochial schools. The vaccine also will be available commercially, he indicated.

The state health commissioner suggested that local health officers work closely with physicians, community groups, school officials, and the local chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in mapping out the best plans for using the Salk vaccine.

In other parts of his address to local health officers, Dr. Heustis discussed the dominant role played by local health departments in carrying out Michigan's public health programs in such areas as tuberculosis, chronic disease, mental health, and hospital care.

Clemens, Mrs. Harold (Muriel) Ruesink of Adrian, and Mrs. Luther (Wilma) Day of Jonesville; one son, H. G. Bunn of Little Rock, Ark.; nine grandchildren; nine great grandchildren and one brother, John McCaughan of Tecumseh.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

A LOT OF DRIVEL COMES into a newspaper office through the mails every day. Our waste baskets are emptied as many as six times daily to keep the office from being flooded with what is for the most part just plain junk disguised as news. Every so-called public relations department in the country tries to get their messages into the paper. Once in a blue moon (if we think the item is newsworthy and the advertising is left out) we may use the material as "filler" to keep the ads apart. The following example is used because the sender—Poultry and Egg National Board—certainly must get an "A" for effort. Read this direct quote and you will see why:

"The turkey industry of the United States suggests that it will be 'altogether fitting and proper' to serve turkey spelled t-i-r-k-e-e on Lincoln's birthday.

"The industry approves this misspelling for one day because of historical evidence that Abraham Lincoln, as a boy, had difficulty spelling turkey correctly. Often as not he wrote tirkee, historians say."

The blurb goes on to point out that turkey is a right smart type of foul that can be used every day. Then it offers reams of recipes to prove its point. Associating turkey or "tirkee" with the great emancipator should really make the paper so it's here.

WRITING OF TURKEY and noticing the turkey sandwiches listed in the recipes reminds me that Yale Kerby last Tuesday quietly observed his 15th year as a Tecumseh business man. Happy 15th anniversary to the eatery.

COUNCILMEN GET A lot of strange requests but the strangest came at a recent meeting when a chap wondered what could be done about getting a street lamp that had gone kaput replaced. He said he did not like the jangle of an alarm clock (who in the world does?) so he always relied on his wrist watch to check the time early in the morning. But the street light was out one night and he could not read his watch so he took a long guess and laid back down for an additional 40 winks. The result was that for the first time in seven years he was late for work.

Councilmen had the right answer too. They referred him to Consumers Power whose job it is to see that street lights are lighted so fellows can get to work on time.

IN THE JAYCEES there is a classification known as exhausted rooster. This term applies to junior chamber of commerce members over the age limit of 36. Asked whether he was an exhausted rooster Fred Dickinson, Sr., said "No. I'm just exhausted." Fred was drafted by the club to star in the Beat Up Four, the barbershop quartet that will sing in the minstrel show. He's had a lot of practice too. He sang his first solo at 15 and he's been at this business of singing for half a century.

INCIDENTALLY, IF you want to have some good fun and hear some good old time songs and at the same time contribute to a most worthy cause take the family to the Jaycees' minstrel show at the Products Union Hall Friday or Saturday nights. You'll have yourself a real time and you will be helping to make a partial payment on smoke exhaust equipment for the fire department. A better combination for a buck hasn't appeared.

MRS. EDWARD ESCOLME has quite a photographic display on her piano. When a student in her Sunday School class graduates she gets the student's picture. The student graduates to the Rev. Escolme's class.

MR. AND MRS. RAYNOR Van Valkenburg had a fine basketball team and now they have a substitute to go with their five other sons. The new player, named Paul, after his mother Pauline, has joined David, Daniel, Stephen, Phillip and Joseph on the farm southwest of Tecumseh.

MRS. ART SCHWARTZ, wife of the councilman, sang "Naughty Lady of Shady Lane" at the Valentine tea of the Presbyterian Westminster League Thursday. And her baby Nancy, eight months old, who also attended didn't say a word while her mom was singing. But immediately after, Nancy let out a howl that must have been heard in Brighton, which proves that music is soothing. Because the Schwartz family lives on Shady Lane, Mrs. Schwartz dedicated the song to Miss Nancy.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Earl Wingate of Tecumseh and to his cows. Earl was one of the 400 club cited at Farmers' Week at MSC. His herd of cows have averaged 400 pounds of butterfat for the past five years.

ADD INTERESTING FLOWERS: Mrs. Vera Gilbert, 206 east Logan, has a sacred lily that is five feet, four inches tall. Mrs. Gilbert, a former school teacher, was given the lily by her neighbor Mrs. Arthur Petty who also grows them. From the jungles of India, the sacred lily grows to a length of 30 feet in its native habitat. Mrs. Gilbert put the bulb in water three weeks ago and now the lily has a flower 15 inches tall and nine inches wide. Ruffled on its edge, the flower is pale pink at the center to a dark maroon on the edge. Its pistil about eight inches from the base of the flower is dark maroon. The sacred lily is an interesting and pretty flower but it has a disagreeable odor.

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "The fellow that talks about what a fool he used to be certainly is an optimist."

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY means a lot to Dr. C. N. Brodersen who never forgets the importance of this day in his own life. Thirty-nine years ago on Lincoln's Birthday he came to the United States from his native Denmark. Twenty-five years ago on Lincoln's Birthday he graduated from Chiropractic College at Ft. Wayne, Indiana. And last Saturday on Lincoln's Birthday he drove his new Lincoln car for the first time to observe what Lincoln's Birthday has meant and means to him.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK—If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man. —Mark Twain followed by trouble shooters Al Merz and Glenn Kohler "fining" Rotarians on a number of "charges." The fine money was turned over to the Crippled Children's fund.

President Titley welcomed Rotary Anns and guests and each Rotarian introduced his Rotary Ann and guests.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore commented on Rotary's Golden Anniversary which is next Wednesday.

Tracing the history of the club, he told how Paul Harris moved from Racine, Wis., to Chicago in 1905 and how, because Mr. Harris was lonely, he started Rotary.

He and three other business men—a coal dealer, a mining engineer and a master taylor—met for a luncheon to discuss mutual problems. The day was Feb. 23, 1905. Out of this first meeting grew the fellowship of Rotary which today has 8300 clubs in 89 countries and 400,000 members.

He explained the mottos of Rotary "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best" and the four avenues of service which are club, vocational, community and international.

The Rev. Bashore cited Rotary's foundation which grants scholarships to foreign students each year as an outstanding way in which interational understanding has been created.

After singing "God Bless America," the meeting was adjourned.

The chicken dinner that preceded the program was served by men and women of the Methodist Church.

Liquid Protects Shoes From Salt On Streets

THE TIME of the tempests — rain, snow and sleet — and wet feet — is upon us. We can't do anything about the wet feet and we don't mean but we can do something about rubbers or overshoes.

There's a new silicone shoe protector on the market now that makes shoes water repellent. We are not advocating the overthrow of rubbers and galoshes — but it's nice to know shoes can be protected on those days we get caught in a storm.

What is even more important—to a woman—is the manufacturer's claim that the liquid protects shoes from calcium chloride. In other words, the salt used on sidewalks in winter will no longer ruin your shoes. Those white marks that won't come off can't get on, now.

The silicone shoe preserver is a colorless liquid applied with an applicator. It doesn't affect the appearance of the shoes but sinks into the leather to preserve it but it does not clog the pores of the leather.

The manufacturers also say the shoe preserver may be used on suede finish leathers as well as the regulation type.

The uses of the preserver are not confined to shoes. It also is good for leather handbags, gloves —anything made of leather.

The liquid must be allowed to dry at least six hours, then whatever type of polish you use on your leathers is applied and the article is preserved indfinitely.

The silicone liquid leather protector is $1 a bottle and is available at Bailey's Shoe Service, Tecumseh. (adv.)

Indians Return To League Play Friday

Tecumseh High School, after three straight non-league basketball games, returns to Southeastern League play Friday night in a home game with Airport Community.

Tecumseh, currently leading the league with a 4-1 record, has three league games yet to play. After the Airport game the Indians will face Monroe Catholic Central and Bedford in away games.

The Airport five is the only team that owns a league win over the Indians, dropping the Lawson men 59-54 Jan. 14 at Airport.

If the Indians can get past the Airport five Friday night they will have a better chance for the league title, although they will have to win at least two of the remaining games to be assured a piece of the crown.

However, if they can come up with three wins in a row they will own the title outright since three wins would give them a 7-1 record and all other four league teams already have lost two or more games.

The Southeastern League standings to date are:

It was the third League of the Lakes win for the Fighting Knights.

The Reserve Knights had an easier time yet, winning 71-19.

NO GHOST TOWNS

For hundreds of Michigan communities, motor vehicles are the sole means of transportation —autos and buses for passengers, trucks for freight. These communities are not served by any other transportation system!

Yes, wherever there are roads — and Michigan is known for its many miles of good highways — trucks can and do perform a vital service for the people, bringing them everything they eat, wear or use — swiftly, economically.

There are no ghost towns in Michigan. Folks in small, out-of-the-way communities are as well fed, well housed and well clothed as the people of Michigan's largest metropolitan centers — thanks to trucks.

Not a shift, but a switch of the pitch

And man! What that does for Dynaflow*!

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling on bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" in total sales.

This is for sure . . .
There's never been anything in your car-driving experience like the feel of Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — because there's never been anything like it in a car before.

In a modern plane, yes. For this is the principle of variable pitch propellers used on airplanes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for quick take-off—then change to another "pitch" for better gas mileage in cruising aloft.

Now you can do the same thing on the ground—in a 1955 Buick.

Twenty propeller blades are ingeniously engineered into the Dynaflow unit. They pivot—one way for a big boost in gas mileage while cruising—another way for brilliant new performance.

You switch the pitch for instantaneous acceleration just by pressing the pedal way down. Then it happens . . .

A build-up of momentum smooth as oil — and quick as a split second. Dazzling new response on getaway—or a spectacular burst of instant safety-surge power when you need it on a highway.

It's pure thrill—and a happy surprise in its far better gas mileage in cruising. Yet Variable Pitch Dynaflow costs not a penny more than earlier versions of this wonder drive

How about you trying it?

And look into the sizzling new horsepowers, the fresh new styling, the ever-level ride, the eye-opening low prices—all of which are making the 1955 Buick the hottest seller in all history. Come in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

20 Years of Progress

An item in the news of the past column this week shows that 20 years ago the Tecumseh Products had a payroll of $10,000 for 235 men.

During the past year the Products had a total payroll in excess of $19,000,000.

You don't have to be a mental wizard to see that the small company transplanted from Hillsdale in 1934 has enjoyed a tremendous growth.

And maybe you think Hillsdale would not like to have the Products back there. Talk to any merchant in the town or to those who earn their bread working in the shops. More than one of each will tell you "If only we had the Tecumseh Products back here."

Their comments stem from the fact that industry has been going down hill in Hillsdale. Many of the factories have pulled up stakes and left the Hillsdale County seat town.

This is the point of this little squib: consider how well off economically Tecumseh and its people are because of the growth of its largest industry.

MSC Begins 2nd 100 Years

"It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work . . ."—Lincoln

Feb. 12, 1855, Michigan State College was founded as the first agricultural college in the United States. Here was born a new philosophy of education, for a century ago higher institutions reserved their studies for doctors, lawyers, teachers and gentlemen. Here for the first time was a college dedicated not only to serve the more fortunate, but to serve all the people on the theory that knowledge means progress, and progress was meant for all.

In 1855 nearly 90 per cent of the frontier was engaged in some sort of agriculture, supplying the entire population with food, fiber and clothing. And it was a revolutionary idea indeed that these people, the pioneers who worked with the earth, should be given the privilege of higher education.

Michigan State College which gave this dream its first transformation from idea to reality was dedicated to this proposition and it began a bold and noble experiment which, in 1862, received great national recognition. It was in this year that President Abraham Lincoln signed the Morrill Act establishing a system of Land-Grant colleges and universities. The college in East Lansing was the image, the mother and father, from which this system emerged.

Had its sole accomplishment been to inspire that charter for the technical and scientific education of all people, then that alone would have been sufficient justification for the founding of Michigan State College, for this was one of the finest accomplishments of democracy in the "New World."

It was natural, therefore, that when Michigan State opened its centennial celebration last Saturday the people of Michigan took pride in this, the history of their institution and its accomplishments.

For today, as in the beginning, the college remains dedicated to serve all the people of the state, wherever they may be, whatever their profession. In 100 years the boundaries of the college and the state have been fused one and the same.

Through instruction on and off campus, through continued research and expanding public service, Michigan State stands today on the threshold of democracy, ready for the second 100 years, ready for greater effort and perhaps for greater achievement. With confidence and faith, it is building for the future of its people so that their life and their work might be easier, more meaningful and more satisfying within society.

It is a challenge to men now living and to generations yet unborn.

When the Franklins were transferred to Tecumseh they quickly concluded they should "rent for awhile." But they did not know about our SPECIAL program we have for quickly acquainting newcomers with all the things they should know before buying!

As they entered our office, Mr. Franklin asked about "choice rentals." But his family explained that their best bet was a home of their own. But the Franklins were hesitant.

Then began the first step in our SPECIAL Newcomer's Program: a guided tour of our city. We showed the Franklins the various residential districts, the schools, the churches and many other things of interest. Before long, they felt "acquainted."

Later, we gave them other special materials to complete the Newcomer's package.

The next day the Franklins returned. "Show us a good home we can afford to buy," they said. "We've decided to become permanent citizens."

They bought a nice home in Indian Acres.

If you, too, are a newcomer and want to get acquainted with our city, drop by. Or, if a friend is going to locate here, be sure to tell them to investigate our Special Newcomer's Program.

Traditionally Feb. has been the poorest month of the year at Goodwill. It precedes spring housecleaning time and follows the problems of the holiday season. The weather is not the best.

"This year Goodwill is able to pick up newspapers and magazines for the first time since World War II," said Harold H. McKinnon, Executive Secretary. "We can now handle paper profitably. Although paper does not furnish job opportunities it does furnish a cushion if other discards are slow coming in and affords Goodwill money to augment salaries."

Goodwill pickup trucks will be in Tecumseh and Britton Tuesday, Feb. 22. Residents of Tecumseh may call Mrs. Carl Burch, at 868 to arrange for a truck pickup, and residents of Britton may call William Kuster at 2131.

Lord, make me loving, for since my birth I have received love. Let me be generous, for all I have has been given me. Let me be tolerant, for my shortcomings are many. MSC Is 100 Years Old

Idea Changed Education

An idea that changed the course of education in America—and has had a resounding impact on the American way of life—will be 100 years old this month.

This idea is the belief that benefits of a college education should be made available to all and put to work for the good of people everywhere. It is the idea that education in a democracy should be democratic.

This new thought, that education should be available to all, was first applied at a time when university training was available only to the few. The date was Feb. 12, 1855—the founding of Michigan State College.

It was a logical step that this new educational belief should first be applied to the study of agriculture and related subjects. For a century ago America was an agricultural nation with 85 per cent of its population engaged in farming. The start of an educational program for the people, then, was a college for a farm country.

Now America's eighth largest university, Michigan State will celebrate its Centennial year in 1955. Throughout the year, M.S.C.'s founding belief will be applied in special programs and events to agriculture, engineering, science, the arts and many other fields.

Once begun and pronounced successful, Michigan Agricultural College, as Michigan State was first called, became the pattern for a nation-wide system of education—the landgrant colleges. This new educational force was put into motion in America through the federal Morrill Act of 1862. The act provided that money for these new schools should come from the sale of public lands.

Speaking in support of this national system of colleges, Congressman Justin Morrill of Vermont, author of the Morrill Act, pointed in 1858 to the Michigan College as being "in the full tide of successful experiment."

Passed by Congress and signed by President Lincoln, the Morrill Act opened the doors of higher education to the entire nation just as Michigan State had opened its doors to the citizens of Michigan.

As America grew from a farming nation into a country with many different jobs, education expanded its outlook and courses. Today, for example, half of America's working population is producing things unknown in 1900. Thus the challenges issued by the "Michigan experiment" and the Morrill Act are today being met on many new fronts by the 53 land-grant colleges and universities, and American higher education in general.

To answer the needs of the people, the university of today is putting its resources to work through three main channels: Teaching, research and service.

On Michigan State's modern campus, for example, more than 15,500 students are enrolled in 126 courses of study. Research continues to seek ways to improve agriculture, but research also is pursuing new knowledge in scores of other areas.

Through M.S.C.'s Cooperative Extension Service, Continuing Education Service and other agencies, 350,000 people are directly assisted each year in special courses, conferences and demonstrations. This assistance also reaches far parts of the world. Teams of Michigan State specialists are bringing technical help to people in Brazil, Colombia, the Ryukyu Islands, Indo-China and other countries.

Some of the world's leading figures of education, industry and public life will come to Michigan State in 1955. They will take part in special Centennial programs, symposia and meetings — putting their knowledge and knowhow to work on problems of universal interest.

The Centennial year will begin formally with Founders' Day on Feb. 12. The speaker will be Dr. James B. Conant, U. S. High Commissioner in Germany, and former president of Harvard. Other events will include a "Centennial of Farm Mechanization," Aug. 15-20; an October convocation to be addressed by President Eisenhower, and more than 25 national meetings of organizations and societies. These many Centennial events have as a theme a quotation from Lincoln's Gettysburg Address: "It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work."

In the words of M.S.C.'s president, Dr. John A. Hannah, "Michigan State continues to be dedicated to the belief, first put into practice here, that knowledge should not be worshiped for itself, as a god, but put to work for the benefit of mankind."

Hospital Group Committees Are Named For Year

Committees appointed to carry on hospital auxiliary work for the coming year were finance—Mesdames Robert Fuller, Ray Sluyter, Robert Anderson, Robert Blanks, Leland Hubbard, Archie Spohr, Ford Exelby, Elmer Eberhardt, James Clark, Ben Gillies, Jack Osburn, C. W. Hanna and Max Smith; membership—Mrs. Carlos Jones, Mrs. Leland Kerby, Mrs. Joe Lane and Mrs. Ed Rodgers; publicity — Mrs. Cecile Smith; hostess chairman—Mrs. Victor Lawson.

Chairmen of the hostess committee for March will be Mrs. Ray Sluyter; April, Mrs. Joe Rohweder; May, Mrs. Robert Anderson and June, Mrs. Charles Stephenson.

Grass Institute Will Give Good Crop Practices

Like to cut down on your protein supplement and grain bill and boost the quality of your hay and pasture crops?

How to manage that item is one of the subjects slated for the Winter Grass Institute program on March 1, at 9 a. m., at the Adrian Armory, approved by the Agriculture Committee of the Adrian Chamber of Commerce.

MILTON ERDMANN

The County Agriculture Agent and chairman of the above committee, Louis G. Hall, said that the farm crops specialist from Michigan State College, will tell about new varieties of crops and the practices that will give the best yields and quality.

Several farmers from Lenawee and adjoining counties will tell of their experiences with new or different methods of growing and using hay and pasture. They will form a panel led by Roland Russell, Adrian.

Colored slides will show how some Michigan farmers are managing their forage. Trench and stack silos will be featured, along with new forage varieties, and how pasture can be hauled to cattle.

Specialist Milton Erdmann, Farm Crops, will rate exhibits of hay and grass silage as to quality and they will explain and demonstrate principles in making the best grass silage.

Managing grass for high quality is important in reducing feed costs, points out Erdmann. Hay and pasture furnish more than one-half the feed cost of cattle and sheep. Pasture is the least expensive feed.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Thirty-five members of the auxiliary of the Underwood-Orr post of the American Legion attended the regular Feb. meeting at the Legion Home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Donald Woods, delegate to the second district meeting held in Ann Arbor Jan. 23 reported on the work done there.

Announcement was made of the initiation of new members at the next meeting and of the annual Legion birthday party which will be given by the auxiliary March 19.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, Miss Marilyn Baaske, Mrs. Vern Manwaring and Mrs. Henry Ehlinger.

Chilled refrigerator cookie dough may be cut more easily with a wire cheese cutter rather than a knife, say Michigan State home economists.

The Railroads — Our No. 1 War Asset

AMERICA is committed to a policy of doing all it can to prevent a war. Simultaneously it is maintaining as far as possible the kind of economy that has in the past given us superiority in time of war.

No one who has lived through two major wars and Korea can dispute the great contribution to them by the railroads.

Despite all modern developments of other means of transportation, the fact remains that the vast bulk of war materials and personnel must be moved on rails.

The stepped-up production of heavy goods required by war is possible only with a network of railroad systems operating at full efficiency.

America has that network. America should give full thought to assuring that full efficiency.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Winner Every Time!

Last Friday at our big basketball game with Centerville I sat next to a fine-looking old man. Centerville had things their way the first half — and he cheered every score they made.

But our boys began to catch up. Then Stretch Brown put us in the lead with a long set shot, —and I noticed that the old fellow was now rooting for our side. "What team are you for, anyway?" I demanded.

"Neither," he replied. "I've got my own team. I figure any kid that does a good job out there is on my team. Root for the individual like I do — and you'll always back a winner!"

From where I sit, maybe it is a good idea to keep our eye on the individual, instead of automatically grouping him on teams you're "for" or "against." We're all individuals at heart, with our likes and dislikes — our right to prefer tea to coffee or beer to buttermilk ... our right to "blow the whistle" when anyone tries to regiment us.

Announcing
A NEW KIND OF AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AT SURPRISINGLY LOW COST . . .
MOTORIST'S Personal PROTECTION PLAN

APPLIES IN ANY AUTO ACCIDENT IN THE U.S. OR CANADA NO MATTER WHO IS AT FAULT OR WHETHER THE OTHER DRIVER IS INSURED!

The Travelers, the first company to write Automobile Liability insurance, is proud to be the first to offer this new protection as an addition to its Automobile Liability policy.

There are two important features in The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan:

Total Disability coverage

Death Indemnity coverage

Here's why the Plan is needed:

1. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is the only way the insured can protect himself when no one else is at fault.

Every year thousands of people are killed and injured in automobile accidents in which the car runs off the roadway, overturns, collides with a fixed object or is in some other accident not involving collision with another car. In almost all such accidents, the driver is the only one at fault.

2. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is also a means by which the insured can protect himself when someone else is at fault and the other person is not adequately insured or is uninsured.

Details of benefits and exceptions and information on how you may qualify for the Plan are contained in our pamphlet, "The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan." Ask us for a copy.

Grade School News

West Branch—Second Grade
Miss LaPointe

We are now taking the Weekly Reader and are enjoying it very much. Having just heard the story of the Eskimo Twins and how they used to live, we were interested in reading about the present day life of the Eskimo.

Mildred Griewahn has now recovered from pneumonia and is able to attend school. She was absent for three weeks.

We are finding the stories in "More Friends and Neighbors" as interesting as those in "Friends and Neighbors." Many in our group are now reading well enough to read stories from library books to the class.

During the month of February we are learning about the lives of Lincoln, Washington and Edison through pictures and stories.

Ruth Ann Brooks celebrated her eighth birthday January 27.

As a result of the recent poll in which parents of the West Branch indicated their preference for either afternoon or evening meetings, the decision ended in a tie. Therefore it may be necessary to alternate the time for future P.T.A. meetings.

Central—Second Grade
Mrs. Callihan

This has been a busy month of January. All groups have changed into new reading books. It has been fun to read the new stories.

Our Weekly Readers are here each week now. Most of us find many hard words in them. We hope that we can do better with them by spring.

Our room is beginning to look like Valentines' Day, but we have one special bulletin board to have Abraham Lincoln's pictures on. Today we drew very nice pictures of his log cabin.

We have had a few guests. David Loar's uncle, James Gibbs, a sixth grade boy from Hudson spent one day with us. Katherine Thompson and Carolyn Sebring's mothers were visitors, also.

We are sorry to lose Junior Ward this week. We do have a new student from Gould City, Michigan. We are happy to have her and hope she will like our group. Happy Valentine's Day to all.

Patterson—Grade Two
Mrs. Garlick

We are getting ready for Valentine Day and our Valentine party. We have each made a Valentine box and when we bring our Valentines to school we put them into the proper boxes. We are going to choose the prettiest one with which we had no help and the prettiest one where someone helpd us make it.

We have had several "spell-ups." These are just like our "spell-downs" except that we stand up if we miss the word.

Two men came to take pictures of our schoolroom. We were doing our work when they took them and are very anxious to see what they are like.

Peter Thompson has moved to Adrian. We are sorry to have him leave us and we are sure the boys and girls in Adrian will be happy to have him join their school. Come back to visit us sometime, Peter.

Mary Easton who spent three weeks in University Hospital is back in school. We are glad you're back, Mary.

Barry Roe, Lana Scutt, Jeffrey Osburn, and Toni Herrick, have had recent birthdays. We were treated to cup cakes and dixie cups once and peppermint stick ice cream cones another time.

One reading group is ready to have a new book to read. We are quite surprised at how well we read now.

In our number work we are learning how to measure in feet and inches and in Science we are learning how machines make work easier.

We have some new library books and are enjoying the stories.

John Hayden, Linda Ostrum, Nina Robinson and Lana Scutt are back in school after short illnesses. We hope the rest of us stay well.

Central—Second Grade
Mrs. VanWinkle

February is such a nice month in the school room. It's always interesting to hear stories about two American heroes, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Then too, we have Valentine Day. We like to make, give and receive valentines and our party will be the last and we hope the best of the year.

So many of us are starting new reading books and workbooks. We are all taking the Weekly Reader and feel just like grown ups while reading it. Some of us read the daily papers at home and bring to school items that we think would be interesting to the rest of the class. We have made a large newspaper on our blackboard and we paste the items on the board in the right places.

Together we made a large winter mural. All of us helped paint the background. We then made ourselves in our play clothes, doing our favorite winter sport. We pasted these on our large picture and we now have lots of fun watching ourselves and friends, skating, sliding, skiing, and tobogganing.

We are not having Show and Tell every day. We now have it just once in a while. Each child thought of something that they would like to know more about. Every day we have a report given on these different things. We prepare our reports at home and read them at school. Everyone is having fun looking up information and its fun listening to them being given. We have heard about fox, steel, body, chicks, alligators, insects, prehistoric animals, coral, seals, crabs, ocean fish and lizards.

Central—Grade Two
Mrs. Puffer

Valentine's Day is over, but we still like to think about it. The girls furnished the treat for our party because the boys had had their turn last Hallowe'en. Our room looked festive, too. Before the party we decorated paper bags which served as individual mail boxes. We also made valentines and hung them with clothes pins from a line across the room. Mrs. Westdyke showed the children how to make some especially clever Valentine bunnies with fluffy cotton tail.

Wayne Brooks went to Detroit recently with his family to see Cinerama. It was interesting to have him tell us all about it.

Mrs. Glenn brought some little cakes beautifully decorated with candles and lifesavers to school on Bobby's birthday. Needless to say we really enjoyed them!

The parents of 10 of our children attended P.T.A. last week. We are pleased about this and hope that even more will come next time.

We have some new faces: Buddy, Myra, and Sandra are new; Lydia came back after having spent three months in Texas, and Arthur Ward has moved to a farm near Grand Rapids.

We used our picture money to purchase some tinker toys, village blocks, clay and a map puzzle which we like to use before the bell rings, and at noon. Bobby Runk brought his checkers which result in some keenly contested games.

ALTAR SOCIETY TO HAVE PARISH PARTY

There were 30 members of St. Elizabeth Altar Society present for the Feb. meeting Wednesday evening. Mrs. Carlton Kirkwood and Mrs. Janet Collins of Adrian, who were guests of the society, explained the various phases of the work of the Deanery.

The March committee was announced as Mrs. Harry Hoffman, chairman, Mrs. Edna Cameron, Mrs. Paul Velandra, Mrs. Ralph Hodges, Mrs. A. J. Phelan and Mrs. Earldean Roe. Besides their other work this committee will be in charge of a parish party to be held March 17. Clinton and Irish Hills members will be guests at this party which will feature cards and a box social.

ST. PETER'S GUILD

Mrs. Maude Bell entertained St. Peter's Guild of the Episcopal church last Thursday afternoon assisted by Mrs. Glenn Williams. Sixteen members were present at the business meeting which was presided over by the president Mrs. M. W. Wilson.

Mrs. E. C. Dickin was in charge of the period of devotions and Mrs. Charles Newell presented the program. Needed additions to the dishes for the new Parish House were donated and money was voted to purchase others. The hostesses served tea from a beautifully appointed table after the program.

Mrs. Lloyd Rhein will be hostess for the next meeting and will be assisted by Mrs. M. W. Wilson.

Mr. Richard Engle

Roseville father says, "We paid a $1581 debt with four dollars!"

"A guy is pretty lucky when he can clear up a $1581 debt with one four-dollar payment," says Mr. Engle, of Roseville. "That's just what happened when our two-year old daughter was hospitalized for 78 days. She'd been seriously burned . . . required constant attention in the hospital . . . so much so, in fact, that the hospital bill was $1581! But all we had to pay was four dollars . . . and all the rest was automatically taken care of by our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract. On top of that, Blue Shield paid the biggest part of our doctor bill! You bet we're a Blue Cross - Blue Shield family . . . for keeps!"

The chances that your family will have an unexpected hospital bill within a year are 1 in 3! With odds like that, wouldn't it be well worth the little it costs to have Michigan's most widely accepted protection against hospital and doctor bills—Blue Cross - Blue Shield!

Find out how your family can enjoy low-cost group coverage. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Today, call or write Blue Cross - Blue Shield.

CIVIL DEFENSE DIRECTORS—George Kilbourn, chief of police and director of the Tecumseh Civil Defense program, and John Saling, assistant director, stand in front of the civil defense truck which was donated by the Tecumseh Tire Service to the program.

Civil Defense Given Truck

George Kilbourn, chief of police and director of the Tecumseh Civil Defense program, this week publicly expressed the gratitude of the community for the gift of a civil defense truck donated by the Tecumseh Tire Service for civil defense use.

Red, white and blue, the truck says "Tecumseh Civil Defense, Official Vehicle" on its side. Earl Bryan did the lettering.

Chief Kilbourn is being assisted in the civil defense program by John Saling, assistant director, and by Earl Roe who represents the Civil Air Patrol.

Chief Kilbourn said the civil defense truck will be outfitted with equipment, after Dr. Ralph Helzerman prepares a list of what is needed.

The chief explained that civil defense is more than just preparing in case of an enemy attack. Not minimizing this part of civil defense, he said the program also must be geared to preparation in the event of any type of disaster whether it be tornado, fire, explosion or drowning.

"There is probably no town in Michigan that has more water in it than Tecumseh," he pointed out, "so our civil defense truck should be equipped with a light boat and motor, grappling hooks and blankets."

The chief again appealed for the names and addresses of persons who have cots and blankets that would be available in case they are needed for any community disaster.

He also would like to have the names of those who own vehicles that could be used as ambulances such as panel trucks and station wagons.

"Donations and suggestions for civil defense are invited," he said. They may be made to Chief Kilbourn, Mr. Saling or Mr. Roe.

The program has a base communication set on order that will be housed in the police station. It will be operated under Tecumseh's own license and call letters.

The equipment was purchased through a $1300 grant from the Tecumseh Community Fund.

The chief hopes also to be able to equip the civil defense truck with a two-way radio and he also would like to see a civil defense auxiliary unit formed.

The Civil Air Patrol, Mr. Roe pointed out, has its own communication set here now. And it has eight private planes that can be used any time if needed. The CAP also has a large number of licensed pilots and communications men.

Indians Play For Court Title

The Tecumseh High School Indians will play for the basketball title of the Southeastern League Friday night at Bedford.

Winner of this game will get the crown since each team has a 5-2 record.

Tecumseh was side-tracked from claiming a share of the crown, regardless of the outcome of the Friday game, by dropping a 78-50 decision to Monroe Catholic Central there Tuesday night.

Monroe led 44-16 at the end of the first half and the Indians, although playing good ball in the second half, never recovered.

Earl Drummonds scored 18 points for Tecumseh and Ken Miller added 17. Lemerand was high for the winners with 19.

International Club Has First Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Dale Carnegie International club was held Monday night.

Members are graduates of the Dale Carnegie classes of Tecumseh and Adrian who are interested in continuing with the knowledge and ability gained in the original course.

After a brief business meeting an impromptu speech contest was held with each member participating. Keith Roper of WABJ Adrian took the honors for the evening.

Refreshments were served by Dr. Robert J. Murray.

Monthly meetings are planned by the group.

Brownville Group Hears Dr. Hughes

Dr. William Hughes of Adrian was guest speaker at the Brownville Mother's Club last Thursday evening when, with the fathers as guests, 27 parents met at the North Branch schoolhouse.

Dr. Hughes, a pediatrician, is especially interested in the establishment of school facilities for retarded children and told his audience about the Croswell School in Adrian. Miss Myrna Bugbee, North Branch teacher and Earl Greene, supervisor of Tecumseh elementary schools also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Byron Goodman presided over the business meeting when ways and means of raising funds for the club's expenses were discussed. Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Fred Cooley, Mrs. Dale Lemerard, Mrs. Irving Gurtzweiler and Mrs. Stanley Rentschler.

In March the club will meet with other P.T.A. groups for a joint discussion session, but they will hold their own group meeting the third Thursday in April.

PATTERSON PTA

Members of Patterson PTA last Thursday night decided to continue to hold their own PTA meetings. Members felt there is more interest shown by having their own PTA.

Robert Stites of Adrian showed a March of Dimes film and refreshments were served by fourth grade mothers.

M & M SHOW SET

Twenty-nine merchants and manufacturers will have displays in the VFW's show which will be held in the United Products Workers' union hall Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The show begins Friday at 2 p.m., Saturday at 10 a.m. and Sunday at 1 p.m. It closes each night at 9:30 p.m.

Most of those in the show offer prizes and the VFW also is offering prizes.

Proceeds from the show will go for the organization's building fund.

Hospital Will Be Host To Nurses Of Other Lands

For the second time Tecumseh will play host to a group of young women who are important in the field of nursing in several foreign countries.

Under the auspices of the Auxiliary of Herrick Memorial hospital, 10 advanced student nurses from the College of Nursing of Wayne University will spend the weekend here. All are graduate nurses and either members of a nursing faculty or of public nursing services.

They are Parizad Bavand of Iran, Jane Harriet D'Rosario of India, Toyoko Kamiya of Japan, Mrs. Tsai Fan Lee from Taiwan (Formosa), Huei Ching Ling, also from Taiwan, Elisa Martiniez of Columbia, Mrs. Chalian Patiyesvisit of Thailand, Lila Azucena Porta of Uruguay, Mrs. Chiamkanol Thongprasert of Thailand and Gertrude Ware of Liberia.

They will arrive by bus Friday afternoon, returning early Sunday afternoon, and during their stay they will be house guests of members of the auxiliary.

In order that they may see the facilities of a small community they will visit the sewage disposal plant, Meadowridge Dairy and other points of interest, including, of course, the hospital where they will be entertained at tea by the hospital staff and nurses.

Saturday noon they will be guests at a luncheon at the Country Club where they will meet members of the hospital board and other auxiliary members.

Anyone desiring to attend this event may do so by making reservations with either Mrs. Vern Manwaring or Mrs. Frederick Dickinson, who are chairmen of the project.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gilman will open their home to the nurses and their hosts Saturday evening for a social hour and Sunday morning they will attend church if they desire.

It is interesting to note that the religious faiths of the group vary from Methodist to Buddhism.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

A pleasant social evening was enjoyed Feb. 16 by the members of the Pythian Sisters and the Knights of Pythias. The occasion was the 91st anniversary of the origin of the Knights and was a joint celebration with a ham supper.

The committee on arrangements was Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wood, Mrs. George E. Green Sr. and Carl Thompson. The evening's entertainment was supplied by Leon Gurtzweiler, who showed pictures of his recent trip to points of special interest in the United States.

APPOINTED TO BOARD OF REVIEW

Al Hammond was appointed to the Tecumseh Board of Review by action of the council Monday night. He will serve the unexpired term of Glenn Driscoll who resigned.

Sees Valuation Of $11 Million

City assessor John Saling told councilmen Monday night he hopes to put the assessed valuation of Tecumseh up to about $11,000,000 this year or approximately 52 per cent of the state equalized valuation.

The city is assessed at $8,073,400. The state tax commission says Tecumseh's valuation should be $20,951,370 under the state equalized formula.

The 52 per cent mentioned by the assessor would be one percentage point more than the present combined percentage of the state equalized now used by the four cities and the 22 townships in Lenawee County.

Currently Tecumseh, with 38.53 per cent of the state equalized being assessed, is the lowest of the four cities in the county. Adrian is highest with 72.80.

Asked how he could possibly raise the valuation to $11,000,000 this year Mr. Saling told councilmen that he would make it up in cases of inequities in real estate and personal assessing. In other words, he feels that it would not be fair to raise just one group but to spread the increases over industry, business and home owners where inequalities now exist.

He excluded one group of home owners. He feels that those in Tecumseh Acres are now paying all the traffic will bear."

The percentage of the increase to be used will depend on how far out of line he feels each individual case is.

Assessor Saling again appealed to councilmen to have an independent, scientific re-assessment made.

He told councilmen: "Sure it will cost maybe $10,000 but you would get this back in the first year because of a higher tax base and you would have something concrete to go on."

Some of them agreed but said the city doesn't have the money to pay for such a survey at this time.

The assessor also told councilmen that he feels that if something is not done about making Tecumseh's assessed valuation come somewhere more in line with the average of the state's equalized in the county, a formal protest may be filed with the state tax commission and then the city would be forced to do something.

The formal protest, it is assumed, possibly might come from the City of Adrian.

TOURNEY

The Michigan High School Athletic Association's district basketball tournament No. 10 will begin in the Tecumseh High School gym next Wednesday night, March 2 and continue through Saturday night, March 5.

Four class "B" and six class "C" high schools are entered. Class "B" schools are Tecumseh, Milan, Dundee and Airport. Class "C" schools are Napoleon, Brooklyn, Manchester, Boysville, Saline and Clinton.

Two games will be played each night with the first starting at 7 and the second getting underway at 9.

The class "C" teams will be playing Wednesday, Friday and Saturday and the class "B" teams will be playing Thursday and Saturday.

Neville Hart, tournament manager, explains that local season tickets and passes can not be honored for tournament games.

Spangler Named To Convention

At the Lenawee County Democrat Convention held in Adrian last Thursday Grenval Spangler of Tecumseh was named a delegate to the state convention in Grand Rapids next week.

Mr. Spangler, one of the speakers, who was candidate for state representative last Nov., encouraged Democrats to run for office from the township level.

He also asked for a Young Democrat county organization.

Joining others of the party, he also cited as a county party weakness the failure of Democrats to register to vote.

West Branch PTA Will Meet Monday

The West Branch P.T.A. will meet Monday, Feb. 28 at the West Branch schoolhouse for the last individual group meeting of the year. The March and April meetings will be joint gatherings with other P.T.A. organizations of the city and in May the annual band concert, sponsored by the Union P.T.A., will be held.

The committee has planned an interesting program which will include the discussion of problems pertinent to West Branch. Mrs. J. R. Thompson, who recently completed the Dale Carnegie course and who is a very capable and interesting reader, will conduct the discussion. A backward spell-down complete with prizes will add additional unusual entertainment.

The schoolroom having the most parents present will be rewarded with the prize of a flowering plant. This will be sent to the school this week and each room will enjoy it for one day before it is permanently awarded to the winner. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

JAYCEES MEET TONIGHT AT 6:30

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 in the American Legion home.

The nominating committee will report on nominees for this year's offices and a report will be made on the financial outcome of the minstrel show held last week end.

Other important future events will be discussed.

PRAYER

Joining churches throughout the world local churches will have a world day of prayer at 2 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church.

Purpose of the day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad.

Sponsor in the United States is the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

The program comes from a different country each year. The service this year has been prepared by Iorgelena Lozada, minister of a Disciple church in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The offering will be divided equally between the division of home missions and the division of foreign missions.

Escolme Resigns From Plan Board

The resignation of the Rev. Edward Escolme from the city planning commission was "regretfully accepted" by the council Monday night. He said the meetings conflicted with church meetings.

He also pointed out that he would like to see an additional wide approach to Herrick Park as a "safety measure" and he appealed for more down town parking areas before business places swallow all available space.

City Clerk Mrs. Naomi Sallows was instructed to write him a letter of thanks for his service to the city.

HONOR SON'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greene entertained at a surprise luncheon at the Tecumseh Country Club Saturday honoring the fifteenth birthday anniversary of their son Gerry. Nine members of his high school freshman class were the guests.

A feature of the table decorations was a chocolate birthday cake topped by a miniature basketball in yellow frosting. The fifteen candles and the flowers which encircled the base were also yellow.

Gerry opened his gifts after the luncheon and the group then adjourned to the gymnasium of the central school for an afternoon of basketball.

Local Topics

Mrs. Gannaway's mother and sister, Mrs. Norman Reister and Nancy Ballentine of Toledo spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Gannaway and daughter.

Mrs. Flora Wood of Adrian returned home Monday after spending several days with her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hall accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harrison of Royal Oak to Bedford, Ind., where they spent the weekend and attended the wedding of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sage left by air Tuesday morning for Acapulco, Mexico. They will spend about two weeks in this vacation spot on the Pacific coast of southern Mexico.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Eaton of East Monroe Road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ardyth, to Franklin Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Schroeder of Britton.

GIRL SCOUT TROOPS' COOKIE SALES CONTINUE

Girl Scout Troop 5 sold Scout cookies last Saturday at Hodges Drug Store and Troop 8 Friday evening at Baldwin Hardware and Saturday morning at the United Savings Bank. Between them they sold 281 boxes.

This week Troops 10 and 12 will both carry on Saturday at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Show in the Products Union Hall. Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Edwin Bunge are leaders of Troop 10 while Mrs. George Derby leads Troop 12.

Behind the stock of fresh cookies which arrives in town each week is a story of considerable stress and strain on the part of the general committee. Although the boxes are shipped only a comparatively short distance, they endure three truck transfers enroute and "lost in transit" is a common occurence.

Mrs. Lyle Grigg, sales chairman, has had the experience of digging the shipment from under piles of freight in a very stationary truck and the arrival of the goodies is a weekly hazard.

Brilliant New Styling-Blazing New Power at everybody's price*

The 1955 Pontiac is evidence that price is no longer a factor in making the step to fine-car luxury and performance.

Every new Pontiac you see emphasizes the fact that here is the most distinctively styled car of all. But Pontiac's brilliant styling is only part of all that's new and modern in this great, General Motors masterpiece. A few minutes behind the wheel provides the clinching evidence.

Pontiac's mighty Strato-Streak V-8 responds instantly, whether you're in city traffic or cruising the open road. With Pontiac's new, bigger brakes and recirculating ball steering, handling is almost effortless. New wide-stance rear springs; roomy, luxurious Body by Fisher and shock-proof chassis complete the fine-car picture.

Normally, all this would add up to high price—but Pontiac has changed the pattern with prices that start so close to the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford the easy and satisfying step to Pontiac pride and distinction. Why not come in at your first opportunity and get the facts and figures?

Go Modern... Go Pontiac
WITH THE SENSATIONAL STRATO-STREAK V-8

Three Great Lines—All with Strato-Streak V-8 Power
860 . . . 870 and STAR CHIEF
Engineering advances by the score have been incorporated in Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 to enhance even further Pontiac's reputation for economy, dependability and long, trouble-free life.
